

Chapter 65-71 National Forensic Doctor

Chapter: 65

When he arrived at the scene, Zhou Ta, who was wearing a duty uniform, was very motivated to take notes on the spot. Mu Zhiyang followed Jiang Yuan and squatted in front of the I-beam, bent over and took a look, and said, "How do you see if there are any fingerprints?" gone."

"You can use a magnifying glass or ultraviolet light to see." Jiang Yuan opened the inspection box he brought with him, and said casually: "In our current situation, it doesn't need to be so troublesome, just sweep the powder."

While talking, Jiang Yuan seemed to be ordering his troops, and from several gold, silver, black and gray bottles, he took out one containing gold powder, and took out a fluffy wine black brush.

Taking another look at the position of the reproduced photo, Jiang Yuan dipped a brush into the gold powder, and flicked the handle of the brush gently, so that the 400-mesh copper powder fell onto the relatively flat steel surface.

From Mu Zhiyang's point of view, Jiang Yuan's playing was exceptionally even, and his prelude was quite ceremonial.

"Technology is different. You are quite particular. We usually use silver powder." As a criminal policeman, Mu Zhiyang also had to scan his fingerprints frequently when he appeared on the scene. For some small cases, it is easier to do it yourself than to invite someone from the Criminal Division Squadron to come over.

Jiang Yuan observed the surface of the I-beam and said, "Silver powder has strong adhesion and is suitable for many occasions. It can be regarded as an all-purpose powder. But today's background is too light, and it is better to use gold powder for comparison."

"Your brush seems to be different."

"Pure squirrel hair. There are more than 200 ones. I want to come out specially."

"This broken brush is more than 200?" Mu Zhiyang was surprised.

"Squirrel hair is known as the Hermes in the brush." Jiang Yuan flicked the brush and said with a smile: "Look at the tip of the hair, it is thin, straight, and soft, and it is not easy to damage fingerprints."

"Is this Hermes?"

"Because among the makeup brushes used by girls, squirrel hair is also the best. It is comfortable to brush fingerprints, and girls' faces are also comfortable to be brushed by it." Jiang Yuan then added: "It is the best match with gold powder."

Jiang Yuan was speaking, got down on his knees, leveled his right hand, and used the tip of the squirrel brush to gently wipe off the gold powder on the surface of the I-beam, as gently as if he was applying eye shadow to a beautiful woman.

As the excess gold powder dispersed, several incomplete fingerprints appeared in front of the two of them.

Mu Zhiyang also got down on his stomach and looked at those fingerprints carefully.

Incomplete fingerprints are mainly located at the fingertips, the middle part is not fully pressed, and the total area does not seem to be large.

"Is it still too long?" Mu Zhiyang was a little disappointed. There are more than 200 brushes, and the copper powder that is expensive at first sight is still used, but in the end, no complete fingerprints are produced.

Jiang Yuan first took out the camera, took a photo as clear as possible, then straightened up, looked directly at the fingerprint pattern, and said slowly: "It's a bit disabled, but it should be possible to gather more than a dozen features. point."

Mu Zhiyang looked at the fingerprints on tiptoe, and said in surprise: "This shape is not complete, and the lines are also blurred. Can you still come up with more than a dozen feature points?"

"You should look at the fingerprints of the arson case I did a few days ago." Jiang Yuan leaned over and took a few fingerprint photos, and then began to take photos of the scene.

Mu Zhiyang slapped his head: "You said my associative ability... well, it's you. It's really hard to handle this case with someone else."

If the same fingerprint was found by the county bureau's spot survey, the trace inspection would definitely have to pretend to be dismissive. Otherwise, what should I do? If you become such a dog, no matter whether it is Lao Yan or Xiao Wang, they will not be able to match.

Even if the integrity of the fingerprints were higher, the two of them would probably not be willing to do it.

Complete fingerprints can be matched with hands. Incomplete fingerprints are more disturbing as they become more deformed. The degree of incomplete fingerprints is not only troublesome, but it may also consume mental energy, and it must be an expert. The effort of level trace inspection ...

If a case solved by burning brain cells like this is just a few electric cars stolen, the police handling the case will feel embarrassed.

Jiang Yuan did it himself, so he didn't have so many long-winded words, and said politely: "I only know fingerprints. If the police station checks, there should be other ways."

"There is a way, but it may not be able to be solved. Stealing electric cars, many of them commit crimes on the move. They stay in one place for a while, and after spending all the money, they feel dangerous, and then go to another place. It's like traveling. ." Mu Zhiyang inexplicably felt a little envious.

Zhou Ta just came back after finishing the on-site record. Hearing the second half of Mu Zhiyang's sentence, he agreed: "Indeed. Some people also know that rabbits don't eat grass beside their nests."

"I'll compare the fingerprints as soon as possible." That's all Jiang Yuan can do. After a long delay, even if the fingerprints are compared, it will be troublesome for the suspect to run away—this is another trouble in reality, even if you know where the criminal suspect is, the procedures for handling the case in different places will consume time and energy. With burning funds, it's all trouble.

