Chapter 51: A Mysterious Old Lady

Although the auntie was skeptical of Qin Xi's words, she had tasted it for herself how delicious the carrots were.

She had been losing her appetite for the past few days and whatever that went into her stomach wouldn't go out. Her stomach felt like it was about to explode.

However, when she took a bite of the carrot, she did not feel uncomfortable.

The auntie picked up the half carrot and started eating. The people around her looked at her, drooling.

When the auntie was halfway through eating the carrot, her stomach suddenly reacted. Her expression changed drastically as she quickly held her stomach and turned to run. However, after taking two steps, she turned around and shouted at Qin Xi, "Young girl, leave some for me. I'll buy them when I come back..."

With that, she held her stomach and ran home.

Fortunately, her house was nearby and she could reach it in a few steps. Otherwise, she would have to wash her pants today.

1

"This is too unbelievable."

Seeing that they still did not believe her, Qin Xi took out another cucumber. This cucumber was thick and long.

Qin Xi cut the cucumber and placed it on the plate. The fragrance of the cucumber spread out, making the onlookers salivate.

"Old Madam, do you have high blood pressure, high cholesterol, and high blood sugar?"

This time, Qin Xi stared at an old lady who was dressed decently and looked elegant.

The old lady did not answer Qin Xi. Instead, she changed the topic. "Are you a doctor?"

Qin Xi revealed her signature smile, looking especially likable. "Old Madam, you're really amazing. You can even tell that." She flattered the old lady without batting an eyelid. "I've been learning from my shifu for a while."

The old lady smiled lovingly. "Tell me, how should I treat my illness?"

Qin Xi handed the cucumber to her and said, "Old Madam, you should know the nutritional value of the cucumber, right? If you eat my cucumber, I guarantee that in less than three days, all the symptoms will go away. Do you want to give it a try?"

"What if they don't go away in three days?"

The old lady seemed a little hostile, but Qin Xi could see that she was tempted.

Qin Xi said without hesitation, "If they don't go away, I'll treat your diabetes. How about that? Of course, I will also pay you back double the money you spent."

The old lady was calm. Although she did not believe that Qin Xi could cure her diabetes, she liked Qin Xi's straightforwardness.

She instructed a middle-aged woman behind her, "Get two people to buy half of the girl's vegetables."

"Old Madam..." The middle-aged woman frowned and wanted to stop her.

The old lady still looked kind and amiable, but her tone was slightly colder. "Why? Do I need your permission to buy groceries now?"

The middle-aged woman was so frightened that her face turned pale and her legs trembled. "No, I'm sorry, Old Madam, I shouldn't have overstepped my boundaries!"

The old lady only glanced at her indifferently before turning to look at Qin Xi. She said with smiles, "Young lady, I bought half of your vegetables. Aren't you going to give me something as a thank you gift?"

As she spoke, she returned to the tricycle and opened the cloth bag hanging on it. She took out three pieces of homemade poultice and handed them to the old lady. "This is a poultice for treating bone pain and rheumatism, as well as helping with blood circulation. If I'm not wrong, you have back pain, right?"

The old lady's smile widened. She took the three poultices and said meaningfully, "Young girl, to be honest, I don't believe that you've only learned medicine for a while."

Chapter 52: Something Happened

Qin Xi immediately took out a sack and Han Dazhu helped her fill it with vegetables.

One of the bodyguards took out a hundred Yuan bill and handed it to her. Qin Xi took it with a smile. The bodyguards carried the sack of vegetables and left.

Everyone was stunned. They had never seen anyone buy vegetables in such bulk. This time, they didn't hesitate anymore.

Especially those who had tasted the carrots and cucumbers, they immediately started fighting over them.

"I want carrots. Give me three catties!"

"I want potatoes, I want two potatoes! And cucumbers, give me two cucumbers!"

"I want tomatoes... and broccoli."

"I want cabbage."

"Line up, please. Don't rush, don't push each other, and be careful not to fall..." Seeing that people were crazy over her vegetables, Qin Xi reminded with concern.

