

My Twins 531

Hey, My Twins Babies

CHAPTER 531 TAKE CARE OF YOUR OWN BUSINESS

Emily wanted to defend herself, but in Winnie's view, it was nothing but an excuse. "I want you to think about it. I want you to look at love in each other's shoes." Winnie did not want to give up, not because of guilty, nor making herself better. She just felt it a pity that they separated though they loved each other, and worried that they would regret this impulsive decision. Hearing Winnie's words, everyone in the room became silent. Emily didn't know what to say. Leo was afraid his words would have an impact on Emily. Daenerys had said what she should say and had no idea what she could say, while Brian was drenched in his love. Winnie was right that their love was hard-won, so he must cherish it more and protect Winnie who had held on love in difficult times with whole heart. "Leo, what's your attitude? Will you be happy if she leaves?" Winnie asked Leo who did not say a word. "I..." Leo hesitated and then sat up straight. "I've been trying to explain my blind date, but Emily didn't give me a chance." "Emily, if you will leave, listen to me as listening to a friend telling a story, give me a chance to speak." Leo had to explain. Even if Emily wanted to leave, he wanted her to leave in peace of mind. However, Emily was determined not to listen. She felt that she had said all she needed to say, and there was no point in listening to her friend. She wanted to leave, but Leo pulled her wrist. "I still love you, I never change. I was forced by my mother to have that blind date. I would rather be forced by my mother to have a blind date than ask you to come back to me, because I think my love for you is selfish. I am a selfish person and do everything for my own peace of mind. I feel that I am like a womanizer that I have no right to love you and that I am not worthy of being with you." "But nothing will change the fact that I love you." Leo finally made his explanation. Hearing that, Emily felt pain in her heart. She still dared not believe Leo's words, had no courage to start over and wondered if she would be hurt again if she went back to him. Were they destined for each other? Would it work out if they were together? If not, would she be sad again for the same man? "I don't love you anymore. It's over. From now on we are friends." Emily gave a cruel answer, shook off Leo's hand, and walked away regardless of others. Leo's heart was broken when he heard the door slamming decisively. Winnie and Brian were on their way home. "It seems that love is not smooth for anyone. It's a pity they parted like that." Winnie sighed, as if her heart floating in midair. "I think Emily still can't get over the fact that Leo liked me and can't accept the fact that Leo used her. Actually, her love is deeper than Leo's." Winnie said with remorse and thought she was the root. "Don't blame yourself. There is nothing between you and Leo. Emily and Leo both said you were not the reason." Brian persuaded Winnie. "I think love is a matter of two people. They will not listen to other people's advice until they wake up." Brian reached out and took Winnie's hand. "Don't always take all the responsibility on yourself. Again, if they are destined to be married, no one could part them from each other." "If Leo really loves Emily, he will find a way; if Emily really loves Leo, she will give Leo an opportunity. So don't worry about what God has arranged." Brian gave Winnie a brief lesson, enlightening her not to care too much about it, not to blame herself. "You're right. I shouldn't worry about other people's love. I should think about how to keep my own love. My man is going on a blind date soon, so I should do something to sabotage it, how do you think?" Winnie joked at Brian, but when she spoke, she felt her heart heavy like a stone in it. "Good, welcome. I have not come up with a way to refuse it yet." Brian was not kidding. He really wanted a person to sabotage the blind date. "I'm not going. Your grandfather will kill me if he knows. Find someone else." Winnie thought it was funny, even if she went to sabotage the blind date, Brian would have countless blind dates, did she have to sabotage it every time? "Which famous socialite is your blind date?" She said it didn't matter, but she could not help but ask. "I don't know. Grandpa was going to tell me but I didn't listen to him. They will arrange it, I just need to show up. No matter who she is, she could not replace you." Brian did not know about it and did not want to ask. For him, Winnie was the only woman in his heart. "Go with me, and wait for me aside." Brian suggested, so Winnie would not have wild thought and he could feel less guilty. "Me? Forget it. You'd better go by yourself. I have things to take care of. In the evening, I have to tell your father about Vanessa's departure, I must not make him think too much." Winnie was surprised about Brian's suggestion. It was cruel to her to look at her man having a blind date with another woman. Besides, if she was there, Brian would be constrained. Her existence would affect Brian's judgment and he might lose a chance to be a good girl. Whatever the reason, it was inappropriate for Winnie to appear on that occasion. When Winnie and Brian returned home, Vanessa was at home. Brian went back to his room, and Winnie went to Vanessa's room. "Is everything ready at school?" Winnie came to Vanessa and asked. "Yes, I am in the same dorm with my best classmates." "Did you tell Brian?" Although determined to go, Vanessa still felt embarrassed. No matter how indifferent they were to her sister, they took good care of her for so many days. She felt she was impolite to leave like that. "Yes, he doesn't want to you leave, for fear that you will be bullied out there alone. Then he offered to arrange the best dorm for you, but I refused. I think you have grown up, you have to make your own decisions and try to solve the problem." "If you are not comfortable in the dormitory, you can ask Brian for help." Winnie had to convey Brian's idea to Vanessa, so that Vanessa knew everyone was worried about her. "Thank Brian for me, but I've arranged it myself." "Did you tell Rufus and Stella?" Vanessa continued to ask. "No, I am going to tell them at supper. Stella and Joshua will come back in a moment." Vanessa wanted to move out, so Winnie wanted her to solve it by herself. She would offer her help on the side. "Ok, I'll tell them this evening at dinner." Vanessa knew that she could not escape. If she wanted to leave in peace of mind, she must explain it. Stella and Joshua came early, but Vanessa came down at dinner time. When dinner started, Vanessa wasn't going to say it right away, but Stella mentioned what happened that day. "Vanessa, you must be uncomfortable at that dinner in the old house. I want to say sorry to you. Because of the circumstances of our family, it was not appropriate for us to stand up for Winwin." Stella had been caring about this matter. She felt she should say sorry to Winnie and Vanessa. "Stella, I really feel uncomfortable about what happened that day. I can't see my sister being treated like that, but I understand you. I'm her sister, but I didn't stand up for her, either." Since Stella raised this topic, Vanessa was not going to delay. "Rufus, Stella, Joshua, I have something to say to you. I'm going to move to school, I..." Before Vanessa finished her words, Stella interrupted her. "Why? We will be worried about you if you live in school." Hearing that, Vanessa felt warm in heart and gave a faint smile. "Stella, strictly speaking, I have nothing to do with your family, but Rufus and you and Joshua take me like a family member, which makes me feel like at home. I really appreciate it." "I've got all my excuses for moving out, but I don't think I should lie to you. Actually, my leaving is directly related to what happened that day." Vanessa had been thinking of an excuse for an afternoon, but she decided to give it up. It was disrespect to lie to the people who loved her. "It hurts to see my sister to be inferior to the cooker in the Bennet family. We are poor and we are orphans, so we are looked down upon. If I continue to make things difficult for my sister, she will have a much harder time." "Rufus, Stella, I don't mean you look down upon us. I know you are good to my sister, when I am capable, I will repay you." "When I talked to my aunt on the phone, I always told her that you have been so good to my sister and me. But I didn't expect the people in the old house hated my sister." "In order not to cause trouble to my sister, in order not to be a burden to my sister, I have to move out." Vanessa told the truth, and after that, she felt better. Anyway, she could not stay here. "Vanessa, this is not the old house, and they will not often come here." Stella understood the meaning of Vanessa that she was afraid of becoming a burden to her sister, and she was disappointed at them. "But this is the Bennet family, and they can despise my sister even if they only come once. As an outsider and a junior, I have to be polite to them and can't help my sister. The best I could do was to move out, so that they could criticize my sister less."

