

N. Machine 341

Chapter: 341

At the same time, at mansion of Wise clan to the north of the castle.

Middle aged woman was sitting down at the living room, watching reddened sky. It was Lady Mu of the Wise clan. And as she drank her tea, warriors from Wise clan walked into the yard valiantly. AT the front, there was old man with long white hair, and middle aged man with long beard. Warriors to their back was carrying two young men who had passed out. They laid down two men in front of Lady Mu. Old man smiled and spoke to Lady Mu.

“As you said, we found him hiding near the Sword clan’s mansion. He was quite strong.”

Chapter: 342

‘He does not have any weapon.’

He did not carry blade or sword that he always carried around. Warriors from Wise clan checked that he was unharmed and raised a flag.

And with that, all warriors began flashing flags, that continued through the mansion of the Poison clan. AT the mansion, there were large courtyard where hundred warriors were waiting with arms. And on top of the building, there were archers, who readied to fire the moment they saw flags coming up. On the inside of the building, there was a table with Lady Mu sitting down on the chair, and drinking tea. On side of her, old man and man with long beard was standing like a guard.

Chapter: 343

The voice of bearded man. It was same as the voice of telepathic message that threatened Yeowun at the restaurant. The man then suddenly got scared at Yeowun remembering him, and reached out with his hand that wielded energy.

“Your time is done!”

And when his hand almost reached at Yeowun’s stomach, Yeowun quickly snatched the man’s wrist.

Chapter: 344

“How did you...! UGH!”

But before he can finish, powerful energy pressed him down, sending him down on his knees. Even if his internal energy wasn't sealed, this energy was too powerful for him to resist. Person walked up to Muyun who knelt down. The candle light lit up the man's face. It was Chun Yeowun.

'How did he come here?'

Chapter: 345

"Two hands aren't enough. Will she be afraid if her son will die just by looking at this?"

Chun Muyun, even in his pain, chilled to the bones at that words. It was so terrifying to even think about what Chun Yeowun will try to do, if cutting hands weren't enough.

'I-is he a demon?!'

Chapter: 346

"Now, I've done my part so you should do yours. Where is my boy? You came here alone, so I'll send one of my own to fetch him."

This was what she planned. She was going to feign that she was agreeing to the hostage trade and kill those holding Muyun, and return back to the original state. But it wasn't sure if Chun Yeowun will take the bite. If she was in Yeowun's position, she would never spill the location until she receives her hostage first.

"Hmmm..."

Chapter: 347

They tried to shoot at the intruder, but the man was too fast that they couldn't even aim. The intruder jumped over the building and down at the courtyard.

"W-what?! W-why are you... how?!"

Lady Mu looked at the man with dumbfounded look. The man had fiery red long hair. It was Left Guardian Lee Hameng.

Chapter: 348

Old man flinched and turned, and Lee Hameng's red sword was penetrating into the old man's neck.

'No...!'

And that was the last sight the old man saw in his life.

Chapter: 349

"Kill Guard Jang?"

"You think I can't do..."

But before she can finish, archers standing guard over at the roof shouted.

Chapter: 350

'W-what is that energy?'

'It feels like he's strangling our heart!'

Warriors from Wise clan shivered at such terrifying energy. The aura coming out from end stage of supreme level warrior was not something they can resist.