She weighed the vegetables and counted the money while Han Dazhu was busy packing the vegetables. The two of them cooperated seamlessly.

The fact that Qin Xi managed to sell pretty much all her vegetables not long after she arrived made the nearby vegetable sellers green with jealousy.

When the auntie who ran back to defecate returned in a happy mood, she was stunned to see the empty stall. She asked with concern, "What's wrong, young lady? Did someone rob your stall?"

Qin Xi chuckled and took out three rabbits from the tricycle. She said jokingly, "It was indeed robbed. Here, this is for you. It's 4.7 yuan in total. Just give me 4.5 yuan."

"Thank you, thank you. By the way, are you coming tomorrow?" The auntie took out five yuan and asked.

Qin Xi found 50 cents and handed it to the auntie. She smiled and said firmly, "Of course I'm coming. I believe that those who have eaten my vegetables today will come again!"

As soon as they arrived at the entrance of Shangwan Village, they saw Wang Qiang, the seven-year-old son of Uncle Wang next door, running over while panting. He shouted anxiously, "Grandpa Han, Sister Xi, something happened. Hurry back and take a look!"

Qin Xi and Han Dazhu's expressions changed drastically. "Qiang, what happened?"

"Xi, Sister Xi's mother and her family are here to cause trouble. They, they are unreasonable and hit Brother Stone. Go back and take a look! Brother Stone's head is bleeding!" Wang Qiang held his knees with both hands and panted heavily.

"What? How dare they hit my grandson? I'll kill them." Han Dazhu was furious and sped up pedaling the tricycle.

Last night, she had just given Han Shi acupuncture and was sure that he would be able to become normal within a month. She did not expect him to be hit in the head again today. If the situation worsened, Qin Xi swore that she would make these people suffer.

Feeling that the tricycle was too slow, Qin Xi jumped off and shouted to Han Dazhu, "Grandpa, I'll go back first. Be careful. Don't hurry."

With that, she was already more than ten meters away.

At the Han family.

"Li Guihua, don't go too far. Back then, you were the one who wanted to cut ties with Xi. Today, you want to go back on your words. Do you have any respect for the village chief?" Luo Xiujuan was so angry that her face was livid and her body trembled excitedly.

Zhang Cuiyun said with a smile, "Luo Xiujuan, how can you say that? Xi is part of my family. How can the ties be cut so easily?"

Chapter 53: I'll See Who Dares!

Hu Xiaofeng put her hands on her hips and said pushily, "Cut the crap. We're here today to take the little b*tch back. Back then, we were blinded by greed and thought that she could be happy after marrying your fool son. But I didn't know your Han family was just a den of wolves? Not only did you spend her money, but you also abused her and made her go out to sell vegetables. It turns out that you just treat her as a free labor force!"

Luo Xiujuan was furious. She pointed at Hu Xiaofeng and said, "You know very well who abused Xi. Also, you keep calling her a little b*tch. You are her mother. Don't you feel ashamed of yourself?"

Luo Xiujuan said it implicitly, but everyone knew what she was trying to say. If Hu Xiaofeng called her daughter a little b*tch, then what was her? An old b*tch?

Hu Xiaofeng flew into a rage. She raised her hand to slap Luo Xiujuan, but Han Shi, who was like a guardian, gave her a punch in the stomach. Hu Xiaofeng staggered back and fell to the ground.

What was funny was that even though the entire Qin family was present, no one came forward to help her. Even Qin Hongtao was just watching coldly from the side. It was obvious how bad the Qin family was.

She got up from the ground and stared at Luo Xiujuan and Han Shi, as if she wanted to skin them alive. She shouted fiercely, "Damn it, I'm going to kill you!"

Qin Guobiao shouted, "Alright, stop it. We're here today for serious business, not to see you act like a shrew!" He glanced at Qin Hongtao, who was watching the show, and reprimanded, "Hongtao, discipline your wife!"

Qin Hongtao nodded and pulled Hu Xiaofeng away. "Behave yourself and stop embarrassing me!"

Hu Xiaofeng was still indignant at being humiliated in the public, but since the old man had spoken, she could only hold back her anger for now and find a chance to vent it later on.

