

N. Machine 281

Chapter: 281

Hu Bong bowed with the cup and drank it.

“Kyaaaa! Good!”

He then placed it upside down on top of his head.

Chapter: 282

He was curious as to what kind of blade could be created with the horn of a dragon serpent. He thought about asking for a sword, but he had the black sword already so there was no need for it.

“Oh, and you will be given cold steel. Will you make a sword with it?”

“Didn’t you said I could get only one weapon made?”

Chapter: 283

‘So, he is not aware of my power then.’

This was also partly because Yeowun had hid his energy intentionally. After reaching the end stage of the superior level, Yeowun was able to control his inner energy completely and set the energy almost equal to when he entered the academy years ago. He realized that it was better to hide his energy than to show it off. He had gotten so powerful that Lee Hameng couldn’t even see through it.

“Master Chun, are you really sure? I will not ask again.”

Chapter: 284

“There are the ninth to twelfth elders.”

“Ah...”

This meant every high-ranking elder was out. As far as Yeowun knew, the six clans’ elders were from the first to sixth elders so this meant that he was not allowed to fight any of those elders. Lee Hameng of course knew what Yeowun wanted.

Chapter: 285

Baek Chau spoke to object Baek Munho's idea. Only good thing to come from killing Yeowun was that they killed a possible future enemy. But the price was to be cast out from the Lord and be pushed out from the six clans.

"You all are idiots!"

"Who are you to say that!"

Chapter: 286

Ou Sunong almost dropped to the ground at the sudden sound coming from his back. He was able to find his calm after watching Yeowun who was standing near the entrance of the room.

"Why didn't you let me know that you were here? Haha. Wait a second."

Sunong then walked into the processing room and returned with the completed blade.

Chapter: 287

"L-leader of the Poison clan!"

Everyone realized it was Baek Oh the Poison Demon and began to mumble in shock. Some guessed Yeowun would choose one of the elders from six clans, but they didn't expect it to be Baek Oh.

'It's crazy... it's the Poison man!'

Chapter: 288

"You may begin!"

At that moment, Baek Oh jumped out like lightning and charged into the front of Yeowun.

'I will kill you right now!'

Chapter: 289

'Is he trying to seal my movement?'

Yeowun then reached out at the white blade's handle. As he pulled up, the white blade revealed itself. Baek Oh, who have not heard or seen such a white and narrow blade, scoffed.

'Do you think you can block my cold steel staff with such blade?!'

Chapter: 290

'Lady Mu. Others can kill him too.'

Baek Oh thought that Chun Yeowun was merely entry to the superior level, that any elders can kill him as well. But Lady Mu's thought was different.

'No. The only elder who is left in the cult who can kill him is you... it's because you are...'
