

My Wife Is Twice My Age

Chapter 36

"Amanda, let me take this call," Varrick said

He looked up at Ammalala, pointed to his phone, then swing the door open and stepped out of her office.

"Hello, Selena." he peder.

"Hi Yarrick, you ready to meet Halley?" she asked.

"Yes! I'd really to mother."

Finally, Selena had contacted him. It had been days since Hailey was discharged from the hospital and left discreetly. He had been desperate to see her. Varrick's desire to see her had even manifested in his dreams, where he had given her a big, warm hug.

He had been waiting for Hailey to contact him, eagerly anticipating their reunion in that they could live happily ever after as husband and wife. "Great!" Selena laughed at his excitement.

"Mert hot when you got off work this Friday. She said she has made her decision," she added Soy! Lean't wait! Thanks, Selena?" he said, his excitement evident...

him Yarrick, you be good to you, you hear me? Hailey has never been in a relationship with a man. Not to mention, there's quite an age gap between you two," she said, sounding

"I took her for of courage to decide to give this a try with you," she added.

"say no more! Leave it to me, Selena! I'll make sure to treat her well! I won't let anything happen to her!" Varrick promised

After the call ended, Varrick could barely contain his nement bin weida, Halley.

tent. His heart felt it was about leap out of his chest. The moment he had been waiting for or was finally here he would get it was hard to believe he had finally gathered the courage to meet him

He would make sure to give her a "hat time in the best way possible. It had been days since he last held her hand or caressed her face, and he missed in desperately "Good things the name of you can make things work and become a real pair of husband and wife," Selena said earnestly,

Thank you for your support! Could you send Hailey's address?" he asked address, okay?" she informed him.

"Sure. Hailey's sick of the place she's living in now I'm going to get her a new place in the next couple of days. Once I've settled on a place, I'll send y "No problem! Thank you, Yarrick replied, sounding grateful.

If that was the way, he had to wait a little longer. Still, he was confused as to why she needed to move, especially when she already had a place to live. But didn't matter. If that was who she wanted, then so be it.

After a few final words, Selena and Selena ended the call. Then, he returned to Amanda's office

"Yarrick, you look happy," Amanda commented as he returned to her office. She could tell at a glance that he was in a great mood.

He flashed her a smile and quickness came up with a plausible excuse. "Oh, I was on the phone with my family,"

Convinced so much that his explanation wasn't entirely untrue, since Selena and Hailey seemed to be very close—almost like cousins.

"So, shall we continue our

Since the food had been used, went on to keeping and seeing to each and Yarrick was more than happy to keep learning. They quickly got back into the rhythm, and she resumed where she had left off.

Soon after, their food arrived. They ate and then quickly got back to the session.

By 2:00 pm, they had fully covered most of the topics, Yarrick added almost half of his notebook

Thank you so much again, Amanda! I'll definitely treat you to a nice meal one day!" Yarrick exclaimed. "Don't forget that in mind," she reminded.

She smiled as sipped water. As the med to check him out, the spark in her eye eyes seemed to intensify

Chapter 37

“We have a deal” said Yarrick

It wasn't a big deal for him treat mandato a meal. With the income he was earning now, it was a piece of cake.

“Oh right! Yarrick, we're hiring some models for the photoshoot of our new clothing line. Would you be able to make it?” Amanda asked.

Sere! Give me a call definitely be there. If I have time “5

He'd never say no to a chance to make money, not even as a joke.

During his four years in university, he jumped at every opportunity to make cash. Now t hat he had a chance at easy money, he'd be a fool to pass it up

No problem! I'll give you a call for sure. Just by looking at your appearance and physiqu e, I know those models can't compare.”

As Amanda complimented him, she reached on and “wcidentally bruched his face.

Yarrick was taken aback and silently cured he sudden movement. He never expected h er to be this bold. Still, he decided to let it go. She hadn't crossed the „Amanda, should I move on to the operations management department next? *

“Sure, you could,” she sold with a smile and nod

Then, she reached out to pat his shoulder and gave it a firm sq. “You're a fast learner. Not bad at all you ever need more advice, come visit me anytime. I'll be sure to make y ou sfied” she added suggestively.

TIT

It was dear now that her words carried another meaning dan't thank you enough”

Looking at Amanda's unile, Yarrick quickly stood up, since he nor had a basic understand ing of the design department, he needed to revise his notes later.

"Don't worry about it at me to a nice meal, okay?" Amanda reminded him.

"Alright By, Amandal I'll be heading over to operations now," Tarik said

He soon had her goodbye and left her office Varrick was racing against time, she didn't this time. Without testing, he headed to the fourth floor, where the operations management department was located. The head of the department was a woman in her combed S et Everyly.

He was incredible. Yarrick couldn't help but steal a few glances.

Subette was a 30-year-old woman. Although she wasn't the most attractive, her figure

When he explained what he was there for, she welcomed him warmly. As the president's secretary, he would hold in higher regard by everyone he met. After changing formalities, he was in for another training session.

Sunette cleared

her schedule took two hours to walk him through the department's detailed workflow. By the end of the session, she had covered most topics. Tarrick found operations management easy to grasp. By the time she wrapped up, he had a good understanding of what she had taught

It was already 5:00 pm when the session ended, which meant it was almost time to clock out. With that, he decided to return to his office,

After a full day of learning, he jotted down a lot in his notebook. Now, he finally had time to revise and set everything out.