Qin Guobiao looked at Luo Xiujian and said in a low voice, “Han Xiujian, tell Qin Xi to come out. As for her marriage with your fool son, I’ll make the decision that they are divorced.”

“Yes, they are divorced. She can’t live with a fool!” Li Guihua echoed.

“If you say another word about my son, I’ll drag you to hell with me.”

Luo Xiujian was on the verge of exploding with anger. Han Shi was her sore spot. They had touched her sore spot time and time again. As a mother, she could no longer remain calm and shouted.

Her eyes were red and filled with killing intent, making everyone present feel a chill run down their spines.

Mama bear instinct was not a joke.

“No matter what, today, we have to take Xi away!”

Qin Guobiao said seriously, “I remember that she and your son haven’t gotten a marriage license yet, right? Since they don’t have a marriage license, this marriage doesn’t count. We have the right to take her away!”

Although Han Shi only had an IQ of a five-year-old, his sharp eyes were like that of a wild wolf that had been starved for a few days.

In particular, half of his face was covered in dried blood. Coupled with his current gaze, he looked extremely terrifying.

He waved the club in his hand and said fiercely, “No, no one is allowed to take my wife away. If anyone dares to take my wife away, I’ll beat them to death!”

“You stupid fool, if you wave it at me again, I’ll break your legs!” A man shouted fiercely.

“I’ll see who dares!” A female voice came from the door!

Chapter 54: Han Shi Complains to His Wife

Everyone looked over and saw Qin Xi walking in with a domineering aura. She swept her gaze across everyone present.

“Who are you?” Zhang Cuiyun asked Qin Xi with a frown.

When Han Shi saw her, he immediately ran over and complained, “Wifey, you’re finally back. They bullied Mom and me! Look, they even smashed my head with a stone. It hurts!”

At this moment, there was a deep wound in his forehead. Dried blood covered half of his face, making him look miserable and terrifying.

Just now, he was snarling at everyone with a ferocious look. Now that his wife was here, he instantly became a puppy wagging its tail!

“Who hit you?”

When Qin Xi saw the blood on Han Shi's head, she exuded an intimidating aura. She gave the crowd a sweeping glance before landing on a man about the age of 27.

"It's him! He ambushed me. Otherwise, I wouldn't have been hit!" Han Shi pointed at the man in disdain.

The Qin family was still immersed in Qin Xi's appearance. They asked in disbelief, "Are you Qin Xi, that little b*tch?"

Qin Xi ignored the Qin family and walked straight to Qin Ling. Her aura was in full swing as she locked her eyes on him. "You were the one who hit my husband and said that you wanted to break his legs?"

Qin Ling was Qin Lan's biological brother. He had bullied the Host a lot since she was young and had even once shoved the Host's head into a pig trough.

When the Host was feeding the pigs, she accidentally spilled a little. Coincidentally, Qin Lan stepped on it. Qin Lan cried and complained and asked her brother to take turns bullying the Host.

At that time, the Host was only seven years old. She was thin and weak and could not withstand the torture. After being bullied by them, she had a fever for two days. While she was having a fever, she was still forced to work.

Sometimes, one should never underestimate the viciousness of a child. They never cared about the consequences of their actions.

Qin Ling shouted arrogantly, "I was the one who said that. Can you... Ahhh!"

Before he could finish his sentence, everyone heard the sound of bones breaking. Then, they heard the screams of Qin Ling.

Qin Ling's father, Qin Hongshan, Zhang Cuiyun, his second brother, Qin Gang, and his wife, Lin Keke, were all wide-eyed with belief.

Qin Guobiao flew into a fury.

He strode up to Qin Xi in three steps, waving his hand, and was about to slap Qin Xi's face. He roared, "Stop it, you little b*tch! What are you doing? Are you crazy?"

Qin Xi only used 30% of her strength in this slap. 30% of an ancient martial artist's strength was not something an ordinary person could withstand. Therefore, Qin Guobiao didn't feel like he had slapped a hand but a rock.

He was in so much pain that his hand started trembling uncontrollably, and a burning pain instantly overwhelmed every nerve in his body.

