Hey, My Twins Babies

CHAPTER 561 DISCUSSION WITH NO RESULT

Daenerys knew Winnie wanted to be alone and did not want to be disturbed at this moment. "Don't call her now, she must be very upset at this moment. She had her pride and cannot accept our comfort at this moment." "Then call Brian. I'll call him." Kevin said angrily. When he saw the first news, he wanted to call Brian, but Daenerys stopped her. But now it came another piece of news. And it was more serious than before, he really did not care about Winnie's feeling. However, his phone was grabbed by Daenerys. "Don't. It's pointless. He just needs to explain to Winwin, he doesn't have to say anything to us." Daenerys was the most composed and calm. She did not get angry, did not blame Brian, nor call Winnie. It was not that she didn't care enough about her friend, but she felt that thinking had come full circle and they might be together anymore. Daenerys used Kevin's phone to call Vanessa. After a few talks, she felt more relieved. Then she told everyone not to be worried. "Winwin was with Stefan. She drank too much and didn't go home for fear that the kids would see that. Don't worry, Stefan will take care of her." "Why didn't she come to us? We can drink with her and scold Brian together." Emily asked with puzzlement. "She felt wronged if she saw us and might not say anything. And she might hold back tears for fear that we will be worried." "She had to talk to someone she doesn't know very well." Oscar gave an explanation. He had been silent because he had the same thought as Daenerys. At this time, if the best friend showed concern to her, she would break down and it would hurt her self-esteem. "Alas, I hope Stefan can take good care of her, she is so poor." "What can we do? How can we help them? They are good to be together, why there are always something happened?" Emily was still worried about Winnie, afraid that she could not bear it alone. "No one could help. Felix has a tough attitude. Either they break up, or Winwin stays with Brian for nothing." Leo spoke. He had few opportunities to talk to Felix, but the people who had cooperation with him would mention Felix. And he heard from his father that Felix only cared about interests. Whatever it was, he would do it if there was no profit. Leo continued to say. "I've heard my father that Rufus' marriage was arranged by him. Now it's Brian's turn. Although the Bennet Group is now unbeatable, and Brian's strength will make it better, Felix still wants to arrange marriage for him. He is thinking far and wide and wants to find a backer for Brian in case of accident." "Leo was right, that was what Felix had in mind. He's pushy and he doesn't think of anyone else for the sake of the company." Kevin agreed with Leo's analysis, because Brian had told him such words. "Felix isn't pushy. I think he's selfish. He only cares about himself." Daenerys spoke. His selfishness had destroyed the happiness of many people. "Why can't Brian give up everything for Winwin? He's not the only one in his family and the Bennet Group would not go bankrupt without him." Emily understood Felix was selfish, but she did not understand Brian's attitude towards this matter. Brian liked Winnie, why could not he do something for her? "Brian is not going to give up on the Bennet Group easily. Without him, the Bennet Group will really go bankrupt." Kevin said, because he knew many of it. Winnie and the Bennet family were equally important to Brian, so it was not easy for Brian to take care of it. It was precisely because the Bennet Group was in the hands of Brian, there were many things out of his control. Although Kevin knew everything, he himself was more inclined to Winnie. If the company was gone, he could rebuild it, but if Winnie left, he would regret it for a lifetime. "So, it is not worth for Winwin to stay with Brian. If Winwin and Brian's position is changed, Winwin will give up everything and chose him. That's the difference between men and women. Men are too realistic and women are too stupid." Emily was angry. In her opinion anything was not important than Winnie. Now no matter what the position Brian had, he did not do enough for Winnie. No one refuted Emily's words, because everyone agreed with her. They all felt that Brian had not done enough for Winnie and he did not love Winnie that much as he said. They talked about Winnie together, but no one could think of a way to persuade Felix. And the discussion was over. Oscar left first because he had to pick up a client at the airport. Then Emily left, followed by Leo. He followed Emily downstairs, to the parking lot, and then to Emily's car. "What do you want?" Emily looked back and asked Leo. When she was alone with Leo, she found that her heart beating like it was her first love and she could not control her heartbeat. "You..... You're not leaving, are you?" Leo hesitated in speech. "Yes, but Winwin needs my help during this period of time. I'll leave after that." Emily answered indifferently, but only she knew at the moment her heart was in chaos. "My parents are waiting for me. I gotta go." She wanted to stay together with Leo, even if they said nothing, but it was time to leave. After all, they had nothing to do with each other. Emily was to get into the car, but was stopped by Leo. "Emily, can you give me another chance? I....." Leo summoned up the courage to pursue his love, but his attitude made Emily uncomfortable. "Leo, what do you think I am? How many times have you said that? How many times have you given up? What are you thinking?" "You went on blind dates. No matter what the reason was, the moment that you met, we had nothing to do with each other, and now you come to me. What? Are you not satisfied with your blind date?" Emily admitted that she minded Leo's blind date. She was not Winnie and she could not endure it like Winnie did. She wanted her man to love her only. But Leo was wrong, he wanted her to be back to her, but he still had a blind date. "I..." "Since you are no satisfied, go to the next blind date. Take the initiative, don't make your mother force you." Emily said sadly but angrily, and then threw away Leo's hand and left. "Why can't you give me a chance to explain? Why can't you hear me out?" Leo soliloquized. He wanted to give up, but he loved Emily. He wanted to start over, but it seemed hard. The next day. Winnie woke up in the hotel in a daze. A woman was lying on the sofa across from the bed. It was hard to see if she was awake or asleep. "You are..." Winnie sat up and asked tentatively. The woman heard Winnie's voice, suddenly sat up, feeling disturbed. "You are up. Stefan went to buy breakfast, he will be back soon." The woman was dazed. Since she mentioned Stefan, Winnie felt relieved. "Oh, you are?" Winnie asked again. "I'm a friend of Stefan's and the manager of the hotel. My name is Caro. He called me last night and asked me to give you a room." Caro briefly introduced, then got up and came to the bed. "You were throwing up until after three in the morning. Stefan and I took care of you until three o'clock." Caro wanted to tell Winnie that Stefan stayed up all night for her. Hearing that, Winnie was embarrassed and said sorry. "Sorry to bother you." "Never mind, I am just here to accompany you. It was Stefan took care of you." It was true that Caro did not do anything, but she did not sleep well. Her existence was to avoid the embarrassment that Stefan and Winnie were together in a room, so Stefan asked her to stay. As Caro's works fell, Stefan pushed the door in. Winnie got out of bed and began to eat breakfast. "You two eat. I'm too sleepy, I need some sleep now." With that, Caro walked toward the bed. "Eat before you go to bed. The breakfast will be cold when you wake up." Stefan called Caro, but Caro must sleep first. "You eat. I'll have a working meal when I wake up. By the way, after you finish, you can leave. I'll check out this room." Caro said and lied on the bed. It was more tired than night shift, she'd have some sleep first. Since Caro was in asleep, Winnie and Stefan kept silent and left after finishing the breakfast. Winnie went straight home and bought breakfast downstairs before going upstairs. "You're back. I was so worried. Is everything all right?" Vanessa asked her sister as soon as she saw her. "I am ok, I told you not to worry. Where are the two kids?" Winnie said while handing the breakfast to Vanessa. "They are washing faces. They asked about you when they woke up. If you don't come back, I don't know how to answer." Vanessa answered and walked toward the kitchen. Seeing that her sister had a haggard face, Vanessa knew her sister was not doing well. While Vanessa took the two kids to have breakfast, Winnie went to her room. She had dizziness and headache after being drunk.

