

N. Machine 361

Chapter: 361

“Huh?”

Hu Bong became curious. The gate of the mansion was locked, but there were no guards standing guard like other clans. The mansion was also very small that it didn't have multiple buildings like other clans mansions were.

“No guards. And very quiet too.”

Chapter: 362

“I will have to excuse you.”

“Yes?”

Chun Yeowun then brought up powerful energy and exploded out toward the mansion. Yeowun's energy at the supreme level was enough to provoke equal level warrior.

Chapter: 363

Ko Wanghur and Mun Ku also felt the energy bit after Yeowun, and became shocked. This was as powerful as the energy that unleashed from Chun Yeowun just a moment ago. It was certain that this energy was coming from the owner of this mansion. That's when the staff ran out in a pale face and spoke to Yeowun and his members.

“M-master wants you to come in.”

10th Elder Yin Moha invited them in. Yeowun nodded and walked into the mansion. As he walked over the gate, there was a large yard that was filled with sand and the building that Yin Moha lived.

Chapter: 364

Yin Moha's powerful sword formation that was combined with 18 sword movement charged toward Chun Yeowun.

'Second formation...!'

Chun Yeowun who had the book of True Demon Sword transferred already, acknowledged the formation right away. The power was amazing. But Yeowun knew what this formation was in every detail.

Chapter: 365

“How did you learn that sword skill?”

“Fool. How do you know the True Demon Sword?”

Yin Moha did not hide that what she used was True Demon Sword anymore. She understood that the counter-attack that Yeowun did was only possible when the one knew the formation to every detail. It wasn't just happened from talent or luck.

Chapter: 366

Yeowun turned grim. It was astounding when Yin Moha used the True Demon Sword, but it wasn't as much as now. She jumped out and charged with ordinary sword movement.

‘Huh? Where did I see that from somewhere?’

‘Seven Demon Sword?’

Chapter: 367

Yin Moha accepted her defeat. Yeowun was worried what she might do, as she seemed to be a stubborn type so it was fortunate that she accepted her loss willingly.

“So, can you tell me where you learned those sword skills?”

What made Yeowun most shocking was the sword formation Yin Moha used at the last. The sword formation comprised of twenty-four movements, was the first formation of the Twenty Four Demon Sword that Sword Demon created after fighting against Blade God. But it seemed she had not learned it to its fullest, so it was unstable.

Chapter: 368

Yeowun asked seriously and she sighed deeply. She wanted to be asked of this question ever since she became the leader of the Demonspread Sword clan. The cult was under control of six clans for long time. Even the Chun family now had blood of these six clans — no matter how hard Demonspread Sword clan tried, its claims were shunned.

'Prince not from any of the six clans...'

Maybe it was a chance to talk to the prince who had no relation to them. She hesitated for a long time and spoke.

Chapter: 369

Yeowun was astonished. He thought that Sword Demon's apprentices were only filled with greed, when he first heard from Lee Hameng at the underground treasure vault. But there was actually an apprentice who succeeded true will of the Sword Demon.

"...You did this for 500 years. It is truly astonishing. So, the Demonspread Sword clan is the true descendant of the Sword Family."

"Ah..."

Chapter: 370

Yin Moha became dumbfounded. Everyone knew that Sword Demon had left no skill book of any kind before he died. And if there was any left, then Wise and Sword clan, most powerful clans at the time would have taken it for themselves.

"B-but there's no way Sword Demon would have left a book..."

She became confused and Yeowun spoke to her.