Just as Qin Guobiao was too painful to utter a sound, he saw Qin Xi clenching her fists and punching Qin Ling right in the head.

Chapter 55: Splitting Open the Head

With another scream, a walnut-sized bump appeared on Qin Ling’s forehead in no time. Although there was no blood, this bump still looked painful.

Moreover, everyone found it unbelievable that Qin Xi had such strength. Was her fist made of iron?

Qin Ling was no longer as arrogant as before. His vision was blurred as tears welled up in his eyes due to pain.

“Stop it, you little b*tch. How dare you hit my husband? I’ll kill you!” Lin Keke rushed up excitedly, wanting to scratch Qin Xi’s face with her sharp nails.

When she saw Qin Xi’s bubbly face, she felt consumed with jealousy and wanted to ruin that pretty face.

So, on impulse, she rushed up.

When everyone saw her baring her claws at Qin Xi, they were shocked and thought to themselves, with a swipe of that sharp claw, Qin Xi’s face will certainly be disfigured. I didn’t expect Lin Keke, who appeared to be the quietest one, turned out to be the most vicious woman in the Qin family.

No one could bear to see a pretty girl become unrecognizable. They all either looked away or covered their eyes.

When her long nails were about to land on Qin Xi’s fair face, Lin Keke smiled sinisterly.

Qin Xi snorted disdainfully and casually lifted her leg to kick Lin Keke in the stomach. Lin Keke screamed and was sent flying, smashing into Li Guihua.

“Ouch...”

Li Guihua was dealt a huge blow too. Her back immediately hurt, and she cried out in pain.

“Impressive, impressive, impressive. Wifey, you’re so impressive. Kill these old baddies!” Han Shi jumped around happily when he saw that his wife had knocked down a few of them.

1

The corners of Luo Xiujuan’s mouth twitched. She quickly grabbed Han Shi and warned him in a low voice, “Behave yourself. Be careful or your wife will beat you up too!”

Han Shi quickly covered his mouth and shook his head, indicating that he would stop shouting.

When Zhang Cuiyun saw her son getting beaten up, her eyes got bloodshot. She picked up the shovel leaning against the wall and raised it high to smash it on Qin Xi’s head. She shouted, “Little b*tch, how dare you hit my son? I’ll smash your head open.”

Everyone gasped again. Even Luo Xiujuan and Han Shi’s expressions changed drastically. They shouted anxiously, “Xi/Wifey, be careful!”

However, they were in a distance and could not stop Zhang Cuiyun in time. Seeing that the shovel was about to hit her head, Qin Xi picked Qin Ling up to use him as a shield.

The third time ...

Everyone heard a loud bang as a miserable scream pierced through the sky. Everyone subconsciously reached out to cover their heads and were grateful that they weren't the ones being hit. Otherwise, their heads would probably be split open.

"Ah... My dear son! How are you? Are you ok? Don't scare me!"

Seeing that Qin Ling's head was covered in blood, Zhang Cuiyun was so frightened that her face turned pale. She threw away the bloody shovel in her hand and pounced over.

"How dare you do that to your brother? You b*tch, I didn't teach you well all these years. Today, I'll teach you a lesson in front of the entire village!"

Qin Guobiao did not expect that in the blink of an eye, they would suffer so many casualties. The anger in his heart was ignited as he pointed at Qin Xi and said sternly.

"Bullsh*t. Qin Guobiao, are you a f*cking mad dog that bites everyone you see?"

Outside the door, Han Dazhu strode in, cursing.

Chapter 56: You Are One of the People

Qin Guobiao revealed an embarrassed expression upon seeing Han Dazhu rushing in and scolding him. |

He was already in his seventies. If he was called a dog in front of the entire village, how could he lift his head up in the future?

1

"Lame Han, watch your mouth!" He shouted back angrily.

"Heh, are you ashamed of yourself? I thought your skin was as thick as the city wall."

Han Dazhu walked to Qin Xi's side and glared at the Qin family. "What brought your entire Qin family here today?"

