

My Twins 81

Hey, My Twins Babies

CHAPTER 81 ASK THE CHAIRMAN FOR HELP

Winnie was full of anxious at this time, but couldn't find a way to vent it. She was so heartbreak that she almost suffocated to death but couldn't help at all. She had made all the calls she could think of, but no one could help her, which made Winnie once again felt the despair which was like that time when she lost her parents. At this time, she forced herself to calm down, and then called Butler Lowe. "Lowe, please let the Chairman answer the phone." Winnie's voice was too anxious which made Lowe shocked. "It's night. The Chairman has already gone to bed." Butler Lowe had already received Felix's orders, so he refused directly. "Lowe, please, it's about Luke. I can't find anyone but ask the Chairman for help." Winnie begged, crying helplessly. Butler Lowe also realized something wrong. Because in his eyes, Winnie was always sunny and confident and he had never seen that she was so anxious. Butler Lowe felt that something bad happened and then he quickly gave the phone to Felix. "What's the matter?" Felix's voice was too serious. He did not hear Winnie's panic and anxious voice. "Mr. Felix, please help Luke. He is being abused now. Please. I can't do anything about it." Winnie tried her best to plead Felix. "What did you say? Make it clear." The matter was related to Luke, so Felix frowned. "It's too late. Grandpa, you call Penny first and ask her to send Luke to your house. Save Luke first." "I'm coming to your house now. I'll explain it clearly to you later. Grandpa, please trust me this time and save Luke as soon as possible." Winnie had already decided. She had to tell Felix about Luke's abuse by Penny. She couldn't bear it anymore. The consequences of enduring it could only be worse for the child. Luke could only suffer more. Winnie's bitter pleading finally worked. Maybe Felix still trusted her very much. Winnie heard Felix's cold command. "Call Penny and ask her to send Luke here right away." After Felix ordered, he continued talking to Winnie. "You come to my house now. Give me an explanation." After hung up, Winnie did not immediately drive forward to the Johnson's villa, but found the video with her trembling hands again. At this time, the screen was completely dark. Without thinking about it, she knew that Luke was locked into the warehouse again. However, at this time, Winnie did not hear any voice from Luke, which made her panic even more. Winnie tried to call Luke's name, but to no avail. She held back the fury and drove towards the Johnson's villa. She vowed to herself that she would not spare Penny, nor would she be tolerant of Penny at all. She would fight with Penny to the end. After Penny finished hitting Luke, she felt much better. Since Brian did not come back tonight, she planned to lock Luke in the warehouse overnight. Anyway, Brian didn't like the home and didn't like her. He just liked Winnie. So Penny could only vent her anger on Luke. Brian indeed didn't come back tonight, but Penny didn't expect Felix would call her. He insisted on seeing Luke now. This made Penny a little flustered. She hurried to the warehouse to get the child out. She checked Luke carefully. Luckily, she knew which part she should hit and which part she shouldn't hit. After grooming and changing clothes for Luke, he didn't seem to be hit at all. But she still warned Luke to prevent him from talking nonsense. "Luke, you can't tell anyone about today's affairs. If you tell anyone about it, I won't beat you next time. I will kill you directly." Luke's eyes were hollow. He had no reactions. "When you see your great grandfather, you can't tell him anything. If you dare to tell him, I will kill you and Winnie." Speaking of Winnie, Penny's emotions became even more agitated. Her voice was so louder. This sudden roar made Luke tremble with fright. He couldn't help but keep nodding. He held tightly the toy bear in his arms. At this time, the only thing he could lean on was this stuffed toy. However, Penny didn't expect that everything she did was recorded by this bear, including her mean warnings just now. Winnie rushed to the Johnson's villa, but Luke hadn't arrived yet. She waited restlessly for Luke in the living room, not in the mood to explain the situation to Felix. Fortunately, Butler Lowe, who had been waiting outside, brought Luke in. Luke had been silent all the time. He didn't expect to see Winnie at great grandpa's house. When he saw Winnie, he threw himself into Winnie's arms and cried loudly. "Auntie... I..." Luke cried bitterly. He was venting out of his grievance. Winnie couldn't help holding Luke and cried out. "You can cry. Don't bear it. Auntie is here." Winnie encouraged Luke to vent loudly and let him vent all the fear so as not to leave a shadow in his life. At the same time, she blamed herself for failing to protect Luke well. "... " Luke buried himself in Winnie's arms, crying sadly. He was unable to speak a word. He thought he would stay in the warehouse for one night, and thought he would die slowly in a terrifying environment. But finally, he saw his Auntie. This was God's favor for him and Auntie's love for him. Seeing the two people crying sadly and painfully, Felix also felt so sad. Although he still didn't know what was going on, he could feel Luke's dependence on Winnie. Winnie held Luke and cried for a long time before she reluctantly stopped. She wiped off Luke's tears while comforting him. "Luke, good boy. This little thing can't defeat Luke. You'll be optimistic as before in the future, right?" When Winnie was comforting Luke, she couldn't help sobbing. Seeing Luke's face full of fears and his red and swollen eyes because of crying, Winnie felt so heartbreak All this made her ached. Luke did not speak, but nodded. His eyes were still a little dull. It could be seen that he had not recovered from the shock. "Luke, Auntie will take you home later. You can play with Megan and never leave Auntie again, okay?" Although Felix had not yet agreed to let Luke go with her, this was the only way to appease Luke. Besides, no matter what method she had to use, even if she had to kowtow, she had to take Luke away. Sure enough, Winnie knew Luke best. After she finished saying that, Luke had an obvious reaction. "Well, I want to go to Auntie's house. I don't want to go to Daddy's house anymore." Luke was staring at Winnie in fear and with hope, for fear that what Winnie said was fake. "Well, Luke, don't be afraid. Auntie will definitely take you home." Winnie's tears fell down again. She felt so guilt when she saw his panic. "Luke, can you go to play with Lowe for a while? I have a few words to talk with great grandpa. Don't go to bed. Wait for me." She couldn't let Luke hear the conversation between her and Flexi. If Luke heard it and saw it again, it would be second hurt to him. Butler Lowe walked over and held Luke's hand. Winnie said to Lowe. "Lowe, don't let Luke go to sleep. He has just been frightened. It is easy to have nightmares. Bother you." Winnie carefully and gently said. It was not like an aunt's love to a child. In Felix's eyes, it was more like a mother's care for her son. "Don't worry." Butler Lowe gave Winnie a positive answer before taking Luke away. Only Winnie and Felix were left in the living room. "Go ahead. It's your turn to explain." Felix said in a deep voice. He had just observed Luke. There was nothing unusual except for fear of panic. It was a bit inconsistent with Winnie's strong reaction. "Mr. Felix, look at the video on my phone. You will understand after watching it." Winnie said. She found out the mobile phone video and placed it in front of Felix. The picture started with Brian leaving, and then Penny went down to block Luke who was about to go upstairs, then the toy bear in Luke's hand fell to the ground. Finally, Luke was pushed to the ground, followed by Penny's punches and malicious cursing. "You little bastard. You dare to make a request to your Dad behind my back. Don't you dislike here? If you don't like here, I'll let you like here." While Penny was shouting, she kicked Luke who already had fallen to the ground. Felix's face darkened at this moment. He frowned. In the video, Penny had gone too far. Besides, she scolded Luke more and more harshly. "Luke, no one can save you if you dare to play tricks with me in the future. I will keep you in the warehouse for the rest of your life and let you be eaten by rats." "Little bastard, I don't believe that I can't train you. Remember. As long as there is something in the Bennet family that makes me unsatisfied, I will vent on you. You were born to pay off debts. Don't you like Winnie? The more you like her, the more I will torture you." Penny said viciously. Luke, who was lying on the ground, did not dare to make any noises, only covered his head with his little hands, while his whole body was curled up tremblingly. Penny sent Luke to the dark warehouse after hitting and scolding. Besides, she warned Luke viciously again before she left. "Your Dad will come back tomorrow. You stay here and think about yourself. Before your Dad comes back, I won't let you come out. Also, if you don't know what mistakes you made and if you don't forget Winnie, just wait to be eaten by rats." After Penny's voice disappeared, the screen turned to pitch black. Then Luke's panicked and suppressed voice came. "Dad, help. Auntie, help." There was only such a sentence. After that, the screen was deadly silent. When Felix saw her, he was so furious. He slammed the coffee table hard. "Damn it. She actually dares to hit Luke." Felix yelled. He never expected that Penny would abuse Luke like this. He had already known that Penny was not so much kind, but he didn't expect her to be so insidious. No wonder Luke didn't like to go home. No wonder Luke felt depressed every time he came back. It turned out that all of this was caused by Penny. Winnie was crying sadly during the whole process of watching the video. When she heard Felix's shouting, she stopped crying. At this time, her eyes were also red and swollen from crying. "Mr. Felix, this is why I have to take care of Luke in person."

