CHAPTER 711 ISOBEL'S REMINDER

"Don't hang up. I don't know how to start." Rufus opened his mouth eventually, but he did not know how to say to make Isobel accept it. "What's the matter? Come straight to the point. You've never been so indecisive." Isobel suddenly tensed up and wondered if Winnie or Vanessa had anything wrong. Since she knew Brian and Winnie broke up, she always missed the two kids, after all, his two kids had no one to protect them. "It was about the separation of Brian and Winwin. I know the reason." Although Rufus still did not know how to say it, but he must say it, he just needed to find the right point to start. "The reason for the breakup? It doesn't matter why they broke up." Isobel did not want to know, although she was worried about Winnie and Vanessa. But she supported the breakup with Brian. Isobel did not want to know it, but Rufus must say it. Everything had a cause and effect, and if the cause was not clear, the effect was not clear. "The reason for their separation was that Winwin had a room with another man, and Brian found out about it..." "You lie, Rufus, you accuse my kids. Winwin can't have a room with another man." Isobel got angry. Although she did not want to know the reason, she can not accept this reason. "Yes, I believe in Winwin, too. But At that time, Brian was so impulsive that he didn't give Winwin a chance to explain. Based on the video, he concluded Winwin cheated on him and broke up with her in anger." Rufus knew Isobel would be angry, which was normal. He would have bristled if anyone had said that about his daughter. "Video, what video?" Isobel angrily asked. "A video of Winwin getting drunk and walking into a room with another man and then coming out with him the next morning." Brian was still adhering to his own ideas and must explain the cause and effect of the matter clearly. "Isobel, please hear me out. I believe Winwin as much as you do. I believe Winwin is not this kind of person There was another girl in the room." "That night Winwin got drunk, the girl and the man took care of her all night. Nothing happened between them. It was Because Brian misunderstood Winwin that they separated." Rufus made things clear, waiting for Isobel's angry rebuke. But Isobel was not angry but became calm. "You finished? Misunderstanding? What is called misunderstanding? It is that Brian does not believe Winwin? Rufus, I don't think it's a bad thing for them to break up with such an unequal relationship." "During their time together, you know better than anyone how Brian treated Winwin. I admit that our family is not rich, but Brian can not hurt Winwin's self-esteem. He judged Winwin to be wrong without even giving her a chance to explain, in his heart he had never taken Winwin seriously." "Rufus, don't say anything. Just regard Winwin did not behave well. No need to explain, we admit it, as long as they have nothing to do with each other." Isobel did not give Rufus the opportunity to speak and directly hang up the phone. She did not shout or scold, but hanging up the phone showed her firm attitude, there was no turning point. Rufus slowly put down the phone. Isobel was angry that she would not give them a chance to save the situation. Things was not so easy. Winnie did not give Brian the opportunity, Isobel did not give him the opportunity. Originally Isobel did not agree with them together, after all this happened, she should object to it. It was gonna be a lot harder to fix it, and it was gonna be a lot harder to get back together. Winnie was wronged, Isobel was angry. The reason why she was not angry with Rufus because it has nothing to do with Rufus, plus, she did not want to give them any chance. Winnie was not given a chance to explain, and they were not given a chance to apologize now. Isobel felt distressed about Winnie and made a call to Winnie, though she was tired. "You are at work? Can we talk?" Isobel asked the situation first, so as not to let Winnie embarrassed. "I am at my office, we can talk." Winnie just arrived at the office and had not started to work. She felt her aunt's tone was not right over the phone. "You silly girl, why didn't you tell when Brian falsely accused you? Why took the blame?" Isobel understood Winnie, but she should not take the blame. She understood Winnie was because she had undertaken too much helplessness and grievance for the man she loved. This acceptance was voluntary and cannot be persuaded. "Aunt, do you know all about it? Did Brian call you? Winnie thought it was Brian said to aunt, as she was about to be angry, Isobel said no. "Does he have the nerve to call me? If he calls me, I'm going to ask him why he did that to you." Isobel's mood was uncontrollable, thinking