Hey, My Twins Babies

CHAPTER 562 THE BENNET FAMILY

She was drunk, but some of her memories were pretty clear. Winnie remembered everything except the time she spent in the hotel until three in the morning. She remembered Brian's news, the conversation between her and Stefan, vomiting on the way and Vanessa's phone call. She remembered all the sad things, but after she got drunk and talked with Stefan, she felt much better and less negative. Winnie lay on the bed, thinking and rubbing her drowsy head. She was glad it was the weekend, otherwise it would have seriously affected her work. Vanessa was worried about Winnie during the whole meal, so she soon finished eating. "You two eat slowly. When you finish, go upstairs and clean up your rooms. I will check which room is cleaner. I will take whoever is good downstairs to play." Vanessa coaxed the kids so that she got some time for herself. After that, she went to Winnie's room. She came to Winnie's bedside. Seeing that her sister was gloomy, she could not help but sigh. "Shall I go downstairs and get you some antidote?" "No, I didn't sleep well. I'll be fine after a rest." Winnie was really uncomfortable, but she could not say it out, or Vanessa would be more worried. "Vanessa, are you free today?" Winnie asked in a low voice, which sounded feeble. "Yes. You can take a rest. I'll take care of the kids." Even if she got something to do, she could not go out but had to accompany her sister since her sister was so sad. "Ok. I have a coat in the pocket by the door, take it to the dry cleaner." Winnie pointed to the paper bag at the door. "Ok." Vanessa readily agreed and then asked about Brian. "Sister, Brian had been calling last night, and I turned off my phone in the end. He's worried about you. Would you like to call him back?" Vanessa conveyed the worries of Brian to Winnie after a moment of thinking. "I'll call him later." Winnie gave a bitter smile. There was nothing about her to be worried. He just needed to deal with his thing. "Sister, what is your plan?" Vanessa had always wanted to ask this question, and had always wanted to persuade her sister to give up Brian. Life was so short, she should not only focus on one man. Even if she had kids, she could not be indulged in Brian. Even if she had kids, she could not be so depressed. "I'm not sure. I'll think about it later." Winnie gave her answer. She had not yet decided what to do. If she continued, she had to endure the pain. If she separated from Brian, she was sorry to her kids. It was difficult to make decision. She did not want to have heartache and did not want kids had single parent. "Think it over. I'll support you whatever you decide." Vanessa did not push her. She knew that her sister was now in the most chaos, she needed time to think it over. "Take a bath before you go to bed. It will make you feel better. I'll take the clothes away, and you can sleep and not worry about the kids. I'll go out and bring them down to play." After Vanessa turned away, Winnie sighed. Her stupid things made everyone worry. She felt her life was getting worse. Instead of calling Brian immediately, Winnie got out of bed and went to the bathroom. She needed to take a shower and think if she should call Brian. After taking a bath, she felt much better, but sleepy. Winnie closed the curtains and lay down on the bed. Holding the phone in her hand, she thought for a long time before she removed Brian out of the blacklist. Winnie decided to call Brian. "I've been drinking last night and I haven't got up yet. Vanessa is taking care of the kids." Winnie told him about the situation before Brian said a word. She felt that was all she could say at the moment. "Did you drink too much? Do you have headache?" Brian showed his concern. He felt more relieved as he heard the voice of Winnie. "No." Winnie gave a decisive answer. Even if she had headache, it had nothing to do with Brian. There was no need to let him know. "Winwin, yesterday..." Brian wanted to explain, so that they could feel better, but Winnie didn't want to hear it. So she interrupted him when she heard the word "Yesterday". "I'm sleepy. I want to sleep. We will talk when you get back." Winnie hung up the phone directly. She did not want to listen to Brian's explanation, because she had not decided how to continue their relationship. She was afraid that she could not sleep and had headache after hearing that. She needed two more days to think about what she should do. Winnie turned off her phone and went to sleep leaving everything behind. She did not wake up until three o'clock in the afternoon. The first thing she did when she woke up was to turn on her phone, only to receive a message from Felix. Before she read it, Winnie felt a headache. The Bennet Group made things difficult for her. In the evening, Winnie took two kids to a Chinese restaurant to have dinner with Felix. This was the message that Felix had sent her. Felix asked her bring Vanessa with her, but Vanessa refused. So there were only four people at the table. Winnie, two kids and Felix. "Why isn't your sister here?" Felix had guessed what was going on, but he still asked. Winnie wanted to make up a reason, but Megan spoke before she did. "My aunt will have an exam soon. She is studying her lessons at home." Megan unintentionally said, but she knew why her aunt did not come. And she still minded what happened in the old house. "Aunt is good in study, you must take aunt as an example." Felix did not think much and did not expect that the kids still cared about what happened that day. "Grandpa, we will study hard, so that we can be able to protect our mother." Felix was surprised to hear that. The purpose of studying hard for the kids was to protect their mother. Did they know Brian's blind date? Joe was suspicious, but he made no mention of it. "Good, no matter what the reason is, as long as you study hard, you are good kids." After that, Felix took a look Winnie, but Winnie was expressionless. She was no longer restricting the kids' right to speak, no longer telling them to be careful what they said, because Felix would not change his attitude towards her. Since then, there was no need to please anyone, no need to lower her self-esteem for the sake of humble love, but she still respected the elderly. "Chairman, Vanessa is not here because she is afraid of causing me trouble. But she did ask me to thank you for your kind invitation." Winnie did not lie, but she said tactfully. After that, no one would ask Vanessa to see the Bennet family, and Vanessa did not have to face them, she thought. "All right, I came to thank you for helping the Bennet Group. I, as the chairman, should express my gratitude." Felix's attitude today was better than before. Although Megan told a lie, although Vanessa did not come because she did not want to see him, he did not show a black face. But Winnie did not expect that Felix placed an envelope on the table and pushed it to her. "It's not your duty to do that job, but you saved us from the loss. This money..." "Chairman." Winnie interrupted Felix at the critical moment. She could not allow Felix to continue, since two kids were staring at the envelope with curiosity. It would have bad influence on kids. In their heart, they were families, but he thanked her with money, it was ridiculous. They would be uncomfortable that the Bennet Group familyFamily did not take their mom as a family. Before Winnie spoke, she pushed the envelope back to Felix. "Chairman, the loss was saved by me, but I did not help as an employee, but as a family. So you don't need to do this." Winnie said so because of the kids' doubts. She did not take the opportunity to get close to the Bennet family. But Felix frowned. "I should thank you..." "Megan, Luke, you go outside to play. Play at the door. Don't go far." Winnie interrupted Felix in another way. If she did not interrupt him, if she did not talk to Felix alone, the two kids' hearts would be covered with haze. The two kids went out obediently and then Winnie spoke. "Chairman, there are things I don't want my kids to hear. They are out now, you can say it now." Since the kids were out, Winnie had nothing to care. Anyway, she was used to Felix's cold words and cold attitude towards her. "I just want to give you some money because you've helped the company, no matter what position you have." Felix's tone was gentle, but there was a reminder in his words. He reminded that Winnie was not a member of the Bennet family and he should thank her with money. Winnie raised her mouth sarcastically and then said calmly. "Chairman, you may have misunderstood. I said that only for the sake of the kids. I don't want them to see that their mother can be dealt with money, and I don't want them to think that family's gratitude has to be done with money." "For both of us, I have nothing to do with the Bennet family, but the kids didn't think so. They think mom, dad, their aunt, grandaunt and the Bennet family are their families. I told them that even the servants and nannies in the Bennet family must be treated like family members."

CHAPTER 563 A GAMBLERISK IT ALL

Winnie's words finished, had clarified the relationship between himself and Joe the Bennet family, so that, let Felix rest assured that she will would always act only for the childkids and would never put any efforts to marry herself in the Bennet family. Her efforts were worthless to the Bennet family, so why hurt her pride? Winnie thought so and felt that her expression was not complete enough, so she added. "What would the kids think to see that you gave me the money?" Hearing that, Felix was stunned and understood that she refused to accept money because she did not want the kids to value money from childhood. It was the first time Felix felt ashamed in his life. He felt that what he had just done was not right and did not consider the feelings of the kids. Felix was silent, but Winnie continued to speak. "Chairman, don't worry, I did not help the company for any purpose. I didn't do it to please you or get married with Brian." "I do like Brian, but I will not force everyone to accept me. I believe I can get married and find a family who will accept me even if I leave him. "I do everything for my kids. If I didn't have my kids, I wouldn't have stayed at the Bennet Group even if I were the president and I wouldn't have helped." Winnie wanted Felix to know that she knew better than the Bennet family about the reason she stayed in the Bennet Group. If she was not so capable at work, even if she had kids, Felix would have driven her away. Felix remained silent, but his face went dark. Winnie paused for a moment and continued to speak. Now that the subject had been mentioned, she wanted to say more. "Chairman, the matter between Brian and Gloria is out of control now. As you required, I never interfere with it, and I will never interfere with any of his decisions in the future. But I want to talk about the kids." "You know it gets big and is in the headlines twice a day. I'm sure the kids will find out one day." "I would ask you to protect the kids as much as possible and keep this as low-key as possible. Or you can get them married right away, and I'll tell the kids. It's better than finding out from the media." Winnie said that Brian could get married without hesitation, because she could not prevent the established fact even if she did not say it. "You mean get them married?" Felix was surprised that a woman who deeply loved Brian would allow Brian to marry another woman. "Sooner or later, Brian will get married." Winnie gave her explanation. Everyone said that Brian was forced to do so by Felix, and Winnie knew it, but the crux of the matter lied on Brian. If he put everything down, if he did not see fame and wealth so important, who could force him? Rufus put down the Bennet Group and now he was good. The world still moved on even if it had no Brian. Not to mention that he had so much private property that he could still build his own empire even if he left the Bennet Group, even if the Bennet Group went out of business. Therefore,

