

N. Machine 131

Chapter: 131

Chun Jongsum then realized Yeowun was talking about using the poison on Bakgi. However, he wasn't sure if Yeowun was talking about his mother or Bakgi. But it didn't matter as Yeowun was certain that he had noticed something.

"Hmph. What about it?"

"Red dots on Bakgi. Did you think I wouldn't notice it?"

Chapter: 132

Yeowun then grabbed the fist and shook his head.

"Idiot. You should've just stayed down."

"AAAAAARGH!"

Chapter: 133

However, before Chun Jongsum could yell, Yeowun pressed on his blood point. Jongsum couldn't even yell and he turned pale from the fear.

'D-dammit!'

He loved the forest because people rarely came here, and now it was working against him.

Chapter: 134

Chun Jongsum became furious. The real culprit was hiding behind the six clans, and the fact that his mother died because of it only made him angrier.

'No! It's not my mother! It's not!'

However, he had no way to find out who the red-veiled lady was. So, Chun Jongsum decided to become the future Lord and find who was behind the incident. He would then wipe out her entire family to avenge his mother.

Chapter: 135

Chun Jongsum barely nodded. This was all he knew, but if Chun Yeowun yearned for vengeance, then he was going to find out no matter what.

[So please... don't destroy my internal energy at least.]

Chun Yeowun asked Jongsum with a suspicious look, "So... how do you know this?"

Chapter: 136

"Do something about him first!"

Chun Yeowun threw the man down on the bed. It was Chun Jongsum.

"Nnnnrgh...!"

Chapter: 137

'I have to let him live.'

The best way was to make Nano analyze the poison and detoxify it, but Nano said it was not possible to move into another person's body.

'Why can't you?'

Chapter: 138

"It's Sulfuric Poison, so it includes poison fish, poisonous mushrooms, plague insects, blue oak, and red extracts."

"Oh..."

Yeowun quickly listed off the poisons inside Jongsum and Jongmeng was shocked. It was unbelievable when Yeowun didn't even extract the poison to study it.

Chapter: 139

Yeowun stopped and looked back curiously.

“Let me ask you something.”

“Yeah.”

Chapter: 140

“Let’s hope nothing happens.”

Hu Bong’s concern became a reality. Early in the morning the next day, three instructors came to Yeowun and his members in the forest nearby where they were going to train. One of those instructors was Impeng.

“You’ve done a foolish thing.”