of Winnie's grievance. "Who told you that, Rufus?" Winnie asked. In addition to Brian, the only possibility was Rufus. "Does it matter who told me... Yes, Rufus called me." Isobel did not want to say at the beginning, but she was afraid that Winnie would continue to ask and afraid that her deliberate concealment caused Winnie doubt. "It doesn't matter who said it, and it doesn't matter what happened. Aunt, don't be angry. I didn't say anything because I didn't want to make a big deal out of it, and I didn't want Brian to know the truth. I want to take this opportunity to completely separate myself from Brian, so I would rather be misunderstood by him. Winnie could only explain, and did not say how sad she was, also did not say that she was hurt due to the distrust of Brian. "You're right. I support you. Since it's been so long and the kids have accepted it, don't go back." Isobel did not expect Winnie made the decision. Thus, Winnie injured more serious than she thought, otherwise she would not take the initiative to give up. "Winnie, although our family has no debt now, although our life is better, the gap between us and the Bennet family can not be measured. Such a gap is a kind of pressure that is difficult to overcome. Brian has always had a sense of superiority due to his family differences, which is why he did not trust you." "Don't have anything to do with him." Although Winnie had given up Brian, Isobel reminded. She knew how hard it was to give up love, how painful it was to give up the man she loved. Few people could endure this kind of hardship and pain, this kind of hardship and pain would be for a lifetime. Isobel continued. "Vanessa told me that she was studying hard and wanted to skip grades, so that she could shorten the time in college and leave as soon as possible. Hold on for a year or two, and we will leave together when Vanessa finishes her college studies. Or you can take the kids and go now, and I'll stay with Vanessa." Isobel was eager, afraid of change in this period of time and afraid that Winnie would change her mind. "Aunt, don't worry, I can manage myself. I've thought about it. I'll take the kids and leave when Richard get caught. Or I wouldn't have been able to keep them safe." Winnie had this idea, if Brian forced her, she could only take the kids to leave. But the premise is to ensure the safety, otherwise it would do harm to the kids. "Ok, after Richard get caught, you take the kids away and never see Brian again." Isobel knew the kids could not see his father for a lifetime, but she wanted to let Brian taste the pain of missing, let him realize that losing Winnie was his biggest loss. Winnie comforted her aunt before hanging up the phone, now everyone knew this thing, including Felix. But it was strange that Felix Had been silent now. Was he disappointed to her because she destroyed the marriage between Brian and Gloria, or because she could not keep her words? It seemed that this time she needed to clarify her thoughts on the matter with Brian. Winnie took her mobile phone and walked to the window, and made a call to Felix. "Chairman, I don't know if you have time this evening, I would like to cook some home-cooked food for you." "Don't think twice about it. It's not a bribe. I just haven't seen you for a long time and want to talk to you." Winnie said in a relaxed tone. She was worried now that it was a despondent roar, a cold rebuke came from Felix. Fortunately, It didn't happen. Felix was not angry and his voice was calm. "Well, I'm hungry, too. Butler Lowe and I will go there in the evening." Felix had been waiting for Winnie to call him, thinking that she would explain and would get the chance to be with Brian. But she didn't. She didn't say anything and just asked him to have dinner. The two men made an appointment to meet that evening and the call ended. Felix sighed and then looked at Butler Lowe beside him. "A clever boy shows wisdom in everything he does. Winnie is so smart and talented." Felix had already known what Winnie would tell him. In the past when he encountered this situation, he thought that Winnie wanted to get the opportunity to be with Brian. But now he did not think so, he knew that Winnie called him to clarify that she did not want to be with Brian. Felix did not know when this change in his concept began. He only knew Winnie's words and deeds were right and he had no reason not to believe her. "Chairman, I think one of the most important characteristics of Director Chambers is kindness. If she does not have a kind and tolerant heart, I am afraid that Brian has become a mess." "She knew Wendy caused this, but she didn't bother Wendy. I think she did not want to make trouble for Brian."