Hey, My Twins Babies

CHAPTER 82 FELIX IS ANGRY

Winnie told Felix everything. She showed every video to Felix, as well as the photos taken when Luke was injured for the first time. "Every time Penny hits Luke, she hits somewhere which couldn't be noticed by others. If Luke has some obvious bruises, she will not let Luke go to school, for fear of being seen by the teacher. This time, Luke must also have injuries on his body." Winnie couldn't help crying again. "Mr. Felix, Penny is too vicious. If you let her continue to take care of Luke, she will still abuse Luke. It will cause irreparable harm to Luke and affect his life." Winnie used the facts to persuade Felix. If Felix didn't let her take away Luke, she couldn't bear it. She would rather make things worse than let Luke get hurt again. "This is my mistake. I shouldn't send the child to her." Felix reflected on himself. Such a small child had experienced abuse so many times. How frightened and helpless he should be! If Felix didn't stick to his own ideas, if he kept Luke with Winnie, at least the hurt of this time could be avoided. There was deathly silent in the living room. Winnie didn't speak, just waiting for Felix's decision. Felix was also pondering how this matter would not affect the overall situation. After a while. "I can let you take Luke back, but I have a request." Felix made a decision with a gloomy face. "What?" Seeing the hope, Winnie was obviously excited. "You can't publicize this matter. I will deal with everything Penny did to Luke. But you can't tell Brian." Felix had to consider more aspects. For the sake of the overall situation, he could only temporarily get Luke wronged. "Well, I won't publicize this matter. I won't tell Brian. But I absolutely can't forgive Penny. Mr. Felix, when it is necessary, I may not be able to keep my promise to you. At that time, you can find a good woman for Brian. Penny is not worthy to be Luke's Mom." Winnie was extremely firm. She couldn't spare Penny. Since Winnie dared to abuse Luke, Winnie wouldn't forgive her no matter how. "I said I will deal with Penny. What are you clinging to? It's because she ruined your plans and exposed that you are a liar, so you want to take revenge on her?" Felix was very dissatisfied with Winnie's answer, because Winnie's intervention could easily ruin his plans. Winnie was not surprised by what Felix said. Penny would definitely slander her like this. Maybe it was just because of Penny's words that Felix didn't let Luke go back with her. "Penny is really the same as before. No matter who she makes a lie to, she never feels guilty. Mr. Felix, I will not explain this matter, because you may not believe me even if I explain it. But I can tell you honestly. I have already forgotten what Penny told you. There is no so-called revenge." Winnie was calm and composed. She hadn't done anything wrong, so she didn't have to panic. "I knew Brian on the plane. I didn't plan it in advance at all. I met Luke on the plane, too. Coincidentally, he and Megan are in the same class. All of these are coincident." "As she said, we used to be best friends in the college. But we have broken up for more than four years. She has been making trouble for me after I returned, so I can't bear it." Winnie didn't explain that she was not a liar, because people in the Bennet family would think too much. Like Brian, it was impossible for them to believe her easily. She just wanted to let Felix know that she wanted to resolve the grudges between her and Penny by herself. Winnie paused for a moment. "Mr. Felix, I don't know what you think. But I will definitely not affect your plans. I will not use this as an excuse to pester Brian." Winnie had a tough attitude. Now no one could stop her from countering Penny. Felix frowned. His eyes were cold. But his face calmed down again after a moment. "Well, as long as you promise me not to ruin my plans, you can do whatever you want to do. Also, you said that you won't pester Brian. You have to keep your words. You can't affect his future." Felix agreed, because he had no better solution for the time being. For the sake of Luke's physical and mental health, and to prevent Luke from being abused, he could only send Luke to Winnie's side. However, he now began to doubt the words Penny said. Winnie didn't look as bad as Penny said. The most important thing was that there was no cunning in her eyes except for sincerity. The agreement between Winnie and Felix was reached. Winnie took Luke home. Luke was dull along the way. Even if Winnie talked to him, he only answered a few words in a low voice. Winnie began to worry that this matter would leave a shadow in Luke's life. After returning home, Luke's mood improved after seeing Megan. But from time to time, Luke would be still in a daze. Winnie was worried about it. The following days, Winnie did not go to work. She wanted to accompany her children at home. Only when Luke felt better would she go to work. Winnie took the two children out to relax, to the zoo, to the botanical garden, to the amusement park and to the cinema. But it still didn't work. After returning home, Luke was still in a daze from time to time. "Luke, can you help Auntie with making dinner?" Winnie wanted Luke to be busy, so that he wouldn't think too much. "Of course." Luke followed Winnie to the kitchen. "What can you do? Can you pick vegetables?" Winnie took out some vegetables. "Yes, as long as you teach me, I can do anything." Luke replied, but he didn't look so well. "Wow, you're so good. Luke is a real man. You can do so many things. As long as Luke is willing, no matter how difficult it is, you can overcome it, right?" Winnie encouraged Luke while picking vegetables. Others couldn't help him overcome the obstacles in the mind. If he wanted to overcome it, he must overcome it by himself. "Auntie, can I really not go back to Dad's home in the future?" Luke finally looked up at Winnie and asked, but he looked worried. "Of course, I have talked with your great grandpa and your Dad. From now on you will live at Aunt's house and no one can take you away." Winnie blamed herself when she said this. She knew what Luke was worried about. "Auntie, I don't want to go back to Dad's house anymore. I never want to see Mommy again in my life." Luke whispered. When he talked about Penny, his body was still shivering. Winnie put down the vegetables, and hugged Winnie's trembling body in her arms. "Don't be afraid. Auntie will never let you live with Penny again. If someone comes to take you away, I will try my best to protect you." Winnie said firmly. Only in this way could Luke feel a sense of safety. She said so and thought so. If such a thing happened next time, she would not care about anyone. She would either use legal procedures or tell the truth to fight for the custody of Luke. "Well, I will never leave you again. I want to be with you forever." Luke always felt at ease when he was held in Winnie's arms. Now, he had the same feeling. "I never leave you alone. Never!" Winnie had already tasted the heartache of leaving once. God's favor made her meet her child again. This time, she would never let go. "Auntie, I want to call you Mommy." Luke looked up at Winnie, eyes full of expectation. But these words made Winnie startled. He was her own child. Why did she not dare to hear her child calling her Mommy? "Luke..." When Winnie was embarrassed, she suddenly heard Brian's voice. Winnie looked up. Although she didn't welcome him, his sudden appearance at this time could get her out of the embarrassment. Otherwise, she really didn't know how to answer Luke. "Daddy." Luke left Winnie's embrace, came to Brian's side and held Brian's hand. There was dependence and expectation in his eyes. "Are you happy now?" Brian asked in a deep voice. "Yeah." Although Luke said he was happy, he couldn't have any smile on his face. "Luke, you go to play with Megan. Dad and Auntie have something to say." Brian didn't talk too much with Luke. He was not used to it. Luke went to the living room to look for Megan. Winnie turned around and started preparing dinner. As for what Brian wanted to ask, she was already prepared. "I'm going to have dinner here." Brian whispered. He seemed to be happier than anyone else when Luke came back to Winnie's side. He felt so relaxed. Besides, he could come and go here freely. It was so great. Winnie glanced sideways at Brian, and continued to cook without saying a word. "Did you call me last night?" Brian continued. Winnie made several calls, but only today did he see it. "Yes." Winnie responded softly. "What's up?" "I just want to ask you about Luke. Nothing else." Speaking of what happened last night, Winnie was also angry with Brian. If he answered the phone, if he did not go out, Luke would not be abused. "How do you convince Grandpa?" Brian continued to ask in a low voice. But there was no coldness in his tone. "I just told him that you agreed to let Luke go back with me. He didn't say anything." Winnie downplayed, trying not to let Brian find anything weird. Because she promised Felix to keep it secret. Since she promised Felix, she had to keep her promise as much as she could. "It's that simple?" Brian didn't believe it. Even if he went to find Grandpa himself, it might not be so smoothly. "I didn't expect it to be that simple. If I knew it, I would not agree to go back to work." Although Winnie was not good at lying, she had already guessed that Brian would ask about this matter, so she was well prepared to deal with it. "Winnie..." Brian said coldly. "I called you last night. Why didn't you answer my phone? Are you afraid Penny will hear it?" Winnie didn't care about Penny. She just wanted to know why Brian didn't answer her phone. "The phone was in the bedroom. I missed a lot of phone calls. Penny didn't have the right to mind my business." Brian did put his cell phone in his bedroom before he went downstairs. If he knew Winnie would call him, he would definitely bring the phone with him no matter where he went.

Hey, My Twins Babies

CHAPTER 83 MILD DEPRESSION

However, Winnie wasn't satisfied with Brian's explanation. In the video, she clearly heard that Brian went out after answering the phone. "Can you tell me your other phone number?" Winnie remembered that she had seen Brian still had the other mobile phone and he almost brought it with himself everyday. "No." Brian said coldly. He refused directly. The warmth that was not easy to appear on his face also disappeared instantly. "Fine! Don't have to be angry." Winnie laughed mockingly. He even didn't want to tell her the phone number, which showed how less important she was to him. "Go out and wait for dinner. You can chat with Luke a little more." Winnie said sadly. She knew he just didn't care about her. For her, she just cared about her two children. From now on, she would treat men as rubbish. She would never feel sad about any men. Brian left after dinner. Seeing Luke was always upset, Winnie felt so worried. So she called Kevin. "Hello! Why do you suddenly call me? Aren't you afraid that Brian is jealous?" Kevin teased. "I need your help." Winnie was not in the mood to joke. She said seriously.

"What's the matter?" Kevin asked seriously too. Because he heard Winnie's seriousness. "Help me make an appointment with a doctor. But you have to keep it secret..." The next day, Winnie did not go to work again. She brought her two children to the hospital to find Kevin. Kevin took them to the neurology department. There was an old professor already waiting for them. The professor first checked carefully for Luke and then did some psychological tests. After that, Kevin took the two children out first. Then, the professor gave the conclusion cautiously. "Mild depression." Hearing the old professor's words, Winnie was shocked. She felt dizzy for a long time before she came to her senses. "Doctor, he is just a little kid. Please help him. Don't let depression ruin him." Winnie begged. Although she had already suspected Luke got the depression, she still couldn't accept it after hearing the doctor confirm it. "Don't worry. Children recover better than adults. His symptoms are in the early stage. As long as he's guided correctly, he can heal quickly with active treatment." The doctor comforted Winnie. He understood the caring of each mother to their children. "I will. I will do what the doctor says. I will actively cooperate with the treatment. As long as he can be cured, I can do anything." Although the doctor said it was not serious and Luke could be recovered, Winnie was still very worried. After all, Luke was just a kid. He couldn't bear too much pressure. "I know your feelings. But don't worry. I am sure that I can let him fully recover." The doctor thought Winnie was the child's mother, otherwise she wouldn't be so worried. In addition, Winnie did not deny it, so the doctor was even more certain. "Thank you so much." Winnie walked out of the consulting room. Seeing her face dim, Kevin also guessed the result. "You guys wait for me here for a while. I'll go in to thank the professor." Kevin came to the doctor's office. "Professor, this is my friend. Thank you for your help. There is nothing wrong with the child, right?" Kevin asked tentatively. "I have already told the child's mother. His depression is mild and can be cured." The old professor repeated it. "By the way, these two children are twins, right?" The old professor asked curiously. "Twins?" Kevin was startled suddenly. It seemed that not only he himself felt that the two children looked similar. "No, the girl belongs to that lady, and the boy belongs to her friend's." Kevin gave an answer which even he himself didn't believe. "Not her child? Why do that boy and that girl look so similar? You said the boy is not your friend's? Impossible! She's so worried about that boy. If she is not that boy's mother, who else can be?" The professor was so confused. "It may be that the boy is with her every day, so she is worried." "Professor, thank you so much. I have to go now. See you." Kevin walked out of the doctor's office, but kept thinking about what the old professor said. It hadn't been long since Winnie came back, but why was the relationship between her and Luke so deep? Why did Luke and Megan look so similar, so that they were always misunderstood by others as twins? Kevin walked Winnie out. After the two children got in the car, Kevin chatted with Winnie. "Luke's illness is in the early stage, so don't worry too much. This doctor is the most authoritative neurology professor in the country. His diagnosis is very accurate, so you don't have to think too much." "In addition to medication and psychological counseling, the emotions of the people around him are also very important. When you get along with Luke, you must be sunny and happy. This will be of great help to the recovery of his illness." Kevin kept saying. Luke had already got the depression. Now, the important thing was not to find someone to blame. The important thing was to let the child recover as soon as possible. But Kevin felt that Luke's depression must have something to do with Brian's indifference and alienation. "Got it. I will take good care of Luke. Kevin, I want you to do me a favor. Can you not tell Brian about the child's illness?" After thinking for a while, in order not to reveal the secret, she could only hide it from Brian. Kevin thought for a moment. "This matter also needs his cooperation. It's okay that I don't tell him, but I must talk to him. He can't be so indifferent to Luke anymore." "Well, with his cooperation, Luke can get better quickly." Winnie agreed with Kevin's approach and believed that Kevin could keep secrets for her. After saying goodbye to Kevin, Winnie and her two children went home together. But Winnie still felt worried. Luke eventually suffered from depression. All of this was caused by Penny. As a mother, Winnie could not bear it any longer. She had to fight back and had to defeat Penny to ensure that Luke would not be abused in the future. In the evening, Winnie cooked dinner and invited Leo to have a meal together. At the beginning, they just talked and laughed as much as possible to make the atmosphere friendly and pleasant. After the two children finished eating and went to the living room, Winnie got to the point. "Leo, I invited you here today because I have something to ask you for help." Winnie felt embarrassed to ask Leo for help, with a helpless expression on her face. But she couldn't solve that matter by herself alone. "What is the matter?" Leo asked softly. "I don't think the matter of the car accident is so simple. I asked the police to investigate again. The police said there was nothing suspicious... Then Winnie recounted Penny's performance in the hospital that day. "Do you doubt Penny?" Leo frowned and asked. He was not surprised, because he believed that Penny was the one who would do this kind of thing. "Yes, I doubt her. But I can't find out the truth as long as Brian blocks me, so I can only ask you for help." Winnie didn't hide anything. Since she had already asked Leo to help, she had to make it clear. Otherwise, how would Luke start it? "Penny has gone too far. This is a murder! I'll handle it. I will help you investigate." Leo was angry. He had endured it for a long time. For the sake of Winnie's safety, he absolutely couldn't indulge Penny. After getting the deal, the two of them continued to eat. But they did not expect Brian to come uninvitedly. Seeing Leo and Winnie were eating in the dining room, Brian's face darkened instantly. As always, Leo spoke first. "Mr. Bennet, it hasn't been a long time." After Leo greeted Brian gracefully, Winnie felt so nervous, for fear that Brian's indifference would embarrass Leo. "... Winnie was about to speak to try to ease the embarrassment, but Brian spoke first. "Mr. Johnson, long time no see." Brian frowned with a cold face. His tone was stiff. But it was not as bad as Winnie thought. "Have you had dinner? I'll get you tableware." Winnie said. Then she got up and went to the kitchen to get tableware. "Mr. Johnson, you're so available. You still have time to come over for dinner." Brian walked to the dining table and sat beside Winnie. His tone was not sarcastic at all, but a sharp warning. "Not so busy. I still have time to eat with Winwin." Leo could hear Brian's possessiveness, but he still said gently. After all, this was Winnie's home. If he just talked back, it would make Winnie embarrassed. "Since you're so idle, we can talk about our cooperation someday when we have time." Brian's eyes were sharp and his tone was aggressive. He didn't think Leo had a lot of time, but he felt that Leo had spent all his free time on Winnie. Brian really didn't understand why Leo was so stupid. Leo was almost deceived by Winnie back then. But luckily, he got away. It was really puzzling now that he threw himself into the trap again. Brian had also analyzed Leo's weird behavior. There were two possibilities. One was that Leo wanted to revenge. The other was that he still loved Winnie. Even if he knew that Winnie was a liar, he still loved her. Now it seemed that the second possibility was greater. Thinking of this possibility, Brian's face darkened. "Okay, it is my great honor to be able to talk business with such a celebrity like Mr. Bennet. As long as you're available, I can talk anytime." Leo said modestly. The cooperation case with the Bennet Group had been discussed for a long time, and there had been no progress, especially after Winnie came back. Leo knew that the reason was Brian. But now if he had made a choice between his business and Winnie, he would rather choose Winnie. If the business was lost this time, there would be another business in the future. It would be a pity for him if he missed such a good woman again. Winnie came back with clean tableware. Just when she was about to put it in front of Brian, she stopped her movements. "I can use yours." Brian moved the tableware that Winnie had used to himself. Then he directly picked up the chopsticks that Winnie had used, and began to eat. Such a move embarrassed Winnie and made her heart throbbing inexplicably. What was Brian doing? Was he swearing his sovereignty? Using her tableware, wasn't it too intimate? Brian's small move made Winnie feel warm. But Leo was here, she couldn't show it out. Winnie was a little embarrassed and put the new tableware in front of her. Brian just picked up the chopsticks and spoke again. "I don't have rice yet." Brian's tone wasn't as cold as just now. Now, he was just like a child. "Oh, I'm going to get you rice."