Winnie thought that the only one who could influence Brian was himself. Winnie had seen through these problems, but never said to Brian, because she knew what she said could not change anything, and Brian would not give up the Benent Group for her. "Don't you worry about kids? Don't you want to give them a good living environment?" Felix did not understand why Winnie changed her attitude. She must have her reasons. Winnie looked directly at Felix, and then withdrew her gaze. It seemed that it was not good to be smart. Winnie saw through everything and was helpless about Brian, but Felix thought she had tricks. In Felix's eyes, she was always a scheming woman. "Which mother doesn't want to give her child a complete home and a good environment to grow up? But I found that no matter how hard I tried, what I thought couldn't come true." "You may not like to hear that, but the fate of me and two kids are in your hands. With your words, we can be together and we can be separate." "You have given us a choice, and we cannot resist it, nor can we. I knew if I hid with the kids, you will find us out for the Bennet family." "Now that I have seen the truth, why should I struggle fearlessly? I would rather do what you want. As for the kids, it is their fate, because they were the Bennets. Even if they do want to be controlled by others, there is no way out." Winnie was recklessly. Since he thought she was scheming, why should she pretend to be kind? She just wanted to say what she wanted to say. "Are you blaming me? Are you blaming me for interfering in others' lives at an old age and for ruining the happiness of your family of four?" Felix said angrily, because obviously Winnie was complaining. He could not keep his temper under control. "No, but you are meddling in others' lives." Winnie was not afraid of Felix's anger, but she did not refute out of respect, but answered him calmly. "Chairman, you influenced Brian, and he was willing to be controlled. You control me, and I accept it. Not because I'm afraid of you. Everything I do is for the kids. Without these two kids, I would not marry into your family even if I loved Brian. "Your home doesn't feel like home. Your home feels horrible. Your families have their own idea when communicating with each other, and I can't find any warm feeling. The daughter-in-law who can live in such a family does not put feelings first, she will only value your family's money and power." Winnie almost said that such a family was not a family and they are cold-blooded. It was a family with no love and it only made her nervous, she just wanted to avoid it. "Winnie, how dare you! How dare you judge us?" Felix patted the table angrily, but his strong self-esteem came from his guilty on the family relationship. Everything he did in his life was perfect except family relations. And Winnie saw through it. "Well, then I won't judge. I know I've gone off topic today, I should not judge your family relationship." "Then go on about me and the kids." Winnie did not confront with Felix, not because that she had no words to say, but that she afraid a 90-year-old old man would get fainted out of anger. Winnie changed the subject. "As I said, Chairman, I want to move back into my own home once Brian gets married. I will take care of the kids, you just need to say yes." "My condition is not as good as the Bennet family, but at least they can grow up in a free, happy and warm environment, and Brian will not have too much conflict with his wife." "Don't worry about whether the kids will accept his marriage. I will try to persuade them. They will have to go through this sooner or later. You can't let Brian get married when her kids grow up." Winnie believed that Felix could not do it. He hoped Brian get married immediately to consolidate the foundation of the Bennet family. So the kids sooner or later would have to face it. It was cruel, but it was better to face now than they faced when they were adolescence. "As long as you allow me to take the kids back to my own home, I have no demands." Winnie had elaborated clearly her attitude. She really wanted all this to come to an end as soon as possible, and did not want to give Brian time. The more time she gave, the more it hurt her and the kids. Only when these messy things were settled and Brian got married, Winnie could have a life with kids and avoid being hurt by Brian. All she wanted right now was for everything to be quiet. Felix had his supper in a bad mood. He was dull all the way home. Winnie urged Brian to get married, but he hesitated. Winnie was right. The women who married into his family girls only cared about fame and wealth. If she was scheming, it was possible to divide the wealth of the Bennet family. There was another thing Winnie was right too, that was, the kids' growing environment. He chose blind dates for Brian based on financial resources and strength, and did not know more about the girls themselves. He was not sure if she would be a girl of good character. If she was like Penny, the two kids would undoubtedly be victims. Felix thought and inadvertently sighed. Butler Lowe driving the car noticed it. He was there when Winnie were talking with Felix. He had been with Felix for so many years, and he had never seen someone spoke to Felix in that way as Winnie did. Others were flattery to Felix, only Winnie was the most real. "Chairman, are you worried about Winnie?" Butler Lowe could not help asking. "Yeah, she's a problem, isn't she?" Butler Lowe understood what it meant. Felix recognized everything about Winnie expect her family background. If would be pity that if he gave up on her, but she could not meet the requirements of Felix. "She has nothing to be picky about except her family background. If someone is willing to invest in her, she could have a great career." Butler Lowe did not put Felix vanity out, but directly said the good aspect about Winnie.

Hey, My Twins Babies

CHAPTER 564 COME TO NOTHING

Butler Lowe recognized everything about Winnie and he did not think she was not good enough for Brian on her family background. She tried her best to support her family and let them live a carefree life. How many girls could do that? This was the most noble and rare human quality. "You think very highly of her." Felix had the same thought. If she had a family, even if it was not the best, he would accept Winnie. "Chairman, I have worked for you for many years, and I have seen many rich girls. But I think no one is better than Winnie in quality. The only thing they are better than Winnie is their family. But it is not their own creation, they just depend on parents." Gloria was included. The kids who depended on parents were not motivated or independent in his eyes. Even marrying into the Bennet family, they wouldn't make a success. There was another possibility like Gloria, who was insidious and cunning in the heart. "Chairman, I privately investigated Gloria. She didn't get good reviews in the industry. She bullied others and gave her assistant a hard time because of the money and power in her family." "You investigated her, why?" Felix frowned, but not because of Butler Lowe's investigation, but Gloria's character. "Thomas said she was so good, I didn't believe her. No one is perfect. If she is perfect, it is so unreal." Butler Lowe knew that Felix would ask, so naturally he knew how to answer. For so many years he never did what Felix did not command, but Thomas's praise of Gloria was so unreal, so he could not help but go for simple investigation. "So Gloria's character has a problem." Felix said thoughtfully. Thomas did say Gloria was perfect. Although he did not believe all, he did not expect Gloria was so evil. The Bennet family ranked the first in the country, and Stella was the richest lady, but she had a good temper. Compared with Stella, Gloria really had a bad temper. Felix went directly back to the study, still thinking about Gloria. She was worse than Winnie and he had one more thing to worry about. He had carefully selected a number of wife candidates for Brian, but so far none of them were as good as Winnie. Was his starting point wrong? As Felix was thinking about where the problem was, Thomas pushed the door in. "Dad, you're home. I thought you haven't been back." Thomas said and sat down on the sofa. "What is it?" Felix asked seriously. He was upset and in no mood to chat with Thomas.

"Nothing. I just wanted to ask when Brian will bring Gloria back. The whole country knows about them, and our family can't pretend nothing has happened." Thomas went straight to the point hypocritically. "Ask Brian about that." "What do you think of Gloria's character, Thomas?" Felix asked tentatively. "Good, as I told you." "Dad, I was not useful only I said she is good. Ask Brian to bring her home and you will know." Thomas wanted Brian to bring Gloria back. As long as Gloria walked into the door of the Bennet family, their relationship would be closer. Felix felt Thomas made sense, after all, he only heard about it from Thomas and Butler Lowe. He had to see by himself. Brian came back from a business trip. Although it was almost time to get off work, he went to the company when he got off the plain, because Winnie was still in the company, he wanted to explain everything to her. When he reached the company, he went straight to Winnie's office. "You are back. Go home to have a meal together, the kids miss you." Brian walked into Winnie's office and it was Winnie spoke first. She spoke softly and smiled as if nothing had happened. "Winwin..." Brian was surprised that Winnie was not angry to see him. "What's the matter?" Winnie asked Brian, but she knew why Brian had such reaction. "Winwin, before we go home, I want to explain to you..." "No need to explain. I understand you. I was angry with you that day because I was afraid the kids would find it out, but since you stopped it in time and the kids didn't see it, it's all right." Winnie had made up her mind before Brian came back, so she would choose to endure it. She tried to get to know what the two kids had in mind, but they were responsive. Perhaps they were happy during this period of time, so they did not want to return to the previous kind of state without home. Winnie really could not tell them the truth when they were happy, so she could only endure it. "Winwin..." "It's really ok. No need to explain it to me. But don't let the kids read about you and Gloria on the media. If you feel you can't control the situation, tell them in person. If they get hurt, don't let them get hurt from someone else." This was the only requirement of Winnie. She would try to do anything for the kids, but she could not control Brian or the situation. What she could do was to warm the kids after they got hurt. "Be ready to get off work. I know you will come back today, so I had an appointment with Stella and Joshua. I will buy some food and cook for everyone." With that, Winnie began to tidy up the documents on the desk, while chatting with Brian. "Would you like to go grocery shopping with me?" "Forget it, you must be tired, I will go by myself." Winnie answered herself. From now on, she and Brian could not be seen together in public, if photographed, she was a typical mistress. He stood there saying nothing but looked puzzled. Winnie lost her temper that day. He knew she was not only because of the kids, she also felt heartache. He thought that when he came back, even if he explained, Winnie would quarrel with her, but she did not. He was so confused. "What are you thinking? Go to your office. I'll go shopping." When Brian was in a daze, Winnie had cleared the desk, came to Brian with a bag and turned away after saying that. It was over. It made uproar and Winnie got drunk because of it, but in ended quietly like this. However, even if they separated for several days, they did not quarrel or hug. She was only being polite, which made Brian feel uneasy. He had a sense that Winnie would leave. Two days later, Winnie received a call from Officer Lee. Then she drove to the police station alone. In Officer Lee's office. "A friend of mine found out that the house owner is Dominik Chambers, it has never changed." Officer Lee told Winnie what he had found. However, Winnie was very surprised. "Dominik Chambers? Are you sure?" Winnie asked. "Yes, this is the picture my friend sent me, is it right?" Officer Lee then handed the phone to Winnie. Winnie looked at it carefully, it was indeed her father's name. And all the information on it hadn't changed. "Officer Lee, please send me this picture." "No problem." Officer Lee said and sent the picture to Winnie. Winnie then continued to look at the information above. The house had been sold, but it hadn't been transferred for so many years. Was that why no one lived there? After sending the picture, Officer Lee explained. "This house was in the auction after the bank sues. All formalities have been dealt with properly, and the court has issued transfer agreement and execution notice, but the buyer has not dealt with transfer procedure yet." "Why?" Winnie asked. "I don't know." Officer Lee had no answer. "Do you know who the buyer was?" Winnie continued to ask, if she knew who the buyer was, she would go directly to the buyer. Unfortunately, Officer Lee did not know it. "I don't know. I'll ask my friend at the courthouse to check it. Then you can talk to the buyer." He did not know it, but it was not a problem for Officer Lee. "Thank you, Officer Lee, please help me find the buyer." Winnie was angry. She was not eager to find the buyer, but she was slightly impetuous because her father's name was still on the property certificate. "Never mind. But I need your favor." Officer Lee asked Winnie to come here not just for the house, he had something important and confidential to tell her. "Officer Lee, we help each other. I will try my best if I can." Winnie did not know what Officer Lee would say, but she agreed. She trusted in Officer Lee. "Here is the thing, I have told my leaders about what you helped us. They appreciated your skill in this area, so they gave me a task that I cannot refuse." Officer Lee stopped at this and looked at Winnie in a dilemma. "Tell me what it is." Winnie saw Officer Lee's dilemma and felt it was not simple, but she would try her best to help. "My leader said you are welcome to join our team." This was Officer Lee's dilemma. He had been in contact with Winnie for a long time, and he knew exactly what she was doing, how much money she could earn in a month, and that she was a person with super ability who could do big things. Knowing this, Officer Lee was embarrassed. The workload of the system was large, but the salary was a little. It could not attract Winnie's attention, how could he persuade Winnie to join them?

