

N. Machine 171

Chapter: 171

“I’m sure you, as a guardian, know about this better than me.”

Lee Hameng narrowed his eyes. He knew what Jinchang was trying to say. Hou Jinchang mumbled to Hameng who was looking down silently.

“That sword movement... if I’m not wrong, it was very close to the Lord’s Sword Art of the Sky Demon. No... it was similar, but something much more.”

Chapter: 172

Hou Sangwha was serious. It seemed like she was mindful of the fact that she was a girl. Yeowun couldn’t just answer simply, but he already had the answer since a long time ago.

“...If a talented individual wants to join me, then I have no reason not to accept. Gender or clan do not matter.”

Chun Yeowun had been discriminated and bullied for not coming from the six clans. He wanted to overthrow such things from the start.

Chapter: 173

It was possible to become stronger, but having loyalty was not something that could be easily achieved.

“Ohh!”

The cadet teared up because of the welcome. He then began pounding the ground with his forehead, bowing.

Chapter: 174

‘...He’s different from before.’

Bakgi was surprised. If it was the same Yeowun from the medical room five days ago, he would have been angry after hearing this. But now he just focused on listening to what had happened with icy eyes. It was foolish to be concerned about the possibility that Yeowun might run after Ha Ilming for revenge. Yeowun was angry, but he kept a cool mindset.

'He still hasn't fixed his ways.'

Chapter: 175

"W-why are you...!"

"What's the surprise?"

They didn't know Yeowun was out of prison yet. But there was more. Seven more cadets appeared from the corner of the building.

Chapter: 176

He tried to go easy as best as he could, but...

"ARGH!"

As his fist struck the stomach, Penghak's eyes grew wide and he spat blood out from his mouth. His body was also thrown up about three meters into the air, and flew all the way back.

Chapter: 177

"You said you all sold me out. What does that mean?"

"...I'm sorry."

"You've already done it, so don't give me that bullshit. Who did you make a deal with?"

Chapter: 178

"T-that's..."

He didn't say he would give two. But he couldn't tell the truth in front of everyone since it would surely cause problems.

"Did he say he would give only one?"

Chapter: 179

'Dammit!'

With the 12th group cadets turning their backs on them, the situation had turned upside down. Ha Ilming's group was now trapped. He needed at least twice the number of Yeowun's team to defeat them, but they were outnumbered.

'What happened?'

Chapter: 180

"What?!"

Ha Ilming was shocked. His wooden sword was simply caught by Yeowun's left hand. Ha Ilming unleashed his energy to pull it away from Yeowun.

'W-what! It won't even move!'
