

N. Machine 201

Chapter: 201

Mun Ku was able to hear Chun Yuchan's downfall just one minute after his decision.

"I'm not sure if I have the right to be happy though."

He felt good that Chun Yuchan was in pain, but it didn't feel like he had fulfilled his wish since he couldn't do it on his own. Mun Ku sighed and looked up at Yeowun.

Chapter: 202

[Master, if a group leader level cadet knelt down, then it is likely he will join us for the greater cause. Maybe we should make an exception and...]

Yeowun shook his head.

"I cannot make an exception for any circumstances."

Chapter: 203

'What? A girl?'

Yeowun's eyes widened. So, it was actually a girl who was hiding under a boy's mask. Mun Ku did talk a bit like a girl, but it didn't seem to be out of place.

'What is he doing?'

Chapter: 204

"Take care of the girl cadets."

From thinking about the group training or dormitories, Yeowun thought that girls needed to be with girls and Hou Sangwha was the best within the girl group. Now, two tags were left.

"Next, Gallen."

“...Okay.”

Yeowun answered hesitantly. Mun Ku then leaned back against the building wall with her limp leg and started talking.

“This face is the face of my twin brother.”

Chapter: 206

Yeowun then lost all suspicion he had of her. For the first time, he fully understood another person’s problem.

‘He’s very serious.’

Mun Ku grinned at Yeowun, who was seriously listening to her story.

Chapter: 207

“Here! Hold it up with both your hands.”

“Huh? Like this?”

“Yeah!”

Chapter: 208

So, even when he fought 321st cadet Han Pengwon who lacked ten years of internal energy compared to Mukeum, it took a total of thirty formation battles. Mukeum also had pain in his left shoulder where Pengwon had injured him.

“Bastard!”

Mukeum became annoyed that he was injured by a mere warrior from a high-ranked clan, and kicked Pengwon’s stomach although the boy had already passed out.

Chapter: 209

“It’s okay. I’ve been through this so much now... I’m used to it. Y-you can go ahead too. Don’t mind me.”

Ku had been with the other boys before she came to this room. It was apparent she had seen this happen multiple times already. But Yeowun only saw Ku diving into the book with a blush on her face.

'...How can I not mind?'

Chapter: 210

Seventeen cadets all lined up with wooden swords in their hands. Most of them had just become top-class warriors, so the Seven Demon Sword was their first top-class martial art. They were used to the skill after reading the book already.

'Finally we're learning from our master!'

Hu Bong looked at Yeowun with anticipation. The other cadets also looked forward to being taught by Yeowun as they knew how powerful he was. However, since there were too many people here, they probably wouldn't get the chance to watch Yeowun one on one.
