Hey, My Twins Babies

CHAPTER 701 WANT TO KNOW WHY

"Winwin" "Winwin" "....." Everyone tried to stop her, but Winnie continued to walk toward the door, Brian had to stop her way. "Winwin, you misunderstood us all. I called them here, and they don't know why." "Give me a chance to tell everyone the truth. I'll apologize to everyone. I'll clear your name in front of them." Brian was trying to get a chance. He called all the people together today was to clarify the facts for Winnie, so Winnie must be present. "I don't want that, and I don't want any explanation. All you have to do is tell them that your breakup with Gloria has nothing to do with me." "Get out of my way. I don't want to see you." Winnie pushed Brian, but unfortunately she failed. "It is related to you." Brian had to say so, to let Winnie stay. "Brian, what do you mean by blaming me for everything? Can you live with yourself? When did I ever get in the way of your relationship? Did I tell you to break up with her? Think before you speak, don't frame me." Winnie loudly questioned Brian. She wanted to walk away and not participate in everything here, but Brian blamed her. It was Brian's words that successfully provoked Winnie. "You hate me? Do you want me to disappear? I can't show up in this city, right?" "Well, I'll take the blame. I will go to the company and resign right now. I will never appear in front of you." Winnie pushed Brian again, if it was said that she hated Brian the most, it could not be denied. She has worked so hard for such a long time, she had been sad for such a long time, but she did not expect this situation. "Winwin, don't do that, can you calm down?" "It is not like what you think. I'm not going to let you take the blame anymore. I never wanted you to leave. I've thought a lot about the two of us in the four months since we broke up, but I never wanted you to disappear from my life." "Don't get so irritable. Give me some time." Brian forcibly controlled Winnie, with no compromise. He would never let her go, and if she did, the day would be wasted. He could not afford to delay; they had already missed four months, and he did not want to waste another second. Brian wanted to put things out in the shortest time and proved Winnie was innocent in front of everyone. Then, no matter what attitude Winnie had, he would pursue her and make up for Winnie's injury. "Is that interesting? What do you think of....." When Winnie wanted to refuse, Oscar could not help opening his mouth. "Winwin, calm down. We can all see that you're in a bad mood, but we don't know what's going on between you two. Anyway, you should adjust your mind first and make it clear before you make a decision." Oscar said calmly, but there was worry in his eyes. From Brian and Winnie's dialogue, they seemed to have understood something. Brian wanted to prove Winnie was innocent, it must be related to their breakup. But Winnie's attitude could not solve the problem. This time she avoided, Brian would make the next opportunity and would not give up. In this case, it was better to speak out earlier, make a choice earlier, or let their hearts calm down earlier. "Yes, Winwin, Oscar is right, being impulsive cannot solve the matter." Daenerys said, coming to Winnie. "Everyone is here and wants to know what happened between you. Come and sit down and we'll help you figure it out. No matter what happens, you won't have to face it alone while we're here." "You can't help me, it's me and him..." After listening to Oscar and Daenerys's persuasion, Winnie's mood did ease. But she felt that no one else could participate in their affairs. She did not want to make things big, do not want to give Brian the opportunity to explain, she just wanted to stay away from Brian and to take this opportunity to leave Brian forever. Although she still loved Brian, she could not hold on. She was timid and no longer had the courage to face the harm brought to her by Brian. "Winwin, you'd better listen to everybody and sit down and talk things out. You can't really move on until you tell everything calmly." Emily also persuaded Winnie. Everyone knew Winnie was in escape, but the more she escaped, the more painful her heart was. If she could not solve the problem, she would be hurt. Before she came, she did not know it was Brian asked then out, so it was understandable Winnie was upset. But we they wanted to help her, wanted her to face good or bad things, wanted her to face it and deal with it, and then move on. If Winnie put things in her heart, the scar on her heart would be bigger and bigger. Hearing that, Winnie could not go on. What they said was reasonable, especially Emily's words, if she did not face up to prove that she still cared about Brian, it proved that she could not forget Brian. "Well, since you're all here today. Let's be clear, and I hope we have nothing to do with each other after today." Winnie agreed, but had to put her own ideas out first. Her attitude was clear, even if Brian clarified for her, even if because of her they broke up, they would have nothing to do with each other. "You sit down. We'll take care of it one thing at a time." Brian answered, and did not say his own ideas for the future. He did not accept Winnie's ideas, but at this moment he did not dare to say a word, afraid of Winnie's leaving. Winnie controlled her emotions for a moment, and then sat down. Brian then came to Winnie. He did not sit down but stood there all the time. "I just said, I have something to tell you. You may not know the reason why I broke up with Winwin. Winwin has been hiding it for me." Brian began the topic very directly, but Winnie still didn't want Brian to say it. "Let's not talk about the past, they..." "Winwin, I must say it, or it would be more unfair to you." Brian interrupted Winnie, he could not let Winnie bear everything alone, he could not let his loved woman hurt. Winnie looked at Brian and knew her opposition had no effect. If he wanted to say it, if it made him feel better, never mind. She really could not afford something. Winnie did not speak again or interrupt Brian. Brian sighed and took his line of sight from Winnie back. "We broke up because Winwin and Stefan checked into a hotel room..." Brian's words shocked everyone, but they believed Winnie firmly. "Impossible, Brian, you wanted an excuse to break up with Winwin, right?" Daenerys was the first to stand out and deny. She would not believe that Winnie and Stefan would get a room "Daenerys, if I believed in Winwin as much as you do, this breakup would never have happened." "....." Brian told everyone what happened, and all the people stared at Brian with resentment. But even if those eyes were killing him, there was one thing he had to say. "I want to make it clear that I never meant to find an excuse to break up with Winwin. I never meant to insult her. I....." "Now, stop trying to justify yourself. Brian, I really didn't expect you don't even have the most basic trust for Winnie. How can you love her?" Daenerys had no patience to listen to the explanation of Brian. Whether it was misunderstanding or not, it was Brian's fault. "What did Winwin do wrong to make you so suspicious? Just because your family is rich and powerful, just because you have countless substitutes, so you can casually trample on the dignity of others?" Daenerys angrily accused Brian for Winnie's grievance. Brian let her disappointed, she did not expect, the two people broke up because "Winnie cheated on him". In the face of Daenerys's pressing questions, Brian could not give an answer. Winnie was good, and had nothing to be picky about. He was wrong that he could not be calm and composed. Then Emily could not help it, she simply stood up from the seat and scolded Brian angrily. "Brian, Winwin didn't even tell us why she broke up with you. Do you think you are being kind? You're a smart man. You're a capable man. You have no shortcomings in every aspect, but why treat Winwin like that? Your heart goes to Wendy, doesn't it? Does it go to Gloria? But your heart doesn't go to Winwin?" "You may accuse her of anything but this. She's absolutely loyal to you. Why wouldn't you trust her? Why would you do this to her? You ignore her because she was with you without regard for her station, because she has two children she can't leave?" Emily loudly questioned. She felt heartache for Winnie. She could not imagine how Winnie went through and how she dealt with Brian's discrimination.