"We are here to take that little b*tch home!" Hu Xiaofeng jumped out and pointed at Qin Xi.

Han Dazhu spat on the ground. "Get lost. It's not your place to talk. Also, you keep calling her a b*tch. Are you telling me you and your entire family are just a bunch of b*tches?"

Everyone burst out laughing.

As expected of the two families, each of them was more sharp-tongued than the other!

Qin Xi almost laughed out loud too. She felt that Grandpa Han was very cute.

Qin Guobiao was so angry that he kept stomping his feet. His face was livid as he pointed at Han Shi and looked at Han Dazhu. “Lame Han, is this how you teach your grandson?”

“What? He’s much better than the scums you raised!” Han Dazhu pointed at the Qin family and said proudly.

“You...”

Qin Guobiao used to be a teacher for a few years, so he considered himself.

However, he was stubborn, inflexible, pedantic, and stubborn. He even thought that he was the head of the Qin family who had a say in everything.

Knowing that Han Dazhu was just a brute, he calmed down and said, “I don’t want to waste my breath on you. I’m here to take her away today!”

“What a joke. Qin Guobiao, did you get kicked in the head by a donkey?” Han Dazhu almost laughed out of anger.

He had never heard of a married daughter being taken back.

He pointed at the Qin family and scolded, “Also, who was the one who chased Qin Xi out a few days ago and cut ties with her? Do you think this is child’s play? Do you think you can go back on your words just like that?”

Qin Guobiao was embarrassed. He said in a muffled voice, “This marriage doesn’t count. Without a marriage license, they’re not a real married couple.”

“Marriage license? Oh, they were going to get a marriage license that day, but Qin Xi was poisoned by that bastard grandson of yours. How dare you have the cheeks to bring that up?” Han Dazhu pointed at Qin Feng, who was hiding in the back.

Qin Guobiao said coldly, “We’ve already compensated her. You don’t have to bring that matter up! No matter what, they’re not officially married until they have a marriage license. I’m her grandfather. If I want to take her away, no one can stop me.”

Han Dazhu stood there like an iron tower. He looked at Qin Guobiao with a burning gaze. “Old thing, are you blind? Can’t you read what is written on the contract?”

“I’m her grandfather!” Qin Guobiao said vocally.

“F*ck off. Do you really think you’re worthy of being her grandfather? Having been a teacher for a few years doesn’t make you any better than others. Qin Guobiao, do you know what kind of people are most despicable? The ones who don’t know shame, and you are definitely one of the people. Take your family and get lost. If you don't get lost, I'll beat you up." As he spoke, Han Dazhu picked up the blood-stained shovel on the ground and was about to raise it.

Chapter 57: Lame Han Is No Longer Lame?

Seeing that Han Dazhu was serious about what he said, the Qin family was a little afraid.

In Shangwan Village, everyone knew that Han Dazhu was a hunter. When he was young, he could take down ferocious wild boars alone. Although he was no longer a hunter and was old, he was still terrifying enough.

Wait a minute.

At this moment, everyone realized something.

Why was Lame Han no longer lame? When they thought about how he walked in just now, he looked no different from a normal person. What was going on?

Everyone was puzzled, except for the Qin family, who were in a state of panic.

At this moment, Wang Qiang's voice sounded from outside the door. "Make way, make way. The village chief is here!"

"What's going on? Can someone tell me?" Liu Shuan glanced at the Qin family who looked equally miserable and asked in a low voice.

Han Dazhu snorted and pointed at Qin Guobiao and the others. "Shuan Zi, the Qin family have no sense of shame. Back then, they were the ones who married off Xi to Han Shi, and they were the ones who took the initiative to cut ties with her. Now, this group of shameless people actually wanted to take Xi back. Shuan Zi, be the judge. We can't allow a family of bandits to live in Shangwan Village."

Qin Guobiao felt short of breath when he was called a bandit.

"If they don't have a marriage license, they're not considered married. Also, I'm the one who gave birth to her. How can the ties be cut so easily? Who's gonna compensate me for raising her up all these years?" Hu Xiaofeng said arrogantly with her hands on her hips. She was the epitome of what being shameless meant.

