

N. Machine 501

Chapter: 501

“Aaaaaaaaargh!!!!!”

Chun Yeowun’s hand, which was empty until now, had the Sky Demon Sword glowing with black force qi. Yi Burwi screamed in pain while he grabbed his shoulder. His body had grown so tough to even withstand against force qi, but it was cut off easily.

“Aaaargh... M-my arm... my arm!!”

Chapter: 502

‘We have no choice.’

[I’ll defend him. Go kill the Lord!]

One of the warriors unleashed force qi and struck Bu Churyong. He wasn’t sure how long he could withstand the powerful warrior, but he had to buy time.

Chapter: 503

And as former leader Yi Burkem said, the messenger really appeared, even when it required them to show their hidden identity to Yulin. Yi Burwi was glad that time had finally come, but the plan was now over.

And in Yi Burwi’s ear, he heard a whistle from outside. His eyes made it seem like he had been waiting for this, so Yeowun asked curiously, “What is it?”

“Keke... You think you won? You think you are victorious?”

Chapter: 504

“What? Ugh... hah... you red haired idiot. Think where we are before picking a fight with me.”

“Just go to sleep if you can’t stay still.”

“You!”

Chapter: 505

Yeowun spoke casually and Yi Burwi became shocked. If Yeowun really sent his members to the prison, then Yi Burwi failed with every plan that he made.

“You should be worried about yourself.”

“Ugh... YOU!!!”

Chapter: 506

“Ugh.. we are late.”

The heat blocked them from the outside. The entire mansion was oiled so it would burn, and the flame was taking everything away. All they could do was contain the fire so it wouldn't spread in another way. While Mong Oh and his groups worked to put out the fire, remaining groups led by Ja Kinkeng began searching through the castle to find ones related to the Buju Sword clan.

Three days passed. Lot of things happened during those times. The fire at the Buju Sword clan's mansion was put out but there were no survivors. Most bodies were all burned up, and the bodies found where the fire did not burn it all were also dead as they killed themselves. Everything was planned so that they could remove every trace. And the Buju Sword clan wasn't the only one. The Sword clan was also searched thoroughly and those who had a relationship to the Buju Sword clan were all found dead. The only survivor was Yi Burwi, so he was treated for his cut limbs and was now locked to go under investigation. All members from the Sword clan were arrested to undergo investigation as well and all groups owned by them were disbanded.

Chapter: 507

“I guess it is likely that they are involved in this.”

“From what we can see... that is most likely.”

Yeowun had guessed that the Buju Sword clan was related to the Blade God Six Martial clan already. He had a reason for this suspicion. Those who were captured as prisoners were quiet, but there was one mystery that was solved by the incident.

Chapter: 508

Yeowun scanned his head with MRI, but didn't find anything strange. He wasn't sure why Chun Yujong was still under an illusion and why he couldn't wake up.

[There is no similar recorded data, so correct analysis is impossible.]

Nano said the only way to analyze correctly was to send in a Nano machine, but it said that was impossible as it was forbidden by the program.

Chapter: 509

'We have to get as much as we can beforehand.'

If Yeowun wanted to sit on the throne, then he will have to duke it out with the three clans, just like the other Lords did. Yeowun shook his head and laughed. He then lightly touched the new throne and walked past it to sit on the Lord's throne.

'Huh?'

Chapter: 510

"I believe we can talk about that after our Lord wakes up from his sick bed. It's better for us to move onto the next topic."

Third Elder Bu Churyong spoke to finish the topic. But he was talking to other elders and clan leaders so that he could get their agreement.

'So, we have become this powerless.'