Hey, My Twins Babies

CHAPTER 702 GIVE HER DIGNITY

Emily was irritable, while questioning Brian. "Brian, you are great. You know, you are willing to make a woman who loves you bear all the negative influence and pressure, right? You can coldly let a woman who loves you be blamed, right? You can force her to leave you again and again, and you are happy, right?" Emily questioned Brian. He was speechless, because he really let Winnie bear too much criticism, bear the pain of others could not bear. For Daenerys and Emily's accuse, he had no complaints, because he did wrong things and he had to admit it. And that was small charge compared with what Winnie endured. Brian suffered, and Winnie cried seeing that he was blamed. She felt distressed for herself and for Brian. She had to hide the fact of breaking up, because she was afraid of Daenerys and Emily would come to Brian and to make him embarrassed, thus affecting the marriage of Brian and Gloria. However, it happened in the end. Brian had never been questioned before, never a thing could let him bow his head to reflect himself. This was a challenge for Brian, but Winnie knew he did not want this. "Daenerys, Emily, stop. It's over and I don't hold grudges against anyone." Winnie stopped Daenerys and Emily with tears in her eyes. She could suffer grievance for a lifetime, but she really could not see Brian bowed his head to confess he was wrong. Seeing that Winnie was crying, Brian did not dare to comfort, but gave her the tissue. And Winnie did not accept but directly pushed away his hand, and then she took the tissue herself. Then Winnie continued. "Brian, you have explained everything you need to explain, and everyone knows everything they need to know. Whatever the nature of the matter, something has already been decided. Let's go our separate ways as we do now, and don't disturb each other's lives." "I can go, and the rest is none of my business." Winnie again emphasized the relationship between her and Brian, and told Brian, no matter what the purpose of his telling the truth was, she had nothing to do with it. Winnie got up to go, but was pulled by Brian again. "Winwin, you can't leave before I finish speaking." "We broke up because of my distrust of you, because of my paranoid thoughts. You've been through a lot in these four months, you've been accused of a lot. It's all my fault and it has nothing to do with you." Brian apologized sincerely, although he knew Winnie would not forgive him so easily, he had to say sorry in front of all her friends. "Winwin, I'm sorry. I was wrong this time. It won't happen again, I promise. Winwin, I'm sorry." Brian again apologized. He felt that any good words could not express the sincerity of his apology, could not explain his regretful heart. Brian's apology made Winnie cry, but she was still in control of her emotions. "Have you finished? Can I go now?" Winnie shook off Brian's hand, and then strode away. She could not forgive him now, nor could she face him with peace of mind. The only thing to do was stay away from this man. "Winwin." "Winwin." Brian and Daenerys at the same time called Winnie, two people wanted to chase out, but Oscar stopped them. "Don't you go out. I'll go and see her." Oscar knew Winnie well. She did not need comfort and explanation. She just wanted to be alone. He wanted to go out was because he was worried about Winnie's safety. Oscar stopped Brian and Daenerys and chased out. The atmosphere in the room suddenly solidified. Daenerys and Emily were angry, glaring at Brian. For a moment no one knew what to say. After a while, Kevin helplessly sighed and then opened his mouth. "Brian, there is no doubt that you are to blame in this matter. We know better than you what Winwin's been through. You owe her an apology, and you owe her an explanation." "You should reflect on the past and treat Winwin with a sincere attitude." Kevin was also angry, but Daenerys and Emily had scolded Brian, he could not continue to blame him. The facts were already known, but dwelling on the past would not solve the problem. Everything was the same. It depended on what Brian did in the future. "Tell me what you want to do about it. There are other people involved." The other people that Kevin referred was Wendy, everybody knew it, including Brian. "I will not indulge anyone in this matter, and I will give Winwin a satisfactory answer." Even if Kevin didn't remind him, he had to do something about Wendy. "I know it is irretrievable that I hurt Winwin, but I'm not going to give up. First I will beg her forgiveness, then I will pursue her again. I want her by my side for the rest of my life. I will spend the rest of my life making amends." Brian said that in front of everyone, let everyone see his determination to pursue Winnie, and hoped they could understand and help. However, Daenerys and Emily once again raised the voice of opposition. "Give up." "Don't pursue Winwin." Both men protested almost at the same time. They did not want Winnie to be hurt by Brian again, and did not want Winnie to be depressed in front of the Bennet family. Brian guessed that two people would oppose and knew they did not want Winnie to be with him. "I know what you're worried about, but this time it's totally different. I have prepared for everything and have told my grandpa." "This time, even if grandpa objects, even if I lost the Bennet Group, I will not give up Winwin, I will give her an official identity. Even if I cut ties with my family, even if I give up my position, I will never give up Winwin." Brian said in front of everyone, no matter who denied him, he would be with Winnie again. Even if he had to give up the whole world, he wanted to be with Winnie. Brian's attitude surprised all the people present, from beginning to end, Brian had not been so determined, never put Winnie and the Bennet Group together to measure. This time he would rather give up all and be with Winnie, which was his determination. "It is good, but if in the process..." Daenerys said with worry. It was easy to say, but it may not work out. However, before Daenerys finished, Leo stopped Daenerys. "Daenerys, let them figure it out for themselves. We can only play a supporting role as friends. It's up to the two of them to decide what happens." It was Leo's first time to speak, and he watched Winnie and Brian carefully throughout. He had kept his head clear to see the matter, to read the minds of the two men. He saw that the two people loved each other and were trying to think of each other. There was nothing anyone could change that. If Brian could do all he said, it proved that Winnie was not in love with the wrong man, and they would have a happy ending. No matter how things turned out, they were not going to change anything. If they were destined to be together, no suffering could separate them. On the other hand, if they were really destined to be separated, the experience would not help. Leo was worried about Winnie, but he was more rational than anyone else, and he knew that Brian loved Winnie, which was the fact. "Brian, I believe you can do what you say. We, as Winwin's friends, just hope you don't hurt her feelings or embarrass her in the process." This was Leo's only hope, and he could do nothing. "Don't worry, after all I've been through I know what to do with her. I know how to protect her." Brian promised again and again, with a firmer attitude. Seeing that, even if Daenerys and Emily were still worried, they did not say anything. They felt Leo was right, no one could predict the future. Winnie had to choose her road by herself and they could just be supportive. Winnie and Oscar left together. Oscar drove Winnie's car aimlessly. Winnie in the co-pilot side wiped her tears while thinking about what had happened. At the same time, she was thinking if Emily and Daenerys would let go of Brian after she left. Winnie doubted many times that it was false that Brian loved her. But if he did not love her why clarify the truth? If he did not love her, why Brian accepted the blame from Daenerys and Emily? Did he love her? "Winwin, where are we going?" Oscar finally broke the silence. Winnie's wandering thoughts had been pulled back.

CHAPTER 703 NEEDS REPRIMAND FROM PENNY

Winnie wiped her eyes and wondered where she should go. "Go to Penny's house." "To Penny's house?" Oscar's disapproval was clear. "Yes." Winnie was sure that she did not say wrong, Oscar did not hear her wrong. "Now she must know Brian and Gloria had broken up. If you go to her today, she will gloat. Winwin, go there today. Go when you're in a better mood." Oscar opposed, because Winnie had just experienced pain, and if Penny mocked her, he was afraid that Winnie could not accept it. "I'm not afraid. Now I need her to scold me and clear my head. She knew all about it, and it is impossible to escape the inevitable gloating. I might as well face it. I might as well take it for one day and be a new man tomorrow." Winnie really thought so, she got confused by Brian and was not so firm as before. So she needed Penny to scold her. "Are you sure?" Oscar still felt wrong. "I'm sure. Go and give her a chance to be happy." Winnie was sure, and Oscar changed the direction. Arriving at Penny's house, the car stopped. While Winnie did not get off, Oscar said. "Winwin, I will support you no matter what decision you make about you and Brian. But I have one request. Don't be hard on yourself. Don't dwell on the past." Oscar's meaning was very clear. He only hoped Winnie follow her heart and be good to herself. "I see. I've got you worried about me again. Rest assured, I will take care of everything and not embarrass myself." Oscar's words were warm to Winnie undoubtedly, the trust of friends was more practical. "Right, Oscar, no matter what harsh words Penny say, let her say it and don't stop her." Winnie said. Once Oscar spoke for her, Penny would be angrier. Today she just wanted to let Penny vent her anger, and let herself sober. But the premise was not to provoke Penny, because it was bad for her health. "Alas..... I see. I see you're a masochist." Oscar agreed. He knew Winnie was good to Penny. She was kind. She had not figured her things out yet, but she was worried about others. No one but Winnie could be so kind. The two then went into the room, as Oscar expected, Penny showed a mocking smile at the moment she saw Winnie. "Oh, how can you come to me at this hour? Brian was snatched back by you, you should always watch him, or Gloria will snatch him back." Penny sneered. That Gloria and Brian parted was indeed a happy thing, but she did not want Winnie to be with Brian. Her only purpose was to stop Winnie from having a good life. And she did not want Winnie to be with Brian. "I didn't snatch Brian, and he isn't with me." Winnie said indifferently, she did not care about Penny's mockery. "Are you kidding? You must have snatched him in a dirty way. It seems that Gloria is still very simple, not your match." Penny did not believe what Winnie said, even now they were not together, before long, they would reconcile. "Winnie, I really don't know what you think. Brian looks down on everything, you can't control him, why do you cling to him? Don't you know that you are unworthy of Brian?" Penny said to Winnie with irony. No matter if Winnie and Brian were together or not, speaking like this brought her extreme comfort. "I know, I know my humble status, I know I don't deserve Brian, so I am not with him." Winnie answered calmly. She wanted harsh words from Penny to wake her up and to let her see the gap between her and Brian. "You still don't tell the truth, if you are not with him, why he broke up with Gloria? I hate people like you who say one thing but mean another. Since you did it, admit it." No matter what Winnie said, Penny didn't believe it. She had the same idea as everyone that Winnie was the only person in the world who could control Brian. Brian was with Gloria because of the cooperation, but now Brian chose to break up regardless of cooperation. Winnie must be behind it. "Winnie, you was a surrogate woman, your identity is inferior. I don't think anyone in the Bennet family would approve of you. They are afraid to embarrass their family." "Don't think that you are great for you had given birth to two Children for the Bennet family. As long as Brian is willing to, women all over the world are willing to give birth to him, and their genes are better than you." Penny's words were malicious, exposing the scars of Winnie. Oscar could not listen to it, if Winnie did not tell him to stay out of it before coming in, he would have insisted on stopping Penny. "Yes, I know all that." Winnie's heart was made of flesh, after hearing these, she could not be numb. Her restless heart had been struck again and again, and the extent of the pain was known only to her. But she still wanted to thank Penny for letting her see the fact and stopping her from wishful thinking. The fact that Penny said was an obstacle and a distance between her and Brian. For the rest of her life, her heart would ache whenever she thought about it. She would spend her whole life lowering her head in face the Bennet family. Those who knew the truth knew that she had no purpose but pure love. But the people who did not know accounted for the majority, this majority of people would think that she had purpose and she was scheming. She told herself to see the facts, she was nothing to Brian and to the Bennet family. She had to remember she was humble. "What is your purpose in saying all this?" Winnie asked Penny, although her heart stung, she could endure it. Although the scar was exposed and began to bleed, she did not blame Penny, because she was telling the truth. "Are you crazy? I'm saying this so you can see the truth. Do you know the truth? It's the Bennet family and Brian would not want a woman like you." "Don't say I don't remind you, it's the right thing for you to leave Brian now." In the final analysis, she did not want Winnie and Brian to be together. If Winnie and Brian were together, she would break them up even if she died. "I admit there's a point in what you're saying. I won't be with him." Winnie answered. Reality told her that there was a huge gap between her and Brian, and they could not be together forever. Winnie has promised Penny, but Penny did not feel steadfast and continued to say. "Your words are perfunctory. If you really don't want to be with Brian, you should leave as far away as possible. You don't leave, you always hang out in front of him, you always meet with him under the pretext of the kids. How can you manage not to be with him? You still have your own ambitions." At this, Penny finally calmed down. She told herself there was no need to get angry, and being moderated might be more effective. "I want to leave, but I have so much worry. Maybe you can help me find a way out of here." Winnie gave a wry smile, raising a self-deprecating radian. She had thought about what Penny said more than a hundred times, but she had not succeeded even once. If she could drop everything, if she could ignore anyone, she'd probably be gone. "Don't say there is no way. There is always way to do what you want. Either go and become a nun, or jump into the sea and leave this world forever. I don't believe it can't be solved." Penny gave her so-called good way. "Penny, you went to far. Life is given by parents, how can you want Winnie to end her life?" Oscar finally could not help but speak. Penny was aggressive and did not give an opportunity for Winnie to breathe. It was a kind of harm and it was evil for Penny, a patient. Oscar could not listen to it, but Winnie did not say a word. Penny's words were wicked, but it was a solution. If one day she was cornered, if she could not hold on anyone, it was good way to release by becoming a nun or jumping into a sea. "Well, I accept your offer. If you don't see me for a few days in a row, maybe I may already be a nun. Please visit me often." Winnie said to Penny with a bitter smile. She was awakened by Penny's words, and she had decided to forget Brian at all costs and stay away from him regardless of whether he loved her or not. Otherwise she would end up becoming a nun or jumping into a sea. Unexpectedly, after hearing Winnie said that, Penny shut her mouth up. She found Winnie was not right today. She was not sharp today. She did not aggressive, but she had never been so meek. What was wrong with her today? Was it true that she and Brian were not together? After leaving the restaurant, Brian went straight to B University. He had to explain to Vanessa. After contacting Vanessa, Brian waited outside. About half an hour later, Vanessa came out.

