

N. Machine 351

Chapter: 351

Mu Jinyun was brought over by Hu Bong who held Jinyun by back of his neck. It seems Chun Muyun was only one who had been injured badly, as Jinyun only had some minor bruises over his face. Jinyun however couldn't look up directly to Lady Mu out of shame.

Lady Mu gritted her teeth. She too was a mother. She had been scared from realizing she had lost, but looking at her son made her furious.

'Chun... Yeo... wun...!!!'

Chapter: 352

"You think I will forgive you for just bowing down?"

"What?"

"Feel what it is like to see your loved ones in pain."

Chapter: 353

No matter of their fury, they couldn't dare to cross the line. They knew well that crossing that line meant their instant death. Lee Hameng's fame was not something they can just take lightly. But of course, there were some brave, or reckless ones also.

"I'll kill you all!!!"

The middle-aged man with a long beard that had his wrist snapped off by Yeowun roared and charged against Yeowun, trying to kill him. But his body was cut in half even before he got closer to Yeowun.

Chapter: 354

Yeowun kicked Lady Mu's stomach before she can finish and she was thrown all the way back. It didn't wield any energy, but powerful force pushed her back, twisting her organs. Blood began to come over her throat as she got up in pain and Yeowun walked over to her.

"Do you think you will die comfortably when you killed my mother?"

“?!”

Chapter: 355

“Yes, prince. What should we do?”

“Write... down... what... I... say...”

Chun Jongsum made Baek Seng write down everything Jongsum knew revolving around Lady Hwa's death and made it sent to Chun Yeowun at once. Chun Jongsum cried in joy for getting a chance to avenge him, first time after he began his life in the bed. But the fate was dire for the Poison clan. Just as Chun Jongsum planned so that Yeowun and the Wise clan can fight each other, Lady Mu had planned to fake that Yeowun fought against remnants of the Poison clan.

Chapter: 356

“Are you not afraid of the aftermath!? We are not in our full force here! First Elder will never forgive you if he finds out what happened here!!”

“IF he finds out, that is.”

“W-what?!”

Chapter: 357

Lee Hameng spoke and Yeowun glared down at Lady Mu, who he was stepping above. It was her last moment, but he needed to do something first.

“11th Elder.”

“Yes~ Prince?”

Chapter: 358

And at the office of the Ghost Illusion clan, many people were coming in to report to Huan Yi. Huan Yi was sitting on this desk to work in a long time. A middle aged man reported to him.

“Our men from the Bijak streets returned. We are spreading ill rumors, and people are now focusing on the Wise clan.”

“Good work.”

Chapter: 359

“I’m sorry to say...”

Yeowun turned grim. Jongmeng then thought maybe Yeowun had mistaken what he was going to say, so quickly continued.

“Oh- what I’m saying is that all of his teeth are pulled so he might have to live with soup for rest of his life.”

Chapter: 360

Return of the Lord. Everyone heard what the 11th Elder Huan Yi spoke while ago. He said that Lord was on his way back and was probably five days away. Yeowun needed to move to achieve the goal. He needed two more approvals.

‘I was able to get rid of Lady Mu from Wise clan since Lord and elders from six clans were missing. But when they return, the fight will only get harder.’

If they return, it was apparent that they will do everything in their power to press on Chun Yeowun. He needed to be ready for anything before that. There was Mun Yun, 8th elder and grandfather of Mun Ku, but there was no way to ask if he will approve Yeowun as the heir, so he needed to prepare for the alternative.