Hey, My Twins Babies

CHAPTER 712 TAKE ANOTHER BLAME

Butler Lowe had his own views on Winnie. Her kindness and generosity and her devotion to Brian were all worthy of praise. It was because of her kindness that she bears so many grievances. After Butler Lowe finished speaking, Felix sighed again. He knew it, but he did not raise it because he dared not face Winnie's kindness. What should he do? What should he say about it? For the first time, Felix was in a dilemma and did not know how to make a decision. In the evening Felix came to Winnie's house as promised, the food was ready, Felix just walked into the house and smelled the smell of the food. The smell of the food was very easygoing and intimate. Winnie Butler Lowe and Felix were the only three to have the dinner. "Chairman, Butler Lowe, come and sit down." Winnie greeted, and then went to take the ready wine. All three took their seats. "Shall we drink?" Felix looked at the wine in Winnie's hand and asked. "Yes. I made it for you, it is good for you health, but don't drink too much." Winnie speak while helping Felix pour a little wine "Butler Lowe, I won't let you drink if you drive. We must abide by traffic laws and regulations and give priority to safety. I will give you other beverages." Winnie picked up the beverages and poured it to Butler Lowe. "Thank you, thank you. Director Chambers, you are thoughtful." Butler Lowe thanked her and he was pleased with Winnie's respect for him. "I have nothing to do so I will drink with Chairman." Winnie poured some wine for herself, and then toasted. "Chairman, Butler Lowe, we three drink together." Winnie took a sip because she had to take care of Felix. All three drank a little and put down their glasses. "Try this fish. It's my specialty." Winnie greeted two people, she wanted to talk after the dinner, or it might affect Felix's mood. Winnie did not take the initiative to mention, Felix waited. They just had dinner. The meal was enough and the wine was proper. Winnie could not delay and must put her attitude to Felix to make him rest assured. "Chairman, I have something to tell you. You should know about Brian's breaking up with Gloria." Winnie was not an inquiry, but said in a certain tone. "Yes, I know it on the same day." Felix was well behaved and easygoing. Maybe the wine was good, the food was good. "I suppose you knew, but why didn't you seek for me?" Winnie asked this question with curiosity. "Why do I want to seek for you?" Felix asked a rhetorical questions. "Based on the way you used to do things, you would have come to me the first time you knew. You didn't come to me after I had been ready for several days, so I had to call you." Winnie said the truth, she was really waiting for Felix to find her and reprimanded her, and then warned her to keep her promise and not to disturb the decision of Brian. "Oh... It was wrong of me not to come to you." Felix was not angry, in the face of Winnie's naughty accusations, he laughed. It turned out that Winnie not only knew work, not only knew to be low-key, not only knew to be good, but also to be lovely and naughty. Yes, she was just like a kid, it was reasonable that she was naughty. Winnie's childishness was just being forcibly suppressed by life. "I can't say who's right, but that's not your style." Winnie felt her courage had become more and more big, even dare to argue with Felix. It was not her fault. It was just that Felix was not serious enough today. It was just that he was as loving as a grandfather, especially that kind smile she had never seen before. "Well, let me ask you something. Are you at fault in this?" Felix continued to ask Winnie. He wanted to come to find Winnie, he did not know what to say. She did not do a good job and she took the blame, so she had no reason to come. "Alas....." Winnie first sighed, then spoke. "I don't think I'm wrong because I didn't do anything. I didn't even call Brian. How could I break up with them? "The reason why they broke up was because Brian knew the truth about the hotel and that he had wronged me, so he broke up with Gloria. I think I have something to do with it." "Chairman, do you think it has anything to do with me? If you say yes, I apologize. If no, I have no need to explain." Winnie seemed to have learned Felix's tricks and asked Felix. She made an appointment with Felix, she was ready to be criticized and reprimanded. Only Felix said what he wanted to say and warm her again, Winnie could be herself and let him feel at ease. "That's a difficult question to answer." Felix was really stumped, as Winnie said, she did not do anything and should not be blamed. But Brian did break up because of Winnie. Felix could not give any answer, if he said it was Winnie's fault, it was an unfair for Winnie. If he said no, it was equal to his recognition of Winnie in a sense. "Alas..... It's a tough one. If you don't know the answer, it's on me." This time Winnie took the responsibility. It was not that Felix found the question difficult, but that he could not say it. Since so, she would take the blame. "However, chairman, you can rest assured that no matter what you think of me in this matter, I promise you that Brian and I will not be together. I don't think for anyone but myself. I don't want to give him a second chance to do me wrong. I don't want to put my kids through the pain of losing their family again." "Now the kids have gotten used to it and accepted it, and I've gotten over it. I don't want to go through that again." Winnie asked Felix out was to make him rest assure. She wanted to tell him it was her fault that Brian had broken up and there was no change in the result. Felix did not expect Winnie to take the initiative to take the blame. Felix had always praised Winnie was a clever kid, but why always she did stupid things? You know, to take responsibility for herself was to resist