

N. Machine 141

Chapter: 141

Yeowun then sighed in relief. At least the worst-case scenario did not happen. Hameng shook his head.

“Hmph. It’s too early to feel relieved.”

It was as Hameng said. If he had to return the yellow tag, it meant he would lose the right to become a leader. After five days in prison, it would give him only one day to get the tag back when he came out. But would there be any instructors left with a yellow tag on the last day?

Chapter: 142

“Do you know what follows for the one who fails to clean up after his mess?”

“...”

“It is death. The ruckus you caused is exactly what you are bringing upon yourself.”

Chapter: 143

“Instructors, come in.”

“Huh?”

After Hameng gave the order, the instructors immediately walked into the office.

Chapter: 144

Chun Kungwun of the Sword Clan also liked what he saw on the announcement. Chun Muyun of the Wise Clan, however, didn’t pay much attention. He just glanced at the announcement and walked away.

However, there were those who were beyond shocked. It was Chun Yeowun’s team members. Luckily, Yeowun had not been expelled, but they were now teamless.

‘There will be one day left when the Master comes back. Will there be any yellow tags available until then?’

Chapter: 145

Inside the cave, there was only one small candle that brightened the area. Yeowun bit on the hard grain.

'Ugh, this is terrible.'

Chun Yeowun was given five days worth of grains and was locked here to train alone. The entrance was sealed tight and the cave was dark and stuffy, which made it harder to train. Nonetheless, Chun Yeowun didn't feel too bad while spending his time here as he was training with Augmented Reality.

Chapter: 146

'Grandson?'

Yeowun's eyes shook. There was no way he couldn't understand it.

'The Poison Clan!'

Chapter: 147

'I would have killed him right now if it wasn't for the academy.'

Baek Oh became frustrated. He didn't think to kill him at first. As Yeowun said, if he killed Yeowun here, the Poison Clan was going to be seen as the suspect and the Lord would not look over this. His main reason for visiting him here today was to see Yeowun's face and warn him.

"You are clever. But you still have a lot more to go. Since you hurt my grandson, you have brought this upon yourself."

Chapter: 148

"Please make sure no one else knows about this."

"Of course. I will bring this to my grave."

Normally, not even the leaders of the six clans were allowed into the Demonic Academy. Lee Hameng was worried about the Poison Clan retaliating against Chun Yeowun out of rage and that was why he sent the letter to request them to not attack Chun Yeowun, at least inside the academy.

Chapter: 149

'...He really did give me a gift then.'

Baek Oh's small gift had turned out to be a huge gift. Chun Yeowun's internal energy was now within the top five out of all the cadets.

'I would have died if it wasn't for Nano.'

Chapter: 150

He then looked up to where he had come from. The entrance he went through looked more like an air vent from what he saw from below. The space he was in now was very wide.

"Whoa."

Countless light-emitting stones were on top, brightening the entire place with the green light. It was so bright that it was hard to even look up at it.