Luo Xiujuan retorted angrily, "You witch. Do you think we didn't know you gave birth to her just so she could work for the Qin family for free."

The village chief finally had a clue of what was going on. Apparently, the Qin family was going to break their promise and take their daughter back. They simply showed no regard for him as the village chief. If the Qin family really succeeded, wouldn't others copy that and cause Shangwan Village to be in a mess?

The village chief shouted angrily as he pointed at the Qin family, "Horrendous, it's simply horrendous. Do you still have any respect for me as the village chief? Huh? Qin Guobiao, leave immediately with your family. If I find out that you have designs on Qin Xi again, don't blame me for falling out with you!"

Qin Guobiao was Liu Shuan's elder. The fact that he called Qin Guobiao by his full name showed how angry he was.

Qin Guobiao knew that it was not wise to go against the village chief. He glanced at Han Dazhu and Qin Xi, and a sinister look flashed across his eyes. In the end, he could only say coldly, "Let's go!"

Han Dazhu walked up to Liu Shuan and patted him on the shoulder. "Shuan Zi, stay for lunch. I'll treat you to some good wine I just bought."

Liu Shuan shook his head and said with a worried expression, "No, Caiyun hasn't been feeling well recently. Perhaps her old illness is coming back again. I have to go back to cook for her!"

"What? She's sick? Then let your second uncle go and diagnose her!" Han Dazhu was referring to Liu Dequan.

"This is an old illness. There is nothing Second Uncle can do about it. Uncle Han, I'll talk to you later!" Liu Shuan said and left.

Han Dazhu sent him to the door and turned to look at Qin Xi. "Girl, can you..."

Qin Xi said with a smile, "Grandpa, I know what you want to say, but I still have to go to see Doctor Liu first. After all, no one believes that I know medicine!"

Han Dazhu agreed. "Yes, go and discuss it with him!"

Chapter 58: Lab Rat

After lunch, Qin Xi and Han Shi went to Liu Dequan's house.

"Grandma Liu, is Grandpa Liu at home?" Qin Xi asked with a smile when she saw Zhang Huimin feeding the chick.

When Zhang Huimin saw them, she quickly put down the grains in her hand and patted the dust off her hands. She smiled amiably and said, "Oh, you're here. Come in quickly. I made some mung bean soup at noon. Come in and sit. I'll go fetch it for you."

Recently, Qin Xi and Han Shi had been visiting Liu Dequan a lot. She heard from Liu Dequan that Qin Xi was very good at Chinese medicine. At that time, Zhang Huimin didn't believe it. It was only when she heard that Han Dazhu could walk without a walking stick that she was finally convinced.

Moreover, the most rare thing was that Qin Xi wasn't stinky with sharing her knowledge. She taught Liu Dequan an ancient acupuncture technique. Over the past few days, Liu Dequan had been practicing it tirelessly.

"Grandma Liu, there's no need. We're just here to visit you and bring you some vegetables," Qin Xi said and asked Han Shi to put the potatoes and tomatoes in the kitchen.

Zhang Huimin had tasted the vegetables before, so when she saw them bring more, she was overjoyed.

“Hey, Xi, you’re here. Come. There’s something I don’t understand!” Liu Dequan said, coming out from the study room. He pulled her into the study room and asked her one question after another. It was only after more than an hour that he was willing to let Qin Xi out.

Seeing that she had finally come out, Han Shi’s sleepy eyes immediately lit up. He ran to her side and held her soft hand.

Liu Dequan did not see their interaction and asked, “Xi, I forgot to ask you what brought you here today?”

Qin Xi always had something to ask of Liu Dequan every time she came. She did beat about the bush and said, “There’s indeed something. Today, I heard Uncle Liu Shuan said that Auntie Liu fell ill. Grandpa Liu, do you know what illness it is?”

“Yeah, if you didn’t bring it up, I almost forgot it. When she was young, she fell into an ice cave and fell seriously ill. Ever since then, she has been suffering from sequelae. For the past ten years, she has been coughing non-stop and is especially afraid of the cold. Especially in the summer, she’ll sweat a lot. Now that she’s old, her coughing is getting worse. Last time, she even coughed out blood. Sigh, what a bitter life!”