CHAPTER 565 JOIN THE PUBLIC SECURITY TEAM

"Me? You mean me? Let me join your team?" Winnie asked with disbelief. "Yes, that's what our leader said. They said that if you like, your position is in the bureau of B cityCity, and your working relationship can be entered into our formal establishment. The pay is the best in our system, and they say said you can make your own demands." "Of course our highest salary is not much. It's peanuts compared to what you do." Although Officer Lee made the matter clear, he did not feel hopeful. Winnie, after all, has had a great future. Hearing that, Winnie listened to all of Li's words and staredwidened her eyes in surprise and, then laughed out. "Your leadership leader thinks too high oftoo respect me, . I am an ordinary programmer, how can I join your team?which has the ability to enter the system. Officer Lee's Lee, salary is not how I measure my career. Police is a profession I've always respected and I don't feel I have the ability to get into the systemjoin you." Winnie was rebuffed, she thought it was a joke, . she She did not have the ability to enter the systemjoin the police team and had, no sense of responsibility to be an excellent people's policewoman. "Miss WinnieMiss Chambers, our leaders are is serious, and they have read all your abilities and information. They think you're so good and , they need someone a talent like you. In factActually, I also think you are suitable for this industry, after allbecause, you majored in law, . there There should be no problem." Hearing that salary was not how she measured her career, Officer Lee heard that Winnie measured the standard of career is not how much salary, he also hadgot the courage to sleep clothes persuade Winnie. He just can't could not guarantee success. "I did study law..." "Miss WinnieMiss Chambers, you don't hurry to refuse, listen to me afraid to finish the wordshear me out please." Officer Lee did not give Winnie the opportunity to refuse and talked about it in , began to talk about this matter with Winnie in details. "Online crimes are becoming more rampant, and our crackdown must keep pace. And you are exactly what our system team lacks. Your job is still the network, taking charge of the network security within our system." "As long as you only need to participate in the involved in network cases, difficult, can not solve the case. And you major in Or to the system network security and tracking software development. "Your participation will leave a lot of criminals nowhere to hide, which is good for the country and the people. We really need you to join us to reduce the harm to innocent people." Officer Lee tried his best to persuade Winnie and told her, he said the contents of Winnie's her main work again, but also as well as the holiness of the profession and the responsibility for the people also said to Winnie. He knew that Winnie was a responsible person and kind. Although it was not good to the use of her kindness and sense of responsibility is a very dirty thing, but they the system really needs needed Winnie such a talents, also can not settle for the way. It really touched Winnie, and it really made him her feel that she still had the ability to help others. Winnie was silent for a moment. "Officer Lee, if your big boss leader is serious, if he believes I can do it, then please give me some time to think about it." "But let me be clear. I can't leave this my job. I'm a shareholder in our company and I'm working with The the Bennet Group's, so I can't get out of it." "And I really need this job to pay for it earn money. I don't care if you laugh. To be honest, I still have a lot of debt to pay off, so I need my job to make money." Winnie needs needed time to think it over, and she also needs and to weigh up the two jobs. However, her so-called foreign debt is was the her villa she sold and her aunt's courtyard house she sold, as well as her sister and aunt's good life. She knew she couldn't support a family and give her kids a good life on a cop's salary. With A a cop's salary, Felix would not policeman's salary would have given Him an excuse not to give her the kids. "No problem, you can think about it. Our big leader said part-time job is also ok. But if you work part-time, they say you have to keep your secrets confidential. Neither your loved ones husband nor your immediate family can't know that you work for the system police." Officer Lee also told Winnie the most basic information. If she could not do that, they could not, if this can not be done, there is no way to cooperate. "You can rest assured, Officer Lee. If I accept this job, I can keep it confidential a secret." "If have no matter I walked first, I gotta go and I will give you rely in the evening I give you answer." Winnie was suddenly filled with a sense of responsibility. As a child, she loved professions like police and lawyers because of their strong sense of justice. It was because of her admiration for these professions that she took a law course in college and obtained the lawyer's qualification certificate. bar certificate. But little did she know that these lessons would be put to good use, and she would could join the system police to serve for. She can do the same for the people. Winnie thought this was a good thing, so she had been happy for, a great thing, because of the sudden arrival of this good thing she happy the whole afternoon and even. I forgot to put gas in my car refuel her car. Winnie found that her car was out of oil when she tried to in the parking lot to start the car, so she could only come to Brian who walked out found that the car did not have oil, there is no way to find just down from the elevator Brian. "Do you go home or do you have business a party?" Winnie asked in a low voice. Still, smiling. "I have a little party. Then I'll go home after the party." "Why, what's the matter?" Brian sensed something wrong because of her smile and asked the wrong answer to Winnie, he sensed the wrong place is the smile on Winnie's face. "I ran out of gas My car is out of oil and I forgot to fill it up when I came back in the afternoon." "I wanted Want to go back with you, but you have something to calculate, never mind, I take the bus." No matter how what, Winnie will would never disturb Brian's work. "Why are you still so happy since your care is out of oil?" Brian thought Winnie's smile was because of her own carelessness. "Happy? Am I?" Winnie did not know she was smiling. "Yes, you are." He laughed. "Be serious! Why are you so happy when my car is out of oil? Laugh secretly, why are you so blatant?" "I need to take the bus now." Winnie still said with a smile, but she did not admit that she was happy. "Wait, you're wearing high heels. You will break your leg if you get back on the bus. Give Albert your car keys to deal with it. You go with me to the party, and we'll go home together." Brian grabbed the car key in Winnie's hand and threw it directly to Albert, and then went to his car holding Winnie's hand. Winnie followed Brian and Albert to the party, but Winnie did not go in, but stayed in the car. It was the business about the Bennet Group and she was not an employee of the Bennet Group. And as she said, she could be seen in public with Brian. While Winnie was waiting, she could think about Office Lee's offer, what she wanted, and whether she could weigh up the two jobs. Brian's party last short and he Albert came out in half an hour. But Brian got into the car and he pulled Winnie to the passenger seat in a domineering way. "Sit next to me, now all the wives sit in the passenger seat. It's your position as long as I'm driving." Brian said seriously, and Winnie felt it was a joke. She was not his wife and she could take this seat forever. She was gonna hold her wheel, control her life and gave herself security. Winnie thought so, but she did not say it out. But Brian's words gave her motivation and inspiration. She decided to join the police team, because this job would give her a secure life when she was old. If she was doomed to be alone for a lifetime, this job was her sustenance whether in life or in spirit. "Alas..... Where is Albert? He came out with you, why didn't he get in the car?" Winnie did not answer but avoided Brian's question. She could not say that she wanted this position for the rest of her life. "He went back to the company and to refuel your car. We're going home now. They're waiting for us to have dinner." He then started his car and left. Winnie had made her decision, so she gave a smile. "Why are you smiling? What's the matter with you today?" Brian inadvertently saw Winnie's smile, so he asked. "I remembered a joke I saw today, so I couldn't help laughing." Since Winnie had decided to accept the job, she must keep it a secret and could not tell anyone, including Brian. "That funny? I want to see it when I get home." Brian didn't suspect anything and drove on. When it was time to bed, Winnie remembered that Officer Lee was still waiting for her call, so she made an excuse and went outside with her phone. Winnie came to the pavilion and called Officer Lee. "I have made up my mind, Officer Lee. I agree to join your team, but..." "Thank you so much. Welcome, welcome to join us." Officer Lee excitedly interrupted Winnie before she could finish her words. Officer Lee was excited to hear that. It was task from his leader, if he failed to accomplish it, he would be punished. "You're so happy I forgot what to say." Winnie was affected by Officer Lee's excitement and laughed too. "Go ahead, say all you want." Officer Lee realized he was too excited. "Well, I can't take part in the cyber case. I don't have much time. But I will always there when my skills are needed in difficult cases. I can only accept work in cyber security and software development." This was Winnie limit. After all, she still had a lot of work waiting for her. "No problem, that was exactly what my leader thought. Tell me about your salary requirements." Whatever Winnie put forward, Officer Lee thought that his leader would, because she was a rare talent. Such a talent could reduce much of the losses. "I have no requirement for my salary. It is ok to be the same as the ordinary police." Winnie did not ask for much, as long as she was the official police.

