

N. Machine 701

Chapter: 701

The ominous energy exuding from the court ladies penetrated their minds, but they were soldiers who were trained to fight till the very end. They weren't the kind who would step back without fighting.

"Haaaaa!"

A military officer with a spear rushed towards a court lady. The spear, imbued with internal energy, split into five, drawing out exquisite trajectories, trying to cut the lady.

Chapter: 702

Gooooooh!

The court ladies, who could feel the heat rising in their bodies, approached them at a terrifying speed to wring their hearts. The recruits and the officers eventually got tired of running and failing at attacking the ladies who seemed to be immortal.

On the other hand, Elder Khum who witnessed it all, was gloating inside.

Chapter: 703

He was frightened at the sudden attack and tried to protect his blood points, but it was too late. The fire seeped into his body and scorched his innards. Even in his last moments, the Superior Master Warrior managed to pull out the sword Qi with preciseness and slit the throat of a court lady.

Slash!

The court lady, who saw her colleague's neck get slit, grabbed the man's throat.

Chapter: 704

"How were these monsters part of the house?"

They were unaware that the demons had disguised themselves as humans. Unlike the warriors who couldn't shut their mouths with surprise, the court ladies halted and ran towards the warriors who had used Blood Reversion.

Kwak!

Chapter: 705

“GGRRRRRRR!”

The beast-like men moved and attacked every lady who rushed towards them. However, the inspection maids were faster than the previous ones, they kept on moving, bouncing from one place to another.

Jump! Jump! Jump!

Chapter: 706

She, who had turned her gaze away, was actually waiting for Elder Khum to attack her, she grabbed him by the neck as he neared her. Yeonwol's eyes, which had been fine till a moment ago, turned yellow.

“You have a bad habit. Elder Khum.”

“Kuak... kuk! Ugh!”

Chapter: 707

“This... this... manic!”

Before he could even unravel his skill, his technique was blocked. He shook his head at the absurdity of the situation, and the Golden Guard, who once disappeared was standing in front of him, again!

Chun Yeowun.

Chapter: 708

-Swoosh!

Yeonwol's eyes, which turned back to their normal black color, began to emit a yellow hue. Her body began to release a red haze all around as if she was on fire.

‘Should I try negotiating with words?’

Chapter: 709

She wiped the blood on her forehead, eyes, and nose with her long sleeves. What was more shocking was the rapidly healing wound on her forehead. The blood stopped flowing and the skin regenerated back.

‘Such great regeneration skill!’

Honestly, the regeneration wasn’t that astounding for Chun Yeowun. But it wasn’t as if the lady harbored Nano Machine in her body, seeing such resilience from her stunned him. That wasn’t the only thing that shocked Chun Yeowun.

Chapter: 710

Yeongwol, the leader of the Imperial Palace Guardians, couldn’t share the same ideas and thoughts regarding the Wulin. From her point of view, they would only judge the entire situation as the Wulin clans acting rudely towards the Imperial Palace and the family.

“I knew that the Wulin too had to be brought under the control of the Emperor.”

Moreover, she was someone who was loyal and in support of the Imperial Palace. The hostility she showed was understandable.