Suddenly, he thought of something and patted his forehead excitedly. “Eh, I’m getting really forgetful. Why didn’t I think about you?”

“Let’s go. Come with me. With your medical skills, you can definitely treat her.”

Qin Xi explained with a smile, “Grandpa Liu, that’s why I’m here today. Uncle Liu definitely won’t believe me if I offer my help. That’s why I need you to go with me.”

Liu Dequan laughed and asked, “By the way, how did you know about her illness?”

With a shake of her head, Qin Xi told Liu Dequan about the Qin family coming to kick up a fuss again, which made Liu Dequan indignant.

He said, “Qin Guobiao is getting more and more like a hooligan as he ages. Hmph, I think I’ll need to refuse to treat the Qin family in the future!”

Seeing that he was acting like a child, throwing a tantrum, Qin Xi was amused. She revealed her canine teeth and said, “Grandpa Liu, you don’t have to do that. Aren’t you practicing the Five Elements Acupuncture Technique? It just so happens that you need some lab rat.”

Liu Dequan’s eyes lit up and he laughed out loud. “Hahahaha, smart, what a smart girl. Next time they come, I’ll show them what I learned.”

At this moment, a shout came from outside the courtyard. “Is Doctor Liu at home? Quick, come and treat my son.”

Speak of the devil!

Qin Xi raised her eyebrows and looked at Liu Dequan with a wicked smile. "Grandpa Liu, the time has come!"

Chapter 59: Ripping Them Off

"Little b*tch, why are you here?"

Zhang Cuiyun and Lin Keke helped the limping Qin Ling into the courtyard and saw Qin Xi and Han Shi sitting under the shade of a tree, drinking mung bean soup with Liu Dequan.

Qin Xi narrowed her eyes. "Who called little b*tch?"

Zhang Cuiyun and Lin Keke said at the same time, "You."

Qin Xi nodded with a smile. "Not bad, not bad. It's a good thing that you know I called you little b*tch."

"You..."

Just as the two of them were about to burst out cursing, Liu Dequan snorted coldly and said with a dark expression, "Are the two of you here to play the boss?"

Zhang Cuiyun and Lin Keke quickly smiled apologetically. "Doctor Liu, I'm sorry. We're here to ask you for help. Please take a look at my son. His head is swollen. Do you think he needs stitches or some poultice? Also, his leg is so painful that he can't even walk on his own. Is it broken?"

As she spoke, Zhang Cuiyun glared at Qin Xi. If not for Qin Xi, her son would not have suffered so much.

Actually, they meant to come straight here to see Doctor Liu when they came out of the Han family. However, Gao Laosan, the old bachelor Qin Lan had knocked over, brought a large group of people to the Qin family to cause trouble. Therefore, only after dealing with Gao laosan did they have time to bring Qin Ling over.

"Come here, let me take a look!" Liu Dequan said in a low voice.

Qin Ling limped over with a pale face. The leg, which had been kicked by Qin Xi, was painful every time it landed on the ground. He looked extremely miserable.

Liu Dequan brushed away Qin Ling's bangs to look at the bump on his forehead carefully. He then checked his leg and took his pulse.

After checking everything, he pondered for a moment and said, "The bump on the head is very serious. It has to be treated with acupuncture! As for the leg, it's just a slight fracture. Not serious at all."

"What? No, Doctor Liu, my husband's head is just swollen. I think his leg is injured the most," Lin Keke asked with concern.

"Do I have to lie to you?"

Liu Dequan was displeased. "He looks like he's fine now, but do you know what kind of trauma he will suffer inside his head? Besides, this is his head, not anywhere else. Do I have to joke with you about this?"

Lin Keke hurriedly apologized, "I-I'm sorry, Doctor Liu. I said something wrong. Don't be angry!"

In a village, there were three kinds of people one should avoid offending at all costs. The first was the village chief, the second was the doctor, and the third was the cripple and the bachelor!

The first two represented authority, while the second two were like plaster. It was very difficult to shake them off.