CHAPTER 532 GLORIA'S PROPOSAL

Vanessa then looked at Rufus. "Rufus, it was you picked me up in this period and got delicious food ready for me. You helped me a lot and I will always remember it. Don't worry, I'll come and see you often even though I move to school." Vanessa was sorry, but Rufus felt depressed. Vanessa was not an outsider, she was also a Bennet. The family was supposed to be hers, and now she was the only outsider. Rufus sure would be worried if she moved out, but what could he do? He could not say the identity of Vanessa at this time. Even if he said it out now, Vanessa would still move out. Vanessa did not lie, she did leave for her sister. But there was someone spoke for Winnie that day, Vanessa would not leave with disappointment. "Ok, I am ok with it. I don't think it is trouble for me to take care of you, but I feel it a pleasure. Visit me on weekends. I have been used to having you here, so I will miss you if you move out." Rufus said sadly. He could not keep Vanessa stay selfishly. The situation of the Bennet family would certainly hurt Vanessa. Brian went out on a blind date, if Vanessa knew it, she would be upset for her sister. "Thank you for your understanding. I will come to see you when I am available." Hearing what Rufus said, Vanessa finally breathed a sigh of relief. She loved the people here, she love this family, but she could not live here, because she did not want to see her sister to be discriminated against. Brian had his blind date in a top western restaurant. Only when he arrived he knew his blind date was Gloria. That made it easier for him. "I didn't expect it is you." He then took a sip of red wine. "You agreed to a blind date without knowing who it was?" Gloria's voice was enchanting and sweet as she had drank two catty of honey. Brian's ignorance surprised her. "It doesn't matter to me who the blind date is. As long as my grandfather set it up, I can't say no, so it doesn't matter who it is." Brian was helpless, but it was just an excuse. No matter who the woman was, it could not change the fact that he loved Winnie. "It seems that you don't want this blind date." Gloria laughed charmingly. "Yes, but I am glad that it is you." Brian made no secret of his feelings. Then he said what he thought about this blind date. "You've worked with my firm and you know I have a lover. So my blind date with you was just a formality. I'll go back and tell Grandpa..." "Wait, you mean it is just formality?" Gloria interrupted his words still charmingly. "Yes, it is." Brian was sure. "Then after this blind date, you will have another blind date, right?" Gloria continued to ask, as if thinking about something. "Yes, there will be many." Brian answered blankly. He knew Gloria that she would not betray him. "Good, I was forced to go on blind dates again and again too." Gloria showed a look of sympathy for fellow sufferers. "And?" Brian knew what Gloria said did not meant literally, she must have something to say. "I'm already in a relationship with a star in the entertainment industry. But my parents don't allow me to have a showbiz boyfriend, let alone to marry him, so I was forced to go on blind dates." "We have the same experience and I think we can work together." Gloria put forward her own opinion, but was afraid that Brian would refuse. "Why did you choose me instead of someone else to work with?" Although Gloria's idea was good, Brian wanted to know why. "It is simple, why you asked? You don't seem this stupid." Gloria made fun of Brian, and then told him her reason. "One is that I want to work with someone, but nobody wants to help me, so I said we have the same experience. The second reason is that you are good enough. My parents would like you as a son-in-law." "I think these two reasons are enough. As long as we cooperate with each other, we don't have to go on blind dates anymore." "You can be with Winnie, and I can be with the person I love." "The person you love is Winnie, right?" Gloria added and only she knew why she asked such a question. "Yes, the person I love is Winnie." "I think your idea is feasible, but I have condition. No matter how our parents urge us to get engaged or get married, we should not agree." Brian felt it could avoid a lot of trouble from blind date. "Of course, if I promise to be engaged or married to you, what should my boyfriend do?" "Think it over, we will cooperate if you agree." Hearing Gloria's words, Brian was reassured, but he felt Gloria knew him very well. Gloria did not like what he disliked. He had someone he loved and she had someone she loved. Although it was a coincidence, there was always a sense of contrivance. The atmosphere of this blind date was good, so Brian's mood was naturally good. Back home, he told Winnie about it. "Gloria?" Winnie was wondering who it was. It sounded familiar, but she failed to remember where she had heard it. "Don't you remember the model I worked with when you came to our company?" With that reminder, Winnie finally knew who Gloria was. "The woman who held your arm in the hall?" That was the first impression of Winnie on Gloria. At the same time, she remembered the way Gloria looked at her, which was with arrogance and a strong sense of possession, as if Brian belonged to her. Yeah, right, that Gloria, the model. Brian did not answer Winnie, because back then he deliberately asked Gloria to hold his arm to make Winnie see it. "It's ok to work with her if you think she's nice." Winnie meant she would not affect Brian's choice. "Brian, you are the master of your affairs. If Gloria is of good character and kind, you can date her. I'm not talking about partnership, but the real relationship." Winnie made it clear that she could affect Brian's marriage. "Are you pushing me on to someone else?" Brian asked Winnie with dissatisfaction. "No, but I dare to have you." "You are different with her, Brian. Chairman will force you to marry. It's only a matter of time that you cooperate with her. You can't lie to Chairman all your life." "I said I would stay with you all my life, not seeking fame and fortune, and naturally I would not interfere with your marriage. You'd better make marriage a prerequisite." Winnie explained. She did not want Brian to be with another woman. She wanted to make a scene as other women. But would it work? Would Brian only belong to her? The answer was no. Because of Felix, Brian would never belong to her. "I know Grandpa would force me to get married, but I am doing this to win as much time as possible for us. And then we can do something about it. Winwin, I am angry with what you said, don't ever say that again. You can't allow me to marry anyone else." Brian said. What Winnie said would make him lose motivation, and make him feel that Winnie did not care about him. "Ok, I won't say that again. I will wait for you." Winnie tried as far as possible to calm herself, but there was mixed feelings in her heart. Back then, Brian and Penny had a contractual relationship, and in the end, they hated each other. It didn't take long that Brian had an agreement with another woman. Wasn't Brian afraid it was a conspiracy, which would hurt Winnie? Daenerys was right. As long as she was not Brian's wife, she would have to suffer unknown harm. Wendy had not been solved, a new woman showed up. Alas..... How could her life be like this? Why couldn't it be calm? The next morning Winnie went to work, and took Vanessa away with her necessity. Rufus went into Vanessa's room. Although there was no lack of something, he still felt empty. It was not that the house was empty, but his heart was empty. He did not take good care of his own daughter, but made her disappointed. She would rather move out than to live with him. As soon as Brian arrived at his office by his elevator, the phone rang. "What is it?" Brian asked in a cold voice. "Mr. Bennet, Miss Chambers has been here for a while. She's been waiting for you outside and wants to see you." The secretary reported formulaically. She did not dare to let Wendy into the president's office without Brian's permission. He sighed before he made his decision. "Let her in." Speaking of Wendy, he now thought of Jonny and felt angry about it. When Wendy pushed the door in, Brian was still angry at Jonny. When Wendy spoke, he came to himself. "Brian." "What are you doing here?" Brian frowned and looked cold. It seemed that what happened that day was new and he had not made enough warning to Wendy. "First, I'm sorry, you must be very angry Jonny was rude to Winnie. I came here today to explain it to you." Wendy was embarrassed, because of Brian's cold attitude. "There is nothing to explain. I have said all that needs to be said. Just don't do that again." He was sure that it was related to Wendy, so there was no need to explain. "Brian, I called you, but you didn't answer my phone. When you came back, I came to you, but you said you were busy and didn't want to see me. I managed to see you today, so I will explain it whether you want to hear it or not."