Hey, My Twins Babies

CHAPTER 84 FOUR PEOPLE SLEEP ON THE SAME BED

Winnie got up again. Brian asked in a low voice once. "Do you like WinWin?" Brian's voice was low but sharp. "Yes." Leo did not shy away from answering directly, but his voice was so small that Winnie couldn't hear it. "You gave up Winwin four years ago." Brian looked into Leo's eyes directly. Leo felt shocked. He was staring at Brian. Before he could give an explanation, Winnie had already returned with a bowl of rice. The two people's whispers ended. Then the three began to eat. The rest of the time was silent, except for the sound of eating and chewing, and the collision of chopsticks and bowls. The atmosphere was also extremely embarrassing. After walking Leo out, Winnie began to clean up the table. At this time, Brian walked over and took Winnie's hand directly. "Don't see him in the future." Brian was not reminding but giving the order. "Why?" Winnie was a little angry. She asked back. Leo was her only male friend in the city. It was impossible for her not to contact him. "There is no reason. Just do as I say. You return the car to him. I have so many cars. You can choose one you like." Brian was still domineering and possessive. He didn't want to see Winnie and Leo having too close contact, and didn't want to see they got back. When it came to the car, Winnie's face sank. She threw away Brian's hand and spoke with grievances. "I don't have a burden to drive Leo's car. I don't dare to drive your car. Next time I won't be so lucky. If I get hit and die, I still have to compensate you." In fact, Winnie felt burdened no matter which car she drove, but Leo would not force her to compensate. Thinking of this, Winnie felt sad again. Winnie was about to pick up the leftover to eat, but was stopped by Brian. "You..." Winnie looked at Brian in a panic. Before she could speak, Brian had already kissed her. In an instant, Winnie's heart beat faster and her thoughts were chaotic. Winnie was dumbfounded. When she reacted, Brian had already let go of her. "What are you doing?" Winnie asked. "Punish you for talking nonsense." Brian warned in a low voice. He didn't want to experience that fear anymore. He didn't want to see Winnie lying in the emergency room. That feeling almost made him collapse. "You... the kids are watching." Winnie said and looked at the two children in the living room, but she found that the children were also looking at them. There was no doubt that the two children must have seen Brian kiss her. But to Winnie's surprise, Luke actually smiled. This was the first time Luke smiled in the past few days. "Just let them see. Anyway, it's not the first time for them to see it." Brian kissed Winnie's lips again, but he still didn't dare to go any further, for fear that he could not control himself. Brian's kiss made Luke smile again. But Winnie felt so upset. Luke must hope that she and Brian could be together, and that she could replace Penny's position to give him a complete home. Taking care of Luke, Winnie could do it. But marrying Brian and starting a family, Winnie knew that it was absolutely impossible. Even if she was willing, Brian could not accept her. It seemed that the child's wish was destined to die, but she could not make up for it. After Brian helped Winnie do the dishes, the two came to the living room together. As soon as they sat down, Luke came to Brian's side. "Dad, how about living here today?" Luke's voice was very small. He was a little timid, for fear that Brian would refuse. "Since Luke asked you to stay, just stay here." Winnie said. To make Luke happy, she could only do this. Winnie's asking surprised Brian. But he frowned and began to think again. He did not refuse, because he found that no matter what Winnie's purpose was, he could not push her away. "Great, Dad, you'll stay, right?" Luke said with some excitement, and then came to Winnie's side. "Auntie, the four of us sleep on the big bed together, okay?" Luke's proposal made Winnie embarrassed. If she refused, Luke would be disappointed. But if she agreed, it would be inappropriate. Since the last time she and Brian quarreled in the villa, they had never had physical contact. Winnie also made up her mind that she would never have sex with Brian. Although nothing would happen if two children slept with them together, it was still too intimate when they slept on the same bed. "Okay, the four of us sleep together." It was Brian who answered. He was very happy with this proposal. Luke showed a smile again. Winnie couldn't let the child down, so she could only accept it. However, Megan didn't speak, as if she was planning something. The time to go to bed today was much earlier. The two children pulled the two adults to bed as if they had planned it well in advance. In the bedroom. "Brother, you sleep over there. I sleep here. Let Mommy and uncle sleep in the middle." Megan suddenly started making arrangements, which caught Winnie a bit by surprise. "Megan, you two are still young. You will fall off if you sleep on the side of the bed. You two sleep in the middle." Winnie hurriedly re-arranged. If she and Brian were sleeping together, she would definitely have no sleep all night. "No, the last time when we slept together, you two slipped away after we fell asleep. This time you must accompany us to sleep until dawn." Megan insisted. It took her a lot of time to think of such a good way. She didn't want to be rejected by Mommy in a few words. "I agree with Megan. I and she sleep by the bed." Luke also excitedly supported Megan. Then, he climbed onto the bed and lay on the side of the bed. The two children occupied two sides of the bed. It seemed that they would not move at all. Winnie stood awkwardly on the ground, not knowing what to do. "Go to the bed. I don't mind carrying you up." Brian spoke. There was a rare teasing in his tone. He agreed with two children's approach, but he didn't know if he could control himself tonight. "Wow, uncle carries Mommy to the bed." Megan shouted in excitement. Luke also smiled. "I can do it myself." Winnie didn't dare to delay, and hurriedly went to bed and lay down. Brian was the last to go to bed. After going on the bed, he turned off the light. The bedroom was completely dark. Brian stretched out his hand to embrace Winnie in his arms, feeling her warmth. Winnie tried to break free but accidentally made a noise. "Sleep. The children are sleepy." Brian suddenly said. Winnie didn't dare to move, for fear that this nasty man would wake the two children up. Winnie was stiff and did not dare to move, nor did she feel sleepy at all. It wasn't until she heard the even breathing of the two children that she began to break free again. "Don't move. Otherwise, I'll do some stuff." Brian warned in a low voice. How could a young man endure a woman rubbing like this in his arms? He had been endured it since he went on the bed. If Winnie continued to move, he would definitely have sex with her. "You... It's too hot. You let me go." Winnie resisted in a small voice, without any deterrent. "The temperature of the air conditioner is just right. If you feel hot, it will be your own problem. If you are too hot, we can go to your room and have a talk." Brian's voice was also very low, but it had a different kind of charm. At the moment, he was not cold. But he was just a little bit overbearing, which made Winnie couldn't refute. Brian's words seemed to remind Winnie that only on this bed was the safest for her. As long as she walked out of this bedroom, she would become the lamb that the tiger was staring at. Winnie didn't refute anymore, but just pinched Brian's arm vigorously. If she didn't vent, she would feel she lost miserably. Brian's arm hurt, but he still refused to let go. On the contrary, he showed a triumphant smile that only he himself knew in the dark. "I haven't had a good sleep since you left the hospital. Let me have a good sleep today." Brian whispered. The reason why he did not sleep well was because that Winnie would pop into his mind when he closed his eyes. Now, he was holding Winnie in his arms. He felt at ease, so the sleepiness was slowly coming to him. Winnie still didn't speak. But her heartbeat fasted by Brian's words. "The rumors between I and Stella Lee on the Internet are also fake, just to give the publicity for mobile phones." Brian explained to Winnie inexplicably, explaining the matter what Winnie felt jealous that day. Although his explanation was a bit late, he didn't want Winnie to misunderstand him. "Shut up and sleep." Winnie finally spoke. If she continued to be silent, she was afraid that she would get used to Brian's warmth and fall deeply. He didn't need to explain anything. She was not his. He could just treat her as he used to. In that case, she would never lose herself. "Sleep." After saying out the word, Brian gradually fell asleep, unconsciously holding Winnie's waist tighter. In president's office of the Bennet Group, Brian stood in front of the window, stretching himself unconsciously. Last night, he had a good sleep, which made him energetic. Brian was still thinking about Winnie's stiff body last night, thinking about the look that she didn't even dare to take a breath. The indifference on his face gradually disappeared. He would like to thank the two children for giving him a chance to hold Winnie in his arms and sleep with her. He had to thank them for understanding him so well. At this time, the internal call sounded. Brian walked over to answer. "Mr. Bennet, Mr. Kevin wants to see you." If it were others to come, Brian might refuse. But every time Kevin came to see him, he had to see Kevin. After a while, Kevin opened the door and came in. As soon as he saw Brian's warm face, he asked in surprise. "Has some good thing happened? Why didn't I see cold face today?" Kevin was very curious about why Brian started to melt his coldness. "Cut the crap. What's up? I will have a meeting later." Brian didn't want Kevin to know why he was in a good mood. "Is there really a meeting?" Kevin seemed to ask in disbelief. "Yes, there will be a meeting in ten minutes." Brian glanced at the clock and spoke again. "There are nine minutes left." "Well. Then I'll speak directly." Kevin came with a mission today. Since Brian had no time, he had to make it clear briefly. "Could you not be so serious and cold when you communicate with Luke?" "What do you mean? Luke complained to you about me?"