pressure, was to bear the blame. How can a girl take wave after wave of attacks? "Alas..... You let me rest assured, but he has made a statement with me that he will have no more dating." Felix felt guilty, but did not speak out. He only mentioned Brian and his attitude. If Winnie did not go back to Brian, Brian would be single for his life, but he could not say that. "Because of me again? I am innocent. Chairman, I can't lie to you, for what I've been through for so many years, other people would've died a long time ago. I wonder how I managed to make it this far. Everything I did or didn't do, Brian think it is my fault." "Well, there's no point in saying that. If he says it's because of me, I'll take the blame." What else could Winnie say? Even if it was not said by Brian, Felix thought so. As long as Brian's feelings was not satisfactory, she was the culprit. She's pretty much the jinx known by the Bennet family by now. Winnie poured herself a glass of red wine, then drank it up, hoping that the bitterness in her heart would evaporate with the wine. "Or do me a favor. Help me to take the kids disappear for a while, after I and the kids disappear, he will have his own life, will agree to blind date, will get married and have kids." There was no way, Winnie had been forced to the corner and could only put forward such requirements. She would never show up in front of the Bennet family. She has worked hard and proved her talent. But Brian could not see it, and Felix did not like her. Although her relationship with Felix had changed, but when it came to the position of his granddaughter-in-law, Felix was still opposed. She was really tired, and she couldn't help it if she didn't get good results. She was tired. Dealing with the Bennet family is really, really tiring. She got to rest, too. She was giving up and saving her strength for the rest of her life. "What about your work now if you're away with the kids? How are you going to raise your kids without a job?" Felix used another way to refuse Winnie, now the kids could not go, Winnie could not go. Once Winnie disappeared with kids, Brian might go crazy, and his family would lose power. "Don't worry, Chairman, I still have the ability to raise kids. I don't have to work. I can earn money anywhere on my own. Besides, there are so many companies that want to hire me." "I can earn money to raise the kids." Winnie didn't care about these, even she had no work, she would take kids with her even if she became a beggar. The life, the way of education and the relationship between the family of the Bennet family were worrying and would affect the kids's growth. Winnie did not want the kids to live as Brian, and did not want her kids to be indifferent to their family. "Help me. Wherever I go, the kids is the Bennet family's. I'll bring them back to you when they are old enough." Winnie requested, Felix promised to give her custody of the kids, so she wanted to ask him to agree with her take the kids away. Felix was speechless. What he should answer and how to deal with this matter?

Hey, My Twins Babies

CHAPTER 713 GIVE ME A CHANCE TO EXPLAIN

Felix believed Winnie could earn money, Winnie could raise the kids. But if the kids left, even if Brian could bear it, could Rufus bear it could he bear it? If Winnie left, Rufus could bear it, he could bear it, could Brian bear it? Could the company lose this essential talent? "Well, we will talk about it after we have the attitude of Brian." Finally, Felix could only give a perfunctory answer, because he really did not know how to make a decision. When the meal was over, Felix had a cup of tea and left with Butler Lowe. Winnie explained her attitude to Felix and felt more comfortable. "Life has to go on, come on, Winnie." Winnie encouraged herself and then walked toward the dining table. Life had to move on and she should clean the table. Just she walked to the dining table, Winnie heard the door bell and opened the door. She thought Butler Lowe lost something here. Because Winnie thought Butler Lowe, she did not need to see the video and directly opened the door. "Don't you forget..." Winnie asked with a smile, but she stopped when she saw it was Brian and then hurried to close the door. But Brian was already pushing the door one step faster with one foot in. "Clamp me or let me in." Brian threatened. "What's wrong with you? If you have something wrong, go to the hospital, I do not accept patients here." Winnie was angry and tried to drive Brian away. "Clamp me or let me in." Brian repeated the words, as long as Winnie did not let him in, he can spend until dawn in this. "Why come in? Was it not perfectly clear between us? I'm a single woman now, and you're always bothering my neighbors. They'll talk." "Please respect me." In the face of Brian's insolence, Winnie had no way. She did not know why he was still here. "I am hungry. I haven't eaten all day. Go in and have something to eat before I go." Brian used this method before and he was repeatedly successful, so he did it again. He would insist until Winnie forgave him and accept him again. "This not a restaurant, and I'm nobody to you. Why should I keep you here for dinner? Can you go? Can you stay out of my life?" Winnie was to go crazy by this rogue. "I'm just hungry and I want a meal. We have nothing to do with each other, but there's nothing wrong with having a meal for the kids' sake." Brian could only take the kids as his excuse. "Don't talk about the kids. They are not your tools to manipulate me. How did you not think about your kids's feelings when you broke up with me? How did you not consider whether your kids is so young to accept It?" "Now you think of using the kids, Brian, I despise you, when did you become so dirty?" Winnie didn't accept his excuse, once the kids were involved, Winnie was more angry. Brian was silent for a