Chapter: 66

Imagine that two policemen, probably four policemen, drive to another city perhaps thousands of kilometers away, communicate with the local criminal investigation department, and request to send someone to assist in the investigation and arrest of criminal suspects. A lot of money was spent on overtime pay, board and lodging, and the one who brought home was a petty thief who stole several electric cars, and he might not be able to catch anyone... Whoever thinks about it will be in a panic .

Compared with the young Mu Zhiyang, Zhou Ta couldn't understand Jiang Yuan even more.

However, he was used to doing more things and less talking, and helped Jiang Yuan organize his things before rushing to the parking area outside the community without stopping.

When they arrived at the place, the three of them put on gloves and masks, and began to dig the sewer, trying to find the cigarette butts and garbage seen in the video.

Three people, two big bags, soon stood up satisfied.

"The pollution is like this, probably only cigarette butts can be used." Jiang Yuan sighed. There were a lot of cigarette butts in the sewer, so he took them all out and collected them one by one with a small evidence bag.

For this action, Jiang Yuan did it for more than a quarter of an hour.

Looking tired, Mu Zhiyang dragged his gloves, covered his nose and let it go in disgust, and said, "The garbage water has been soaked in, can you still check DNA?"

"It should be no problem. Cigarette butts have a strong ability to preserve DNA." Jiang Yuan carefully observed the cigarette butts, and said: "As long as they are not moldy, DNA can be detected in 10-year-old cigarette butts."

"So powerful? Why? Did it get soaked in while inhaling?" Mu Zhiyang followed Master to solve the case all day long, but he never paid attention to this.

Jiang Yuan nodded and said, "On the one hand, it's because you've been smoking for a long time, and on the other hand, the structure of the cigarette butt is good enough to resist external erosion. When it's time to test DNA, it's easier to tear out the cotton inside. come out."

"That's why we always say in the police station that crime needs to be learned. You say, in this era, there are still people who throw cigarette butts at the scene of the crime. We usually do the same when we do cases. Everyone is stupid, and there are evidences everywhere..." Zhou Ta smiled and shook his head.

Compared with Zhou Ta, the old auxiliary policeman, Mu Zhiyang saw it thoroughly, and said: "They don't want to leave evidence, they just don't care about it. I have encountered a murder case with Master once, and the murderer killed someone, ran out of the alley with blood in their hands, smoked a cigarette, and threw the cigarette butt in front of them after smoking, they didn't know, but they couldn't think of it at the time. They were too nervous."

"It makes sense to say that, but it's easy to do a theft case, and the thinking is quick, so it's hard to find evidence." Zhou Ta said.

"Those who do theft have a lot of repetitions and a high level of proficiency. Generally, those who do homicide are finished once or twice, and have no chance to practice." Mu Zhiyang began to make a summary.

"Murder is also complicated. The scene is often messy and there are dead bodies... It is equivalent to a big project. The theft is a small project. People who start to work on big projects are bound to be prone to mistakes." Zhou Ta also summed up some experience.

Jiang Yuan lifted the evidence bag and said, "I've gone back, and I don't know if I can compare it with DNA."

"Do your best to obey the destiny, that's the way it is." Zhou Ta followed for such a long time, hoping for results. It's just that he feels more about the experience of failure than success.

Jiang Yuan only nodded slightly. Speaking of which, this is the first time he has run a complete case.

Forensic Office.

The green radish is full of energy, stretching its thick and long leaves. Its root system absorbs water desperately, making its branches harden as much as possible, especially under the sunshine, it can be hardened for a longer period of time.

at the desk.

Jiang Yuan sat up straight, looked straight at his eyes, put Xiao Wang beside him, and began to seriously mark the feature points of the fingerprint he just got.

Xiao Wang looked more serious.

There is a saying in the grassroots police circles, that is, the police should not be criminal police, and the criminal police should not be technical criminal police, and technical criminal police refers to trace inspection, spot investigation, drug inspection, etc. in the criminal squadron.

The reason is that those who work as technical criminal police often have to act as ordinary criminal police. Show up when it's time to be on the scene, run errands when it's time to run errands, and when there are not enough people to arrest criminals, the technical police are the first to be arrested.

Xiao Wang used to like to say this sentence, but after Jiang Yuan came, Comrade Xiao Wang discovered a phenomenon unexpectedly.

Jiang Yuan has never been "arrested" since he started fingerprinting.

The work of the criminal police team is endless, especially when there is a murder case, the captain can follow everyone without sleep for three days and three nights, and ordinary policemen can take a nap when they have time, and they can laugh in their dreams.

However, Jiang Yuan sat in the office unmoved. Even with Xiao Wang, as long as he followed Jiang Yuan, he was never transferred.

Chapter: 67

What surprised Xiao Wang even more was that no leader at any level had ordered this, but whether it was within the criminal squadron or several other criminal police squadrons, even those who usually like to take advantage of it, it seems that there is something wrong. Like a tacit understanding, Jiang Yuan has never been called on ordinary work.