Wendy did not give Brian the opportunity to refuse and she continued to say. "You really misunderstood what happened the other day. I don't know why Jonny broke in. I admit I told him Winwin's room number, because I told him to give Winwin something." "But I didn't tell him to make trouble." "I didn't know you and Winwin weren't coming back. I thought you were coming back after Luke's competition. That was why I wanted Winwin to bring things back." Wendy explained in detail, but at this, Brian sensed the wrong place. "Wendy, now express delivery is convenient, you can send it back, why asked Winwin to bring it back? And why didn't you tell Winwin in advance?" Brian said with a cold tone with doubts in his eyes. "It was the medicine I bought for my mother. The express is slow, and it would take one day if you brought it back. I asked Jonny to get the medicine first, and I would call Winwin when he got to the hotel. But Jonny didn't tell me when he went to the hotel, so I didn't call Winwin." "Brian, if my mother hadn't been sick and needed the medicine badly, I wouldn't have Jonny bought it for me, and I wouldn't bother Winwin to bring it back for me." Wendy had long thought of how to explain, and thought of Brian would be so suspicious of her, so she answered in a natural some, seemingly real. "Brian, you really misunderstood me. I didn't mean to do anything to Winwin. I didn't know Jonny was such a man. I yelled at Jonny over the phone and broke off with him." "I block his calls and I won't believe him no matter what he says. He did not respect me, so he meant to hurt my friend. I don't want to mess with such a friend anymore." As she spoke, Wendy took out her phone and show she had blocked Jonny's phone. But none of this was persuasive to Brian. Even if Wendy was not the leader of that, what Jonny did was unforgivable. "I don't care about what happened between you and Jonny, and I don't care if you were involved or not. But Wendy, I must warn you again, Winnie is my woman all her life, let alone you, even grandpa can't change that nor drive her away from me." "I will make it happen and I will not give up the woman I love." "I know how you feel about me. I won't force you to get over me immediately, but you must know that there is no possibility between us, let alone hurt Winnie in a mean way. Whoever hurts Warm, I will make her pay ten times." Brian gave a warning to Wendy in a cruel tone, with resentment in his eyes, looking horrible. "You think too much, Brian. I won't hurt Winwin. You've been with me for a long time. You know I'm too timid to do anything bad." "I admit that I still have feelings for you, but in years you have become an essential part of my life. I have to get used to it though we separated." "Don't worry about my feelings, Brian. I will try to get over you. I promise I won't be any trouble to you, nor will I disturb Winwin." Wendy assured. At the moment, regaining Brian's trust was the most important. "I hope you can keep your words." Brian already did not believe Wendy. Since she still loved him, she must be selfish. Moreover, Wendy had always been very willful, she would not change herself easily and would not give up on him like this. "I will." Wendy was relieved, though Brian did not say he forgave her, it was a relief. Wendy stood in awkward silence and wondered she should continue, but Brian spoke first in a cold voice. "Anything else?" The implication was that if there wasn't anything else, she could leave. He was busy and had no much time to waste. "I... Brian, I want to work for the Yup Group to enrich myself. I wonder if you can fit me in. I don't care the position, as long as I can get to work." Wendy decided such a decision because she wanted Brian to see her other side and to believe that she would cheer up and put all the energy on work and that she could get him over. "You don't have to tell me about it. Just go back to your father and ask him to fit you in." Brian thought it was a big deal, but it was just a job, there was no need for him to come forward. However, it was good that Wendy wanted to work. And then she would shift her attention to work. Winnie sent Vanessa to school, got her some clothes, and went to work after cleaning up the room for Vanessa. Before she reached her office, she heard from a secretary that Wendy was in the president's office. This was an old trick of Wendy. Winnie did not care about it. The first thing Winnie did after returning to the office was to turn on the computer. However, when she saw the picture on the front page headline, she was surprised. It was a picture of Brian and Gloria. Judging from Brian's clothes, it should be a picture of the blind date last night. Winnie turned on the phone and found it was still Brian and Gloria in the front page headline, as well as the hot search list. Winnie continued to flip through the phone, and there were more and more news about Brian and Gloria, including their affair in the past. Winnie frowned as she looked at the previous news. Brian never told her that he had an affair with Gloria before. Was it scandal or something? Winnie read the comments. They were various opinions, but she was drawn to a longer comment. "The story is from two years ago, back then, they were boyfriend and girlfriend. A plutocrat, a model, they are match. I just don't know if they're still dating or back to each other." After reading this comment, Winnie was even more upset. She hadn't come back two years ago, and she didn't know anything about Brian. Did Brian deliberately make it big, or Felix was behind it? Whoever it was, Brian had decided to cooperate with Gloria. Winnie turned off the phone and felt confused. At this moment she thought of Wendy in the office, she could not help but smile cynically. Wendy would be busy now. Brian, "Go back and take whatever position you see fit for yourself. But since you want a job, take it seriously. Don't put your father in trouble and don't put the company in trouble." Brian had to remind Wendy. He knew Wendy was impatient and feared that she would mess things up. "Don't worry, since I decide to work, I will..." Before Wendy could finish her words, she heard a knock on the door. It was an urgent knock. Before Brian answered, Albert had pushed open the door and walked in. "Mr. Bennet, check your phone." Albert took a few strides to Brian and showed the page to Brian. "What's the matter?" By a glance, Brian knew the seriousness of the matter, after all, the click rate could be seen clearly. "I found it just now. Judging from the time, it has not been long. Mr. Bennet, do you want to block the news?" Albert reported immediately after he saw the news, and it was Brian's decision about what to do. Brian mused and said nothing. A moment later, "No need to block news." "No need to block news? But Winnie..." Albert was surprised that Brian gave such a decision. "She knows the truth." With that, Brian returned to the desk and noticed Wendy was still in. "Wendy, go back if there is nothing else. I gotta to work." "Ok, I am leaving." Wendy turned to leave. Even if Brian did not drive her away, she wanted to go out immediately. She wanted to see what happened to make Albert anxious. Out of Brian's office, Wendy came to the tea room and took out her phone. She was stunned at it. It was not easy to deal with Winnie already, not there was another woman. Wendy searched all the news of Gloria anxiously. It made her even more nervous. This was her real rival, because she had a super strong family background which she could not compete with. She had a powerful background, which was in line with Felix's standards. It seemed that she had no hope at all. Brian loved Winnie, and Felix would choose Gloria, but no one would support her and back her up. Brian worked for a while before he went to Winnie's office and wanted to communicate with her. "Did you see it?" Brian asked in a low voice. "Yes, there are so many reports, how could I not see it?" Winnie answered easily. She saw it, and took some time to look up the source of the news. It was a reporter posted it, but she was not sure he photographed it accidentally or intentionally. "Is Chairman behind it?" Winnie asked tentatively. "I don't know. It's been a busy morning and I have a lot of nuisance calls. I haven't asked my grandpa yet." Brian was also speculating, but he could not make a definitive decision without proof. "So what do you want to do about it?" Winnie continued. As for the nuisance calls Brian mentioned, it must be from the reporters of the major media to verify it. "I wanted to say yes to Gloria's proposal, so I kept silent and didn't give any explanation." Brian decided to cooperate with Gloria as he gave the answer to Albert, so these news were propaganda for them, so that his grandpa would trust in him. "Ok, I'll agree with you whatever you decide." Winnie had no choice, she could persuade herself to be generous.

CHAPTER 534 WARN AGAIN

Winnie could not change anything. Even if she used method of scoundrels, the reality could not be changed. Since so, she would rather let Brian happy and steadfast. "I am glad you said that. Don't worry, Winwin. I will try to solve our problem." Brian came because he was afraid that Winnie would misunderstand him. Now with Winnie's support, he had nothing to worry about. "I'll wait for you, however long it takes. Let's go back to work. Your father is in a bad mood now that Vanessa moved out. We will try to go home early to accompany him." Winnie found a reason to ask Brian to leave. But after Brian left, her relaxed heart became tense again. Brian said that he would solve their problem as soon as possible, but Winnie felt it became more and more complex and the hope became slim. Wendy was in the middle of them and it had made her exhausted, now there was Gloria. Felix would be domineering. How could it not be complex in this case and how could he solve the problem in a short time? As Winnie was thinking, the phone rang. She took a look at it and then gave a smile sarcastically. She knew that Felix would call her at this moment. If she was right, he would give her warning that not to interfere with Brian's marriage. "Hello, Chairman." Winnie greeted him politely and suppressed down her discontent, because there was no need to release, and no qualification to vent. Only she knew that her heart was full of wounds, but it could not be seen from her face. "Do you know why I call you?" Winnie was surprised, although she was right about her guest, but his tone was not that cold, and he was not domineering. Basically, he had a good attitude. If you read the news about Brian and Gloria, I know what you want to say. Don't worry, Chairman, I will not interfere Brian's affair and his choices." Felix's question was not difficult to answer. What he required was a promise and an attitude from her, which was expected, because she had nothing and could not bright Brian more economic benefits. She had no strong family background, no status, no money and even no parents. How could Felix thing highly of her? Since then, she admitted that she was not good enough. "That's what I want." Felix was satisfied. He liked to deal with smart people, because he could get things done without nonsense. "Chairman, I have a favor. Gloria has a rich family, but I want you to see her character and if she was nice. I said these for the sake of two kids. After all, she will be their stepmother, at least she needs to be good to them." Winnie felt that she did not ask for too much and she just thought for the kids. She could not be with Brian for a lifetime, one day she would leave. The Bennet family would not allow her to take away the kids, so their stepmother must be nice. After Winnie said that, Felix was silent over the phone. He knew that Winnie said that for the sake of the kids, but Winnie also wanted to give two kids to their stepmother and left alone. The kids would stay, but if Winnie left, it would be a great loss to the kids and to the Bennet Group. "You don't have to worry about that. The kids will be with you all the life and they won't be bullied by the stepmother." Felix made a decision in the shortest time, and then hung up the phone. It was good for anyone to bind Winnie with kids. Winnie put down the phone and gave a helpless smile. Felix was selfish to bind her with the kids. Everyone in the city knew the news about Brian and Gloria, so Brian and Gloria's partnership started naturally. He was hesitant at first, but the news helped him make up his mind. Winnie has nothing to complain about, but her friends called her one by one, which made it difficult for her to deal with. Winnie did not go home after work, but directly came to Vanessa's school. Because she was worried about Vanessa, for it was her first day to live in school and she feared that Vanessa would be angry at the news about Brian. Outside the school parking lot, Winnie sat alone in the car and waited. Vanessa had not finished class at this time, so she sent a message and waited for Vanessa in the car. When she was alone, she always thought of annoyance. The news between Brian and Gloria was known to all with a day and they easily became a couple so easily. However, it had been six years since she first met Brian, but she had never been his girlfriend. She was the mother of Brian's kids, she was the one sharing a bed with him. While thinking, she could not stop sighing. If she didn't sigh, she was afraid her heart would explode. Winnie suddenly thought of her aunt. The news was known by everyone, her aunt must have learned about it. Just as she was about to call her aunt, her aunt called. Looking at the phone, Winnie took a deep breath as hard as he could. "Aunt....." Winnie's tone was relaxed, and she wanted to ask if her aunt had a good time, but she was interrupted by Isobel. "Brian went on a blind date?" Winnie was anxious and vexed. She knew it would happen, but she didn't expect it would happen so soon. "Yes, how do you know?" Winnie played it cool, trying to be nonchalant. "The whole world knows. Sure I know." "It is a serious blind date, right? Otherwise, the whole country would not have known about it." Isobel did not know what was going on, but she thought Brian was serious about it. "I think so." Winnie did not tell her aunt that Brian and Gloria had cooperation, for fear that her aunt would bear the pain of betrayal. "But it is good. Since so, he will get married and I can get rid of them. Do you think it's good?" She said to her aunt but also comforted herself. If Brian got married, she could take the kids back to her home. "....." Isobel felt sour to hear Winnie's words. She understood the feeling that people could not be together though there was love. It was torturing and now Winnie was experiencing it. How could it be good? "You are right. I pray that he could get married soon. Then you can be free and happy." Isobel felt distressed for her niece. She seemed to do everything for others, until now, she had never done a thing for herself. As far as she was concerned, she would be happy if others were happy. But the happier the man she loved was, the more painful her heart would be. She would ask herself why it was another woman be with him. "Come home, aunt. We miss you. When you come back, I will introduce you a boyfriend. With a man in our family, no one will dare to bully us." Speaking of that, Winnie could not help but grew red in eyes. It was unfair and she was sad, and only family could offer warmth. Although she wanted to complain to her aunt, the next words Winnie said was still naughty. Her aunt was out, she could not worry her aunt and make her depressed because of her. "Nonsense, I am old, I don't need a boyfriend." "It is not easy for me to come out, so let me play longer. I'll go back when I've had enough." Isobel had no other excuse, and could only say she didn't play enough. She would go back, but when she went back, there would be no more stability, and everything would be revealed. "Ok, come back when you've had enough fun. By the way, do you know Vanessa have moved out?" Winnie changed the subject. "Yes, Vanessa called me this morning. Let her live on school, so that she doesn't need to bother others. But you must visit her often and ask her if there is anything that cannot be resolved." Isobel was disappointed, but it was Vanessa's choice, so she would support her. "I know, I will take care of her. Don't worry, Aunt. If Brian and this woman will get married, I will move back to our own home and then Vanessa doesn't need to live in school." She deliberately diverted the topic away from Brian, but she mentioned him again. Winnie found that she was involved in anything of Brian and she could not avoid it. "If Brian's grandpa agrees, you can go home with the kids. Winwin, you must take two kids as priority." It was all because of her two kids. If she had no kids, Isobel would have gone away with her two nieces, so why bear so much pain? "I know, Aunt. Vanessa is coming out, I will take her to dinner. Talk to you later." She found that Vanessa was running toward her, so she hung up the phone. "Sister, have you waited for a long time?" Vanessa got in the car, panting. "You are not as composed as a kid. Do you think you're in a race? Why run so fast?" Winnie nagged. "I thought you were in a hurry." Vanessa said as she fastened her seat belt. "What do you want to eat? I will take you to have dinner." Winnie fastened her seat belt and started the car. "Just two of us?" Vanessa said, looking behind her. She thought there should be at least two kids. "Yes, just two of us. Luke and Megan have returned to the suburbs." "Where do you want to go?" Winnie urged. "Let's go eat hot pot." So the two sisters came to Stefan's hot pot restaurant.