CHAPTER 704 DON'T AGREE TO BE TOGETHER

Vanessa, with a serious face, already knew that Brian and Gloria had broken up. But she did not understand what Brian asked her out. "Brian." Vanessa simply greeted him, and different from his previous enthusiasm. "Vanessa, there you are. I hope I don't interrupt your studies." Brian smiled, but felt embarrassed. "I was studying in the dormitory. What do you want to say?" Vanessa clearly told that she really did not have time. "Well, then, I'll be straight with you. I want to talk to you about why your sister and I broke up. I....." "Brian, you have been separated for so long that you are strangers now. I don't think it's necessary to say why you broke up." Vanessa interrupted the words of Brian, even if she wanted to know the reason, she wanted to listen to her sister, because she did not know what Brian would say and if he would blame her sister. "Vanessa, I must tell you the reason, because it is my mistake. I understood your sister, so I impulsively put forward to break up." Brian understood Vanessa's resistance, since he broke up with Winnie, Vanessa's attitude to him had great changed. Vanessa's bad impression of him was caused by him and he must rely on his own strength to save the situation. "You misunderstood my sister? Why?" Vanessa did not expect that Brian would say so, they had broken up, why explained? "I was on a business trip with Gloria..." Brian once again put the whole process of the detail out, because he wanted to take responsibility. After listening to such a fact, Vanessa was angry, but skeptical. "Did you set my sister up on purpose? You just wanted to be with Gloria and blamed it on my sister. Then..." "Vanessa, it's not like that. I misunderstood your sister on impulse." Brian explained that he had no other plan from the beginning to the end, and he was also suffering from a great heart injury. "You were acting on impulse? Who are you kidding, Brian? Someone as safe as you will be impulsive? You tried to abandon my sister, and now Gloria broke up you, so you explained the reason to me, don't you feel very strange?" "You have no woman around, so you are bored now? And you want my sister to fill the vacancy?" Vanessa asked Brian sharply, anger could be seen in her eyes. She thought it was ok for Brian not to give her an answer because what she said was true. "Brian, why did you do that to my sister? What's wrong with her and you screwed her over? Even if my sister has done something wrong, you can forgive others, why can't you forgive her? At least she gave birth to two children, for the sake of the children's, you can do that to her." "You can say anything about her, but why do you say she's having an affair with another man? You're humiliating her, you know?" Vanessa had never been so disappointed, never so distressed about her sister. She thought of many kinds of reasons why they broke up, but she never expected this. This was an insult to her sister. In recent months, she knew how her sister had been through. During the day, she used work to paralyze herself and it was hard to sleep at night. Why she chose sports, why worked hard? Because she wanted to be tired and could feel asleep faster at night. It was painful for her to leave Brian. But the reason for this breakup was more painful. "Vanessa, I don't admit what you said, but it is absolutely true that I misunderstood your sister. When I saw her coming into the room with Stefan, my sanity broke down. I couldn't accept that my woman was cheating on me with another man. I didn't set her up. I didn't find an excuse to break up with her. I just thought she didn't love me anymore, but fell in love with another man, so I broke up with her." Brian understood Vanessa's misunderstanding, compared to the fact that Winnie was misunderstood him, it was negligible. But he had to make it clear that he didn't mean to make excuses. "Well, suppose you didn't mean to, suppose you misunderstood my sister, but what about you? You and Gloria lived with a room, why you don't doubt yourself? Why you can mess with another woman, but my sister cannot look for a man. Do you think it is fair?" Vanessa was angry, and shouted to Brian. It was not that she did not understand Brian's explanation, but that she could not accept Brian's attitude towards her sister. Her sister wholeheartedly loved Brian, but Brian did not trust her sister. This kind of love was not fair. "I admit I was wrong and I'm sorry. Vanessa, I promise you this will never happen again." Brian was unable to defend himself, and the more such comparisons were made, the more ashamed he became. Winnie trusted him, but he did not trust her. He was wrong. Because of his impulse, because she did not trust Winnie enough, they suffered for four months. He made things clear to everyone, apologized to everyone, and then no matter what others said, he would get Winnie back. "Brian, don't tell me you're sorry. You did not do anything wrong to me, you should say sorry to my sister. I want you to apologize to her and I hope that once you apologize, you will not affect her lives." Vanessa did not accept the apology, and he should not apologize to her. It was no use of her hating and being angry after all this happened. She forced herself to be calm, not to be impulsive or resentful. But there was one thing she must stress: she hoped that Brian would never go near her sister again. No matter this was a misunderstanding, they had broken up. She did not want her sister to go to the Bennet's, and did not want her sister to be back to Brian. "Vanessa, I came to you today to tell you the truth, and I want your support for me and your sister being together again." Brian knew the meaning of Vanessa's words, but he still wanted to fight for it, or he told her his purpose. He had never begged others in such a low posture, even if he met with great difficulties in his work, he did not bow to anyone. This time he must put down his posture, must give Winnie a fair and sincere apology. He wanted to let Winnie and the people around her feel his sincerity, and then do not oppose him and Winnie together. "I can't support you and my sister starting over. Brian, even if this misunderstanding did not happen, I also object you and my sister to be together. You know better than I how your family treats her. If you really love her and want her to be happy, you don't want her to have anything to do with your family anymore." "Since your family looks down upon her and our lowlives, why should you bother her?" "Look for others, Gloria or Wendy, just don't look for my sister." "Brian, I have to go back to study, bye." Vanessa opposed directly, she was not afraid of Brian being angry or disappointed. At this time, the person she cared about most was her sister. She did not want to speculate on how Brian felt. Vanessa turned to leave, leaving Brian a firm and angry back. Brian sighed. He knew Vanessa would not accept his statement and understood her attitude to him, if his sister encountered such thing, his reaction might be bigger than Vanessa. He deserved all this. If he could get back Winnie, he could go on though it was difficult. Emily and Daenerys left after dinner at the restaurant. Leo drove Emily home, they had been silent and worried about Winnie. Emily kept a sitting position and in the end she was tired, inadvertently she looked aside and found Leo was gloomy, so she could not help asking. "Are you worried about Winwin?" "Yes, I wonder where Oscar took her and if they had dinner." Leo honestly answered Emily. Emily was gratified to hear the honest answer, but she was upset. Leo, as a friend, was worry about Winnie, which was normal, but she could not accept it. She had always minded it and thought Leo still loved Winnie, so hearing Leo's honest answer, she was upset. "Ok, I will ask her." Emily did not show what she thought, after all, Winnie was her good friend. Even if she did not believe Leo, she still believed Winnie. Besides Winnie was a good woman, anyone had the right to like her or pursue her, including Leo. Emily took out her mobile phone and then called Oscar. The call was soon connected. "Oscar, how is Winwin now? Where are you now?" "We are in Penny's, she looks fine and is talking to Penny." Oscar said. "How did you get there? Don't make any more arguments." Emily was worried, the name of Penny made her uneasy. "Don't worry. It'll be all right." Oscar always paid attention to the dynamics of two people, if there was something wrong, he would intervene. In short, he would not let Winnie get hurt. "Keep your eyes open. If you have to, let Winwin go home. By the way, did you have dinner?" That was Leo's concern, and she couldn't forget to ask. "No, I ordered takeout and we will eat later. What about you? Did you eat? How is Brian?" Emily was worried about Winnie, and Oscar was worried about Brian, so he asked.