Hey, My Twins Babies

CHAPTER 85 HE CAN'T CHOOSE HIS PARENTS

Brian couldn't understand why Kevin said so. He looked at Kevin in confusion. "Luke didn't tell me anything. I always saw Luke during the few days in the hospital. I feel that this child is too quiet. He is only a five-year-old child. Oh, no, he is only four years old. But he is not totally like a four-year-old child. He is not innocent and lively. He is just always in a daze. If it continues, he might have a mild depression." Kevin said tactfully. Since Winnie repeatedly asked him not to tell Brian, he would not let Brian know. "He has always been like this." Brian didn't notice Luke's depression, and never paid attention to it. However, Luke was indeed not like a child of his age compared to Megan. "No, he shouldn't be like that. You are his father. You should care about him more. I can see the reason why he is depressed must be inseparable from your alienation and indifference." Kevin didn't know the real cause of Luke's depression, but Luke's failure to release himself for so many years must have something to do with Brian. "... Brian was unable to answer the question. He admitted that he cared less about Luke. So he couldn't refute Kevin at all. In Brian's impression, it seemed that only after Luke met Winnie did he have a smile on his face and he wasn't as timid as before. "Brian, since you agreed to let him come to the world at that time, you should be responsible for him. Don't ignore him because of a woman. He is not wrong. If it was her who gave birth to Luke, would you still be as alienated to Luke as you are now?" Only Brian knew who Kevin referred to. Only Kevin knew why Brian had deliberately ignored Luke for so many years. Brian still didn't speak. When Luke mentioned the woman, Brian's face instantly became cold. "I will consider your words. I'm going to have a meeting." Brian didn't want to recall the past and didn't want to talk about that woman, and didn't want to choose between Luke and that woman. "Okay. When a child is born, he can't choose his parents. If he can choose, he would rather be born in a happy and warm home. Although the conditions of family are a little worse, it is better than seeing your cold face. So don't bully your child that he can't choose his parents. Don't wait for your child to hate you." Kevin saw that Brian didn't respond. He was anxious for Luke and angry with Brian, so his tone inevitably became a little harsh. He still had a lot to say, but Brian seemed to be very resistant to this topic. So he could only end the topic as soon as possible. But for Luke, he still had to tell Brian. If Brian still continued not to care about Luke, Luke's life would be ruined. At that time, the person who would regret was still Brian. Winnie had not gone to work. She had been taking Luke to actively cooperate with the doctor for treatment these days. The effect was still very obvious. Luke wasn't in a daze all the time. He smiled more. It was just that others couldn't talk about Penny in front of him. As long as others talked about Penny, he would become silent. The company's position had been vacant. Today, there was a software problem that couldn't be solved, so Winnie could only go to the company. When Winnie walked out of the elevator, she saw that Klara's face looked terrible. Winnie felt angry. Winnie held back her anger and didn't say anything. She wanted to solve the company's difficulties first. This matter was indeed a bit tricky. Winnie was so busy. She didn't even eat lunch until two o'clock in the afternoon. "Winnie, you are so great. Only you can solve this problem." Alice was very happy. There were a lot of talents in software development in the company, but no one could solve the problem. Winnie just spent a little time on it, but she solved it very well. Alice felt so proud of Winnie. "It's just that I happen to know about it. Alice, go to ask someone to analyze and see if there is anything wrong." Winnie was so tired. Her stomach was still grunting. She had worked from the morning to now. It was so tired. "I'm going now." Alice took the U disk and left. Before Winnie could stretch herself, Alice returned. "Winnie, Mr. Bennet wants you to go to his office." "Got it." Winnie got up but she found that her legs were all numb. After easing for a while, she was going to the president's office. As soon as she opened the door and came in, Winnie smelt a scent of the food. Following the scent, she saw some fast food was placed on the coffee table. Winnie thought to herself. Brian must have done it deliberately. He knew that she was starving, but he still put so many delicious foods here. She could only watch and smell it. She would starve to death. If Brian used this trick to take revenge on her, it was undoubtedly the most vicious way. "What's up?" Winnie decided to ignore the scent of the food. She wanted to deal with the problem quickly so as not to be tortured by the scent of the food. "Sit down." Brian said, got up and walked out from behind the desk. "Just say it. I still have a little work to do. I have to pick up children later." Winnie didn't want to sit down. If she sat down, she was closer to the food. She would feel hungrier. "Sit down and eat." Brian said imperatively. But Winnie was stunned. Did Brian just talk about eating? Who did he let eat it? She? Was the food prepared for her? Who could answer her questions? If the food was not prepared for her, wouldn't she be so awkward if she sat down? It would be so embarrassing. "Are you not hungry? Or are you afraid that I will put poison into the food?" Brian asked coldly. He really didn't know what this stupid woman was thinking about? He let her sit down and eat. Why did she look so shocked? "You let me sit down to eat?" In order to make sure not to make a mistake, Winnie asked. "Do you see anyone else here?" Brian asked. Just now, a lot of people praised her for being smart, praising that she was a talent and solved an important software development of the company. But why did she look so stupid now? She actually asked such a stupid question. "Well, I will sit down to eat." Winnie sat down obediently, with a smile on her face, as if the sunlight also went into her heart. "It's so much. I can't finish it by myself." Winnie said while holding the tableware. At this time, Brian also sat beside her. "It's not for you alone." Brian also reached out and took the tableware. "You didn't have lunch either?" "Yes. You are so inefficient. You and I are not the only ones who haven't eaten." Brian said insincerely. Winnie solved a big problem. He was prouder than anyone else. All the waiting people had lunch, but he did not. Because he knew that Winnie didn't have lunch. "I'm so fast. Do you know? The program of this software is very complicated. I..." "It's time for lunch. Don't tell so much. Eat." Winnie glared helplessly at Brian and then began to eat. Damn it! He didn't know how difficult it was for her to solve the problem. If he didn't know how difficult it was, he should know how much benefit the development of this software would bring to the company, right? For the sake of the great benefit, he shouldn't say that she was inefficient at work. Since he thought she was inefficient, he could find someone else. Why did he make her tired for a day? Winnie scolded Brian secretly, but she could only complain secretly. If she said these words out, it would inevitably cause unnecessary controversy. Brian had never regarded her as an important person. It was not surprised that he could say these words. She should be used to it. At this time, Klara brought two glasses of water and walked in. Seeing the two people sitting close together, she was first startled and then frowned. "Mr. Bennet, your water." Klara put both glasses of water on Brian's side, and then looked at Winnie with cold eyes. Winnie also thought that Klara would give her cold shoulders, but she wanted to see how disgust Klara felt to her. Winnie looked up at Klara. In addition to disgust, there was hatred and jealousy in Klara's eyes. "I want to drink water." Winnie spoke suddenly, her voice very soft. It was obvious that she was speaking to Brian. Brian didn't think much. He just picked up a glass of water beside him and handed it to Winnie. Winnie took a sip of the water and put it on her side, and then spoke to Klara. "Miss Klara, sit down and eat together." "No, I've already eaten. You guys enjoy yourselves. I have to get out first." After Klara glanced at Winnie angrily, she went out. Winnie snorted. If Klara didn't go out, Winnie might be choked. Klara's hostility toward her was getting stronger and stronger. Winnie probably guessed the reasons. It was just that she was a bit wronged when she was treated by Klara as an enemy. Winnie decided to set aside Klara's affairs for the time being. She would definitely have a good talk with Klara when she went out. "Have you been busy these days? Why didn't you go to see Luke?" Winnie spoke. Brian was startled and then answered. "Very busy." He lied again. In fact, he was not that busy at all. But after Kevin talked to him that day, he was upset. He wanted to keep approaching Winnie, but he was fear of harming that woman. If he didn't approach Winnie, he couldn't control himself. So he was trying his best to endure it these days. Although it was very difficult to endure, he endured it. "Please go to see Luke if you're available. During this time, he is not in a high mood. He misses you so much." Winnie already knew that Kevin hadn't made some progresses. So she could only talk with Brian appropriately. Kevin said that Luke's depression had something to do with Brian. Although Winnie didn't know why Kevin said so, she could only know Brian would definitely be of great help to Luke's recovery from depression. So for the sake of Luke, she invited Brian to her house. "Do you miss me?" Brian suddenly asked a rather abrupt question, but even he himself didn't know why he asked this question. Winnie stopped eating. She was looking thoughtfully at the food on the coffee table. "Do you think I will miss you?" Winnie was also stunned. Otherwise, she wouldn't give such a stupid answer. "Eat." Winnie's answer made Brian very disappointed. His face darkened in an instant. His voice seemed to be cold more. It seemed that he couldn't get along with Winnie. She could always annoy him easily and bring him all troubles. Winnie smiled bitterly and continued to eat. After eating, Winnie left the president's office. When she passed the secretary's office, she saw the disgust in Klara's eyes again. Winnie saw that there was no one else in the secretary's office, so she walked in.

