

N. Machine 631

Chapter: 631

His eyes were cold but he was boiling from the inside. When Wang Jing returned from his travel, he found his hideout destroyed with ice all over the place, and he realized his daughter had gone berserk and was stopped by an unknown warrior and became concerned.

'...That place.'

He then saw a large mansion in his eyes. On the gate, it read the 'Demonic Cult' on it. The cold trace continued into the outpost of the Demonic Cult. The man grimaced.

Chapter: 632

'Your granddaughter made that.'

The one who made the medicine was Gam Miyan, but Bunwang did not say it. Yeowun told him to stay silent about most of the things he knew if Buwang wanted to get help.

"What you just said... did you heal someone with this disease before?"

Chapter: 633

"One way is impossible right now, and another one... I don't think she nor you will like the way it will be done."

What would be the way that he and his sister would not want? Bunwang asked, "And what is that way?"

"It's very weird, but the starting point of energy explosion starts toward the vaginal area."

Chapter: 634

"Let me warn YOU instead. If you don't want to end up like this, bring my children that you kidnapped."

There were four warriors on the ground in front of the man. They charged at him when the man came into the gate, but they were quickly subdued in a matter of seconds. Jiheng shouted, "Why are you looking for your children here?! Who are you anyway!"

The man raised his eyebrow disgust. He still felt the cold energy within the buildings.

Chapter: 635

'Is that him who's doing this?'

The man looked at him.

Yeowun heard Nano speaking to him.

Chapter: 636

"Were we just up against one of the top five warriors?!"

The atmosphere became frantic. Even if they were courageous warriors of the cult, it was rare that they got to witness a glimpse of the top five warriors. Yeowun then spoke to the man.

"Are you Sir Wang Jing?'

Chapter: 637

Yeowun sealed her once more just an hour ago. But this amount of coldness meant that the seal was broken. Wang Jing shouted, "Lord!"

"Follow me!"

Yeowun ran toward the guesthouse and Wang Jing quickly followed. As they went to the guesthouse, cold air was storming around the building, freezing everything around it. In the yard in front of the house, Hu Bong was bleeding from his mouth as he protected Gam Rosu, and two others were standing against Yogun who was standing tall with her silver hair fluttering through the wind.

Chapter: 638

Yeowun was astonished. Wang Jing was surely worthy to be considered as one of the top five warriors of Yulin.

"Yogun."

Wang Jing called out to his daughter with a concerned look. He knew that his daughter would be in bad shape from the severe coldness, but she was in a terrible state.

Chapter: 639

“Whew,” Yeowun sighed. Yeowun was also very depressed to see Mun Ku in such a way. Others might have liked to take this chance and have mysterious and beautiful Yogun for himself, but Chun Yeowun did not want this.

‘Another woman...?’

Yeowun decided that he would only love one woman in his entire life. After experiencing the tragedy that revolved around the six clans, Yeowun had learned that having many wives and children only brought chaos.

Chapter: 640

Wang Jing then went down on both knees. Everyone around became shocked at his sudden action. Wang Jing, Dual Martial Sword and one of top five warriors of Yulin came down on his knees.

“Sir Wang Jing...!”

Yeowun frowned and tried to have him stand up but Wang Jing refused as he shook his head. He then spoke in begging voice.