Therefore, even though the Qin family was an unreasonable bunch, they did not dare to act rashly in front of Liu Dequan.

Zhang Cuiyun held her palms together and said with an ingratiating smile, "Doctor Liu, how much do you think it will cost?"

When she came, her mother-in-law gave her five yuan. Although she also felt that five yuan was a lot, she couldn't guarantee that it would be enough.

Liu Dequan thought for a moment and said, "This injury... Given how serious it is, it will cost at least 10 yuan."

Zhang Cuiyun was dumbfounded. "What? 10 yuan? That expensive? Doctor Liu, I remember that normally you only charge a few cents for treatment in the past. Why do you ask for so much this time?"

Chapter 60: Shut Up!

Liu Dequan had long expected her to ask this question and was prepared with an answer.

"His head is injured, not anywhere else. Also, I just took his pulse, and he's still in shock. If you don't want him to leave any sequela, do as I say. In addition, I will also treat his leg. Do you still think 10 Yuan is too much?"

"Not too much, not too much. 10 yuan is a reasonable price. However, Doctor Liu, I came in a hurry and only had 5 yuan on me. Can we... Can we pay back the rest next time?"

Zhang Cuihua rolled her eyes and said, "Next time, when we fall sick and come to get treated, we'll make it up. How about that?"

She took out a few notes from her pocket and put them together. She handed them to Liu Dequan with a smile.

Throughout the entire time, Qin Xi and Han Shi had been watching from the side and laughing from time to time, making Lin Keke grit her teeth and want to bite the two of them to death.

"That works."

Liu Dequan took the five yuan and said happily, "Then I'll only treat half of his injury. When you bring the rest of the money, I'll treat him the rest! Oh right, I forgot to tell you. He might have a fever tonight. If it doesn't go down, he'll be in big trouble!"

"Big trouble? What big trouble?" Lin Keke asked subconsciously.

Liu Dequan shook his head with a sad look. "It's very likely that his brain will be damaged."

Zhang Cuiyun and Lin Keke were so frightened that their faces turned pale. Zhang Cuiyun said to Lin Keke in a panic, "Keke, go back and ask for another five yuan!"

"Okay, okay!" Lin Keke turned around and ran back.

Qin Xi stole a glance at Liu Dequan. The two of them smiled meaningfully at each other and looked away.

Han Shi looked at his wife and then at Liu Dequan. He pouted and moved his body to sit between the two of them, blocking Qin Xi, who was only 165 centimeters tall.

Although Han Shi only had the IQ of a five-year-old, he was tall and sturdy. Among the villages in this area, he and Han Dazhu were the tallest. The two of them were almost 187 centimeters tall. Moreover, Han Shi's figure was also in the golden ratio. If not for the problem with his IQ, with Han Shi's looks, he would definitely be some kind of celebrity in the village.

Liu Dequan frowned. He could tell that Han Shi was doing it on purpose.

Zhang Cuiyun smiled hypocritically and said, "Doctor Liu, look, my daughter-in-law already went to get the money. Can you start the treatment now?"

"Alright, I'll treat his leg first. Let's go in!" Liu Dequan stood up and walked into the house.

The house had three rooms. One was for Liu Dequan and his wife, and one was for his son. His son was in the city and rarely came back. The other was a simple consultation room where patients were treated.

When they arrived at the consultation room, Liu Dequan asked Qin Ling to lie on the wooden bed. Then, he looked at Zhang Cuiyun and said, "Leave. Xi, stay with me!"

Zhang Cuiyun was displeased. "Doctor Liu, why can she stay but not me? Qin Ling is my son."

Liu Dequan said faintly, "No one is snatching your son from you. Xi is my student now, so I naturally want her to stay."

Zhang Cuiyun's eyes were filled with disbelief. She blurted out, "What? Doctor Liu, are you crazy? Why did you take her in as your disciple? What right does she have to be your disciple? She's just a b*tch who doesn't know anything. She probably doesn't even know how to count to 100."

Liu Dequan's face immediately darkened as he shouted angrily, "Shut up!"