Hey, My Twins Babies

CHAPTER 86 HIT THE WALL

Winnie walked into the secretary's office. After Klara saw that it was Winnie, she looked away disdainfully and looked down at the files on the desk. "Miss Klara, I don't understand where your hostility towards me comes from. I don't seem to offend you." Winnie asked directly. "Miss Winnie, you think too much. I am not hostile to you." Klara didn't even look up, just answered Winnie disdainfully. "Don't think of me as a fool. If what you say is true, you should manage your behavior. Don't always gloat when I leave. Don't show resentment and hatred so obvious when I come back." Winnie didn't believe Klara's words. Klara didn't hide her disgust to Winnie at all. Of course, Winnie could feel it. "Klara, I know why you hate me. It's your business that you like Mr. Bennet. It's also your business whether you can let him like you. Don't treat me as an imaginary enemy. Don't treat me as a barrier between you." Winnie knew that saying too directly would hurt Klara. But when she thought of Klara's ruthlessness that day, she was extremely angry and wanted to scold Klara badly. It was understandable that Klara didn't like her, but at least Klara should separate her work from her personal life. How could Klara just ignore her when she was so anxious that day? Was Klara so vicious? "You... Miss Winnie, please don't talk nonsense. You will make me very embarrassing. I don't like Mr. Bennet." Klara didn't expect Winnie to speak it so directly. Besides, Winnie actually knew that she liked Brian. The secret that she had hidden for so many years was exposed in this way. Klara felt like being naked to stand in front of the public. Klara flushed with embarrassment and anger, but she couldn't admit it. So she could only refute Winnie, though it was not her true thoughts. "If you don't like Mr. Bennet, why will you feel embarrassed? Klara, you can continue to treat me as a fool. But you'd better separate your work from your personal life. Don't make a big mistake because of your selfishness." "Also, I am not someone you can treat casually. Because I have done nothing wrong to you. I don't owe you. Pay attention to your behaviors in the future. Don't always look at me as if I owe you so much." Winnie was not the kind of unforgiving person, but Klara was getting too far during this time. If Winnie still didn't say anything, Klara would make even bigger mistakes next time. Winnie said angrily and then turned around. But she saw Brian standing behind her with a gloomy face. At this time, Klara actually sobbed. Winnie finally saw through Klara, who was more scheming than Penny. At this moment, she couldn't help but want to check Brian's taste. How could he be surrounded by people with such distorted thoughts? "Apologize." Brian spoke in a cold voice. The coldness in his black eyes had already expressed his anger. "Apologize? Me? What did I do wrong?" Winnie said unconvincingly. If she had to apologize, she would not say what she said just now. "I said apologize." Brian suddenly roared. His face was covered with black clouds. "Mr. Bennet, you may not know me. If I'm not wrong, even if you kill me, I won't apologize. So no matter how loud you shout, it doesn't matter to me." Since Brian shouted at her, she didn't have to care about Brian. She shouted back in anger. "You still said that you were not wrong? You actually said such harsh words. You're just a liar. What rights do you have to be respected by others?" Brian was anxious. He didn't expect that Winnie would shout back at him in front of others. So he was so mad that he said some hurtful words. Winnie's heart was like to be stabbed with a knife. The blood flowed out. She almost couldn't breathe because of the pain. What was Brian talking about? He actually said she was a liar in front of Klara who had always contempt her. Even if she was a liar, she should not be treated like this. Why should he insult her? So heartbroken! So disappointed! She felt so regretful that she fell in love with such a man. "Yes, you are right. I am a liar. I am not worthy of being respected. But I did not lie to her. She can't treat me like that." Winnie shouted back angrily, looking stubborn and upset. "Mr. Bennet, I didn't expect that there are so many women who make you care about, and there are quite a few women who need you to come forward to protect. Then just protect your women well. Don't let them be hurt by me!" Winnie furiously pushed Brian away and left. At this time, she looked stubborn, but her heart was hurting. In Brian's eyes, she was always so mean. She was always the person who had to be blamed whether she was wrong or right. Such a man was not worthy of her love. She didn't want to see him anymore. She just hoped that he didn't come to bother her anymore. Winnie left angrily, while Klara was still crying. "I'm okay. Mr. Bennet, Miss Winnie is not malicious. Maybe it's a bit misunderstanding." Klara was still crying. Her acting skills were so good. "Respect Miss Winnie in the future. She is the talent our company needs." Brian turned and left after giving a cold warning. Winnie felt so wronged, but she had no one to talk with. She could only hold it back. When she went to the kindergarten to pick up the children, she had to pretend that nothing happened. She still greeted them with a smile. She lay on the sofa in the living room after having dinner with her two children in the evening. But she was absent-minded when the children were watching TV. When she was in a daze, there was the sound of opening the door. The two children rushed over to greet the person. "Daddy." "Uncle." The children didn't know what was going on. They all smiled happily. Brian first glanced at Winnie who was lying on the sofa before returning his eyes to the two children. "Did you guys have dinner?" Brian tried his best to ease his emotions and tried not to let the children see what happened between him and Winnie. "Yes. Has uncle had dinner?" Megan answered first. "I haven't had dinner. Is there any food at home?" Brian's volume increased. Winnie, who was lying on the sofa, could hear clearly, but she did not respond. "No, just let Mommy make some food for you." Megan said happily. Megan's words forced Winnie to get up from the sofa. But instead of going to the kitchen, she walked to the door. "Megan, Mommy just said that there is something to deal with. You can order takeaway for uncle." After Winnie said with a smile, she looked up at Brian. Although she was still smiling, there was hatred in her eyes. "It just so happened that you came here. Go to play with them for a while. I have to go out for a while." Winnie said softly, holding back the anger. If it wasn't for Luke's illness, she would kick Brian out now. Winnie put on her shoes and opened the door to leave. When Winnie walked to the elevator, she realized that she had nowhere to go. She began to feel lost. The elevator quickly reached the first floor, but Winnie hadn't figured out where to go. Luckily, she met Leo on the first floor. "Where are you going? Where are the kids?" Leo asked. "They are upstairs with Brian. I'm going to buy some stuff." Winnie made up a reason, and tried her best to cover up her bad mood. "Come on. I have made progress in the investigation. Go to my house. I'll tell you in detail." In this way, Winnie went to Leo's home. "What's the progress? Was it Penny?" Winnie couldn't wait to ask as soon as she entered the house. "Don't be in hurry. Sit down and talk." The two came to the living room to sit down. Leo became serious. "There is no definitive evidence to prove that it's Penny who did it, but this matter was deliberately covered up by Felix. The police were also suppressed by Felix. From this matter, it should be Penny who hired the murderer to kill you, otherwise Felix wouldn't block your way." "The Chairman helped Penny? So the Chairman knows it?" Winnie frowned. It seemed that things were not as simple as she thought. "Yes. Felix blocked this matter. I can't check it out any further." Leo was a little ashamed. Winnie trusted him and asked him for help. He promised her so confidently at that time, but he couldn't find out the truth. "What about Brian? Did Brian intervene in this matter?" Winnie continued to ask. "Brian did not interfere, but he is also investigating. Just like me, he has hit the wall too." This was also something that Leo investigated. Even Brian couldn't get any progress, so Leo could only wait and see. Winnie breathed a sigh of relief. If Brian got involved into this matter, she would have no hope at all. "Then there is no way, right?" "Felix came forward. No one can refuse him for the time being. I'm sorry, Winwin. I didn't help you." Leo apologized and felt ashamed. "It's okay. Why are you apologizing? I have to thank you for doing so much for me." Winnie thought that Leo had tried his best to help her. "Don't thank me. If you thank me, I feel ashamed. Winwin, if you're not in hurry, you can wait for a while. When Felix relaxes his vigilance, I can still help you investigate it."Now this was only way."There is no other way but to wait. Leo, help me analyze why the Chairman helped Penny. This is an illegal matter. If it is found out, he will not be able to shirk responsibility."Winnie couldn't figure it out. Felix already knew Penny abused Luke. But why did he still help Penny?"He has ways to get away, so he dared to hide it. As for why he favors Penny, I'm not sure.""Penny is the daughter-in-law of the Bennet family. This must be one of the reasons. Felix is a businessman. In his mind, nothing is as important as business."When Leo paused, Winnie interrupted him and asked."Why does this matter have to do with business?"Winnie still couldn't understand why she was involved in the business of Penny and the Bennet family."Felix has planned to buy the Burns Group. It is said he has already planned it when Brian and Penny was going to get married. If what Penny did is exposed at this time, it will be the most unfavorable for the Bennet family. His plan will also fall short."All these were heard by Leo when he was in business in the past few years. So it must be true."The Burns Group?"Winnie was puzzled."I forgot to tell you. The Burns family is Penny's maiden family. Her father's surname is Burns and her mother is also Burns, so she doesn't change her name. After being brought back by the Burns family, her father wanted to change her name but she didn't agree. "