Hey, My Twins Babies

CHAPTER 705 I WILL NEVER MARRY

Emily sighed with a low mood. "Not so good. He feels bad. But he has said he wants to pursue Winwin again. He said he would give up his position and fight his grandfather to stay with Winwin." "I think he's serious, but I don't know if he'll do it seriously, and I don't know if Winwin will forgive him." Emily simply put the Brian's attitude out, all of them were thinking about this matter, were worried about these two people. They hoped they could be together, but they were afraid of Winnie getting hurt. If it happened again, Winnie would break down. "Let them work it out. There's nothing we can do." "Leo is saying the same as you. We can't interfere with their feelings and let them make their own decisions." Emily now found that men and women's thinking were not the same after all. All men thought of big picture. Women, on the other hand, had a narrow and emotional mind. She and Daenerys first considered if Winnie would get hurt, so they lost temper to Brian. Besides, her and Daenerys' behavior didn't solve the problem at all. "No, we can't interfere. We'll talk about it later. Take-out's here and we're ready to eat." As Oscar spoke, the delivery man had arrived. Oscar hurriedly explained and hung up the phone. Emily put away her phone, and then told Leo her conversation with Oscar. "Oscar and Winwin are at Penny's house. Winwin is in a good mood and can talk to Penny. They ordered takeout for dinner and they are ready to eat." "Oscar said that having him take care of Winwin was reassuring." Emily told Leo what he worried about. With Emily's message, Leo did feel at ease. "That's good. Oscar can take care of Winwin." "Now that you know Oscar takes good care of Winwin, why do you have to worry and have to make sure?" Emily did not say it out, but that was what she thought. She said no more, but was silent and sighed. After a while, Emily continued. "Winwin's relationship is not easy and she has repeated suffering. We're all lucky to have less heartache than she has." Compared with her own, she was like having endless tangle. If she was in that situation, she would have run away and never touched love again. "Yeah, I didn't expect her love would be so difficult. Winwin's life was not easy." Leo had the same idea as Emily, he even felt that the Winnie was the most uneasy woman in the world, after suffering, she could not see any bright future. "Leo, why don't you rescue Winwin and stop her suffering?" Emily suddenly said, which stunned Leo. "What do you mean? How do I rescue her?" "Now Winwin is single, any man with the right qualifications has the right to pursue her. You..... You fit the bill. You're single, you like her and you know her well. I mean... You go after her again and don't let her be with Brian." "Even though she has two children, it doesn't overshadow her. She is a good woman, worthy of your love and protection." Emily said sadly, if Leo still liked Winnie and till cared about her, she had no objection. It was a lie to say that she mentioned this matter unintentionally, she did intend to test Leo's heart. Whatever the result of the test was, she could accept it. If Leo really chose Winnie, it showed that she could not be with Leo. Hearing that, Leo knew his concern for Winnie made Emily uncomfortable. Now he was silent and gave no immediate answer. He was thinking of the most appropriate answer. A moment later. "Emily, it's unfair for you to think so. I've told you many times, I used to like Winwin, but not anymore. We are just friends. She is my friend and partner, and I feel I should care for her." "If my care about Winnie is hidden in the bottom of my heart, I must have a secret in my heart." Leo said safely, once again he told Emily he did not like Winnie. The concern for Winnie came entirely from the friendship of friends. "Emily, we have been together for such a long time. Can't you still feel my affection for you? Didn't I do well, didn't I give you sense of security?" Leo asked Emily, hoping to hear the most real voice in Emily's heart, and then he would do according to her ideas, to change himself. "I..." When Emily was to answer, Leo interrupted Emily. "I warn you, no matter what answer you give, I will not give up on you. If you don't marry me, I will not get married." This was the most sincere confession, and Leo could do it. "Are you forcing me to marry you?" Emily was moved, and asked Leo. In fact, a woman should feel satisfied to meet such a man, but she was always greedy and wanted more, wanted to clearly know that there was no other woman in his heart. "I did not force you, and you are not the sort of man to compromise by threat or inducement. Emily, I just want you to know your heart and open your heart to me." Leo's heart had been completely exposed to Emily, but she still lacked of trust in him and dared not easily give her heart to him. "I am not sure myself how to answer you." Emily did not dare to tell Leo her heart, did not dare to say that she liked him. Being hurt once made her afraid. Although it was not as painful as Winnie, she felt that she could not afford the pain. This time she really wanted to be careful, really wanted to think clearly, really wanted to see through Leo's heart before she made a decision. "I don't need your answer now. Tell me when you think it over. I will wait for you, no matter a year or two, ten or twenty years." Leo had made up his mind to be with Emily. Life would be boring without her by his side. He preferred to be alone for a lifetime. Emily was moved again, but she would not be impulsive. She admitted Leo was a good man, a modest man. If she missed this chance, she would never meet such a good man again. But she still minded his past and could not accept him. Klara knew Brian and Gloria had broken up, but it was late. She did not see the news till it was time for bed. There were surprise, but she didn't show it, with Jonny lying next to her. "Brian and Gloria also broke up. It seems that no woman could stay around Brian for long." Klara could not help but talk to herself, while Jonny heard it clearly. "Brian? The man with Wendy?" Jonny asked, Klara's words attracted his attention. "Yes, my boss. He has emotional problems more than once." Klara gloated that this was what Brian deserved. Whatever the reason for the breakup, it wasn't a good thing for the Bennet Group. "I think he's had bad luck since he fired you a lucky star. Now his woman must be a jinx, who's gonna screw him up. So you are wise to leave the company." Jonny pleased Klara, trying to find out who was with Brian now. "How can you talk like that, but I love it when you say that." Klara was coaxed into talking sweetly. The more she got along with Jonny, the more she felt he was a great guy, and the more she felt it was a blessing in disguise to leave the Bennet Group. "There is no woman around Brian now. The only possible one is Wendy." Klara didn't hear the deep meaning of Jonny's words, and did not expect Jonny would be interested in Brian's private affairs. But she must say Wendy, to let Jonny give up on Wendy completely. "Wendy is such a poor woman, will Brian accept her? So it seems that Brian's character is not good. There is an idiom feather flock together. Do you think it is appropriate to them?" Jonny mentioned Brian's women, but the focus was not on Wendy. He knew what kind of woman Wendy was, how bad Wendy was, and everything about her. There was nothing for him to wonder about. What he wanted to know was whether Winnie was likely to return to Brian's side. "Yes." Klara couldn't help laughing. Klara did not mention Winnie, so Jonny asked. "Will Winnie return to Brian? She has kids, I think her possibility is bigger than Wendy." "Winnie? I don't think so, but it is possible. Jonny, do you not want Wendy to return to Brian? If you don't want her to be back with Brian, you can go to Wendy, and I can help you get her." Jonny's words made Klara think of this possibility. Even if Jonny didn't mean it, she had to remind him. "Don't talk nonsense. Now that I'm with you, it's impossible for me to have any thoughts about Wendy. I already know what kind of person Wendy is. If I pursue her again, I will be bad as her." "I've given up completely on Wendy, but I'm glad I met you. Klara, I now it may be hypocritical to say I love you, after all, we know each other for short. And the way of we being together is not so simple. But I really like you, I believe that in the near future I will say I love you sincerely." Jonny's blarney ability was unrivaled, now he must keep Klara, even in order to revenge Wendy, he must let Klara feel that he meant it.