CHAPTER 566 THREE DAYS LATER

Officer Lee was surprised. He knew that Winnie would not make any excessive demands, but he did not expect that she would just ask for the same salary as ordinary police. "You have nNo requirements?" "No, no. Just just give me an official police number and to prove that I am a police officer." This request should not be high, this request Winnie does not think too muchdid not think this request was too much. After all, she developed a software she developed cost can buy hundreds of thousands or even millions of yuan,, it was not much to ask a a month to pay a formal job is not too muchwhich could only earn thousands. "No problem, this I can decide to I can promise you." "Miss WinnieMiss Chambers, no, now can't so call you can't call you that, . we We but are colleagues, I shall call your name. Winnie, I will report to tell the leader tomorrow, and then you can wait for my call. Our side of the arrangement y You come over for entry procedures after we have it settled, when it is done, , formalities do you are a public security police officer." Officer Lee was getting more and more excited, with such a talented woman to join his team, the security system would be stronger. "Ok, I'll wait for your call. But do I have a uniform?" Winnie was curious and happy as a child. "Yes, you have uniforms all the year round, and a badge. But you can't let anyone see your uniform or badge." Officer Lee had to stress the secrecy again. "Don't worry, no one will see it. Good night then, I will wait for your phone." So Winnie became a police woman, and no one knew about that. When Winnie was on the phone, Brian standing by the window had seen it. Brian did not stand there deliberately. He was just worried about Winnie who went out alone, paying attention to the safety of Winnie. Today Winnie had been happy. He did not know why, and she did not tell him. She just gave a big smile like a child. To tell the truth, Brian had not seen Winnie having carefree smile for a long time. Who made her have such a happy smile? When Winnie went back to the room, Brian stood by the window answering the phone. Winnie heard a few words and knew it was Felix called him. Winnie did not disturb Brian, but went directly to the bathroom to take a shower. "Grandpa, can you wait two days? Gloria has been busy these days." Brian found an excuse to refuse the invitation of Felix. "You can't be busy all the time. She is a model, not an actress, it won't take a long time. You have three more days, and you must bring Gloria back to see me after three days." Felix gave his order. "Grandpa, we have just started our relationship, why are you so anxious to see her? You can see her after some time." Brian tried to delay it and did not want to take Gloria back to the old house three days later. "That is why I want you to bring her back. I will see how Gloria's character is. If she is not good, break up with her." Felix this sentence is deceived Brian. Before Brian said a word, he, say not to give Brian opposed to the opportunity to hang hung up the phone directly. Brian holds held the phone and looks looked embarrassed. Although he had reached an agreement to work with Gloria, he did not want to bring Gloria back to the old house, didn't want to hurt Winnie, didn't want the kids to know it. But now there was no excuse to say no to Grandpa. Winnie took a bath and soon came out. She was thinking of Felix's phone, but she did not ask about it. She sat down at the dresser, wiping her hair. At that moment Brian walked over and volunteered to mention the matter. "Grandpa asked me to take Gloria back to the old house in three days. What do you say I should do with this matter?" Brian asked Winnie because he did not know what to do. Hearing that, she paused and her good mood was ruined by it. If she could, she would drop everything and just be a cop, serving the people. "Can you refuse him?" Winnie asked and then continued to wipe her hair. Even if Do not tightly wipe hair to continue, is Brian brought Gloria to her front, her life will had to continue, time will not stop because of anyone's poor. "Pretty strong.He insisted, Unless unless Gloria is away or I'm on business." This is was the only way that Brian knows could think of. "Quite strong is not toSo you can't refuse, . you You go on a business trip or Gloria is not, are it is temporary escape, sooner or later one day toyou have to see him." Winnie indirectly gave the answer. F, the answer is Brian for peace of mind with her, Brian wanted such an answer from him, even if she is was reluctant to give. Not to mention And Winnie guess,knew Gloria will not be inwould be there. As long as Brian proposed to meet the parents, she is walking on the runway, are desperate to come to cooperatewould come even if she was having a show. "Then let nature take its course. Three days later, if I have time available e and Gloria has timeis available in three days, I will take her back. It's not my fault if one of us has no timeis not available." Brian made the final decision, however, when he said to he would take Gloria back, or hit the heart of Winnie was upset. Take her back no matter who means, No matter who asked him to do that, they became to prove that their relationship is a step closer, . if If Winnie expected accurate, was right, it would be was photographed by the media and to make waves and it would have uproar again. Winnie breath in the heart is veryfelt uncomfortable and wanted to release herself, but she was and afraid thatof Brian thought she was in a bad mood. "It's getting late. You go to bed first. I'm going to the bathroom to dry my hair." Winnie got up and went directly to the bathroom. As she came to the bathroom and closed the door, she took a deep breath. She really had enough such a life and she did not want to have anything to do with Brian. Now she hoped that Felix would urge Brian and Gloria to get married, so that she could leave with two kids. Three days later, Brian took Gloria back to the old house. Rufus, Stella and Joshua came back too. In addition to the two kids and Winnie, all the Bennet Group familyFamily was in the old house. Brian did not know that grandpa asked his father and sister to come too. When seeing that the kids were absent, he felt sour in heart and showed a gloomy face. Gloria was enthusiastic and cheerful. She acted elegantly and politely to the Bennet family. She greeted them all and even helped Maria. "Gloria, the servants will do it, you do not need to help. Sit down and we chat." Thomas greeted Gloria warmly, and the attitude was completely different with that he had towards Winnie. "Ok, I'll chat with grandpa." Gloria said and said next to Felix. She used to speak to Brian in a sweet tone, but now she spoke to Flexi with a clever tone. "Grandpa, you are in good health..." Gloria began to compliment Felix. Hearing that, Thomas gave a smile. The rest of the Bennet family gave a serious face. In their hearts, no one could be better than Winnie, no one could replace Winnie's position. And Gloria's overenthusiasm was actually getting on their nerves. "Dad, come into the library. I want to talk to you." Rufus could not listen to Gloria's flattery and interrupted the communication between Gloria and Felix. Before Felix made a response, Thomas spoke. "Brother, you can chat after the meal. Gloria just came, we should try to get to know her." Thomas said with a smile, but Stella felt Thomas was scheming. It was possible that Stella was sensitive and that she had grudge against Thomas, so she had such a thought. "Uncle, dad will forget about it after dinner. Let them talk now and we talk to Gloria." "What do you think, Gloria? Can I chat with you?" Stella asked Gloria, so Gloria could not refuse. "Yes, if Rufus have something to talk about, please go ahead. I chat with Stella." Gloria was reluctant, but she could not show it off. She came to please Felix, if he was away, she would fail to do so. But it was Brian's father asked him to go away. Gloria knew that Rufus and Stella did not like her, so they liked Winnie. It seemed that Winnie had her position in the Bennet family. Rufus and Felix went to the study together, and Thomas gave a black face at this time. "What is wrong, Uncle Thomas? You were smiling, why not now? Are you afraid that Dad and grandpa will say bad things about you?" Stella pointed out the change of Thomas with a smile and then added. "Don't worry, Uncle Thomas, my dad is not the kind of person who speaks ill of others behind their backs." It meant Thomas was the kind of person who speaks ill of others behind their backs. Thomas had to smile awkwardly. "It is ok that your father and grandpa talk about me, he is my brother." "You chat with Gloria, I go to the kitchen to see what to eat." Thomas was not in the mood to chat with them. He was thinking what Felix and Rufus would say in the study. After Thomas left, there were only four of them left in the living room. Out of politeness, Stella did not give Gloria a hard time, but talked about small things politely. However it did not feel close. In the study, Rufus talked about Brian from the moment he came in. "Dad, can't you not interfere in Brian's marriage? Can't he choose as he pleases?" "Don't you find it uncomfortable today?" Rufus was in a bad mood. His family reunited, even if Winnie was still an outsider, but the two kids were his family members. The kids of the Bennet family could not come. He did not know how his father felt, but he felt sorry for the kids. When Felix and Gloria were in communication, he could not calm down, because this scene made people uncomfortable. And Rufus was right about the reason. "I have my own ideas, and I'm doing this for the good of the Bennet family and the Bennet Group." Felix had to say it. He felt uncomfortable but he could not ignore the big picture. "Isn't the Bennet Group good enough? Does Brian's management not satisfy you?" Rufus asked Felix.

Hey, My Twins Babies

CHAPTER 567 THE PAST

Rufus felt he could not control his anger. He had to say what he wanted to say, or he would have an argument with his father just as he had done twenty years ago. "Rufus, you know what I mean. I'm not saying that Brian's management was not good. I found a suitable person for him, to be prepared in advance, so that his in-laws could support him in case of accidents." Felix became angry first. Now he did not want to hear anything about Winnie, did not want to hear other people's words of persuasion. It was not that he was unable to cope with it, but afraid of being shaken. "Dad, you think too much. Your ideas are out of date. If something really happens to the Bennet Group, his father-in-law would run the fastest and may kick on Brian in the back." "You know why I say that? Because it is a marriage of interest, they are all mercenary. If he sees that the Bennet Group is going down, he will save himself first. Who do you think is going to save the Bennet Group selflessly?" Rufus tried his best to persuade his father. As for what happened today, he did not want it happen again. He did not want the kids and Winnie to be sad. Felix was speechless, panting, he sat on the sofa with an angry face and looked away. It was possible. He did it for the benefit, and the other side must do it for the benefit. He just could not sacrifice the safety of the Bennet Group for the unknown. "And, since you want to find a rich girl, you do not trust Brian. You don't trust him he can manage the Bennet Group, and you don't trust his ability to handle things when they go wrong." Rufus continued seeing that his father was speechless. "You said you were doing it for the Bennet family. Dad, you've had arranged marriages for me, but is the Bennet family good? Does the Bennet family have a good relationship? They are all people who put the interests first, who will put the family in the eye?" "Dad, it can be good when a family has a good relationship. There's no way a business can thrive if you don't know how to handle the family affairs. Even if you win, even if the Bennet Group is on top of the world, do you feel happy if the family is in a mess?" Rufus asked his father. The Bennet family was good in the eyes of outsiders, but who saw the inside of it? Which one of the Bennet family is happy? "Don't push Brian any more. Do you want Brian to become a second me?" Rufus had endured this sentence for many years, and wanted to keep it in his stomach all his life, but his father would never realize that what he had done was wrong and selfish. Hearing that, Felix raised his deep eyes. "Are you blaming me for forcing you to get married?" Felix asked Rufus in a cold voice. Seeing that his father was angry, Rufus hesitated, not because he was afraid of him, but because he could not accept the reality. But having said that, there was no turning back. "Yes, I blame you. I wouldn't be the man I am now if you hadn't forced me into marriage. I wouldn't have been alone all these years if you didn't control my life. I have been lonely and helpless since I got married." Rufus had expressed his depression today, which had been in his heart for nearly forty years. His whole life was bitter, only because of his father's selfishness. "You blame me? I did that for you and the Bennet Group. Would the Bennet Group have grown so fast if you hadn't married?" Felix slowed down his speech and showed a hurtful look. He didn't do that for himself, but for everyone in the Bennet family.