moment, realizing the consequences of his unfeeling. He wanted to explain, but at the moment Winnie must not listen. "I'm really hungry. Let me go in and get something to eat." Brian returned to the reread machine mode, he could not say anything else, so as not to anger Winnie. "You..." When Winnie was to refute, Brian directly opened the door and walked directly toward the dining room. Looking at the food and the wine on the table, Brian sensed something wrong. "Who has been here? Is grandpa giving you trouble again?" Brian asked in a cold voice. He asked this question, because he saw Butler Lowe downstairs. At that time, Brian thought he had made a mistake and did not take it seriously. But now, looking at grandpa's unique habit of placing bowls and chopsticks on the table, he was sure that grandpa and Butler Lowe had been there. "It was your grandfather, but..." "I will talk to him. You have nothing to do with it, why did you make a hard time for you?" Brian did not wait for Winnie's words to finish, but angry walked toward the outside. He could no longer tolerate anyone looking for Winnie trouble, including grandpa. "You stop... Do you hear me, Brian?" Winnie chased Brian while calling him. She did not want him to make things big, did not want him to hurt the feelings of others in an impulsive mood. Winnie ran quickly and stopped Brian at the door. "He came here just to eat and chat. He didn't make a hard time for me at all. Why are you so unreasonable?" Winnie finished her words and did not want Brian to argue with Felix because of her. "No, I know what grandpa was like. If he did not warn you directly, he would warn you with harsh words." "Winwin, you stay away. I'll take this opportunity to tell grandpa that I won't let him bother you again." Brian pushed Winnie away, Winnie's strength was meager and she could not stop him. "Aren't you hungry? Let me get you something to eat. You can go to him when you've finished." Winnie said, trying to stabilize the mood of Brian. "Can I?" Brian asked. "Yes, if you don't mind, I will heat those food for you, if you mind, I will cook for you again." Winnie could only do that, as long as Brian did not hurt Felix's feelings. "Ok, I will eat first." Brian immediately turned back, Winnie finally felt relieved. "I don't mind. You can heat them. You sit there and rest while I heat the meal." Brian felt distressed about Winnie and did not want her to be busy for himself, so he would do it himself. Brian immediately put into action. Winnie went to the living room. Brian himself put the meal to the living room after he heated the food and began to eat on the coffee table in the living room. "Well, it smells good. I haven't had any of your cooking for a long time." Brian sighed that this meal was the most delicious meal he had missed for more than four months. His exclamation, however, was not echoed by Winnie. "What did Grandpa say?" He changed a topic and wanted to chat with Winnie. "Nothing. I invited him." Winnie opened her mouth, because she felt it was necessary to put things clearly, it was necessary to dispel the impulse of Brian. "He already knows that you broke up with Gloria. I thought I had to talk to him, so I called him. Your grandfather didn't say anything, but I told him, put his mind at ease. I will not be with you again and will not affect your choice of marriage." Winnie suddenly realized that she may be unrequited love, superfluous. Brian had no intention of getting back together and starting over with her. "You don't have to worry, the breakup is already a fact. You will not come back to me and I will go back to you." "You will have your life, and I will have mine. We are not on the same level, and there is no same intersection." Winnie would regard that she and Brian never met. It was in their interest to be clear. "Winwin, will you give me a chance to apologize before you draw the line?" Brian asked carefully. Only Winnie knew how much heartache she felt when she said that. It was his oversight again and again caused this situation today, their love was so difficult because he did not pay enough. It seemed that Winnie had no hope for him, or she would not show her attitude to his grandfather. "You've apologized. You've said the word sorry a thousand times. I understand. I know you're having a hard time. so I can't put you in trouble again." Winnie clearly hinted that she did not want to hear sorry again. She did not want to forgive Brian, and did not want to be with Brian. She knew that Brian did not like her as deeply as she liked him. Most of his affection comes from the kids, from her ability to work. If she had not given birth to two kids, if she had no job and was a young man relying on parents, Brian would not have liked her at all. Yes, it was not love. Love was a heavy word to say easily. It was not love when you can't afford it. "Go home after dinner, and help me take care of two kids. That will be the best apology you can give me." Winnie finally didn't give Brian a little chance, after saying that, she turned back to the bedroom. She asked herself not to slacken in this matter, but to keep a cold and hateful heart. Only in this way can she not be swayed by Brian and return to the original starting point. Brian did not open his mouth to stop Winnie, he knew Winnie need time to release her hate, if he forced her, it would backfire. Take it easy. Hate wasn't built in a day, and letting go didn't happen overnight. Brian and Gloria broke up was known to Wendy Since then, she had been in a tangle, wondering whether she should reconsider, whether to make a new decision. There was no woman around Brian, and she had no idea that she had miraculously succeeded without any means. Brian broke up with Winnie, and then broke up with Gloria. She wondered if all the opportunities were left to her. A restless heart was suffering her fragile mind.