Hey, My Twins Babies

CHAPTER 706 HELP IF YOU CAN

Klara was happy to hear that, but she knew it was not the time for her to show off. "Jonny, I'm so relieved to hear you say that. I am lucky to meet you and I'm glad I met you at a low point in my life." "But again, I have children, I have both parents to support, and I am the one who will cause you trouble. I won't blame you if you couldn't take it and leave me." It was not the first time Klara said that, but she had to stress it. If Jonny proposed marriage to her, she didn't want it to get in the way of them being together. "I've thought about these things for a long time. In my country, people don't care about external conditions. As long as two people really love each other, everything is ok. And I have the ability to raise your children and the confidence to take care of several old people." "Klara, don't think too much, I will take care of everything, you only need to be a happy woman." Jonny said, which made Klara feel unreal. Instead of exploring the truth of Jonny's words, she enjoyed the happiness he brought her. "I'll do as you say." "But what should we do about Wendy? If she knows I'm with you, she must hate me." Klara did not want to mention Wendy in such a warm moment, but she had to. If Wendy knew about her relationship with Jonny, she might not get her 10 million back. "Don't worry, I haven't confessed her or promised her anything, and she doesn't know I like her, so it's nothing to do with her." Jonny comforted Klara, it was necessary to let Klara feel secure. "But..... But I'm worried about her character. If she knows, she will be jealous of me being with you, and there is no telling what kind of revenge she will do. At least she will not give me back my ten million." Klara most concerned about her own money. She deliberately mentioned it because she wanted Jonny to guarantee that he would give her this money in case she could not get the ten million back. "Ten million? Who owes whom?" Jonny suddenly focused, but didn't quite understand whose the ten million was. "She owes me. She took ten million from me." Klara repeated and told Jonny directly that Wendy owed her money. "Wendy is rich, why did she borrow money from you?" Jonny understood, but could not understand why. "It is said that she would find people abroad to thoroughly attack Winnie. She couldn't get her money out of her mother, and she couldn't get her money from the bank, so she borrowed it from me. She said she'd give it back soon, and she hasn't yet." "I'm worried now that she doesn't want to pay me back." Klara explained the reasons. "You know why she wants to hurt Winnie, why did you lend her money?" Jonny inadvertently asked, his mind was focus on the ten million now. He would like to know where the ten million Wendy used, and if she gave it to him. Was it possible that Wendy's family didn't have any money at all, and they scammed money in this way? So the problem came again. Why could Klara a worker have so much money? "She didn't say anything when she borrowed the money. Then I told her it was wrong, so I asked her for money back, but has not given me back until now." Klara realized that she had damaged her character by speaking so, so she hurried to remedy it. Now she could let Jonny have the slightest doubt about her, for the rest of her happiness depended on Jonny. "She seems to be a very bad person, but how did you get the money?" Jonny could not help asking. "I saved little by little, and there was the compensation when my husband died. If Wendy doesn't pay me back, my basic livelihood will be in question for the rest of my life." Klara said pitiful, in order to win Jonny's sympathy. "Don't worry, Klara. Don't worry. We will try our best to get the money. If she doesn't give it back, I will give you this money." Jonny said generously. He knew it was time for him to show off, even if he didn't have the money. "I can't take your money. I'll take it from Wendy." Klara said. She was warmed by Jonny's promise, and she felt at ease because of Jonny's words. Even if Wendy didn't pay her back, she would at least have a guarantee. But this seemed to be two different things, if Wendy did not pay her back, and she could get Jonny's money, she would have double. Through the conversation, Jonny did not get the news of Winnie, but knew the existence of the ten million. In his view, it was more important than Winnie. Since Klara, a staff, had 10 million, how many 10 million Winnie a popular software engineer had? The next morning, Winnie went out for a morning run as usual, but when she came back, she found Brian holding breakfast standing at her door. "What are you doing here? We have made everything clear. There's no point in bothering me again." Winnie said calmly. She had been sobered by Penny's words and she would not give Brian any opportunity. She didn't even want to his friend. "I still need to apologize, and I still need your forgiveness." Brian answered in a low voice. Winnie still hated him, so he understood her emotions now. From now on, he must work in two ways, to win Winnie's forgiveness, while starting to pursue Winnie again. "You've apologized so many times, I don't need it. No matter who is responsible for this matter, it is gone, and there can be no hope between us. So it doesn't matter that I don't forgive you." "Go back. You have your career and your life. I have something I want to pursue. We can't intervene with each other's affairs." Winnie unlocked the door after that. She thought Brian would leave, would not entangle her. Her words are very clear, she believed Brian could understand. Winnie could not forgive her and did not want to forgive him. She wanted to use such hate to remind herself at all times, wanted to use such hate to let herself keep sober, and not to have any fantasy to Brian. "Eat your breakfast and I'll be back." Brian stopped Winnie to close the door, put a hand on the door. He believed Winnie would not close the door. "You..." Winnie recalled the fact that Brian's hand was clamped last time, looking at his hand on the door, so she didn't close the door. "Give it to me and you can go." Winnie opened the door, but still did not want to let Brian in. The best she could do was to accept his breakfast, not his person. Brian saw Winnie regressed, so he gave the breakfast to her. If he made another request, Winnie didn't even want his breakfast. After the breakfast was given to Winnie, the door was closed. It was uncomfortable to look at the closed door, but he was glad that it was beginning to give him hope. It was the second day that Brian and Gloria broke up, for Brian himself, it did not have much impact, but for the company's stock market, it received a little impact. However, it was a small problem, Brian would not be brought down by such problems. When he was back to the company, he called his elite team and asked Morgan to come back, to fit the stock market turmoil. Everyone worked in the exclusive meeting room of Brian carefully. Then Albert went out to get the material back, as well as the message about Gloria. "Mr. Bennet, Gloria's studio has announced that she is temporarily retiring from the modeling industry. It seems to have taken a toll on her." "This is a result that we anticipated when we worked together, and I think she had a plan in place. But it's going to be a bit of a shock for her and it may take a while to cope." "Albert, I don't want another enemy. If Gloria needs help, try to help her. It's all I can do to help." Brian was guilty, although it was partnership, Gloria was a weak party and he did not give Gloria the opportunity to prepare. If he was right, it was not just Gloria's career that would be under attack, but Andrew's company as well. Under the circumstances, it made sense for Brian to help. Gloria had to announce her temporary retirement news, she did not expect that she would face public opinion pressure. If she had known that there would be consequences like that, she would not have exaggerated her relationship with Brian on various occasions, and she would not have deliberately created the scandal with Brian in the hotel. Now those paparazzi were targeting at her, they dare not have too many sharp words for Brian, so she was taking it on herself. "Uncle Thomas, I have announced my temporary retirement as you said. I will go to my father's company to learn some professional knowledge from tomorrow, and then I will get close to Brian again." Gloria sat in her room and walked with Thomas on the phone. Now the only one who could help her was Thomas, she must believe Thomas unconditionally. "That's all we can do for the time being. You'll have to go to Penny's. Her illness won't last long, and if you make her angry all the time, I think she will die soon. As long as she is dead, we have nothing to worry about." Thomas said. Brian had a resolute attitude, he did not know how to deal with it. "Ok, I will." "Uncle Thomas, what is going on with Brian? After breaking up with me, does he prefer Wendy or Winnie?" Gloria had been concerned about this matter, she wanted to know who her opponent was. "I think it's Winnie. And I hope it's Winnie." Thomas didn't put the words too absolute, after all, Wendy had not given up on Brian and she might take the opportunity to get back to him. "Uncle Thomas, what do you mean? Why do you hope it is Winnie?" Gloria asked with doubts.