Why they were blaming him now? "Do you think I am good? Have you ever wondered if I had a nice family and nothing to worry about, I could make the Bennet Group better? I married with Brian's mother. What help did I get from her family? It was me who indulged them." Now that he had mentioned what had happened, he had to let his father know it. Even though his father still didn't realize he was wrong, he wanted to say what he hadn't said. "Brian's uncle and aunt are abroad, and they are still alive. Ask them what they have done for me. When I was in trouble, was there one person who stepped up to help me? It was me alone solved the problem." Speaking of that, Rufus was upset. He was filial, if not for the respect to his father, not for fear that his father would destroy his marriage, he would not conceal it. His marriage was not what he wanted, but when he had kids, he let it go for the sake of his kids. However, he could not tell his father the fact that his wife's family had not helped him, or he would get divorced, and then his father would find him a richer father-in-law. In that way, two kids would be ruined. "They didn't help?" Felix asked unexpectedly. As far as he knew, it was Brian's grandfather who helped the Bennet Group when Rufus was in trouble. But Rufus was not a liar. What went wrong and whose fault was it? "No, not once. I resolved the problem by my own." "Dad, since we brought it up today, I'll say more about it." Rufus continued. "My marriage was a mistake, but I didn't make a mistake meeting Isobel." Rufus finally mentioned Isobel in front of his father, because she was an essential factor in the following topic. "Dad, it has been 21 years, it is the first time I mention Isobel in front of you. It was my fault, but you drove her away, and you blamed her for everything. What a burden you have put on a weak woman? Have you thought about her feelings?" Speaking of Isobel, Rufus was agitated and wanted to cry aloud. Her youth could not be bought by the fortune of the Bennet Group, but his father mercilessly destroyed it. It was terrible, his father had nothing different with an executioner. "We're talking about the Bennet Group. Why do you mention Isobel?" Felix did not feel that he was wrong in what happened to Isobel or regretted that he had driven her away. If not for Brian's mother committed suicide, Rufus would still have a complete family. "She had to be mentioned. If you hadn't forced her out, I wouldn't have lived so pessimistic these twenty years." Rufus said to his father, who was not sorry. "Brian's mother and I had agreed to divorce, and she wanted to part with me. I want to get married to Isobel after that. She helps me take care of my family, so that I can devote myself to the Bennet Group, but you interfere with it and messed up all my plans." "Isobel's life and death are uncertain, how can I have mood to continue to manage the Bennet Group? If I had not abandoned the Bennet Group, would it have been stagnant for so many years, and would it have been messed up by Thomas? If there had not been a few years of stagnation, no company in the world, let alone the country, could have surpassed the Bennet Group." "That's what happens when you insisted good match. That's what happens when you arranged a marriage. Are you going to drive Brian away as you did to me, and make the Bennet Group fall?" Rufus was angry because his father was cold-blooded, selfish, and domineering that because his father wanted to control Brian's marriage. Felix's icy eyes fixed on Rufus. He was angry, gasping for breath, but he could not say a word. What Rufus said was the scar that he did not want to admit and could not erase. If Rufus had not let go of the Bennet Group, there would not have been that period of time under the management of Thomas. There would be no stagnation or even retreat. The Bennet Group would be more prosperous today. However, all this was because of Isobel's departure. It destroyed Rufus' hope and he became hopeless for all things and resolutely abandoned the Bennet Group. There was silence in the study for a long time. Felix thought about Rufus' words repeatedly, but there was one thing he did not understand. "I have a question. Since you have agreed with Brian's mother to divorce, why did she choose to commit suicide?" Felix fell silent and did not feel as angry as before. However, Rufus could not say that because he wanted to retain the most basic respect for the dead. "Dad, I can't answer that. But I promise it's not because of my relationship with Isobel." Rufus did not tell Isobel the reason of Brian's mother, and he would not tell his father, or there would be more troubles. It was the only thing he could protect for his wife. Rufus calmed down. He was tired of standing and speaking, so he went to the sofa and sat down. "Dad, there was no love between Brian's mother and me. We had two kids, but we never really got together. You can see that." "I was 40 when I met Isobel. Do you know how sad it is that a man does not know what love is until he is 40?" Rufus gave a wry smile, feeling painful in heart. But he wanted to tell his father that Isobel was innocent. "I told you that it was not Isobel's fault. I hid the fact that I was married and she was deceived by me. But you think it was Isobel seduced me and put all the mistakes to Isobel, which made her and her family had a hard lesson." "Dad, Isobel was pregnant, it is my child, she....." Rufus stopped at this. If he said it out, it would be a blow to Vanessa and her studies would be affected. "Isobel was pregnant?" Felix heard it for the first time. He did not know that, or he would not been so cruel. "Yes, she has my child. But she did not use the kid to coerce anything, did not use the kid to break up my family. She'd rather abort the kid and go away than put me between you and her."

CHAPTER 568 FELIX'S ATTITUDE CHANGE

Rufus spoke of the painful past. The child had been born, but he was still guilty to her and Isobel. "FatherDad, take my whole life as a lesson. Don't let Brian live a miserable life as I did." "Your ideal Joe, Brian will help you do it build a Bennet Group as you want, for the sake of the kids, to give them a complete home." This is was Rufus's only request to his father, . He had made ahis thing has become a mistake and it could not be, has changed. But can't sacrifice so dalian lessons are not learned he should learn the lesson. The study fell silent again, and neither father nor son spoke. Rufus because the backlog offelt better because he spoke out his resentment in the bottom of my heart and feel relaxed, but Felix's heart is so heavy felt upset. Was it wrong what he had arranged for all of The the Bennet Group familyFamily? If he was wrong, he would have wasted a lifetime of thought. Felix and Rufus waswere called out of the study by Thomas, the reason is thatbecause the dinner has had been ready, waiting for the two of them to sit down. Throughout the dinner, Gloria tried her best to express show off herself. They were all to flattering Joe DeiangFelix. This It was in stark contrast to the Winnie in front of Felix that day. To tell the truth, Gloria nothing 's gallantry let annoyed Felix upset. Felix mood is was not very goodin a good mood, plus Gloria brought himannoyed him, he was not in a upset, natural no mood to eat. He took only a few bites before putting down his chopsticks and standing up. "Don't I can't eat too much dinner. Take your time." Felix said that and walked toward the bedroom, then. Stella quickly stood up to help Felix leave. There was a moment's silence at the table. After a while, Thomas had to break the silence. "Let's keep eating. The donDad is getting old, and a big dinner eating much is bad for his digestion." "Gloria, this is your first time to come our home. Eat more." Thomas said to alleviate the embarrassment, but he had something in mind. His father and brother spent so much time in the study and he wondered what they were talking about. And there was a marked change in his father's attitude, especially to Gloria. He guessed it must be his Brother could not accept Gloria, so he talked about it with his father. That was why his father had an obvious change. Thomas gave Gloria a wink and motioned her to focus on Rufus. Gloria got the message and responded to Thomas. "Thank you, Uncle Thomas, I must eat more." Then Gloria looked at Rufus. "Rufus, you eat more too. I see you haven't eaten much." "Ok."