Hey, My Twins Babies

CHAPTER 87 THE REASON WHY HE HAD A HEADACHE

After Leo explained the origin of Penny to her, he continued to say. "The Burns family is powerful. However, in recent years, it didn't have any development. On the contrary, it went backward. Therefore, it is quite a good opportunity for Felix. At this point, he will definitely protect Penny." Hearing his analysis, Winnie remembered the conversation between her and Felix. No wonder he was afraid that she would ruin his plan and that he would deal with this matter in person. It seemed that she shouldn't take any action before he achieved his ambition. "I guess you're right..." Winnie stopped after having just said several words, because she found that Leo's stomach was rumbling. "Haven't you had dinner yet?" Winnie asked with concern. "Well, I had no time to eat." Leo answered with some embarrassment. "I'll make you some food." After saying that, Winnie went into the kitchen. She searched for a long time, but found nothing but some noodles. "I can but cook noodles." Winnie cooked swiftly. "If you have nothing to eat at home in the future, call me and I'll bring some food for you." It made her heart ache to think of Leo's empty refrigerator and kitchen. Men all knew nothing about how to take care of themselves. When she thought of this, she remembered Brian. Remembering that he hadn't had dinner when she went out, she was worried about whether Megan had ordered takeout for him or not. At this point, she suddenly realized what she was thinking, nearly wanting to slap herself in the face. Brian had been so cruel to her. Why would she worry about him? Remembered that Brian had nothing to do with me in the future, she thought. "Winwin..." "Hmm?" Winnie's musings were interrupted by Leo. Then, she looked at him with a puzzled expression. "Are the noodles ready?" Leo still said in a gentle way with a smiling, although he was jealous when he saw that Winnie was distracted. "Oh, yes. It's ready." It was only then that Winnie remembered that she was cooking noodles. Then, she put the cooked noodles in a bowl hurriedly. "Leo, don't wait for me to join you at the table. I've got something to do." Winnie left in a hurry after she put the bowl of noodles on the dining table. She didn't know why but she was still worried about Brian. Back in home, Winnie saw only the two kids in the living room and didn't see Brian. "Luke, where's your daddy?" Winnie asked. "Daddy is taking a rest in his room. He said that he was tired." Luke answered in a low voice. "Did your daddy have dinner?" "No. He said that he felt uncomfortable and that he would eat later." Hearing his words, Winnie suddenly became tense. Then, she went to Brian's bedroom hurriedly. Find that Brian wasn't in the bedroom, Winnie went to the cloakroom. Finally, she found Brian in the bathroom. At that time, he was curling up on the ground with his head in his arms. "What's the matter? Do you have a headache again?" Seeing that Brian was painful, Winnie panicked and didn't know what to do. "Where is the medicine? I'll go to get it for you." Winnie remembered that he felt better after he took that medicine the last time he suffered from a headache. "It...It's in the drawer beside the bed." Because of the intense pain, it took Brian great effort to speak it out. Winnie rushed out hurriedly and came back with the medicine at the fastest speed. "Quick! You'll be all right soon." Brian swallowed it, but was still suffering from the headache. "Go back to bed. I'll help you." Winnie used great force and helped Brian stand up. It was very difficult, but she finally supported Brian, who was tall, back to his bed with strong will. "Drink some water." Winnie put the glass of water beside his mouth, but he was in so much pain that he was unable to drink the water. Winnie put the glass down and went to Brian again. She lifted his head, put his head on her thighs and then rubbed it gently. It seemed that her hands had magic power. When she rubbed his heads gently, he felt much better. Gradually, the pain in his head eased. "Do you feel better?" Her hands were sore after rubbing his head for quite a while, but she kept doing it. "Hmm." Brian suffered from so much pain that he kept sweating and became very weak. "Well, then I'll do it for you for one more while." Winnie went on rubbing his head. It was worth her effort as long as it worked. After quite a while, her hands were numb, so she could no longer control her hands well, sometimes rubbing his head with great force and sometimes rubbing his head lightly. Brian found it out too. Therefore, he took her hands and massaged her hands. "Stop. I feel better." It made his heart ache to find her small hands swollen. However, strange to say, the pain in his head would ease every time Winnie gave him massages as if her hands had been enchanted. "Why do you have a headache? Why don't you go to see a doctor?" Winnie asked in a tentative way. Considering that they had just had a serious quarrel in the afternoon, she believed that it was very likely that Brian wouldn't answer her question. "It was trauma that caused the headache. My head was injured for two times. The first was when I was abroad and the second was four years ago. As a result, my blood vessels were injured. It is the vasospasm that causes the headache. It's useless to see a doctor. Receiving a stent surgery is the only way to cure it." It was very surprising that Brian answered her question. After finishing his words, he was also surprised that he told her that. Before, apart from himself, only Kevin knew that he had suffered from a headache for many years. However, Winnie also knew that now. These years he had successfully concealed this fact from other people. It never occurred to him that Winnie would see that twice. "Why don't you have a surgery? You're in so much pain when you have a headache." Winnie was very puzzled. If he could be cured, why did he choose to endure it? "If I have the surgery, I'll have to take anti-rejection drugs for the rest of my life. If anything goes wrong, it's possible that I'll have to have surgery for one more time or two more times. In my opinion, it would be even more painful." Brian was still weak, so he spoke in a very low voice. However, he still massaged her hands with a rather great force. "It's indeed troublesome. Isn't there any other ways? Who can bear it for a long time?" Winnie couldn't help feeling worried. Although she hated Brian, but she didn't want him to die. "It doesn't matter. Now I've found a way to relieve it. I can endure it. After all, I don't suffer from it very often." The way he found was to let Winnie gave him message when he had a headache. He felt that Winnie could make him recover from all diseases and that he would not be afraid of anything if she was with him. "You didn't have dinner, did you?" Winnie moved to another topic. "No, I don't want have takeout food." Brian said in a louder than before. It seemed that he had recovered a little. But it also maybe because he became angry when he remembered what had happened just now. Hearing he mentioning takeout food, Winnie naturally also remembered that they quarreled with each other in the daytime. However, considering that he was feeling uncomfortable now, she overlooked it. "I'll make some food for you." As she spoke, she was about to stand up, but Brian stopped her. "Don't leave. Just give me one more minute." Brian took her hand so tightly that she couldn't move. In Brian's view, there were two reasons why the headache was relieved. One was that the medicine worked. The other was that Winnie massaged his head gently. Once she left, he would surely suffer from a headache again. Winnie neither left nor spoke. She just sat quietly, allowing Brian to massage her hands. After a while. "Winwin, what happened in the company today..." Brian stopped before Winnie interrupted him because he didn't know what to say. Should he apologize or continue to quarrel with her? Hearing he called her Winwin, Winnie was stunned for a while before she spoke. "Why? Must you ask me to apologize to Klara?" Winnie couldn't help feeling aggrieved when he mentioned this matter. Was she wrong to warn her? Was she wrong to just tell the truth? It wasn't her fault. Why should she bear the consequences? "It's all in your imagination. Did I say that?" Brian admitted that he was cross at her before, but he had to. "Whether you have said that or not, don't get your hopes up. I had told you that I wouldn't apologize when I did nothing wrong." Winnie insisted. No matter what, she wouldn't apologize for that. "You should know that Klara likes you. Last time, I was there when you had a headache in your lounge. After she saw me come out of your lounge, she changed her attitude towards me. I'm a woman and I'm not stupid, so I can tell it. I don't mind it and I don't care that she dislike me. However, I can't tolerate that she didn't make a clear distinction between public and private interests and deliberately made trouble for me." Winnie was just telling the truth. Looking at his calm expression, she was sure that Brian knew that Klara liked him. If he was still partial towards her when he knew that she liked him, Winnie could only think that they had an unusual relationship. "How did she not distinguish the public interest from the private interest?" Brian only saw Brian scolded Klara and didn't know the cause. "She... Forget it. It's s all over now. I've warned her; and you've scolded me. Even if I tell you the whole story, you may not believe me. Even if I tell you that it's her fault now, it can't change the fact that you abused me because of her." "I've been made scapegoat for so many times. This is nothing new to me. I don't care how you perceive it." Winnie had to stop here because the truth would be exposed if she told him too much. "Are you really so aggrieved?" It made Brian's heart ache to hear what she said. He could tell that she was not only helpless; he could also tell that she had to bear all her grievances because she had no way to vent. Winnie kept silent for a moment. "I'm very aggrieved. Since I met you, you have never believed what I said. You believe that I am a liar, so you think that everything about me is false and dark. Anyone who has experienced this will feel aggrieved. If my family did not insist on coming back, I would have resigned and left long ago." At this moment, Winnie was neither anxious nor angry. She seemed to be calm, but she had been completely disappointed at Brian. She had got along with him for quite long a time, but she had never won his approval. Today, everyone appreciated her for her work, but Brian said that she had limited ability. All these could only prove one thing: she was considered to be a cancer by him and he was alert to her at all times. For him, she was like a fly in his throat. He could neither tolerate her nor get rid of her, feeling sick all the time. Brian's head was placed on her thigh. Winnie wore a gloomy expression and spoke in a bland voice, but Brian saw the desperate expression in her eyes. It made his heart ache suddenly. Was it what he had done that made her feel desperate? When he recalled that Winnie said that she would have resigned and left if it wasn't for her family, he felt empty and panicked as if he were going to lose the most precious thing. He closed his eyes and stopped rubbing her hands, but he still took her hands. He was afraid that she would really resign and leave if he let go of her hand.

Hey, My Twins Babies

CHAPTER 88 BRIAN APOLOGIZED TO HER

Brian realized that what he did today hurt Winnie a lot and that it was necessary for him to explain. "Klara was one of my employees' wife. Four years ago, he met a car accident and passed away, leaving his wife, his young children and his parents who are not very healthy. Klara had to support the family on her own. Therefore, I must help her." Winnie was surprised when she suddenly heard the explanation from Brian, but she didn't interrupt him. She just listened quietly because she was interested in knowing if Klara was more unfortunate than her. "I let her work in my company. At the beginning, she was a secretary in the secretarial pool, but she always worked around me. Feeling guilty about that employee, I have been taking care of her all the time. Klara also worked very hard. A year after she worked for me, I promoted her to be an exclusive secretary to me. I thought it would be more convenient for me to take care of her, but it didn't occurred to me..." Brian stopped here. "It never occurred to you that she would fall in love with you." Winnie completed what he want to say. "You're an outstanding man and you cares so much for her. Any woman in her position would fall in love with you. It's not Klara's fault. It's your fault." Winnie put on a silly smile. Brian disliked and hated her, but she still fell in love with him when she was in difficult position, not to mention Klara who was always protected by him. "You help her..." Winnie wanted to continue to analyze, but she suddenly realized that she couldn't continue to analyze. It was very likely that Brian also liked Klara, otherwise he wouldn't let her apologize without asking whose fault it was. "It made your heart ache to see her suffer a little grievance, so you just came to her defense the moment you saw me scold her." "It wasn't that my heart ache to see her being aggrieved. I just felt guilty about my employee when I saw her being sad." Brian explained. "There is no essential difference. You are afraid that you'll fail your employee and you are afraid that Klara will be aggrieved. Naturally, I become the villain. I deserve being misunderstood." She should be the most aggrieved one. No one could be as aggrieved as her both in the past and in the future. If God knew her grievance, the God would pity her very much. Thinking of this, Winnie put on such a bitter and puzzled smile that there were tears in her eyes. It made Brian's heart ache to see all her expression changes. He didn't agree with what she said. He didn't considered her to be a villain. He just couldn't handle things calmly when she was involved. "Winwin, what happened today..." He tried to explain, but Winnie didn't give him a chance. She was afraid that Brian would get excited again as he spoke and then force her to apologize to Klara. "Stop. You'll be disappointed if you want me to apologize to her. In your opinion, she is unfortunate. However, she is lucky enough to have your protection." In Brian's view, Klara was the most pitiful woman. However, Winnie thought that Klara was much luckier than she was. Klara luckily came across Brian, but no one had helped her when she was in her most difficult times. Thinking of the past and the present, Winnie couldn't help crying. The first tear fell on Brian's face. In an attempt to escape, she got up and got out of bed hurriedly. At this moment, her cell phone rang. After looking at the caller ID in a panic, more tears streamed down her face. Winnie turned around in fear that her kids would be worried about her after seeing her crying like this. She went to the window, stood there with her back to Brian and then answered the phone. "Aunt Isobel." Her voice was nasal, which exposed the fact that she was crying. "What's wrong? Are you crying?" Isobel asked worriedly. "Hmm." Hearing her voice, it became even difficult for Winnie to stop weeping. Afraid that Isobel would be worried about her, she had to cover her mouth with her hand and try her best to stop weeping. "Who bullied you?" Isobel continued to ask. Winnie took a deep breath and forced herself to calm down. "Nobody did. I cry just because of the plot of TV play. Don't worry. You know what I'm like. Who dares to bully me?" Winnie spoke with pretended casualness, but she felt her words were ironic. It wasn't that no one dared to bully her. As a matter of fact, she not only couldn't avoid being bullied, but also couldn't resist. At this time, Winnie found that someone hugged her from behind with great force. She felt a sense of security and a peace of mind and therefore closed her eyes. If only the man hugging her wasn't Brian and would protect her and would fall in love with her! However, it was just fantasy. He would never love her. "You silly girl, the plots of TV plays are not real. Don't take them seriously." Aunt Isobel was scolding her lovingly. This was the realest feeling. Her love was the most steadfast love. Aunt Isobel said that the plots of TV plays were fake, but Winnie felt that the plots of TV plays were much more real than what she was experiencing now. "Aunt Isobel, do you telephone me for anything?" "Nothing. I just want to know how you and kids are doing recently." Isobel would make a phone call to Winnie every once in a while to simply ask how they were doing. "We're fine. Don't worry about us. How's Vanessa doing recently? Did she work hard enough these days?" Winnie managed to calm himself down, but she still feel aggrieved because Brian was hugging her from behind. "She's having a general revision. In the past few days, she's a little listless. Perhaps it's because she's under too much pressure. If you have time, make a phone call to her and encourage her more." "Aunt Isobel, don't worry about it. I'll call her tomorrow. Aunt Isobel, I've still got some work to do, so I have to hang up now." Winnie hung up the phone after saying these few simple words. "Let go of me. I'm going to cook for you." As she spoke, she tried to make Brian let go of her with the hand that didn't take her mobile phone, but Brian took her hand. "I am sorry." Brian whispered. When he was in bed, he saw her aggrieved expression. Later, her tear dropped on his face. Just now, although she was feeling so aggrieved, she told her aunt the good news and tried to cover the bad news. Seeing all these, Brian became guiltier about her. He was wrong. He shouldn't hurt Winnie because he felt guilty about that employee and he shouldn't wrong her in the presence of Klara. Even if she was a liar, she should have human rights and the right of being respected. It made his heart ache to see her endure his roar and grievance alone. He must apologize so that Winnie would no longer have pent-up feelings caused by him. However, it was the first time that he apologized in his life. Winnie was stunned and didn't believe what she had heard at all. She thought that she must be hallucinating because of a lack of oxygen in her head after she cried. "Let go of me. I'm going to cook for you now." "Winwin, I'm sorry. I apologize for what I did today." Brian apologized sincerely in a louder voice this time. "....." This time, Winnie heard clearly. She knew that it was not a hallucination. Instead, it was really an apology from Brian. Hearing his apology, Winnie's heart trembled. She twitched her nose and began weeping again. How was it possible for this proud man to apologize to her? How could such an indifferent man like Brian be so warm to her like the sun in the sky? Winnie couldn't help crying out loud. Brian directly made her turn around and held her into his arms. "It's my fault. It's my fault..." Brian kept apologizing. Although it was the first time for him to apologize, he found it good for him to apologize for his fault because he felt at ease after the apologizing. This time, Winnie began to be on duty formally, but she refused to sign the labor contract. That was because she was afraid that Brian would force her to leave the company one day. In this case, labor contract would bring inconvenience to her. After she spoke bluntly to Klara, Klara had a somewhat better attitude towards her. She no longer sneered at her or looked contemptuously at her. She treated Winnie in a serious but formulaic way. However, her strong jealousy clearly turned into hatred. Winnie neither cared nor bothered about Klara's changes. As long important matters were no longer affected, she wouldn't care even if Klara claimed that she was worthless. Winnie went to work on time and got off work on time. Brian often went to her house. Also, they often slept in the same bed, but they no longer had intimate physical contact with each other. Winnie could feel that it was impossible for Brian to fall in love with her. Before, Brian touched her because of his desire to conquer. Now, he knew her quite well. Naturally, he lost his desire to conquer. That's good. When they respected each other, there was no passion. However, it was not bad to live a plain life in the rest of their lives. Winnie sat in the office, developing software. She would pay attention to the time from time to time, because it was almost time to get off work. "Winnie, President wants you to go to his office." At this moment, Klara knocked on the door, came in and delivered the President's order to her. "I'll be right there." After saying that, Winnie began to put away the things on the table. After she put her personal belongings in her bag, she went to the President's office. "Mr. Bennet. I heard that you wanted to see me." Winnie asked gently. "I'm free today, so I'm going to pick up the kids with you." Brian was putting away the documents on his desk. "You're going to pick up the kids, too?" Winnie tried to make sure if he was serious. "Why? Is there any problem?" Brian raised his head and asked coldly. He was rarely free. He not only wanted to pick up the kids, but also wanted to get back to that house and spend a little more time with them. "No problem." Winnie not only had no problem with his going to pick up the kids with her, but also was very glad that he did this. This would be the best treatment for Luke. "I'm going back to get my bag. Let's meet in the underground parking lot." After saying that, Winnie turned around and walked out. Then, he heard Brian's voice. "Come here after you get your bag." Brian commanded in a peremptory voice. Winnie walked out of the office without either turning back or stopping. The moment she walked out of the President's office, she saw that the door of her office was just closed. Thinking that it was Alice who went in, she didn't give it a second thought. However, when she pushed open the door, she found the person inside was Klara! Besides, what surprised her was that Klara was rummaging through her bag. "What are you doing?" Winnie asked sullenly. It was obvious that Klara was surprised and panicky to see Winnie at this moment. "Oh...I...When I passed by your office, I seemed to hear your cell phone ringing. Therefore, I came in to check." Klara was in a daze for a while before she answered. "My cell phone was ringing?" Winnie asked in doubt.