CHAPTER 535 PROMOTING HER SISTER

Winnie was happy that Stefan was not there, because he always offer her discount or even free meal, she was quite embarrassed. "Sister, Brian has a scandal, why do you still have a good appetite?" While Eating, Vanessa could not help but ask. She knew about Brian's news in the morning. The reason why she came out with her sister for dinner was she wanted to comfort her sister. However, when she saw her sister, she did not know what to say and did not mention Brian until now. "I think you don't know about it. You have grown up and could be so calm though you have known it." Winnie smiled faintly. She did not want to talk about it if Vanessa did not mention it. After all, it had been a day that she had explained to her friends. "How can I not know about it. He was too arrogant. It is ok that he has a girlfriend, but why did he make it to be known by everyone?" Vanessa was not satisfied with Brian's approach, not satisfied with their ostentatious relationship, but her tone was relaxed. She did not show her anger, for fear that her sister would feel uncomfortable. "Don't you blame Brian?" Winnie questioned. "No. I understand that although you love each other, you can't be together because of the huge gap between two families. I'd rather he like someone else, has a wife and kids, so that you can be free." "Sister, if Brian would let you go, we must go far away. We can't have anything to do with the Bennet family, even if we live in the forest." "He said he loves you, but he doesn't care how you feel or how you're bullied. It doesn't matter if you have him or not." Vanessa had a lot to complain, so she wanted her sister to leave as soon as possible and hoped Brian got married as soon as possible. "Don't worry about me, I'm fine, I can figure it out. Like you said, if he's married, I'll be free." Winnie purely comforted Vanessa. Without Brian, she could be free, but her heart would die. But she would rather her heart die than suffer such endless torment. "Don't talk about him. He can do what he wants. Let's eat." Vanessa's disappointment to Brian had reached the extreme, and she did not want her mood to be affected by him, but did her sister really mean that? "Let's eat, and then..." "Miss Chambers." Before Winnie could finish her words, there came the voice of Stefan. Winnie smiled gently. "I thought you are not there, and I can pay for the bill, but, there you are." "First of all..." Winnie wanted to she must pay for the bill, but found Stefan holding two plates of mutton. "What are you doing, only my sister and I eat here, we can't finish it." "Why not." Stephen said as he placed two plates of mutton on the table. "Ok, we must pay for it, otherwise won't eat it." Winnie encountered such situation every time she came, which made her embarrassed. "You don't need to need to pay for the two plates of mutton, I join you, ok?" Stefan said so for fear that Winnie had a burden for two plates of mutton. "Sure, you can join us." Winnie said with a smile. Stefan sat next to Winnie, and then asked the waiter to get the tableware for him. "This is your sister?" Stefan asked about Vanessa. "Yes, my sister. Vanessa, this is Mr. Stefan Brooks who sent Megan to the hospital. He is also the owner of this hot pot restaurant." Winnie introduced to Vanessa. "Hello, Stefan... if you don't mind." Vanessa said hello with a smile. Her first impression on Stefan was good. "No, it is ok to call me Stefan." "Vanessa should be a top student at B University. I heard that you are the outstanding beautiful student in the school. I am honored to meet you." Said Stefan, half joking and half adoring. "How do you know me?" Vanessa was confused. She knew that she was called the outstanding beautiful student in the school by her classmates, but why a person outside the school knew about it? "I heard it from others, you are talented and beautiful, how can you know be known?" Stefan explained naturally. He not only knew Vanessa, but also knew a lot about Winnie. "I'm flattered . I am not so famous, and I am not an outstanding beautiful student. " Vanessa still felt wrong, but she did not continue to ask. But Stefan was amiable, handsome and humorous. "Miss Chambers..." Stefan spoke to Winnie, but Winnie stopped him. "Don't call me Miss Chambers, my family call me Winwin, you can also call me Winwin." "Ok, then I'll call you Winwin." Actually, Stefan had long wanted to call her so, but he did not dare to call her that out of politeness. "I heard your son won the big prize. I wanted to congratulate him, but I never got a chance to see you. Bring both kids here next time and I'll treat them to dinner." "I am ashamed that you spend money on us. I can bring them here, but you don't need to pay the bill." Winnie was really embarrassed. If Stefan insisted, she could not come. "Your son has won honor for our country. He is a star in our country. It will be an honor for me that he has dinner at my place, and he can advertise for me. How can you pay for the bill since I get free advertising?" "Never mind it. If you don't bring the kids, you don't want to advertise for me. They you will be petty." Stefan spoke with a smile all the time. From his eyes when he looked at Winnie, Vanessa perceived something. Winnie and Stefan talked happily, while Vanessa said suddenly. "Do you like my sister? She's very nice." Vanessa's words surprised two people chatting. Winnie was stunned before she responded. "Nonsense, how can you joke with Stefan at the first time you met him?" "It is not nonsense, I am serious." Unconvinced, Vanessa answered. She was not talking nonsense. She thought there was love in Stefan's eyes as he looked at Winnie. Before Winnie spoke again, Vanessa asked Stefan. "Stefan, how do you like my sister?" "You scared me. You are funny, Vanessa." Stefan was embarrassed for Vanessa's joke, because Vanessa was right. He did like Winnie, from the day Megan got scalded, otherwise he would not have sent her the hospital personally, would not have seen Winnie with compensation as an excuse, and would have not come here when he heard that manager said Winnie had dinner here. His love for Winnie had always been hidden in his heart, because Winnie had a family, kids, Brian, an excellent man that no one could surpass. "I'm not kidding. My sister is nice, it's normal to be liked." Stefan was embarrassed, but Vanessa was serious. "My sister has two kids. Don't like my sister if you mind." "Vanessa, don't make such a joke, you will make Stefan embarrassed." Winnie thought Vanessa was joking, but she felt that it went too far. "I'm not kidding, I'm serious. I have serious written on my face." Vanessa pointed to her face, showing her sister. Then Vanessa continued to say. "First of all, my sister and Brian were barely a couple. It was an accident that they had kids. You have seen Brian news, right? He has a new girlfriend and she will be his wife, so my sister is single." "Stefan, if you have any idea, now....." "Don't listen to her nonsense, Vanessa is not sensible, she is joking with you. I'm sorry, I have not educated her well." Winnie interrupted Vanessa and apologized to Stefan. She was going to be single, but she had no intention to have a new boyfriend. Vanessa said that because she was disappointed and angry at Brian, but she made Stefan embarrassed. "How could I be angry? She's still young and likes to joke. I understand." "Eat, eat, let's eat." Stefan said and skipped the topic. When he liked Winnie, he knew that she had kids and a family, so he did not mind the kids. However, it seemed that the relationship between Winnie and Brian was not so simple. If he wanted to have a relationship with Winnie, he must find out what was going on between her and Brian. If Winnie was really single, he would pursue her at all costs. Winnie drove Vanessa back to school. "Vanessa, you went too far today, you made Stefan embarrassed." Winnie had to say that, lest it happened again. "I'm not kidding, sis. Why don't you believe me? I think Stefan is nice. If he really likes you, I agree that you should be together." Vanessa was not only serious, but also angry. "Well, let's say you're serious. But it's not over between me and Brian yet, and you want to make a boyfriend now. You're making me look like I am unwanted. Am I so bad that you have to promote me?" Winnie was not urgent or slow, she just wanted Vanessa to say her words in heart. "It's not a promotion. It is you can lose the good man. Sister, Leo is good to you and I think Stefan is good to you too. Even Oscar concerned about you because he is a close friend. They are all good men. They are all better than Brian." "Now I can't wait to marry you off and make Brian regret it." Vanessa got irritable and could not control her resentment.