Rufus gave an indifferent response, after all, it was not Gloria's mistake. Gloria and Brian was a partnership, she just wanted to act well, so he should not blame her. "Rufus, when I am available, I will go with grandpa to see you and see the two kids." Gloria continued to speak zealously, revealing her love for the two kids. Rufus did not answer. Even if Gloria was nice, even if Gloria was polite, he did not welcome Gloria, he could not make it hard for the kids and Winnie. At this time, Stella walked back and said. "Gloria, thank you for your kindness. But you can't go to my dad's, because the kids don't know about you and Brian, and they need time to accept it. We'll invite you over when we tell them what happened." This was the first time Stella and Gloria met, she felt that she did not like Gloria. Even if it was a partnership, Stella would consciously compare her with Winnie. They were both beautiful, but Gloria dressed up too much, and she did not look noble. Although they were both polite, Gloria was hypocritical, seemingly she had her own motives. While Winnie was natural and real. Stella felt no women around Brian could be comparable to Winnie. She had received higher education, but she was not as generous as Winnie. "Ok, sister, try not to embarrass the kid, I will take my time." Gloria seemed not care about it and did not show her dissatisfaction. But after she said that, she looked to Thomas. The two looked at each other but said nothing. The dinner was peaceful. No one was talking. After the dinner, Brian sent Gloria back. Albert drove, Brian sat in the passenger seat, and Gloria sat in the back. It seems seemed like a very distant relationship. "JoeMr. Bennet, haven't you told your family about, our partnership is not your home to say ah.? Stella seems to My sister kind of rejects me, and my uncle your father is not happy. Did they misunderstand that I really want to fight with Winnie for you?" Gloria broke the silence in the car, deliberately mentioned Stella and Rufus's attitude. She was not a fool, and she knew at once where their cold, silent manner was directedwhy they gave her a cold attitude. "Yes, I did, but not in but not in that much details. I'll tell them again talk about it tonight when we I get back." He explained, but hHe did not say anything to apologize for his sister and father' s attitude. Gloria showed herself too much today. Knowing that they had a cooperative relationship, she should not be so pleasing to grandpa and should not say those words to his father. Gloria was attentive, which made Brian uncomfortable, always feeling that she wanted to expose something. "Yes, tell it to your family. Don't let them worry about me." "By the way, tell your father I will not go to the suburbs. I was just acting and tried to make conversation. I know Winnie and the kids are there, how can I be there? Besides, we agreed not to meet casually." Gloria clarified everything about herself. Now she had another attitude, it looked like she could get into show business and act. On the way home, Joshua drove, Stella sat in the passenger seat, Rufus sat in the back. "Dad, I think Uncle Thomas was too enthusiastic today. He had a different attitude toward Winnie. And Maria said nothing today but only gave a smile. I feel something wrong." Stella has been paying attention to the reaction of Thomas. Not she wanted to analyze with her family, she felt Gloria was familiar with Uncle Thomas. "I found that, he had been speaking for Gloria." Joshua chimed in In the old house, he did not say a few words from beginning to end, but his attention had always been on Thomas. Joshua also found the wrong place, but he could not jump to the conclusions. "Your uncle is a snob. He doesn't take Winwin seriously because she has no a rich family. Gloria is different, she has a powerful family background, of course, he likes her." Rufus did not think too much but only think Thomas looked down upon Winnie. "Dad, what were you and Grandpa talking about in the study? Grandpa looked different when he came out than when he went in." Stella saw it but she did not ask about it. "It was about Brian and Winwin." Rufus took a sign before he answered. "Stella, the two kids and Winnie were not there, I feel sorry for them, so I asked your grandpa to the study." "I spoke so much to your grandpa, hoping that he would not interfere with the marriage of Brian, but I don't think it has much effect." Rufus took a sigh again. He had said everything out, but his father did not change, which made him helpless, after all, he was old and could not take it anymore. "Dad, Grandpa didn't say anything, it doesn't mean he doesn't care about it. You saw grandpa's attitude towards Gloria changed after he went in and out. I think your words still influenced him." Stella had her own views on the matter. She believed everyone, not just her, saw the change in grandpa's attitude. "Don't worry too much, Dad. Grandpa has lived for more than 90 years, so this idea has been with him for more than 90 years. It is not easy for him to correct it at once. Let's take our time. Let's convince him. I think there's a good chance he'll accept Winwin." Stella persuaded Rufus, afraid that he would get ill. The family was there expect the kids and Winnie. Stella was uncomfortable about it too, otherwise she would not had that attitude to Gloria. But in that case, they could not bring them there, or it would be embarrassing. What was more, Winnie would refuse to be there. When Brian went home, Winnie was discussing the new program with Luke. "Have you had your supper?" Brian went to Winnie and asked them. "Yes. You are back so early. Has Rufus been back too?" Winnie thought Brian would come back very late, because it was natural for a family to talk longer. "Yes." "Where is Megan?" Brian asked. "Megan is learning language in her room. What do you want?" Winnie's attention was still in Luke's program. Only when she put her attention on other places, she would not think about the family reunion the Bennet family. As Winnie's voice fell, Megan opened the door and came in. "Dad, you are home. You must be happy to go to Great Grandpa's house." Megan expressed her dissatisfaction. Hearing that she was in a strange tone, Brian gave a doting smile. "No, I am not happy there without my daughter." "That's a pity. Time can't be turned back, and my brother and I can't go to the old house. There is nothing we can do even if you are unhappy." Megan said while walking to Luke. Brian smiled, but she had been serious. Megan was upset that the three of them were left at home. Although her mother had explained it, she felt the Bennet family did not like them and did not think they were members of the Bennet family. "Megan, we are happy with Mom at home. Don't care so much. It's best we don't go, or we'll feel bad watching mom get bullied."

CHAPTER 569 LAUGH LIKE A CHILD

Luke was like comforting Megan, but also like expressing his dissatisfaction. "Have you both finished your homework?" Winnie quickly opened his mouth to help rescue Brian. This topic could not continue to say, because it was a little sensitive, a little and heartache hurtful. "No, Mom, my task is not finished, I just come out to put the wind, have a rest. I am now going I go back." Megan stuck her tongue out mischievously looking at Winnie and then ran out. "Mom, I haven't finished it yet either. You and Dad go out, and I'll let you know when I have something I don't understand." Luke said and then stretched out his arms around Winnie's neck. "Mom, don't let anything get you down. You have me and my sister, and we are always your hope." Luke comforted Winnie while patting her back, which touched Winnie and pleased her. His understanding came from his experience and observation. He must have seen through her mind, so he comforted her. Winnie felt sorry for the kids for she did not give them enough love, but made them worry about her. "Ok, I am not disappointed with anything. I am happy to have you for the rest of my life." Winnie gave Luke a warm smile and went out with Brian. Winnie and Brian went back to their room together. "They're disappointed they can't be the old house, are they?" Brian felt sadder than anyone else, but he had no choice. "Yes, but it is better than seeing the truth. Never mind, I have told them in advance, but Megan is stubborn and had to say it out." "You don't have to worry about it. There will be many such cases in the future. You have to learn to get used to it." Winnie, in turn, comforted Brian, and then went to the dressing table to get her phone. "Winwin, I let you down today. I promise it won't happen as often as possible. It won't..." "No more promises. I understand your situation. By the way, tomorrow is Saturday, and I have to go home." With her back to Brian, Winnie interrupted his words, Brian had made many promises, and now she regarded it as a joke. Winnie changed the topic, because she did not hear his promise. Brian knew that Winnie was avoiding the topic, knew that she did not want to hear anything about Gloria and that in fact she minded it but she did not say it out. Both of them were helpless. "Let Vanessa come here. I'll be available tomorrow. We can cook for Vanessa." Brian did not continue as Winnie required. He wanted Vanessa to be there to ease his estrangement with Vanessa. However, Winnie rejected it outright. "She won't come." "Then I'll go with you." Mr. Brian persisted. The Chambers family was extremely disappointed in him. He could not let it continue, or they could not be able to get along with each other. "If you're not busy tomorrow, stay home with the kids. I can go home alone." Winnie still refused and then said with embarrassment after a moment of hesitation. "You got on the news these days, Vanessa was unhappy about that. If you meet her, she will give a black face. I'll bring her here after sometime." Brian rarely had time to rest, in factually, Winnie wanted to be with him to enjoy the time of gathering, but she was not in the mood. Her smile was false. Among seven days a week, she was nervous for five days. In the rest two days, she wanted to relax at home. Vanessa really would not come to the suburbs and did not want to see Brian, so she would go home to stay with her. "Ok, I'll stay at home with the kids and you stay with Vanessa. Winwin, please say some good words for me so that Vanessa will not hate me." Brian did not force Winnie because he wanted to give some space to Winnie. Brian noticed that recently Winnie had not regarded his house as her home and always wanted to go back to her home. Brian was worried about this situation, worried that Winnie was going to leave him. "Don't worry, I'll speak for you." "Brian, if you are tired, take some rest. I will go downstairs and have a talk with Stella." With that, Winnie went downstairs with her phone. Stella was downstairs, she could not pretend that she was not there. And she knew that Stella would mention what happened today and she would feel uncomfortable. 'Alas..... Accept your fate, the more you want to escape the more you can't escape, you can only live in suffering every day.' As Winnie expected, what Stella and Rufus said was about Gloria. Winnie smiled all the time, with a look of indifference. Occasionally, she defended Brian. Just then, Winnie's phone rang. It was Officer Lee, so Winnie took the phone and stood up. "You guys talk. I'll take a call." Winnie left the living room and went to the yard. "Officer Lee." Winnie answered the phone. "Our leader informs you to come to work on Monday morning and officially go through the entry procedures. The salary is according to your job, and you will have reward once you have meritorious service." Officer Lee couldn't wait to get to the point. Hearing that, Winnie gave a bright smile and could not be able to suppress her excitement. "I'll be there on Monday, and I am ok with the salary. But I'd like to know what it's like to be a meritorious man." Winnie said with a smile, as if she had a mission and she was a real police officer. "Don't worry. You'll have plenty of chances to do something meritorious. I'll call you Officer Chamber after the entry formalities tomorrow." Officer Lee was also excited. He had completed the task and had such an excellent colleague. "Officer Chamber... Winnie officerOfficer Chamber... Don't tell me it's a nice name." Winnie laughed, this day's haze, and finally dispersed some and her mood finally became better. As Winnie just came out, Brian came down from the upstairs. He did not see Winnie, so he asked Stella. "Sister, where is Winnie, Sister? She said she'd come downstairs to talk to you." "She is outside. She went outside to answering the phone." Stella pointed to the outside to answer. So Brian went to the window, through the glass, he saw just to see Winnie standing there on the phone, and she looked and very happy very and excited appearance. Brian do did not know who Winnie and chat, was talking to, but he found her these two days always see her after receiving the phone smiled like a child these two days after receiving the phone. Thought of this, Brian is was envious, because Winnie in front of him has had never reserved a laughed to cryor cried to the fullest in front of him. Winnie was always careful and hid her mind in face of him. And he knew nothing about Winnie other than her grievance. Since they met on the plane, they had been together for a year and a half now. He only had a partial understanding of Winnie's previous experience, and only knew that she had a hard time, but he did not know what she had been through. In a year and a half, he had not ever seen her aunt. He was so close to the tombstone of her parents, but was stopped by Winnie. Winnie did not want to talk to him about these, or he did not care enough for Winnie, did not give her the feeling of family, did not give her the feeling that she could rely on him? It might be the latter possibility. He did not do a good job, so that Winnie did not feel safe, so she could not tell him what was in her mind. Her happy smile was so good, young and energetic. At her age, she should have such a smile, it should be the real side. The next day, Winnie returned to her home, while Brian was in the suburbs with his two kids. Winnie accidentally thought of Stefan's clothes, so she went to the dry cleaner and got the clothes. Since it was just after 9 a.m., Stefan's restaurant had not opened for business, so it was quiet at this point. The two of them sat in a seat near the window and chatted over tea. "I came to deliver your clothes to you today. Thank you and your friend for that night taking care of me. And I am sorry to bother you." Winnie said with embarrassment, she was sorry that she was so drunk. "It must be depressing to hear me talk so much. I'll not to talk when I'm drunk in the future." She was really in a bad mood that day, otherwise she would not be so drunk. She asked him to drink with her and said many things she should not say, it was so embarrassing. "You think too much. As I said, don't say sorry if you see me as your friend. It is my honor that you can say that to me. It doesn't matter how I feel about it, as long as it makes you feel better, it makes sense for me to listen to you." Stefan said in a light tone, trying to reduce the embarrassment of Winnie. He knew that woman who was sober were not the same as she who was not drunk, and generally she would feel embarrassed and sorry for her behavior after she became sober. "You're good at talking. No one wants to hear nagging." Winnie smiled, showing dimples, which was charming and cute. Stefan was obsessed. "That depends who is nagging, I'd like to hear you nagging." Stefan expressed his true thoughts in a relaxed tone in the form of a joke. If he was serious, he would frighten Winnie. She was a person with a story and needed a friend like him to listen to her occasionally. If she kept it all to herself, her story would drive her crazy one day. And Stefan was willing to listen to her, to share stories with her. Because he wanted to become Winnie's intimate friend, he could not tell her what was in his mind.