Hey, My Twins Babies

CHAPTER 707 REPEATED STRIKES

Gloria's idea was not the same as Thomas'. She did not want it was Winnie, because Winnie was smart and tenacious, and Brian cared about her, which made her more difficult to deal with. Gloria's problem was stupid to Thomas. She felt she was like a fool. Thomas showed unabashed disdain on the other side of the phone. If his memory was correct, he said more than once the reason he chose Winnie. Although he did not say the specific means, but what he said was certain and reasonable. But Gloria still forgot it and repeatedly asked, Thomas could only say she was stupid. "Leave it alone, you only need to pray it is Winnie, which is good for you. Wendy wants to go back to Brian, you should find a way to sabotage it. It is better not to let Wendy and Brian together." This time Thomas did not explain the reason, she could not remember, so he came up with a good idea for her. "Don't worry about Brian. No one can control what he wants to do and who he chooses. You just take care of yourself and make yourself better. Learn how to do business from your father, so that you can deal with Brian more easily." "And I must warn you about this. Be careful about your personal life and how you treat your assistants and others. Don't be in duplicity. Grandpa doesn't like a man like that, you know. He could dismiss you even if your father backed you up." Thomas had to deliberately remind her, it was a special time, Gloria must pay attention to her words and deeds. In today's society, there were no secrets at all. Her every word and action will be photographed by someone without her noticing. All these would affect the standard of Felix's choice, but also affect the Bennet Group's reputation. "I know, Uncle Thomas, I'll take care of it. I'm at your disposal in this matter, and I'll do as you tell me." Gloria heart has not satisfied, but had to answer. It's about her future her fate. Thomas put down the phone and still thought about it. If Brian still chose Winnie, the existence of Gloria was insignificant. Once the time was mature, as long as Winnie was under control, Brian would be in trouble. But before Brian made a choice, he would still use Gloria. What tripped Gloria was the evidence in the hands of Penny, but Penny would not die immediately, so he did not know how long she could suppress Gloria. Thomas wanted Penny to leave the world as soon as possible and what could let Penny leave the world was Gloria's evil words and Richard. Yes, Richard was also the key. Thomas immediately took the phone and car keys out. This was a remote place, an abandoned factory located in the countryside. There was no video surveillance, no passers-by. But a room in the factory was quite comfortable. Richard was in this room, alone but comfortable. However, Thomas's sudden arrival today surprised him. "I thought you'd forgotten about me, you hadn't come for so long." Richard said with a big smile. "How can I forget you, if I often come over, both of us would be discovered." "How are you?" Thomas pretended to care. "I am good. Food and supplies come regularly. I don't have any problems with my life. I'm just worried that my daughter and I don't know if she's exposed." Richard had been worried about Penny, afraid the police got clue from her. "You needn't worry about her. She's a sick woman, and even the police can't do anything about her. But your location must have had something to do with her. Her phone must have been monitored by the police." Thomas brought up Penny's illness painstakingly, for let Richard worry namely. "There should be no problem with my daughter's illness. The police will find it if they want to trouble her." Richard didn't say it, but he did hint. Others did not know that Penny was faking her illness, but he knew. Once the police found something and re-examine it, Penny would have an extra charge. "Sure? How can you say there's nothing wrong with her when the doctors say she's no longer can be recovered? Have you heard something?" Thomas asked with doubts, he guessed that Penny had told him something on the phone. "The doctor said that? It could be a misdiagnosis. Thomas, will you please check her illness?" Richard was worried. It was possible that what Richard said about Penny's illness was true, but perhaps Penny told him the truth so as not to worry him. "Okay, I'll get someone to look into it right now." In order to check the illness, Thomas immediately called someone to do it. "Now, I want to know the truth as soon as possible." After he put down the phone, someone immediately went to check it. Thomas and Richard waited for it. "Richard, don't blame me for being too direct. Your daughter got you screwed. If you had denied her, this would never have happened. Your company would have failed and you would have ended like this." "Your whole life's work has been wasted, with your wife and children involved." Thomas chatted about Penny, who not only destroyed his father, but also destroyed his plan. Such a person had a meaningless life, it was better to die early to lighten the burden. "Alas..... It's no use talking about it now. She's my daughter and I can't deny her. When I first met her, my wife and children all agreed with me, just for marrying Brian." "But I never thought she would be so scheming. She didn't tell me she had contractual relationship with Brian. If I had known it, I wouldn't have gotten to this point." Richard admitted that Penny was brainless, which was an important reason why he got to where he was today. But what can be done? At the beginning, he was also selfish, even without Penny, he might have thought of other ways to get close to Brian. "However, it is not my daughter's fault that the Burns Group was acquired. It was Brian's unfeeling and cruel behavior. I must not forgive Brian on this." Richard said grinding his teeth. "Your daughter made sin, if it were not for her abused Luke, Brian would not be so unfeeling. You must blame your daughter for her lack of brain." Thomas defended Brian on the surface, but he let Richard transferred his hatred to Penny. Before, if Richard hated Brian so much, he would have kept silent. Because at that time he wanted Richard to hate Brian. But now Thomas found that Richard of Brian hate was meaningless, because he could do nothing about Brian. Now the key to the problem was to let Richard hurt Penny, so that Penny's condition rapidly deteriorated and she would die. Once Penny died, the meaning of Richard's existence was not much. Half an hour later, they got the final report on Penny's condition. After Thomas listened to the investigators, he understood why Richard said there was no problem. Seeing Thomas frowning, Richard was anxious. He asked. "Well, how about my daughter's illness?" "Did she tell you that she was given a doctor in prison who faked her condition? Did he say she wasn't sick at all?" Thomas answered Richard in the form of questioning. "....." Richard hesitated warily, not knowing whether he should say or not, not knowing whether Thomas was testing him. "You can tell me, her tricks were found by the police, even the doctor who helped her was under, connect." Thomas said angrily. He could feel Richard's alert. "I am now officially telling you that your daughter's illness is real and that she has only a few months to live. She may not know the true condition herself, nor that the doctor she sought was under control. That's why she told you she's all right." Thomas said indifferently. Without Richard's answer, he knew what was going on. Richard was stunned, looking at Thomas, it was a big blow. He went from disbelief to alarm to despair, what a change of mood, what a capacity to endure such repeated blows. "Does my daughter really have cancer? Are you kidding?" Richard did not want to accept it, he asked and hoped Thomas gave a negative answer, but he as disappointment and desperate. "Can I deceive you about such things? If you don't believe me, wait a few months and see if you can see your daughter again." Thomas's tone was cold and did not care how Richard felt at this moment. If his words were a sharp blade, Richard had been stabbed to death by him. "How is that possible? My daughter is so young. I..... I want to see my daughter, and I want to see her now." Richard was about to run out, but Thomas stopped him. "Calm down. If you act impulsively at this moment, you're only getting caught in a trap. Your daughter's illness is a fact. Can you change it by seeing her?" Thomas's persuasion was not from his heart, he hoped that Richard would now be caught by the police. But there were some things he needed to do. Richard's impulsive behavior would get him into troubles. "It doesn't matter. My daughter is dying, and I must see her." Richard's emotion was still out of control. At this time, he did not care what would happen to him. He was afraid that he would not see his daughter again in his lifetime. "Calm down first, you are so old, why are you not as calm as young people? I don't mind you seeing Penny, but find a way to see her without losing your life." "Instead of seeing her, you're making a trouble if you are so impulsive."

Hey, My Twins Babies

CHAPTER 708 STEFAN'S FLOWERS

Thomas forcibly pulled Richard and didn't let him rush out. Penny had already spoiled his good deed, he could not let Richard cause troubles. Richard was pulled back and forced to sit on the bed. He did not know where to look, there was no color in his eyes. "Don't worry. I will try to get you to meet Penny. Stay here and wait to hear from me." Thomas's mood became calm. He stabilized Richard and was would give him opportunity. Winnie had work in the company, Brian from time to time jumped out of her mind to disturb her thoughts, making her absent-minded. As she was thinking about Brian, a knock on the door interrupted her confused thoughts. "Come in." Winnie adjusted his depressed mood. When she looked up, she saw Stefan holding a bunch of flowers. "What are you doing here?" Winnie asked with surprise. Stefan, with a happy smile and flowers, came to Winnie's desk. "I haven't heard from you in days. I came to see you." "It's for you. Don't refuse. I know you'll like it." Stefan sent the flowers to Winnie. He came today to begin his formal pursuit, but he could not say it directly, or Winnie would reject him. He was going to give Winnie time, but he did not expect Brian to take action so quickly to break up with Gloria. Stefan was worried that he had to pursue Winnie ahead of schedule, otherwise Brian would take advantage. "Why do you give me flowers?" Winnie stood up, hesitating to take the bouquet of flowers or not. "It is good to receive flowers, I am showing my concern for you. Take it, or I'll think you're expecting roses." Stefan jokingly said, trying to make the atmosphere relaxed and cheerful.