CHAPTER 714 WHETHER TO SEIZE THE OPPORTUNITY

Wendy felt that she was going to break down and felt she was tortured. She did not know if she should seize the opportunity. If she was to seize this opportunity, Anna would have to be hid and raised by Jonny. But she made a promise to Anna that she would always be there for her. The kid would hate her if she broke her promise now. If she wanted to protect her kid, she had to give up Brian, which was equal to give up fortune Wendy thought of Klara. It had many days she did not contact with Klara. Klara did not contact her and asked the money back. Wendy held her mobile phone in her hand and hesitated for a while, but finally called Klara. The two men arranged a time and place to meet. In the cold drink shop. Klara and Wendy sat in front of the glass window, one beaming, the other depressed. "Wendy, why are not know happy? Don't you know Mr. Bennet broke up with Gloria? It's a good chance to take out two opponents at once without breaking a sweat. It looks like the god is on your side." Klara could not wait to mention it. These two days she was thinking about asking Wendy out, to ask her money back and was to promote Wendy to go after Brian, so Jonny completely belonged to her. "I know, and that's what makes it so difficult. I had already decided to give up Brian, but now there is such a good opportunity. What do you think I should do?" Wendy did not know how to do, so she wanted Klara's opinion, if Klara's words reached her heart, she would make a choice. "What do you should do? Of course seize the chance. Wendy, you took so much time and effort to create opportunities, and now you have it, so you should not shrink." "I understand. It must be hard for you to hold on without results for so long, and it's natural to want to give up. But you have to learn to keep pace with the times. The opportunity is in front of you, if you do not know how to change, this god-given opportunity may fall on Winnie." "Do you want to see Winnie show off to you? Or have you been afraid of Winnie?" Klara said. She was like helping Wendy, but it was for her own sake. She did not want Wendy to be so tardy. As long as there was hope, she would not give up what she wanted and would strive for it. "I hate Winnie so much, how can I let her show off in front of me? Without her, Brian and I would not be where we are now." Wendy was obviously bewitched by Klara's words. Wendy, who had no position, was inclined to

Brian, and gradually forgot Anna. "If you hate her, don't give her a chance. If you hate her, try to get even. Wendy, you can not wrong your heart. Never forgive anyone you hate." "I hate Winnie. I will never let her go. If I have the opportunity, I will not spare her." Klara said with anger in her eyes. No matter she hated Winnie or now, she had to remind Wendy's hate to Winnie. "You want me to take this chance?" Wendy asked Klara for advice again. Although she knew that Klara had selfish interests, she could only ask Klara for help. "Yes, we must seize this opportunity and make a good comeback. Let Winnie know that you are the king, you are the one Mr. Bennet cares about most." Klara said. If Wendy was hesitant, she would not know how to persuade her. Anyhow she wanted to made Wendy get close to Brian and stay away from Jonny. "I will think it over and I can't let Winnie win." Wendy did not answer "yes" in the end, but her attitude was clear. She was still inclined to Brian, wanted to be with Brian and wanted to win. After the two talked for a while, Klara began to move on to another topic. "Oh, Wendy, give me back my money. I saw a shop these days. I want to buy it for my kids. When I rent it, I don't have to worry too much." Klara said directly, not as euphemistic as the previous several times. With Jonny backing her up, she didn't have to careful if she didn't get her 10 million back. "Well, I've been..." "Wendy, your family is rich, and you are rich yourself. Even if you have temporary difficulties, it is convenient for you to borrow from others. But if I'm going to miss this opportunity, I don't know when it's going to be again. And the house price is going up all the time, and I may not be able to afford it for some time. So give me back my money first." Klara did not give Wendy the opportunity to speak, she knew Wendy must delay again. If she wanted to