CHAPTER 570 CONTINUES TO DECEIVE KLARA

Hearing what Stefan's words let said, Winnie could not help laughing, the heart is also feeling more relaxed. "I'm honored to say so happy to hear that." "By the way, how much is the hotel room? I haven't given it to you." Winnie mentioned money. "Forget it, never mind it, just treat me to dinner someone." Stefan refused to answer how much it was for the hotel room because he did not want it. "No, but I have to invite and your friend to dinner. I must give you the money back. " "If you don't want this money, I won't drink with you again. If I get drunk again, how can I ask you to arrange a room for me?"

Whatever Winnie wanted to do, she must do it, especially in terms of money. She really didn't want to owe anyone any more money, not even a penny from Brian. The feeling of being in debt to someone was so suffering, and she never wanted to experience it again in her life. Stefan could not refuse Winnie again, because he was afraid that Winnie would not go to him. "All right, I'll take it. It is eight hundred and eight, give me one thousand, one hundred and two will be my tip for taking care of you." Stefan asked more of it, because he knew that Winnie would be happier only if he accepted the money. "No problem, I'll give you a thousand." Winnie took out her phone and transferred money to Stefan. However, Winnie did not realize that someone was following her and recording her chat with Stefan. This person was Wendy. Wendy hasn't stopped following Winnie since that day at the bar. Anyway, her job was not important, she'd better focus on Winnie. As Klara said, even with Gloria, Winnie was still the biggest obstacle. With two kids, her position at the Bennet family was stable. At this hour, Klara called her and they met at a cold drink shop. "Wendy, the affair between Mr. Bennet and Gloria continues to be big, are you sure it is false?" Klara was impatient and worried. Since she had lent the money to Wendy, Brian had been in hot search, she felt something bad would happen. "It is false, Uncle Thomas told me. They had cooperation and cooperation takes time." Wendy pretended to calm and comforted Klara, in fact, she was panic. The relationship between Brian and Gloria developed fast and she had Winnie to deal with, actually, she felt it hard to cope with. "As long as it's true." "And, Isn't Winnie going abroad? Hasn't she left yet?" Klara asked. Either Gloria or Winnie left as Wendy said, she would not be so impatient. "Not yet, but I think the later she goes abroad, the better, so that we have more time to be ready." "Speaking of Winnie, I have something to tell you." Wendy changed the topic. To make Klara not to mention money, she decided to discuss with Klara what she had noticed. "What is it?" Klara asked with doubt. "I went to a bar with a friend the other day and met Winnie. Wait, I've got videos and photos, I'll show you." Wendy said and showed Klara that videos and photos in her phone. After Klara finished watching, two people began to discuss this topic. "Winnie went to drink because she was sad?" "Yes, I think she is afraid that Gloria takes Brian away, so she went to have a drink." Wendy began to make up again, but it was based on the fact. "But according to the relationship between the two of them, Mr. Bennet will tell Winnie about the cooperation. Winnie would not have worried if she had known it." Klara gave a conclusion based on her understanding of Brian and Winnie and did not make it big as Wendy did. "If Brian tells her, she'll have a sense of crisis." "That's not my point. Look at these pictures." Then Wendy showed her other set of pictures. Klara showed an inconceivable look. "They went to a hotel?" Klara felt that what she just saw was so unreal. Winnie only loved Brian, how could she went to a hotel with another man? "Yes, you are right, they went to a hotel." Wendy gave a determined answer with a weird smile on her face. "I was following them. I didn't expect the two of them to get a room. It was a night! Stefan did not leave till the next morning. Will you believe nothing has happened to them since they had been in room for a night? If they did not want to do anything, why didn't they go home?" Wendy asked two questions, but she got her answer already. "I don't believe it, especially after drinking." Klara naturally hoped they had done something, but now it seemed hard for Winnie to explain it. Klara long hanging heart, because of faulty Winnie fell down, finally felt relieved because of it and felt happy and even have a strong for a sense of revenge fast | impact on her. Klara continued to ask. "Did you tell Joe Mr. Bennet about this?" "I sent Brian the videos and photos you saw from the bar." Wendy began to explain the events of that night. "At that time, I didn't think it was so serious. Seeing That that Winnie was so drunk, I wanted to tell Brian, and then help take care of Winnie, so that Brian could recover some have good impression of me." "Brian believed in me and asked me to take care of Winnie. But then when they went out of outside the bar, they went the wrong way." "I followed them all the way to the hotel, but of course I didn't tell Him Brian about the hotel it." "Why not? It's a rare opportunity. If he had told us you tell her, we wouldn't have had to deal with Winnie abroad, and the money would have been will be saved." Klara has had been listening to the process of the incident carefully and she was not calm as she knew that Brian had no idea what Winnie went to a hotel with another man, but when she heard Brian did not know about the hotel, immediately not calm. Wendy would be a fool not to seize such a good chance. "Klara, I have thought about this. I also know that if Brian knew this matter finds it out, he will be angry with Winnie, but and Winnie must have bad blood. But Winnie can justify it, after all, there is no evidence of their two | them being in bed, . Brian can only have resentment and suspicion. It is impossible to separate from Winnie." Wendy paused for a moment and continued her analysis. "They have two kids. It will have few impacts on Winnie. The plan abroad will be safer, it will spend some money, but it won't leave future trouble." In fact Actually, Wendy wanted to tell Brian about it, but she was waiting for an opportunity. The reason why she said so to Klara was for the money. "Wendy, it is reasonable, but I think it is a pity to miss that opportunity. It's not time for her to go abroad, we can give her a hand time. She's put us through a lot." "Wendy, can you first contact the person abroad and ask him to suspend the plan? If we fail, we can continue our plan abroad. If we succeed, we can save money abroad." Klara wanted to save money and implied that Wendy returned her the money as soon as possible. 10 million was a lot of money, and she was right to be worried. "They've used up some of the money by paying for relationships, and we can't come take back that much if we stop now." Wendy thinking of a way to deceived Klara, so that her only for her lies can be looked more real, and it could can drag a little longer. "What's left is better than nothing. Wendy, I think I we can try this method, because anyway Winnie has not gone abroad." Klara tried to persuade her, but Wendy did not mention money. Wendy pondered for a moment. "All right, then, follow your plan. I'm going to call abroad and tell them to hold off until I call." Wendy is to help Klara agreed. She knew , she also knows what is the real purpose of Klara was, but the money had gone and it was not, it is impossible to return to Klara hand. "Klara, you help me think for me, how should I should say to Brian, so that she can he will believe me." ... The two men began to studyn they began to talk about it. Winnie began to prepare cooked lunch for Vanessa in after coming back from Stefan's. Vanessa was bored and came to help in the kitchen. "Sister, in fact I am ok to be alone at home. I a person at home can also if you worry about me, you can come at night. Take some rest on weekend. I don't want you to come to take care of me when you finally have a weekend." Vanessa felt sorry that her sister was busy in the kitchen. She could cook, clean the house and do her own laundry, without bothering her sister. "It is my home, can't I come back?" Winnie joked. She not only came back to take care of Vanessa, but also hid from Brian. She wanted to be quiet. "Yes, but don't work. I can do anything." Vanessa said and helped to get ingredients ready. "It's important for you to study. You don't have to do housework. And when you go to work, it's all yours." "Vanessa, I have something to tell you" Winnie remembered her villa. She thought Vanessa had grown up and she should know it. "What is it?" Winnie stopped her work, looked at Vanessa and then said. "Do you remember that villa we used to have?" Hearing that, Vanessa put down the ingredients and looked at her sister. "Yes." How could she forget it? It was their family's happiness and memories. "It was auctioned by the bank and I want buy it back, so I asked a friend to find out who owns it. I didn't realize that dad still owns the house and the buyer didn't transfer the ownership." Winnie said, and Vanessa was surprised as Winnie was when she had just got the news. "It is Dad owns the house? Why the buyer didn't transfer the ownership?"
