

N. Machine 271

Chapter: 271

“This...?!”

Yeowun’s eyes grew large. His force qi was not blue anymore. Just like the man in his illusion, his force qi was dark. And the force qi unleashed ominous aura from it. Yeowun then swung the black sword-wielding dark force qi at the wall.

The wall was cut down as if it was like a paper. It was amazing.

Chapter: 272

After reaching the superior level, Yeowun’s blood points were fully opened and all toxic elements were pushed out. But as a human, it was natural to stack these toxic elements while living a normal life. If what Nano said was true, this liquid had tremendous power of pushing out even the slightest toxic element from the body.

‘So, this liquid is not just any liquid then!’

Yeowun then realized this liquid was blood from the dragon serpent. It gave little effect to him, but if it was consumed by his members, it was going to allow them to push out any toxic elements and help them use energy more freely.

Chapter: 273

It wasn’t sure if such a durable piece can be created into a sword, but he decided to meet the blacksmith tomorrow. And when that was finished, Yeowun went straight to the main building of the academy. At the front of the building, among three instructors who were together with him on the fifth test, the youngest instructor called Ma Yun was waiting.

“You took your time, Leader Chun.”

“I’m sorry. The smell wouldn’t come off.”

Chapter: 274

“It’s made with cold steel.”

There was a small etching that said 'Demonic Cult' on the blade, with a hint of sword qi from the etch. It seemed like it was etched by a warrior.

"That etching is left by the Lord himself. It is a gift given directly from the Lord, only given to masters."

Chapter: 275

"Leader Chun! Long time no see."

"Long time no see, Instructor."

"Oh, wait. I guess I shouldn't call you Leader anymore."

Chapter: 276

'W-what is this?!'

He had expected to see many sword markings on the back, but there were no marks of whatsoever. There were no markings of the counter sword skill, nor the marking of the Sword Force of the Sky Demon. Instead, there was just a small hole in the middle.

'Why isn't there anything here?'

Chapter: 277

Yeowun slumped down on the ground and began to meditate. As he entered a trance, a vibrant light began to shine out from him in every color and powerful energy shot out from him, causing a rush of wind across the room. Books fell down and it caused a ruckus.

"W-what?! What is going on?!"

The grandmaster level warrior, Gamgung, who guarded the fifth floor, was shocked and looked at Yeowun. The way he was shining in vibrant light meant that Yeowun had earned a great understanding and was moving up into a higher level.

Chapter: 278

'Oh.'

But there was a problem.

“...I’m sorry. I made a mess in this place.”

Chapter: 279

“I’ve looked over enough.”

“Huh? Uh...”

Yeowun had scanned every book so he did look at it enough, but this sounded like Yeowun did not find any books that matched his power to the warrior. It might have sounded very arrogant, but it was something a powerful warrior like Yeowun could say.

Chapter: 280

‘She would be terrified if I tell her the truth.’

Yeowun thought Hou Sangwha might be too frightened and would not want to take the fifth test, so he decided to keep quiet about the truth. When Bakgi came to the room, Yeowun brought the bowl that he had stored at the storage.

“Ugh!”