"I don't expect any roses. I will take it." Hearing that, Winnie had to accept it. She seldom received flowers, and she did not study their words. But she still knew the words of roses, and she could not force Stefan to give her roses. Holding the flowers in her arms, smelling the light flowers, Winnie thought of Brian. When they were together, everyone thought they were boyfriend and girlfriend, even she greedily thought so. But had Brian sent her flowers? Was there such a romantic moment? Winnie asked herself, but she could not find the answer. The relationship between her and Brian was always bitter and contentious. There were good memories, too, but they were unreal and hard for her to remember. He gave her valuable items in addition to money, which pressed on her breath, so she did not accept it. If he gave her a bouquet of flowers, she would accept it happily. "What are you thinking?, Do you like the flowers?" Stefan woke up Winnie who was in a daze. He had maintained a cheerful smile, hoping that Winnie didn't have pressure because of a bunch of flowers. "Yes, it's beautiful. Thank you for the flowers. I like them. How about I treat you to have lunch?" Winnie was a person who did not want to owe a favor, no matter what this bunch of flowers represented, she should have courtesy. "Great, can I have anything I want?" It was a bonus. It was a surprise. It was not a meal but a chance to spend time together. "Yes, whatever you want. Whatever B City has, I will satisfy you." Winnie said generously, as long as Stefan agreed to have this meal, she did not owe him. "Ok, I'll think about what I want. But not at noon. I have a client appointment at noon. Are you free tonight?" If Stefan had known that Winnie would ask him to have lunch, he would delay the time to meet the client, but he had an appointment and he could not change it. "Yes, but I'll get Caro with us. I want to thank her, but I had no time. This is a good time, three of us have dinner together." Winnie temporarily could not get along with Stefan alone. She did not want to give Stefan any opportunity, and did not want to bring trouble to Stefan, for dear that Brian would hurt Stefan. "No problem, you contact her. I gotta go. It is time to meet my client. You may choose the place for dinner. I am a good boy who is not fussy about what I eat." "Bye. See you tonight." Stefan was still happy, although Winnie invited Caro, which made him disappointed, it did not affect his mood. If there was no Caro, Winnie might not ask him to eat out. Leo took Emily's advice and asked Oscar to meet at Penny's at noon. Seeing Penny was scrawny, Leo was sad Emily was right, he should forgive her. Penny had been punished by fate, he could not leave her pass away with resentment. "Leo, I didn't expect you to come to see me, thank you." Penny was not only grateful, but also moved. For Leo, she really felt guilty. She had no feelings for him but used him, let him miss the most loved one. "There's nothing to thank me for. Come and see you to make me feel better." Leo's mood was depressed by Penny's poor condition. He even wanted her to live, even if she spent the rest of her life in prison, rather than die so early. At this time Oscar carried two cups of water to come over, a cold one handed to Leo, a warm one handed to Penny. He told Penny. "It may be a little hot, drink slowly." "That's all right. Sit down." Oscar also sat down. Penny took a sip of water and then sighed. "Leo, since you are here today, I want to talk about the past. I'm sorry, it was my mistake to let you and Winnie miss each other. I know it was hard for you, and I..." "Let's not mention the past. I came here today to tell you that I have put the past behind me and don't hate you. Don't take it to your heart, don't think about the meaningless past." "We all make mistakes sometimes. As long as we realize we are wrong, as long as we face it, it is the best apology. Penny, now the most important thing for you is to get well." Leo did not give Penny the opportunity to mention the past, after all, bygone is bygone. Don't say you're sorry. You can go back in time and not get away from this. Saying goodbye to the past was the wisest choice. Get over and have the courage to face life. "Alas..... The more you act like this, the more ashamed I am. I'm sorry. I'm really sorry." Leo's words made Penny moved, and her eyes grew red. It was the most emotional and humbling day she had ever she had been out of prison. She could forget the past, but she had to say sorry. After all, she was sorry for Leo and it was her changed Leo's fate. She didn't feel sorry Winnie, but she knew she was sorry Leo, Leo. "Penny, take good care of yourself and don't think about anything else. I accept your apology, and the past is truly past." Leo could do only these, he did not know if he could help Penny. To say the words of forgiveness to Penny was a kind of mercy, and at the same time it eased her heart. From then on, she said goodbye to the past and never let it affect her mood. "I will take care of myself, I will get well. I'm going to get well just for you who forgive me." Leo forgave her but she felt more guilty, after all, her disease was fake. When people found out the truth, they were gonna be so disappointed in her. Penny asked Leo to have lunch at home, but Leo had to work, so it was only Oscar ate lunch with her. On the table. "I didn't expect Leo would forgive me. I thought he would hate me to death." Emily was still emotion, thinking about this matter while eating. "Oh, there are so many unexpected things. Do you feel good and relaxed?" Oscar asked Penny, seeing that she had a good mood. "Yes, I felt a lot of pressure on my heart, but when one of them was removed, I felt like I could breathe more easily." Penny said delightedly, for a long time, she had not been so relaxed. It seemed that her whole world was dark, and she just saw light just now. "If you can bury the haters with Winwin, then all the pressure in your heart will be removed and you will no longer be depressed. Being in a good mood can help you a lot." Oscar took the opportunity to persuade her, it was because Penny thought too much, wanted too much, she felt pressure. Because of being depressed, focusing on hatred, she got cancer. If she treated difficult things positively like Winnie, she would not end like this. "Forgive her? It seems impossible. I think I would die hating her." Although she insisted, but her tone and attitude were less hateful. Her everything depended on Winnie support, because of her hatred to Winnie, she dared to challenge and adventured slip out of prison. She was out and she was free now. "Think about it, figure out who's right and who's wrong, figure out where your hatred comes from, and then you'll be able to move on." Oscar did not continue to force Penny, she said that, which showed that she still resisted and only Winnie tried to make their relationship better. But Winnie made no mistake, Penny should show sincerity.

CHAPTER 709 FLOWERS LOST FOR NO REASON

After lunch, everyone went about his business. Winnie was informed that there was a temporary meeting to attend, because there were important documents in hand to deal with, she did not have time to ask the main content of the meeting and could only play on the spot in the meeting. Winnie was working hard, Laura came in with a smile. "Laura, why do you come back? You have something to do?" Winnie looked up and asked Laura, unexpected. "I come back for the meeting, you are to attend it, right?" Winnie's question made Laura doubt. "Oh, the meeting with the Bennet Group." Winnie just knew the content of the meeting. "Yeah, the Bennet Group wants your advice at this meeting, and you have to be there. Mr. Bennet says he respects your opinion and comes to our company for meetings." Laura gave a general explanation. "He is coming?" Winnie nerves were tense because of Brian, she must confirm whether Brian would attend the meeting, so that she could be prepared. "I don't know, Albert did not say who will attend." "You are busy, I go to prepare the conference room." Laura came mainly to say hello, she had to get the conference room ready before people of the Bennet Group came. After Laura went out, Winnie did not have extra time to think about Brian, before the meeting, she must finish her work. Fortunately, Winnie soon accomplished. Winnie stood up and stretched her body naturally.

Just then her office door was opened. Last time it was Laura, but this time it was Brian. His face was as serious as ever, but not so angry, not so cold. "You're in the wrong place. The meeting room is in the front." Brian showed up at her company at this time, and it was obvious that he was attending a meeting. Winnie ignored him and wanted him to get out of her office as soon as possible. "Who sent you those flowers?" Brian asked, looking at that bunch of dazzling flowers. "It's not from you, and it's none of your business. Mr. Bennet, I'll have someone escort you to the conference room." Winnie did not answer and was to call her assistant. At this time Brian said in a domineering manner, which amused Winnie. "Throw it away. I'll buy it for you." Looking at those flowers, Brian thought of Stefan, who provoked him in public. It must be Stefan began to pursue Winnie, so he gave her the flowers. He must not let Stefan succeed. "Go to the hospital if you are sick. The flowers in my office are none of your business. It's none of your business who gave it to me. I like it from whoever it is, but I don't like it from you." Winnie said angrily. "Mr. Bennet, it's time for the meeting. I'll show you to the conference room." Winnie realized that her assistant could not take Brian away, so she did it herself. She pulled Brian out of the office and went to the conference room. The meeting was very smooth. Brian and Winnie did very well. The meeting ended and some proposals were put into practice. Brian did not bother Winnie, but directly left with Albert. Winnie breathed a sigh of relief and returned to her office. She went straight back to the office and got angry. "Damned Brian, are you the devil? When did you steal my flowers? You rascal..." Winnie was crazy, and did not know when Brian stole her flowers, or he ordered others to steal them. Winnie came to the restaurant to meet Stefan. Stefan said he was not picky about food, but he named this Korean restaurant. Winnie did not know the reason, perhaps Caro liked Korean food. But she liked it, so she was fine with the Korean restaurant. "This position is good. I did not choose the private room and I feel the private room is too stuffy, with no artistic conception." Stefan was happy with his choice of restaurant and position. The restaurant was on the top floor of the building, and they had a window seat overlooking the C City. "It's good, but I think it's more suitable for couples, and it is awkward for the three of us." Caro was a cheerful and informal people, she said because she knew Stefan liked Winnie. "Why don't I leave, but I will pay the bill." Winnie made a joke, because he was worried about Caro's next sentence made everyone embarrassed. "Come on, I don't like eating alone with him." Caro refused. She had many chance to be with Stefan, so she did not care about this day. "You two are discriminating against me, I will leave if you do that again." Stefan made a joke too, but two women said in the same time "Ok, you leave, we two can date." "Ha ha ha..." Both women burst out laughing, setting the evening on fire. "I am defeated. Let's chat after ordering the food." Stefan raised his hand. Looking at two women being happy, especially Winnie was in a good mood, he was also happy. He really wanted Winnie to be so happy and free all her life. After finishing the meal, Caro first looked for a topic. "Winwin, may I ask you about someone?" "As long as I know, I will tell you everything." Winnie said, without know Caro was to ask. "I want to ask about Albert, you must know him." Winnie was surprised. "Albert? What do you want to ask?" Caro hesitated, but she did not want to miss this opportunity, so she took a deep breath and continued to ask. "What's his character? Is he married or does he have a girlfriend? What's his family like? What kind of families does he have?" Hearing her questions, Winnie showed a weird smile. She understood why Caro asked these, she must have a good impression of Albert. "What are you laughing at? Can't I ask?" Caro was embarrassed by Winnie's smile, but she would continue her questions. "Yes, of course." "Listen, I'm going to answer you one question at a time." Winnie gave a sly smile, looking like a thief with bad intentions, snooping into people's privacy. "Albert has good personality. He is a kind and affectionate man." "He has no time to get married or has a girlfriend because he is too busy with work. He is an only child, but he has a large family with many relatives. He is a native of B City. His parents are now retired." Winnie said in details and almost told Caro the specific address of Albert. "Oh, there is one most important condition that I did not mention. Albert is very capable in his work and is Brian's right-hand man. His ability is obvious to all. As for annual salary, it should be at eight figures." Winnie said specifically, she only knew about the basic information of Albert's annual salary, but an eight-figure salary was out of reach. "I didn't think about his annual salary, but is his character really as good as you say?" Hearing Winnie's evaluation on Albert, as well as the fact that he was single, Caro was excited, but she was too reserved to show all her heart. "You don't believe what I'm saying, go and feel it yourself. I'll give you a chance to feel it for yourself some day." Caro was shy to admit it and Winnie could see it, so she would offer help to make them together. After carefully consideration, she felt Caro and Albert were quite match.. Maybe they could be together. "Do you want to be matchmaker? Shall I introduce Caro?" After listening for a long time, Stefan finally found an opportunity to speak. When women talked, men would be ignored. "No need, I will make an opportunity for them to come out together, and then you can introduce Caro's basic situation in face of Albert." Winnie knew Caro, so she did not need introduction from Stefan. "You are right, take me with you, if have Caro is shy, I can help her." Stefan was happy. Today's date was not over yet, and the next one was ready. Although there were there of them to meet, this way of meeting would not make Winnie have pressure or even escape. It was because he thought so, he had been listening to Winnie and Caro in the chat to feel the happiness of Winnie. "Aren't you two being a little overmotivated?" Caro could not expect that thing developed so fast, and did not expect the two of them would get involved. "No. We're looking forward to it." When Winnie spoke, she could not help but laugh out. "Ha ha ha..." Seeing that Winnie was so happy, Stefan was gratified. As long as not Brian was not by her side, Winnie had no pressure and she would not be depressed. So did she love Brian, how deep did she love him? Dinner had begun, and the laughter did not stop. They were talking and laughing, thanking and apologizing. Winnie thanked the help of Caro and Stefan and felt sorry to bring them troubles. Winnie had a good time and her depressed mood became better.