Before he reached his room, his phone buzzed with a message. He took it out and saw that it was from Michael

"Hey Tarrick, are you busy? Free to call Michael now?"

He replied

Since his best friend wanted to talk there was no way he'd turn him down. His revision could wait, and he could always make up for it by working overtime.

"Alright, Give me a minute. I'll be there soon Michael responded.

After sending the message, Michael left his desk in a hurry.

"Yarrick, show in it? What do you do as the president's secretary?" Michael asked...

Michael ran at lightning speed, stepping into Yarrick's office almost at the same time Terrick did

The president wants me to reach out to all the department heads and get familiar with their operations and workflow. I just got back from running around all day," Yarrick explained. "What? The president's back already?" Michael looked surprised.

"No, not yet. She gave me the assignment over the phone," he added.

"Oh, I see. Hey, you know what? During lunch, I went for a smoke at the stairwell and heard a rumour, Michael said in a low voice.

Michael glanced at the doors, then tossed his keys. "I heard the president gave her female secretary special treatment. Everyone suspects they were in a relationship.

"Hmm? What kind of relationship?" Yarrick asked. He didn't catch on right away. To him, it wasn't strange for two women to be close friends. It made sense for Haley to take care of her.

They said they were in a romantic relationship—like, as a couple. But no one knows if it's true," Michael clarified. He looked around the office, and something seemed to click. "Take a look at this place. Just the way to a luxurious office or a secretary's office? I've been to Mr. Dawson's office, and it doesn't even come close to this one. Don't you think this kind of room has a bit too much for just a secretary?"

Yarrick nodded. He agreed with the observation. That again, if they were best friends, it was reasonable for the previous secretary to receive special treatment,

"Still, it might not be what you think. What if they really were just really good friends?" Yarrick said.

"Hi, pretty fat guy, But from what I've heard, their relationship wasn't exactly normal. Then, they fought. Right after that, the secretary quit. That was when the president fell sick," Michael added.

It's difficult to make sense of half-old stories. These rumours could only be confirmed by the people involved.

dest mat has nothing to do with. I'll just follow orders from my superior," Varrick said calmly. "Wharf, it has something to do with you! Michael upped

Think about it. If the preside doesn't like me, you won't stand a chance with her! But if you could get to fall for you, you'd hit the jackpot M

No, that's meed up. You're tinging your imagination run wild. Even if she does like men, who's to say she like me?" Yarrick replied.

Michael claimed.

Ton't be sure With your face, your body, your build—what woman wouldn't want you? specially women in their jos or gos. Their desites are t hrough the roof."

Tick couldn't help but laugh out loud Michael preferred going alter older woman, especially rich ones, more than he did.

"Even if die does like younger men, i'd be a fling at best. Marriage? That's a long shot," Yarrick added

"Come on, you never know. With your build and stalls, you could put on a partomance so impressive that she'd completely fall for you. Then maybe, just maybe, she'd marry you," Michael Deased

Heating that, Varrick cleared his that and shook his head

Sacklerly, Hailey's Face popped into his mind. He was looking forward to seeing her this weekend. He wondered what their meeting would be like.

The Der arous, decoder, Would the fall head over heels when she saw him in his tracksuit?

"seriously, man, thin about it. With your level of charisma, you could straighten her out," Michael added, still pushing the idea.

What a great ideaisal, wrapping up the conversation

"upta? You should give it a try, my man!"

Since he had only been going back and forth between the company and his shop, he didn't need to use his car. Public transport was was more fraud. It had only taken the car out for a joyride

He was meeting Raley at 10:00 am tomorrow. Since he didn't need the car to get home, he felt it in the company's basement. He would drive it to the meeting the next day. As gathering his things, he left his offer quickly,

On the way back, Michael stuck up a conversation about work. "Yarrick, so, you've never met the president in person during these few days as her secretary?" Michael asked "Nope. Why do you seem more eager to meet her than I do?" Yanick smiled as he patted Michael on the shoulder

"I'm just curious to know if she's really as pretty as they say and if you have chance with her."

"Let things work out themselves," Yarrick answered. He didn't really care about Michael's question. Whether she was pretty didn't matter to him because he had Hailey. Whether he had a change together with her didn't matter either

Unless the day came when he and Hadley were divorced. In that case, things would be completely different.

What the hell? Why do you seem not to care about this at all? mean, if it were me, I'd be cracking my head figuring out what use to use to her house." Michael grinned. Yarrick laughed at his remark

"Let's stop talking about the president. What about the woman you met at the cafeteria? I haven't heard anything about her from you these past two days." Yarrick changed the subject. "osh! I don't want to talk about Michael's ex-girlfriend"

What happened? Did she ask for a car or a house?"

"Then what kit?"

"These days, you can't even afford to date someone if you're broke she told me she has high standards. Even if we're just going out for food, it'd have to be an expensive restaurant, at least four stars. It's less than that, she won't go, Michael explained only the Thousand dollars a month. How can afford to date her?" he continued, sounding exhausted.

40. 40.

Yarrick nodded in t in agreement: it was hard to afford a high-maintenance girlfriend. This was even before considering marriage!

If things were south, she'd be asking for much more than Michael's current girlfriend, Corinne.

"I that's the case, just keep looking for someone with lower standards," Yarrick suggested, trying to comfort

"Where do tindaone with low standard? Life is hard, man," Michael wailed

"Well, you'to right." Yarrick nodded and fell silent.

"Right, I'm meeting the presidem tomorrow morning. We've a rady set a time," Warrick suddenly