CHAPTER 536 THE SADDEST MAN

Vanessa was irritable, but Winnie was still calm. Though she had something in mind, but she still looked calm because she did not want Vanessa to worry about her. "All the men around me are nice to me, but they are all friends. I can't just marry myself just to anger Brian." "Why not? He can find any woman and abandon you whenever he wants. Why can't you find a man? Why? Because he is rich and powerful?" Vanessa broke down, because of her disappointment at Brian. She held grievance and then cried out loud for her sister. Vanessa was out of control, cried and said disappointing words. "I thought he was the one who loved you the most from the very beginning, but he has always let me down. I even treated him as a brother-in-law, but he found a woman and announced to the world to that his woman is Gloria." "Why? Bully us for we have no parents to help us?" Vanessa cried and scolded Brian. At the moment she just wanted to vent her dissatisfaction. She now hated Brian for his disloyalty to his sister for the pain he brought to her sister. Hearing Vanessa's complaint and her crying anger, Winnie felt her heart sour. She couldn't concentrate on driving, so she found pulled over. Winnie's eyes grew red, but she could not let her tears flow down in front of Vanessa. She was to support Vanessa, if she was weak, Vanessa would felt insecure. Winnie handed the tissue to Vanessa. "Don't cry, I know you did that for me, I know you love me, but Brian has his purpose. He is also helpless." "I promised before I moved to the suburbs that I would not interfere with his life. For the sake of the two kids, I agreed to this request of Felix. Now that I have agreed, I should keep my word and should accept that." "Before the blind date, Brian had already told me about it for fear that I have wild thought. I have nothing to complain about." Winnie told Vanessa all about it. She just wanted to tell Vanessa that it was expected and it would happen definitely. No one could change that, including Brian. "Sister, I know, I know everything. I know he has to go on a blind date and get married as his grandfather wanted. I also know that Brian may be helpless, but how could he not consider your feelings, how he could tell the world he has a girlfriend short after a blind date? Sister, does he not know you will be distressed? Does he not know you will be laughed at by friends? Does he not know you will be embarrassed to see friends?" "He doesn't care about your feelings because he doesn't have you in heart. Don't lie to yourself anymore. He doesn't love you as much as you say he does. He just wants you to bring up the kids." Vanessa cried from beginning to end, disappointed. Vanessa knew that Brian could not change anything, but he did not have to make it public to embarrass her sister. "Don't cry. I'll think about it. I'm gonna break up with him. Vanessa, I do everything for Luke and Megan, so I do not feel wronged. I wouldn't blame Brian if he was with me for the sake of the kids." "As long as the kids are good, I think everything is worth it," Winnie comforted Vanessa and herself. Tears had been quietly fallen. She wiped it off for fear that Vanessa would see it. "This situation is temporary. I'm not going to live like this my whole life. Don't worry, one day I will find my happiness." Winnie comforted Vanessa simply, because she did not know where to find her own happiness. She did not know who would give her happiness if she left the kids and Brian. She drove back alone to the suburbs after sending Vanessa to school. Actually, she was in a bad mood this day. She wanted to go back to her home and cried and released herself. But if she didn't go back to the suburbs today, the Bennet family would worry about her. So she had to go back no matter how painful her heart was. She was the most miserable, but she kept comforting others one after another. She was very tired, not physically, but mentally. Although Vanessa said angry words, some words were reasonable. Brian and Gloria were together, but it did not have to be known by everyone, but blocked completely. But Brian didn't do so. He ignored her in order to make his grandfather feel at ease. Perhaps true as Vanessa said, Brian did not love her at all, or did not love her as she imagined. Maybe he really kept her for the sake of the kids in the name of love. Alas..... There was no use thinking about it. When she moved to the suburbs, all she could think about was the kids. She had nothing to do with anyone or anything except the kids. Winnie stayed outside the villa for a long time, taking a moment to collect her emotions before driving into the villa. When she walked into the living room, she found everyone was there, including Brian. "Mom is back." Megan ran to her, followed by Luke. "Mom, we have had dinner. How come you're back late?" "I went to see Aunt Vanessa and we had dinner out." "Have you finished your homework?" Winnie talked to the kids like nothing happened, but Rufus felt distressed for her. "They have not, Luke, Megan, go upstairs to do homework." Rufus wanted two kids to walk away. Winnie understood Rufus's meaning and told two kids to go upstairs. "Go and do your homework. I will check it later." Two kids went upstairs obediently. Seeing that, Winnie knew that they had no learned about Brian's news. But it was good, or they would cry and worry. After two kids left, Winnie came to Brian and sat down beside him. "Do you have something to say, Rufus?" Winnie spoke first, so as not to embarrass everyone. "Winwin, what happened today..." Rufus was guilty and did not know what to say. "Brian was thoughtless about what happened today and he should have controlled it in time. Now everyone knows about it and he makes you sad..." "Rufus, I'm fine. There was nothing wrong with Brian. Sooner or later it will be known, better sooner than later." "Brian told me about it last night, I can understand him, and I know what he is thinking and what he is going to do. So I'm not sad." Winnie said softly, said as if she was in control of all this. However, she had not expected any of this. "Winwin, it was not Brian made the news, don't overthink about it. He was force to have a blind date, but he loves you." Stella explained, but she felt sorry for Winnie. How could Winnie not be sad? Which woman could accept that her man went on a blind date and made it all known? "Stella, I did not overthink about it. I know he was forced to have a blind date. Brian said that the one he loved most was always me, so I don't care who made the news, as long as it doesn't affect the work of Brian and Gloria." Winnie said generously and it was against her heart. Now she thought was a good liar, who was as good as those professionals. However, there was a hidden implication in this sentence, suggesting that Brian could make another Penny, but she was no sure if they could understand her. If it wasn't Brian, then it was two left. One was Felix and the other was Gloria. Felix was likely to do such a thing in order to promote the progress, but Gloria was likely to do so too. Winnie was confused. Gloria said she had a boyfriend, but she didn't say anything about the news. She was a model and a public figure, and she had a lot of fans. With such a thing happened, the broker unexpectedly did not explain, or block the news, allowing the gossip to spread like wildfire. So she thought it was likely that Gloria made it. "Winwin..." Brian wanted to explain, but Winnie refused to hear that. "I'm really fine. I know everyone's worried about me, but I really am ok. I was ready for everything before I came here. And no matter what happens, I can accept it." "But I have demands." Winnie looked at Brian seriously. "I don't want the kids to know about it if you won't marry her. I don't want them to cry. I don't want them to be sad. Gloria's fans will search all your information and I might be dug out, but I don't want to be the enemy of all Gloria's fans and be attacked by them." That was her bottom line. She could be sad, but she didn't want to put her children through that much at such a young age. She could be hurt by Brian, but never wanted to take the blow from Gloria. "You guys talk. I'll check the kids' homework." Winnie got up and left. She had expressed her thought and did not want to involve in the rest. After Winnie left, the living room fell silent. It was Stella who finally broke the silence. "Winwin is pitiful. Brian, you have not dealt with it well today but embarrassed her. Have you ever considered her feelings?" Stella could not help but complain. "Winwin pretended to be find and she was sour in heart." Joshua was not an eloquent man, but at that thought that Winnie pretended to be tough, he could not help saying. "Brian, go and comfort Winwin. Explain to her and she will feel better." Joshua added.