Hey, My Twins Babies

CHAPTER 89 WINNIE'S CELL PHONE WAS ROBBED

Winnie came close to her desk, directly took out her mobile phone from her bag and had a look. "There is no missed call. Why would you hear it ringing?" Winnie still spoke in a serious voice. She did not believe what Klara said. Considering that her cell phone was in her bag and the door of her office was closed, people outside should not be able to hear even if it was ringing. "Really? I must have misheard." Her eyes wandered around. "Well, forget it. Winnie, I'm not going to disturb you now. I'm going out." Klara left quickly, which made Winnie even puzzled. If it were Winnie that was rummaging through Klara's bag, Klara wouldn't believe an excuse like that. After searching her bag, Winnie found that nothing was missing. Therefore, Winnie didn't continue to pursue this matter, although she had doubts about it. With her bag, Winnie closed the door of her office and returned to the President's office. After they came to the underground parking lot, Winnie went directly to her car, but Brian stopped her by pulling her. "What's the matter?" Winnie asked in perplexity. Worrying that someone would be watching them, she looked around. "Drive your own car." Brian said coldly, directly pulled her and walked in the opposite direction. "My car is over there." Winnie was somewhat puzzled. "That's Leo's car, not yours." Brian said coldly. When he just finished his words, they had come up to a new car. "This is your car." Brian said in a cool way, but Winnie became more perplexed after hearing what he said. It was a limited edition red Mercedes-Benz SUV. Winnie knew that it was expensive the moment she saw the car logo. "You got it wrong. It's not my car." Winnie said with self-deprecation. "I bought it for you, so it is yours." "Get in the car." Brian didn't give her the opportunity to retort, directly opened the door and pushed Winnie to get in the car. Then he sat in the driver's seat. After that, he started the car and drove out of the parking lot. Mr. Bennet, I think you should have the use of your car. I dare not use your car any more. I can't afford to compensate for it." Winnie refused Brian, breaking the silence. She still clearly remembered what happened last time. How dared she take the risk again? If she was jerked around by Brian again, she would not be able to afford to compensate. "Last time, the car belongs to the company, so you have to give it back. This time, I bought this car for you personally. No matter what happens, you don't have to give it back." Brian could only give such an explanation. He was embarrassed about what he did last time, but he considered it worthwhile because he kept Winnie successfully. "In this case, it's even more inappropriate for me to accept it. If anyone knew it, there would be a lot of comments." Winnie rejected for the second time. No matter whose car it was, Winnie wouldn't accept it. She didn't want to be the topic of conversation at the water cooler. "Don't flatter yourself. I'm not going to send it to you. I'm just going to lend it to you." Brian suddenly began to speak in a cold voice with displeasure. However, he would still try to find a way to make Winnie accept the car because it was a thorn in his flesh that Winnie drove Leo's car. "The safety factor of this car is high. You always drive to pick up the kids. I can rest assured if you drive this car." He could only use the two children as a pretext. Winnie lapsed into silence. She didn't expect that Brian would give her such a reason. It seemed that she flattered herself. "Since you give it to me for the sake of children, I'll drive it for the time being. Thank you, Mr. Bennet." After saying these words, Winnie looked out of the car. The expression in her eyes had always been confident and determined. Now, there was bitterness in her eyes. Seeing that they came to pick up them together, the kids were really excited. Megan couldn't restrain herself and became excited, just like she did every time she saw Brian. Seeing Brian, Luke was surprised at first, but then rushed to Brian happily. Seeing that Luke was in a better mood, Winnie felt that the coming of Brian had had a value. Then, they drove home together. When they passed the supermarket, Winnie got off the car and went shopping while Brian waited in the car with the kids. Soon, Winnie came out of the supermarket with a bag in her hand. When she almost came up to the car, her phone rang. Hearing this, Winnie took out her phone. However, before she could see who was calling and answer the phone, an accident happened. A person on a motorbike passed her and robbed her of her mobile phone. That guy did it quickly and violently, so Winnie fell to the ground. What she took was also scattered on the ground. Brian happened to see this. He hurriedly pushed open the door, got off the car and rushed to Winnie. "How are you? Are you injured?" Brian asked in a cold but worried voice. As he spoke, he helped Winnie stand up. "No, I'm fine." Winnie was somewhat panic. It seemed that she was frightened by this accident. "Are you sure that you're okay? Let's go to the hospital." As he spoke, he carried Winnie in his arms. At this moment, he couldn't rest assured unless the doctor had examined her even if Winnie had claimed that she was fine. "I'm fine. I'm really fine. Put me down quickly. If someone took a picture of us now, you'd be in the headlines again." Winnie said in a panic. Although it felt good to be held in his arms, she didn't want to be attacked by women from all over the country. Brian ignored what she said, went to the car with her in his arms and then put her into the car. Then he drove to the hospital. "I'm fine. I just fell and I'm not fragile. Why should I see a doctor just because of it?" Winnie didn't want to go to the hospital because she believed that the doctor would laugh at her if such a healthy person like her went to see a doctor. "I can't rest assured before you go to see a doctor." It seemed that Winnie was not injured, but Brian insisted on going to the hospital. "You can rest assured now. I don't want to go to the hospital. Don't waste doctor's time, okay?" Failing to persuade Brian, Winnie could only negotiate with him. "Are you sure you're fine?" Brian turned his head and asked. "Yes, I'm sure. I'm very sure." Seeing her being persistent, Brian looked helplessly at her, turned at the signal light in front and drove in the direction of their home. "Are you scared?" Brian asked in a deep voice while driving. "Ah, I'm a little scared. It happened in such a sudden manner. But I'm all right now." Focusing on arguing with Brian whether they should go to the hospital, Winnie had long forgotten the fear. "You must be careful next time. Losing your phone is no big deal. But it'll be too bad if you're scared." Brian frowned in worries. Seeing this, Winnie was moved. She was robbed of her mobile phone and fell to the ground. After that, Brian showed his concern for her. Was it worth what she had just gone through? "I'll take care next time. But it's a pity that I lost my phone." Winnie somewhat had a sense of loss. "Is there anything important in your phone? Do you need to call the police?" Brian turned his head and asked. "I've made a backup of everything in my phone, and the cell phone is cheap. I'm not going to call the police." Winnie said thoughtfully. Recently, she encountered too many unpleasant things and accidents. She had to think a little deeper. Klara rummaged through her bag for her mobile phone. Now her mobile phone was robbed. Was it really just a coincidence? The fact that Winnie had frequent accidents recently aroused both Winnie and Brian's suspicion. However, Brian didn't tell Winnie his suspicion because he was afraid that Winnie would be scared after he told her. The next day, Brian asked Albert to come to his office. "Before, I asked you to investigate the car accident Winnie had. Have you found out the truth?" Brian stood in front of the floor-to-ceiling window and asked with his back to Albert. "I haven't found out the truth yet." Albert put on an embarrassed expression. "Not yet?" Brian said in a cold voice and turned around directly. "No, because there is a hindrance." "What happened?" Brian frowned. There was a suspicious expression on his sharp-featured handsome face. "The Chairman interfered. We have no way to investigate it." Albert encountered the same obstacles as Leo. However, he had been trying to find a key clue, so he didn't report to Brian. "Grandpa?" Brian's frown deepened and there was a thoughtful expression in his eyes. He just had doubts about this matter before. The reason why he investigated it was that he wanted to make sure that there was nothing wrong with it. However, his grandpa stepped in. Judging from it, there was something wrong with this matter. "Carry on the investigation. Employ a private detective to follow the offending driver." Brian said firmly. He must find out the truth about this matter, otherwise Winnie wouldn't be safe. "Besides, Winnie's mobile phone was robbed yesterday. Ask someone to investigate it." Brian continued to say. "Go get one of our best phones as soon as possible." After receiving his orders, Albert went out, leaving Brian lost in thought again. If it was grandpa that did it, he might just want to warn Winnie to keep away from him. However, if it was Penny that did it, Winnie would be in great danger. Why did Penny and Winnie hate each other so deeply? Penny must have hidden something about them from him. Soon, Albert came back with a mobile phone. After adjusting it simply, Brian went to Winnie's office with the mobile phone. When he entered the office, Winnie was working at the computer. Brian threw the mobile phone on her desk naturally. "Use this phone." "I have another phone that can be used." Winnie instinctively refused him. "I told you to use this phone. If you don't use our product and someone finds it, they would think that our mobile phones are not good." Brian insisted. He didn't understand why she always refused the gift from him. "Well, I'll take it. Later, I'll transfer the money to you." As she spoke, Winnie picked up the phone and looked at its appearance carefully. "Can't you stop talking about money? The phone is a gift. Don't give me any money." Brian was somewhat unhappy and naturally spoke in a colder voice. In his opinion, there was something more important than money and she should thank him happily. When she was about to reject what he said, she turned on the screen and saw a background image that surprised her. "Why? Couldn't it be that the background image of all LK phones is your picture?" Winnie suddenly looked at Brian jokingly. "You should feel flattered. My picture is only used as background image in this phone." Brian was somewhat embarrassed, but felt sweet in his heart. It was the first time that he had done such a thing. Although he felt it childish to do so, he was happy. "Hoho..." Winnie couldn't help laughing and two dimples appeared on her face. What a beautiful and elegant woman. Brian saw her every expression. However, he was stunned when he saw this smile. The reason why he was stunned was that his heart palpitated. It was impossible. How was it possible that his heart palpitated because of a liar? It was impossible. He had always had a beloved woman. How was it possible that his mind was affected by her smile?