Hey, My Twins Babies

CHAPTER 710 ASKING FOR FATHER'S HELP

After dinner, Winnie drove home alone. When she got home and stepped out of the elevator, she saw Brian standing in front of her house with a big bouquet of flowers. The flowers were the same as Stefan's, even in the same color. It was just many times bigger than the one from Stefan. Winnie was helpless and felt he was childish. After the meal, Winnie had put Brian behind. But his sudden appearance made her heart tangled again. Winnie sighed and then walked to Brian. "Don't come any more. It doesn't make sense." Winnie said and opened the door, and then went in to close the door. The next moment, Brian blocked the door with his foot. "Take the flowers and I'll go." Seemingly he said in a peaceful tone, but with a sense of rascal. "Flower? You're childish, you know. This kind of flower is not more good-looking because it is bigger, instead it feels disorderly and does not have that kind of aesthetic feeling. I like a small bouquet, simple and plain." "Take it back. I don't like it." The flowers were beautiful, and it was obvious that Brian had decorated them with his heart. She just wasn't in the mood to accept these beautiful flowers. "You'll like it. It looks like a big bunch, but it's actually made up of several smaller ones. Take it in and open it. You can put one in every room." Brian was well prepared and would not be brought down by this difficulty. "Take it or I'll leave, or I'll stand here." "You..." Winnie was forced by Brian and got angry. "Let me ask you, did you take the flowers from my office?" Winnie glared at Brian, still trying to stall for time, looking for an opportunity to refuse this big bunch of flowers. But she did not expect to give Brian the opportunity to counter her. "Take the flowers first and I'll tell you." Brian said, with one hand to open the door, and then handed the flowers to Winnie. He was not good at making salacious remarks, nor was it appropriate to say so at this moment. He waited for Winnie only with his firm eyes and refused to take away his hands. Winnie was completely speechless and could only take the flowers. After it was received by Winnie, Brian answered Winnie. "I took the flowers from your office. I threw them away." "You are sick, why threw my things away?" Winnie was angry that the bunch of flowers was buried in the hands of this rogue. "I thought the bouquet was from Stefan, and I didn't like it so I threw it away." "He showed his concern, but it also has the meaning of sincere love and tenderness. In the future, when others send you flowers, be sure to know what the flowers meant before you receive it." Brian threw away the flowers after learning the flower language. At the moment he must remind Winnie selfishly that she could not literally accept other people's flowers, especially the flowers with hidden meaning. "I'm leaving. Lock the door and be safe." Brian turned around and left, though he didn't want to leave and wanted to stay. But he promised Winnie to leave, he must leave. Winnie had not forgiven him, and he did not dare to force her and only hoped Stefan would not pursue her. Winnie carried a large bouquet of flowers into the house. As Brian said, after breaking it down, there were several small bundles. She then placed a bouquet in each room and then went back to the living room. Looking at the flowers and thinking of Brian's reminding, she realized that she really shouldn't receive it in order to avoid being misunderstood by others. But what kind of flower message did Brian want to express by sending her these flowers? Brian did not seem to apologize. The morning of the third day after Brian learned the truth. Before it was time to get up, Brian opened his eyes. As long as he opened his eyes, Winnie occupied all his thoughts. Now he had told everyone except Winnie's aunt. However, Winnie's aunt was hard to deal with and he did not know what to do until now. Winnie's aunt originally did not accept him, so it would be hard to her to accept that they were back together. And he wronged Winnie, her aunt might never accept him. Brian got up because he could not stay in bed. When he went to the window and opened the curtain, he saw his father exercising in the yard. So he put on his clothes and went downstairs. "Why are you up so early?" Rufus asked Brian, who was with a melancholy face, no matter what he did wrong, Rufus was unavoidably distressed. "I couldn't fall asleep." Brian replied listlessly, his brow furrowed from the moment he got up and still unfurled. "How are you doing with Winwin?" Rufus knew it was because Winnie that Brian was in a low mood. He came out to talk to him to release himself. "No progress. I apologized and she didn't forgive me." After two days of hard work, these words sum it all up. "No one could easily forgive for such grievance." "Oh, Brian, you were thoughtless. Is it really a misunderstanding, or do you just want to break up with Winwin?" Rufus understood that Winnie did not forgive Brian, but he wanted to confirm the heart of Brian again, to determine whether to help. "How could I possibly want to break up with her? I haven't even thought about it since we started dating. No matter what we were going through, I never thought about giving up." Brian patiently explained that he felt wronged at this point. He never thought of breaking up, but many people thought he found an excuse to break up with Winnie. He was frank, although he wanted to break up, he would not use so dirty way. "I was too impatient and impulse to say break up. When I saw the video, my head just went off and I couldn't calm down." "I know I did something wrong, and I don't blame Winwin if she never forgives me in her life." Brian admitted his mistakes again and again, as if speaking out would make him feel better. "Do you really want Winwin back?" Rufus knew Brian had a hard time. He misunderstood

Winnie, but he was also suffering in pain. "Yes, I told grandpa that I would never accept blind dates again. If Winwin never forgives me, I will never marry." Such a statement was enough to express his determination that he would not regret being single and raising his two children all his life. However, when Brian was preparing for the worst, he suddenly thought of his father's love. Did he suffer when he was tortured by love? Was it also for love to keep him single for so many years? "You were right to clear your attitude to Grandpa, you hurt Winwin whether you have a cooperation with Gloria. And a marriage based on profit is not going to be happy at all, and in the end it's not just going to hurt Winwin and the kids, it's going to hurt you." "Again, I want you to choose who you like and marry for the rest of your life. I don't want you to be motivated by profit to accept someone you don't like." Rufus felt it necessary to say his views on this matter. Brian decided to go against the wishes of grandpa, he will be the first to come out to support. "Now that you have told grandpa, you must find a way to do well. Put down all the burden, and get Winwin back. But I want to remind you of one thing. If Winwin comes back to you, no matter what happens, you can't abandon Winwin impulsively." Rufus had to say that, even if obstacles from grandpa had been settled, they had a bigger difficulty to face. "I have learned my lesson. It is impossible for such a thing to happen again. I believe her, whatever she does or says." Brian dare not to be so impulsive again. Like his father said, he not only wronged Winnie, but also tortured himself. He could only experience such pain once, or he would die. "I am so relieved to hear you say so. Go after Winwin. I'll take care of grandpa. I can help you out at work, too. I have no other request, just hope you and Winwin can give the kids a complete home and you can be together." This was probably Rufus' only desire, only Brian and Winnie were happy, he and Isobel could be happy. "Now... Now I'm not afraid Winwin won't accept me. I'm afraid Winwin's aunt will disapprove. She didn't like me before. She didn't like me being with Winwin. She is more disappointed in me this time, and I'm afraid she'll set her face against it." Brian said what he had been worried about, and he was stumped. Rufus was silent, Winnie's aunt was the difficulty he referred to. He knew Isobel was a problem, even if he offered help, Isobel might not be able to accept it. But he must come forward and could not let Brian and Isobel meet now. "I will contact her and I will apologize to her to see if I could persuade her. You don't have to worry. You have two kids. Even she does not care about your feelings, she has to care about the kids." "You just need to get Winwin back, and I'll take care of the rest." Rufus was not sure, but he must say it with confidence and could not make Brian worry. "I see... Thank you very much!" Brian said "thank you" and then turned back. It was simple to say thank you, but Rufus was touched. This proved that Brian's affection for him had deepened and his trust in him had increased. It was a good direction and worth rejoicing. Brian went to work, Rufus returned to his room to call Isobel. When the phone was connected, he felt guilty and didn't know what to say. "Say it, or I will hang up." Isobel urged him. She had not receive Rufus' telephone for a lone time, so she was quite gratified.