Hey, My Twins Babies

CHAPTER 537 IF YOU LOVE HER, SET HER FREE

Brian did not expect the news would have such a big impact and it spread so fast. If he knew, he would have taken it under control. "Ok, I'll talk to her." Brian answered Joshua with a frown and a low voice. "Have you found out who sent the news?" Rufus asked with dissatisfaction to Brian. "I have not checked it yet." Brian wanted it to be known, naturally he would not investigate it. "There are only two possibilities. One is your grandfather, and the other is Gloria. No journalist would dare to report anything involving the Bennet family, especially if it was uncertain." Rufus suspected, if it was not his father, it would be Gloria. If it was Gloria, she was not a simple person. "Winwin is suspecting Gloria." Joshua could not help but said and he wanted to make it clear. "Winwin said whether it would affect Gloria's work, she is in doubt that Gloria did it." He explained Winnie's idea clearly. Joshua did not doubt his judgment. That was what Winnie meant. "It is not Gloria, Gloria has a boyfriend. She's the one who proposed cooperation. How could she make such a fuss?" "I think it is grandpa. He is optimistic about Gloria's wealth and status. It would be difficult for Brian to deal with if he made it public." Stella did not agree with Joshua's words, she thought it was her grandfather instead of anyone else. "Brian, you can go to grandpa and confirm with him." Stella added, feeling that after confirming they would rest assured, and Winnie would not be estranged to Brian. "It's no use, even if you ask, Grandpa will not tell you the truth. Whether he did it or not, he won't admit it." "Forget it, I'll have the news blocked. Vanessa is right, we cannot let the children know it or allow Winnie to be attacked by Gloria's fans." Now Brian felt complex in heart. He felt sorry for Winnie, and he had to take the children into account, what was more, he had to consider what role grandpa played in this and his attitude. With much in mind, he might be thoughtless and could not analyze thoroughly. Brian did what he said, ordered Albert to block all the news when he was back to his room. As he put away his phone, Winnie returned to the room. "Have the kinds finished their homework?" Brian stood up and asked Winnie. "Yes. They are now playing with your father downstairs." Winnie put down her coat and bag, feeling tired. "How about Vanessa?" Brian continued. "Good, she said she could handle it." After that, Winnie turned to the bathroom, but Brian had not finished his words. "Vanessa saw the news?" Hearing that, Winnie stopped her paces. "Yes, as soon as the news came out." Winnie thought for a moment before she answered, because she did not know if she should be perfunctory or tell the truth. But the whole world has known about it, how could Vanessa not know it? So she thought she had no need to lie. "What did she say? Is she disappointed in me?" Vanessa still minded what happened in the old house, and not it happened. Brian could imagine Vanessa's reaction. In the past, Vanessa would call him to get to know the truth, but now she did not call. He could see that she was disappointed. Winnie was again silent, she did not know how to answer. Vanessa was disappointed, but if she told Brian, he would be upset. She'd better cover it up. "She said nothing. She said it was expected." "Brian, it doesn't matter what Vanessa said. Do whatever you want and don't care other's opinion. No matter how Vanessa thinks about you, it doesn't matter." Winnie was disappointed too, but she controlled it and did not know it obviously. Although Winnie did not say it, Brian knew Vanessa must be very disappointed. "Winwin, I have ordered Albert to block the news. You and the children will not be affected." "It has gone on more quickly than I thought possible, and it must have caused you much trouble. I....." "Well, don't be so polite with me. I know that. I understand that. But I really need to take a shower and relax. I've been receiving calls since the news came out this morning. And I am tired of explaining it." "You go downstairs and check on the kids. I'm going to take a bath." Winnie knew Brian was to explain and to say sorry. Every time he did not know it would hurt her until he did that, and after he did that, he would say sorry to her. Winnie had been tired of Brian's approach and he did not want to listen to his explanation and sorry. She turned and went straight to the bathroom. Winnie lay in the bathtub, trying to relax with her eyes closed. But those annoying things still bothered her. Brian said he had the news blocked, but the goal was achieved. The whole world had known about the relationship between the two of them. But the damage to her could not be removed. She could not pretend nothing had happened. Once she hurt, there would be a scar. When she had a lot of scars, she would not know how pain felt. When Winnie went upstairs, she did not go directly to the two children's room. Instead, she stood on the second floor, where she could not be seen, and heard the dialogue between Rufus and Brian downstairs. Only Joshua could hear her hint. No, the Bennet family was so smart and they should understand her, but they did not it was Gloria behind it. The Bennet family, including Brian, was standing in the perspective of the Bennet family, so they didn't think Gloria would do so. Only Joshua was standing in the outsider's point of view, so she gave a rational view. Winnie felt hurt deeply, but only now she understood that she, like Joshua, was an outsider of the Bennet family. But it was not right either. How could she be the same as Joshua? Joshua was accepted by the Bennet family, but she was much inferior to Joshua in the point of the Bennet family. She'd better not care about anything. Even if she had heartache, she could not blame anyone. She would only live for the kids and Brian could do whatever he wanted, as long as he was happy. The next day to work, Brian went first. He wanted to see Vanessa during the breakfast time. When he reached Vanessa's school, Vanessa did not let him in. Brian could only wait for Vanessa in the parking lot outside the school. The car parked. Brian stood outside the car, thinking about how to make Vanessa believe him and she would not feel sad. "Do you want to see me?" Vanessa came to Brian and spoke in a strange tone. "Vanessa, I know you don't have much time, so I will make it short. Yesterday..." "The headlines about you, right? I know it. You just had a blind date, but you made the whole world know it, I really don't understand the rich's world." "Brian, do you know why I don't let you go in my school? You are famous now. Everyone in our school knows you. If you went in, I will be the focus. Poor people like us don't dare make a fuss." Vanessa felt sorry for her sister at the thought of what happened yesterday, now she had no hope for Brian. And she did not want to listen to his explanation. "Vanessa, I did not deal with it well. I didn't expect to make it so big. I know you won't understand, but I..." "Alas..... Hold on, hold on. It doesn't make any sense if I understand or not, because my sister is a tool to give birth to your kids, I am even nothing, so my understanding does not matter." Vanessa interrupted Brian again. No matter what Brian said and did, she did not care. She only cared about her sister, as long as she would not hurt. "Vanessa, I know I'm thoughtless, but you need to hear me out." Brian knew that Vanessa would be dissatisfied with him, but did not expect she was emotional and even did not give him a chance to explain. "Brian, you should hear me out. You should know what I think." "Brian, in my heart you are my brother-in-law, but I find that our family thought too much. You don't give a shit about all of us. Yes, you have your reason to go to a blind date and you have to do it, my sister and I have no right to interfere it, but can you keep a low profile? Could you please not make my sister sad?" "She loves you. Her heart is made of flesh and blood, not steel that could be good all the time. She said nothing, but her heart ached." "Must you hurt her in such a way? Are you happy to hurt her bit by bit?" "You don't love her. How could you possibly fall in love with a humble orphan like us? If you love her, you should first consider her feelings instead of neglecting her." "Brian, I know what you want to say. You want to say you were forced to have a blind date and you did not mean to hurt my sister. You just find all kinds of excuses for your behavior." "I accept your explanation, and forgive your behavior. I don't hate you or blame you. But if you love my sister, don't play with her. If you love my sister, set her free. We are poor, but we have dignity. We are not for you rich people to play with." Vanessa said in one breath, did not give Brian the opportunity to refute. After saying that, she gave a disappointed and angry look at Brian and then turned away. She didn't need to listen to his explanation because she knew it. Brian frowned and stood there with guilt. Looking at Vanessa's back, he was speechless. Vanessa's accusations like a bayonet into his heart made him unable to refute. His wrong judgment and perfunctory behavior brought Winnie much pain and he did not realize it till someone told him so.

CHAPTER 538 GLORIA'S INVITATION

Winnie was disappointed, as well as Vanessa and her aunt. He had been doing not well. He had been reflecting himself, but the damage to Winnie had never stopped. In the eyes of the Chambers family he was not a scam. Because he hurt Winnie again and again, Winnie's aunt refused to see him. It had been two days since the blind date, but Brian and Gloria had not seen each other since the day they parted or contacted by phone. They agreed that they would not see each other privately unless asked by their elders. In the past two days, Winnie had adjusted her mood. But today Gloria came to Brian's company. Once she arrived at the company, she became the attention. All staff in the company had discussion, even there was such conversation. "Gloria is here. Will Winnie be ignored? Gloria was pompous, as if she was the real Mrs. Bennet. And Winnie, as a mistress, dare not keep her head up." "Yes, that's the difference." "Don't talk nonsense. Mr. Bennet cares about Winnie. I think Winnie and he is the best match." "You are naïve. Mr. Bennet is kind to Winnie because Winnie was capable and could bring benefits to the Bennet Group. If you were Mr. Bennet, which one would you choose, Gloria or Winnie?" "I... maybe Gloria. Even if Winnie is capable, she does not have a rich family." "Right, you are simple and choose Gloria. Mr. Bennet is so clever, certainly he will choose Gloria." Hearing that, Winnie was quite angry. But it was inevitable. After all, the relationship between Gloria and Brian were public and she could not be a good person in everyone's mouth. As Winnie had such a bitter thought, someone asked curiously, which caught Winnie's attention. "You said that Mr. Bennet is nice to Winnie was because she was capable. Who told you that?" "The president's secretary and I are very close. She told me. It must be right. She heard it from Chairman when he was on the phone." "..... Well, that sounds bad. Is the president personally responsible for keeping a talented person at such a large company?" The person seemed incredulous. "She has two children. Winnie is not qualified to be his wife, but Winnie takes good care of the two children, how will Chairman let her go?" "You mean the chairman kept Winnie around for two reasons. One is that she can take care of the children, and the other is for the benefits that Winnie brings to the company." "Yes, you're right. That's what the president's secretary heard." "....." The discussion continued in the tea room, but Winnie turned away. She could accept the reason Felix keep her around and felt what they said was truth, because he took interests as priority. But was that why Brian kept her around? He said he loved her, he took care of her, she was his medicine and she was his destiny. Was this the truth or just a lie to keep her around? Winnie's thought was confused. The sound of the discussion in the tea room was still lingering in her ears. In the eyes of the entire company, she was a mistress. Everything in the world seemed to go round in circles, it would always return to the scene of deja vu. Now Winnie came back to her initial experience and was called a mistress again. Mistress, cheater attached to her inadvertently, but now it seemed to be with her for a lifetime. Gloria was in Brian's office at the moment. She came to give an invitation for her father. "My father wants you to attend our company's anniversary celebration as my boyfriend." "Brian, this is our first cooperation. Think it over, you can quit now." Gloria was born with amorous feelings, even enchanting when she spoke. Fortunately, Brian did not like such charming woman. "It has started, how can I quit? It is just acting." Brian agreed to go to Gloria's home as a boyfriend. "All right, you agree. I need to explain to my boyfriend in advance so he won't get upset." Gloria took the initiative to mention her boyfriend, so that Brian could be at ease. "By the way, did you release the news the other day? I've had people try to block it, but they failed. It took me a long time to explain it to my boyfriend. You should discuss it with me first." Gloria mentioned it, which ruled out her own suspicion. "It wasn't me. It could have been a journalist." Brian had not investigated it, but Gloria did not look like telling a lie, so the only possibility was his grandpa. Grandpa must be optimistic about the wealth of Gloria's family, and afraid that he did not like Gloria, so he made such a fuss. "This reporter has background and even dare to report your news." "Well, my work is done. See you at the anniversary." Gloria got up directly and left Brian's office without hesitation. Looking at the invitation on his desk, Brian knew that as long as they appeared in public together, his affair with Gloria would become a reality. Would Winnie be hurt again because of it? Was it right or wrong for him to agree to cooperate with Gloria? Wendy was anxious these days. She already felt hard to deal with Winnie, now it came Gloria. How smart did she have to be to handle two people? In face of such a powerful enemy, there was nothing she could do. Every at this time Wendy wanted to find someone for help, but she could not come to Penny again, so she could only go to Klara. Wendy asked Klara out at noon. They met at a cold drink shop. "Wendy, how have you been these two days? I failed to contact you. Didn't you read the news between Mr. Bennet and Gloria?" Klara asked before she could sit down. "Yes, how can't I not read it as it has been spread? I've been thinking about it for the past two days, but I don't know what to do." Wendy was annoyed by this matter and did not care about Klara. "What is going on? It is too sudden that they were together." Klara was confused for it happened unprepared. "Yes, Klara, do you know Gloria?" Actually, Wendy had checked the basic information of Gloria, but she thought Klara knew more about it. "I am not sure, but she had worked with our company. She has a powerful family and everyone in B City knew whose daughter she is. She had a scandal with Mr. Bennet about two years ago." That was all Klara knew. She felt that Gloria's family was much better than Wendy's. "Is that scandal true or false?" What Wendy worried right now was not family actually, but useless scandal. "I don't know. Mr. Bennet did not say yes or no." At that time Klara was Brian's secretary, but it was not right to ask such a question. "That is true then. I was not around, and Winnie was around. He can't refuse such a woman when he only had Penny by his side." "I saw some photos and videos of Gloria. She is coquettish in my words. All men like that kind of women, so does Brian. Wendy said hopelessly. If Brian liked Gloria, she really had to give up. "Wendy, now it is not the time for this. Based on my knowledge of Brian, he doesn't like that kind of woman at all. The person he loves the most is Winnie." Klara really did not understand why Wendy was so stupid. Why didn't she try to solve the problem but cared about the past? "If so, why did he make it big? I think Winnie will be abandoned soon like me." Wendy really had no motivation to continue, because she could not handle with Gloria. "Wendy, it might be Chairman behind that and Mr. Bennet must listen to him. If Mr. Bennet like Gloria, would he wait until now? They would be together two years ago." "I advise you to focus on Winnie." Klara thought that Gloria and Brian should have no feelings for each other. Gloria's only advantage was that she had a rich family. "Based on the current situation, Winnie will be a mistress all her life. Felix will not accept her. If he can accept her, how can he allow Brian to be with Gloria?" "There is no doubt that Gloria will be Brian's wife." Wendy wanted to give up and felt that Winnie was no longer obstacle. When the time came, she could only retreat. "No, I don't think so. Although Winnie has no a strong family background, Mr. Bennet loves her." "It happened too suddenly. I learned from the secretary that on the day before the blind date, Mr. Bennet and Winnie was good and there is no change after that. They're still together." "I think Mr. Bennet seems to be acting, maybe he just finds a woman to deal with Chairman." This was Klara's conclusion after talking with the secretary, after all, he had Penny to do that, so it was understandable. "Did you ask the secretary?" Wendy's eyes became bright when she heard that. "Yes, the secretary said she has never seen Gloria came to the company to find Mr. Bennet. How can she not find him if they have a relationship?" "Wendy, I think I am right based on my understanding on Mr. Bennet." Klara gave an affirmative answer. Winnie did not care about it, which was the best proof. "You mean there's hope for me?" Wendy sat up straight, and she became excited from dejected.