return the money, she would have returned it. "Klara, you don't have to worry about that. I'll cover the price difference for you and help you find a better location." Wendy still used the old way to delay, she knew that Klara was a person who loved money. A little bit of benefit could make her willing to do anything. She did not want to return the money to Klara and she would use this money to kidnap Klara when it was time to expose Klara. She wanted to let Klara pay for her dirty behavior, wanted to let her know that she would not be used by Klara. She wanted to tell her that, Brian would not take a second look on Klara. However, Wendy was wrong this time, her old way did not work. "Wendy, I can't wait any longer, and I can't let you bear it for me. Give me back my money. I've already paid part of the deposit. I'll take it." Klara's attitude was firm, from the beginning this matter was mentioned, she wore a serious face and had no intention to compromise. Seeing that, Wendy gave up that method, but she could not argue with Klara now. Then the only way was to find a reason. "Klara, let me tell you the truth, the rest of the money was invested in my family's company, I can only pay you back when there is profits." "I will give your 10 million and extra 10 million as profits, if you don't want money, I can give you shares. Anyway, we won't get the money back now." "Wendy, how can you do that? How can you use my money to invest in shares? I admit it's not a bad thing, but you need to discuss it with me. It's my money." Klara was not calm, feeling that Wendy was rogue and did not want to return her money. It took her a lot of effort to earn money, but Wendy took it. "Wendy, don't say anything and try to pay me back. I don't want any shares. As a man who lives by strength, I'd better play it safe." "I'll give you a few days to pay me back." Klara said angrily and then left directly. She was very regretful now, had she known that Wendy was such a person, she would not lend money to Wendy. If she had known that she could not get Brian in the end, she would not try to please Wendy. Seeing that Klara left angrily, Wendy unexpectedly showed a sinister smile. That was what she wanted. She would not give back the money to Klara and she would not show any pity. Now the most important thing was the opportunity given to her. However, to catch this opportunity, Anna must be solved first. Anna can't stay with her, and she can't stay in B City. She could only go back to Jonny. Wendy shuddered when she thought of Jonny. She dare not mess with him, but she have to. If he took Anna back, she had got half a chance. Thinking of that, Wendy decisively called Jonny. "Jonny....." "Wendy? Why did you call me?" Jonny asked with surprise. "Where are you now? Are you back home or in B City?" Wendy ignored Jonny's tone of provocation, and directly asked him. "Does it matter to you? Wendy, I tell you, I don't mess with you, and you'd better not mess with me." Instead of answering, Jonny warned. Because he didn't know what Wendy was up to. "If you haven't returned, I'd like to meet you, and we can talk about kid's supporting Issue" Wendy ignored Jonny's warning, her most important thing was to settle Anna. She had to hurry, or Winnie would take the chance. "Kid supporting? Are you going to set a trap for me?" Jonny asked vigilantly, he did not want to be cheated by Wendy, because it would ruin his plan. "No, I just don't think it's appropriate for her to be with me. She doesn't know a lot of things, and it's hard for her to learn..." Wendy looked for a variety of excuses, but suddenly Jonny interrupted her. "No, you want to get back together with Brian. Do you think the kid is in your way?" Brian just announced his breakup, and Wendy talked about the kid's custody. It was clear that the kid hindered her to be back to Brian. "You..." "How do I know? It is impossible for me not to know about Brian's return to his single life when he has officially announced. "Don't quibble Wendy, this is the fact that you gave up the kid." "I'm in A City. We'll meet tomorrow." Jonny did not give Wendy the opportunity to refute and directly hung up the phone. As for why he said he was in A City, but because he did not want Wendy to ruin his plan. And he said they would meet tomorrow because he had to think about how to negotiate with Wendy.
