

N. Machine 251

Chapter: 251

[Sample-37 was created after the breathing skill from fourth floor was analyzed.]

“What?!”

Therefore, that meant it was created two days ago. Yeowun was so shocked that he didn't know what to say. He knew Nano was analyzing the internal energy, but he didn't think Nano would be able to create a breathing skill on its own.

Chapter: 252

“I heard teaching is a good way to train. I will do that.”

Ko Wanghur, Bakgi and Che Takim answered respectively and Yeowun nodded. And his preparation to go into the closed room was almost done. Yeowun looked forward to the day when would come out of the closed room to meet his members who had gotten much more powerful.

“Then I wish you all good luck.”

Chapter: 253

‘W-what?! Why am I an idiot?’

Wo Sojung was not well regarded among the female cadets. After the two of them, there were now five cadets who had failed the test within the academy. And there weren't any challengers to the instructors for a while.

Exactly a year after Yeowun entered the closed room, there were many who passed the fourth test. On the fifth month, Hou Sangwha and Che Takim also passed the fourth test. In addition, there were other cadets who had passed, and one of them was Sama Chak. On the six month, Yeowun's crew began to have cadets who had now become master level warriors. Ja Wumin, Ojong, Im Yuhan, and Kong Jino all became master warriors.

Chapter: 254

“At least they aren't alone,” Hou Sangwha commented.

But Ko Wanghur shook his head.

“Two is not enough.”

Chapter: 255

Kungwun then signaled his men, and three cadets attacked Hu Bong.

‘Dammit!’

Hu Bong bit his lips and tried to fight back with the Sword of Illusion. It was then, when the three cadets stopped in place. They were stuck as if the time around them had stopped.

Chapter: 256

“You aren’t going anywhere!”

Kungwun charged at Mun Ku who then began to fight against Chun Kungwun. The fight between two grandmasters looked equal, but Mun Ku had to focus all her concentration.

“Fool! A weaker clan member like you should never cross lines with us!”

Chapter: 257

“You all started it first, so you can’t end it whenever you want to,” Yeowun seethed. He had no intention of letting them go for attacking his members.

“If you give us no choice, then we will... UGH!”

Yeowun reached Kingpo before he can finish talking. Nobody could even track his movements. Kingpo tried to swing his sword, but it was too late.

Chapter: 258

‘What’s with this strength!’

And even without the power, Yeowun’s physical strength was like a monster.

“How? Are you asking about those pieces of trash?”

Chapter: 259

They saw Mun Ku excitedly talking to a long-haired, pale young man. Below them was a man with his right arm cut off and a crushed face that they couldn't figure out who it was.

“W-wait. Maybe...”

“OHHHH!”

Chapter: 260

“Whoaaaaaaa!”

“M-master is now a superior warrior?!”

“I can't believe it!”