CHAPTER 539 WAIT FOR YOUR WORDS

Seeing that Wendy's mood changed, Klara raised the corners of her mouth slightly. "Of course, but it depends on whether you are willing to accept the hope." "If you don't love Mr. Bennet and are willing to give up all that he can give you, give up now. If you are still in love with him, go after your love bravely." Although Klara gave Wendy two choices, she hoped Wendy would not give up. If Wendy gave up, she would not have anyone to use. "Alas..... Winnie. Winnie hasn't given up, why should I give up? Anyway, my family is better than Winnie's." Wendy gave her answer, at this time she remembered what Klara told her and she had not had the money back yet. She would hold on for a while, even for the money. "You are right. You don't have to care about Gloria. I can guarantee that she won't be Mr. Bennet." Klara secretly laughed in the heart. She knew that Wendy would not give up Brian and his money. Although Wendy was also rich, she was only richer than Klara. If compared with Brian, Wendy's money was a drop in the bucket. Back home in the evening, Brian told Winnie that Gloria's father gave him an invitation. He wanted to confirm Winnie's thought, if Winnie opposed, he would immediately remove the relationship with Gloria. Hearing that, Winnie was silent. What could she say when Brian gave her a difficult problem to deal with? If she opposed, it was against the will of Felix, but if she did not oppose, she actually minded it. Brian did not respond to the gossip, so neither Gloria. So even if it was big, it was just speculation. But Brian appeared in public with Gloria, it proved that gossip was truth. "Do what you think." Winnie decided not to oppose. She had already mapped out the route for herself, so just keep going. Brian was just a lesson in her life, learn from it, and don't take it seriously. "If Gloria and I show up as boyfriend and girlfriend, then our cooperation will officially begin." If Brian knew what to do, there was no need to ask Winnie, but afraid of hurting Winnie, he must be careful. "It started when you weren't trying to stop the news." For the definition of the beginning, Winnie had her own views. Now the whole city knew about it, what was the point to ask her now? "Go, and keep your promise. It's okay on my side. I understand." Winnie knew that Brian was waiting for her words. Since she said that, Brian would not have a burden. Since her words could make Brian feel at ease, she could say it several times. "Alas....." Brian took a sigh and took Winnie into her arms. "I owe you more and more. Winwin, no matter how much I owe you, you can't leave me. Just think of me as a selfish person, and you pity me. I'll make it up to you when we're settled." "I cook for you every day, wash your feet every day, massage you every day, pick you from work every day, and I buy you a bunch of flowers every day, so that you live happily ever after." Winnie's words did make Brian less guilty, but he felt afraid. Thinking of what Vanessa said in the morning, he was afraid that Winnie would leave him. He admitted that he had been too selfish, but without Winnie, he even had no motivation to be selfish. "Well, I won't leave you. I'll wait for you. I wait for you to do these things for me every day." No matter what Brian said, Winnie obeyed and agreed blindly. As long as her words could make Brian happy, even if it was false, at least at the moment Brian could be pleased. As for whether she could wait for Brian to do those things, it depended on destiny. "I went to see Vanessa today, and she seemed very disappointed in me." Brian told Winnie. "She is emotionally unstable and doesn't know what's going on. Whatever she said, don't take it to your heart. In a few days when it is settled, she will forget about it." Winnie could guess what Vanessa said. When Vanessa was angry, it was easy to deal with. She must have said tough words and it would embarrass Brian. "Vanessa is right, I didn't do a good job. I didn't do anything well about you. I didn't think in your shoes. I want to say sorry to you and please don't leave me." "Vanessa told me to set you free. Even though I know I'm not good enough, I just don't want to let you go." Brian wanted a positive answer from Winnie. At the thought that Vanessa was disappointed, he was worried that Winnie would quietly leave with her family and two kids. "That's what she said. I won't leave you. I have kids and a job, I can't just walk away. Don't worry, I'll be with you and the kids for the rest of my life, waiting for the day when you serve me." Winnie patted Brian's back gently. Brian was selfish, but she could not resist the requirements of Brian. She wanted to make him at ease and she could not affect everything about Brian. The news between Brian and Gloria seemed to be calm, but the news had just reached the ears of Penny. Why did Penny know so late? Because she voluntarily transferred herself to the ordinary cell and stayed with more than ten people in a cell. It was not as good as a single room, but she could hear a lot of gossip, she could meet people, she could make phone calls to spread her news out. She heard the news of Brian and Gloria in the collective cell. She did not understand why Brian did so, why he made it so big. He was clearly in love with Winnie, why now he was with Gloria? She knew Gloria. She had investigated her because her scandal with Brian two years ago. She had a better family than she and she had a good shape, good at seducing men. Penny knew Gloria liked Brian, and had been seducing Brian by the use of cooperation. If it were not for her to think of some means to destroy the ambition of Gloria, Wendy would have been dumped. But now that she was in prison, Gloria took action again. Whether Brian had feeling to Gloria or not, Penny could be sure that Gloria had feeling to Brian. "What are you thinking, Penny?" One of Penny's cellmates came over and asked Penny. Penny admired this girl called Amy. He was 25, but she was a major offender, and he had been in prison for four years. And on top of that, she was well-connected and everyone in this prison knew her. That was the reason why Penny transferred herself to this cell. But Amy had no money. So on the first day Penny came here, she handled Amy with money. "You are being polite to me, Penny. Although we have only known each other for two days, I feel that we really hit it off with each other. I like to be with you. From now on no one dares to mess with you." Amy complimented Penny, not for any other reason but for Penny had money. Penny gave a faint smile. Amy was shrewd, but she was sinister cruel, but Penny knew her weakness, so she had to respect Penny. If you have money, you can make the devil push the millstone for you. A new day began. Stella made an appointment to have physical examination in the hospital today. She finished at ten and then she came to Kevin's office. Kevin had an operation, so Stella waited for a while. "Have you waited for a long time? Contact me in advance next time, I must vacate time." Kevin walked back in a hurry. While speaking to Stella, he took off his white coat. "It is not a big deal. I have come to have a medical examination and want to discuss with you about Brian." Stella said with a smile. She had regarded Kevin as her brother since childhood. Whatever happened, she would discuss with Kevin, especially about Brian. "Stella, it is noon and I am available. Let's eat out." Kevin felt that he should talk to Stella about Brian, especially things between Brian and Winnie. The two rarely sat down to eat together, and the main topic was Brian. "Although Winwin didn't say anything about the blind date, I know she must feel bad." Stella said while eating. When it came to Winnie who was inclusive of everything, she felt that Bennet family was guilty to Winnie. "She takes care of the two kids without complaint or regret, and educates them well. What is more, she is impolite to and concerned about me and my father." "No matter how tired she was at work, when she comes home and sees a meal was cooking, she goes in and helps. She would buy food that my father likes no matter how difficult it was to park." "She was such a good daughter-in-law, but our family treats her like that. I am ashamed." Stella felt Winnie was good, but the final conclusion that she was sorry for Winnie. "Stella, Winwin must be unhappy. If it had not been for the two children, I think she would have left Brian. Although she has no money, she is not the kind of woman who values money. All she did was for the children and for Brian. In her words, as long as the children and Brian are happy, all she did is worth it." "What she said does not mean that she really accepted Brian's blind date. Though Brian had told her beforehand, no one had thought it would be so big." Kevin inevitably spoke for Winnie.