Hey, My Twins Babies

CHAPTER 90 MADE YOU REGRET

After realizing his reaction, Brian's handsome face became dark in an instant. There was an incomprehensible emotion in his deep eyes. Winnie was still smiling with her eyes fixed on Brian's perfect picture. Therefore, she didn't find his change. "Well, it seems that I really shouldn't pay you for this phone. I'll be scared by your picture every day, and I should ask you to compensate me for mental damage." After finishing these words with her head down, her smile broadened. She unconsciously raised her head and looked at Brian. However, what she saw were malicious and insidious cold eyes. Her smile nearly disappeared immediately. "Why? I'm just joking. My smiling in your presence makes you sick?" Winnie was somewhat puzzled and couldn't figure out how she had angered Brian. The expression in Brian's eyes became colder and colder, but he couldn't tell her the reason. Therefore, he left after staring at Winnie, leaving her there with a puzzled expression. "What happened? Why did you give me the cold shoulder again? Can't I smile in your presence?" Winnie talked to herself and was no longer in a good mood. She always couldn't understand why Brian was always changing his attitude towards her. Winnie sighed helplessly and put down the mobile phone casually. Then, she began to work again. Finally, it was noon. When she was just about to go to the staff canteen for lunch, there came a person she hated. It was Penny who came in. Winnie sat in her office chair, looking at her with hatred. After Luke was abused, this was the first time that she saw Penny. If she hadn't promised Felix to conceal it for the time being, she would have publicized it and made her notorious. "Why do you look at me in this way, Winnie? Did I do anything that annoys you?" Penny said proudly. When she came close to Winnie's desk and saw the brand new mobile phone, there was a triumphant expression in her eyes. "Oh, you got a new mobile phone. Did you throw away the former one or..." Penny stopped before she finished her words. That's because she saw Brian's photo after she accidentally pressed the power key. Instantly, she put on a fierce expression and couldn't help questioning Winnie. "Winnie, why're you so shameless? What's the relationship between you and Brian? How dare you use his photo as your background image? You're shameless! You're a bitch!" Penny was no longer triumphant. She lifted the phone angrily and was about to smash it. At this point... "Wait." Winnie stopped her in time and then continued to speak. "Mr. Bennet just gave it to me. It was him that used his picture as the background image in this phone. If you smash it, how should I explain to him?" Winnie said calmly and didn't care about the dirty words Penny said. Winnie seldom said dirty words. In her opinion, compared with swearing someone, it'll better to slap that guy. "You..." In Penny's view, Winnie was threatening that she would tell Brian if she smashed her mobile phone. Her hand was still raised in mid-air. She was very embarrassed because she was torn between smashing it and not smashing. Finally, she put down her hand and threw the phone on the desk. "Winnie, you shameless bastard. You deserve to lose your mobile phone." When Penny was angry but couldn't do anything with the other party, she would always try to get the better of an argument. Only in this way could she feel that she had turned it around. Usually, she would leak some information inadvertently at such moments. "How did you know that I had lost my phone?" Winnie asked coldly. Possibly having known how to communicate with Penny, Winnie had been very vigilant since the moment she entered her office and finally found something strange. "I... I'm just cursing you. I hope that you'll lose your phone under my curse." Penny paused for a moment with a slight panic in her eyes. Now, she regretted very much and questioned herself: why did I always lose control of my emotions and speak without thinking? Why were I always angered by what Winnie said easily? Why couldn't I be as calm as Winnie? "You're cursing me? Why do you curse me?" Winnie asked thoughtfully. She had seen the panicky expression in Penny's eyes clearly. Although Penny had tried to cover it up, she didn't miss it. Winnie couldn't simply make a conclusion that Penny had something to do with her losing her cell phone, but it was necessary for her to take this opportunity to warn her. "I curse you because you are shameless, because you are a bitch and because you have an affair with my husband." Penny shouted loudly. However, the harder she tried to hide the real reason, the more she exposed. "No, these aren't the real reasons. You want me to lose my phone in hopes that I'll lose all the evidence in it. This is the real reason why you curse me." Winnie directly pointed out her true purpose, but she couldn't go too far because she had no evidence. "You..." Penny's expression changed suddenly and was having mood swings, not knowing how to deal with Winnie next. "Penny, let me tell you. I did lose my phone, but ..." Winnie deliberately elongated the word. Then, she said in a cold voice with cold eyes. "There are backups of all the files in my phone on my computer. Although I lost my phone, I kept all the evidence. Don't hope that I'll lose the evidences, too. Winnie said calmly. At this moment, Penny's expression changed again. She looked shocked and disappointed. "Does it have anything to do with me? I didn't do anything wrong, so you can't always make trouble for me. Don't threaten me with those things." Penny was annoyed and anxious and thought: how could she not notice that there would be backups? How could she come to find Winnie to show off before she resolved the matter completely? "You didn't do anything wrong? Are you sure that you didn't do anything wrong?" Hearing her lying against her conscience, there was anger in Winnie's eyes, She had just beaten Luke up not long ago. Now, she dared to say that she had done nothing wrong. She was the most shameless and vicious person. Looking at the expression in Winnie's eyes, Penny felt that she knew everything. Therefore, she was afraid, looking away in a hurry and letting her gaze wander. "Sure." Penny lied. However, she was slapped her in the face the next second. After that, she had a ringing in her ear and couldn't hear anything else. "Winnie, you son..." Penny's first reaction was to swear. She had forgotten how many times Winnie had beaten her. She had also lost patience. When she was about to swear, Winnie stopped her by speaking in a loud voice and with stern expression "Shut up. You deserve this. Both I and you know if you've done something wrong." Winnie became furious with sudden sharp eyes. It became even difficult for her to suppress her anger when she thought of Luke's getting depressed after that. "Penny, listen. From now on, you don't have to try to make trouble for me, because I will make trouble for you. You had done so many vicious things. I'll make you regret. Besides, I'll make you pay for what had happened four years ago. Before, you stole my boyfriend. Now, I'm going to steal your husband. Wait and see who would suffer a greater loss." Winnie was not joking and she didn't say it out of anger. Last time, she was unable to save Luke. Since then, she had made up her mind to make Penny pay the price. Otherwise, she would be apologetic to Luke and not worthy of being his mother. "You..." Penny became panic. Her anger also ended abruptly after she saw Winnie's reaction. Was she going to fight back? Would she publicize what happened four years ago? Would she steal everything from her? No, it wouldn't happen. She wouldn't allow herself to lose everything. After Penny left in a hurry, Winnie calmed down. She felt a little more relaxed after venting some of her anger. However, she still had to give a second thought to how to start fighting back. Penny had employed a killer to commit the crime, but it was difficult to find out the evidence. Brian was her only hope. She had to make Brian divorce Penny. Only in this way could Luke live a happy life in the future. She didn't know what would happen in the future. She only knew that the best way to ensure a happily life for Luke was to get him a kind-hearted stepmother. After she got off work, Winnie went to pick up the kids. When Brian came back, the kids had had dinner and were doing their homework. Hearing the sound of opening the door, Winnie went downstairs and saw that Brian still wore a cold expression and there was still cold expression in his eyes. "Did you drink?" Winnie had smelled a strong smell of alcohol before she came close to Brian. "Yes." Brian said in a cold voice, but he was unwilling to look at Winnie. "I have a headache. I'm going to rest in my room." After saying that, Brian went straight back to his room. Seeing his behavior, Winnie was both puzzled and worried. In the past few days, Brian would not wear a cold expression after he returned home and Winnie had been accustomed to it. Now, when Brian became indifferent again, Winnie was somewhat lost. Then, she went upstairs to be with her kids doing their homework, but she had been absent-minded. When she put her kids to sleep, she was also thinking about Brian. After the kids fell asleep, Winnie went back to her room and she was not sleepy at all. She wondered: Brian just said that he had a headache. Is he all right now? Is he suffering from an unbearable headache like before? Or has he fallen asleep because of the alcohol? The more Winnie thought, the more worried she became. Finally, she couldn't restrain herself and went to Brian's room. She pushed open the door of Brian's bedroom with great care. It was somewhat dark inside, but she could clearly see that Brian was lying on the bed. Winnie crept to the bed, bent over and looked at Brian. His face was still red. Everything was fine except that he frowned. She touched his forehead and was relieved after finding that he didn't have a fever. When she withdrew her hand and was about to leave, Brian took her hand and pulled her into his arms. "I'm fine. I'm not suffering from a headache." Brian whispered. Feeling unsettled, he couldn't fall asleep at all, even though he had had a drink. He had heard the sound of opening the door. Judging from the light footsteps, he was sure that it was Winnie that was coming in. Although he didn't take a look, he knew that Winnie was checking him for fear that he had a headache again. Brian was moved and didn't want her to leave.