CHAPTER 540 SACRIFICE WINNIE

Kevin was an outsider, but there were some things that only an outsider can measure judge in a fair and just way. To outsiders, Winnie is was more like a pawn in The hands of Brian, who can could be put where he wants wanted. "It's been more than a year since Winwin came back to work, and Winwin hasn't had a good time. , but encountered One bad thing one after another." This kind of In such a situation, is changed for the money and thea woman for money could not that born can not insist till now. Winnie would not have endured this without love and children. Kevin as a man all admired Winnie so have forbear a woman who forbearing like Winnie. "A few days ago in MG, Winwin some matter had an accident. And it's just been days since she returned home, and now she has to deal with, this return home only a few days ah, have made a Gloria. To be honest, Winwin has become a public laughingstock." Stella listened to Kevin's words carefully. Hearing that Winwin some matter had an accident in MG, she frowned and paused. "What do you mean Winwin some matter had an accident in MG?" Stella asked with puzzlement. "Brian didn't tell you? I thought you knew it." Kevin was surprised that Stella did not know it, so he told her what happened. "Do you suspect that Wendy did both?" Stella was surprised that even abroad Winnie would encounter accidents under the eye of Brian. "Yes, there's no proof, but the most likely person is her. To regain his memory, Brian brought Wendy there, and Wendy lived in MG for several years. It is possible for her to find a few people to put Winwin into the police station." "Stella, it is about Brian's memory. Brian was uncertain about it, so Wendy misled his memory. She also tried to use it get Brian back to her." Now that it came to this matter, Kevin said a few more words. In his view, Wendy must be handled first, let Brian and Wendy completely broke the connection, so that Winnie would be less worried, and Wendy would not do tricks to hurt Winnie. "Wendy is pushing her luck. It's not what she was going through, but she said she was involved. I didn't see her so shameless and sinister before." Stella was angry. She thought Kevin's analysis was right. "Wait, it's not what she went through. How did she find the place so easily?" Stella found something wrong. "I don't know. She said it was resolved at the time. I don't know how she made that up. Brian took Wendy there because he thought of a portfolio." "A portfolio?" Stella wondered what it was. "I don't know. Brian only remembered that when he was hit by a car, he slipped the portfolio to the woman in desperation." "He said it wasn't big, but he couldn't remember what was in it." Kevin told Stella everything he knew. At this time, Stella frowned more tightly. "It might be the evidence of Uncle Thomas." Stella thought so, because it fit to that car accident. Kevin has the same thought, but he did not dare to jump to a conclusion. After all, it was the matter of the Bennet family, and involved all the contradictions inside the family. Kevin could not talk nonsense. "We haven't found the portfolio, and we can't tell what happened. But I think there is something wrong with Wendy knowing so much." "You think someone told her?" Stella asked Kevin. She thought so, but she was not sure about it. "I think there are two possibilities. One is that Brian had mentioned it to her. The other is that the other party told her. No third party knew about it, so that's why I think there are two possibilities." Kevin referred to Thomas. "Have you confirmed it with Brian?" She must first make sure that Brian did not leak information before suspecting the other side. "He said he couldn't remember whether he said it or not. Stella, whether Brian said it or not, be careful of the other side. You'd check to see if they're in contact." "I'm not worried about anything else but Wendy's continuing to deal with Winwin. Or, we call tell Brian that Wendy is not that woman, lest Wendy takes advantage of it." Kevin was worried about Winnie, and Stella needed to consider the overall situation of Brian family, so she did not agree to tell Brian about it.

"No, don't tell Brian. Let Wendy do what she wants. It's best that Brian can't remember it." After saying that, Stella took a sigh and then continued. "Kevin, I know what you mean. You want to get rid of Wendy thoroughly, let her give up on Brian and stop hurting Winwin. And I know what I'm doing isn't fair to Winwin. But you know about our family. Once Brian knows what Uncle Thomas did, our Brian family would be in chaos." "As you know, Brian will surely do something about it. But for grandpa, Uncle Thomas is his son. Even if he doesn't speak for Uncle Thomas, he will do his best to keep Uncle Thomas alive." "Brian said many years ago that he wanted to kill Uncle Thomas, but if he does so, he will not have a good life. If so, what should his two children and my father do?" "Although I know my decision is selfish and unfair to Winnie, I have no expedient plan but to sacrifice Winnie." "I understand what you said, but Brian will find it out sooner or later. His condition is improving quickly, and his memory will come back sooner or later." Kevin knew what Stella was worrying about, but once Brian have his memory back, it was still inevitable. Why sacrifice Winnie? "That's what I'm worried about right now. To be honest, I wish he won't get better so soon and he can give him more time." Stella explained her view. "Brian's eccentric and cruel mentality started from the death of our mother. If he doesn't have that mentality, he wouldn't do anything to Uncle Thomas or hurt Uncle Thomas by means, he would have a correct idea to deal with this matter. But he would not let Uncle Thomas go with such mentality." "Kevin, I wondered if you have noticed that Brian's attitude has changed since he got to know Winwin. He's not as negative as he used to be. He doesn't do things in extremes." "I can see his smile, I can talk to him. And his relationship with my dad is much better. They can sit down to discuss things. They can eat together in peace. These are all changes in him." "I said I want him to leave more time for himself, because I want Winwin to change him. When he could calm down and feel relieved about hatred, it will be good when he remembered everything." Stella told Kevin her view in one breath. There were some things she said to Kevin, but there were some things she didn't. For example, let Winnie change Brian. Kevin took a sigh of relief. Stella did that for the joy of the Bennet family, but Kevin understood that it based on the sacrifice of Winnie. But Stella never considered that if it took long, Winnie would have to suffer and if she was able to bear that. Kevin thought so, but he did not say it out. Now it seemed not only Felix in the Bennet family was selfish, all the Bennet family members only cared about themselves. The meal was in vain. All that had to be said had been said, but nothing had changed. Winnie had to continue to suffer. Emily had booked a flight, but she changed the schedule because Brian's scandal. She worried that Winnie had to endure it alone and that she would have a heart disease. Another Saturday morning, in order to enlighten Winnie, Emily and Daenerys asked Winnie out to climb mountain, wanted to take her to the top of the mountain to shout out to release herself. "I have no enough strength. Take a rest. I am tired to death." Winnie stopped climbing and said, panting. Since the birth of the children, she had been in poor physical health and suffered from severe illness due to excessive bleeding led by the incident with Daniel. Anyway, she could not continue to climb the mountain now. Daenerys and Emily in the front walked back seeing that Winnie could not continue. They sat down at one place. "From now on, get up earlier every day and keep running in the morning. It is good for your health." Emily gave advice. She felt distressed for Winnie, but she did not know how to help. "Well, I will insist. But aren't you going?" Winnie turned her head and asked Emily. "We are worried about you, how can we go?" Daenerys answered. She wanted to say it tactfully, but Winnie was not silly, so it was useless to be tactful. "There's no use worrying about me. But it's really relaxing that you stay and talk to me." "It's lucky I have you, or there'd be no point in living." Winnie was grateful for that Emily stayed for her. In this case, she could feel at ease and Leo would have more opportunities. "You are silly. If you are tough and tactful, your life will be meaningful. You always tolerated blindly and took all responsibility. When do you think you can carry it? Don't you feel tired?" Emily and Daenerys had same idea. They hoped that Winnie would fight back no matter what she encountered, and resolved it with a strong will, rather than giving in blindly. "I am tired, for sure." Winnie smiled bitterly. "When my parents died, I brought up Vanessa who was sick and had a huge debt. At that time, I was focused on making money. I just wanted to cure Vanessa's disease and pay off the debt left by my parents." "Every day in addition to my work, I had to have part-time jobs. I was tired to death, I saw hope back then. I was physically tired, but I will be full of energy after sleeping."