In fact, no one needs to say anything, Xiao Wang also understands what's going on.

Because Jiang Yuan can directly lock the suspect with his fingerprint.

With this ability, the squadron leader of any squadron, not to mention that he will inevitably ask to come here in the future, even if he doesn't care about the world, he is embarrassed to take Jiang Yuan away.

In the police force, grades reflect grades, and age and qualifications reflect age and qualifications, but at the root, the business that everyone looks down on the most is the reason that everyone can't get rid of.

In a word, you can solve the case, and I can solve the case too, who can be more noble than the other.

Naturally, those who can solve the case are more noble than those who cannot.

Xiao Wang wanted to be a noble person.

Xiao Wang sat upright, staring at Jiang Yuan's operation.

He watched Jiang Yuan draw the feature points, and he drew on his legs, trying to understand Jiang Yuan's thinking logic.

Fingerprint comparison, in many cases, is the logic of thinking.

A breakpoint may be a feature point, or it may be a noise point in the image, or an incomplete place during printing. How to judge it in the end is a test of thinking.

For simple fingerprints, it doesn't matter how you do it, but when you encounter difficult fingerprints, you must first build enough content in your mind.

"Run and have a look." Just as Xiao Wang's thoughts were surging, Jiang Yuan finished marking and threw it to the software for matching. He also saw that Xiao Wang was watching, so he made a special statement.

Xiao Wang couldn't help being taken aback, and said, "Have you finished marking?"

"Well, I marked a dozen or so, which should be enough."

"This is easier than the arson case." Xiao Wang said casually. From his point of view, today's fingerprints and arson fingerprints are super difficult. From the perspective of learning alone, Xiao Wang is going to study with Jiang Yuan for another week.

However, Jiang Yuan completed the first round of marking in less than half an hour.

At this time, Jiang Yuan also laughed and said: "That's for sure, the fingerprints of the arson case may be burnt, and many details cannot be seen clearly. The extraction is not very good."

The latter sentence is his real complaint. The conditions of the county bureaus are not good, not that the conditions in any one area are not good, but that the conditions in all of them are not good.

The unit's computer made a creaking sound,

Xiao Wang's focus is not here. He recalled the details of Jiang Yuan's marking of feature points that he had just seen. He only felt that his mind was full of confusion, as if he had just taken a math test and obviously finished writing multiple choice questions. , but when I checked the questions with my classmates, I couldn't recall my answers.

Jiang Yuan followed the list given by the software and checked the fingerprints one by one.

Xiao Wang sorted out his mood, followed Jiang Yuan's pace, and read slowly.

Before he saw half of it, Jiang Yuan swiped and changed another fingerprint.

Obviously the fingerprints just now have been ruled out.

Xiao Wang frowned, and followed Jiang Yuan to look at the second fingerprint.

Not halfway, the middle way ends.

Continue, stop.

Xiao Wang rubbed his eyes, only to feel that his eyes were tired and his heart was tired.

Chapter: 68

This kind of feeling is like when I was in school, listening to the teacher explain the test paper, very seriously, and halfway through, I heard the teacher say "The following is very simple, so I won't talk about it"...

Xiao Wang raised his head again, his gaze was firm, and his expression was firm—as an adult and a glorious people's policeman, Xiao Wang himself has become extremely powerful!

"It's a match." Jiang Yuan checked the sixth fingerprint again, couldn't help but patted the table, got up and stretched.

The corner of Xiao Wang's mouth couldn't help but burst into a smile, a little bit: "This is the match...it's great."

Jiang Yuan breathed a sigh of relief.

Fortunately, the one who left the fingerprints was a repeat offender, otherwise, with only this one clue, it would be really difficult to pinpoint the other party.

"Cai Bin... This person has been detained three times for stealing electric vehicles." Jiang Yuan glanced at the record, quite surprised: "I have been arrested three times, and the method of stealing electric vehicles is still violent unlocking, a little bit of progress None."

"Are you going to upgrade to steal motorcycles after you improve?" Wu Jun heard that the fingerprints were matched, and he came over to take a look, and said: "This kind of person's crime upgrades, and he is more inclined to gang crime. Especially after being in prison, it is easier to do this." ."

Jiang Yuan recalled the videos he had watched, and said: "He doesn't look like a gangster. Every time he steals a car and leaves, the value of the stolen car is not necessarily high, and there is no accomplice to support him..."

"Maybe no gang wants him." Wu Jun interrupted Jiang Yuan calmly.

Xiao Wang glanced at the computer screen with inexplicable sympathy, the photo of the suspect, and said slowly: "If it wasn't for Jiang Yuan, no one should have arrested him. The value of the case is too low, and there are few clues."

Jiang Yuan only took it as a compliment, and called Wei Zhenguo and Mu Zhiyang. Cigarette butts are going to be DNA, and I don't know how long it will take to queue up, so grab one first.

the next day.

As soon as the small meeting in the morning was over, Jiang Yuan dressed neatly and went downstairs to wait for Wei Zhenguo and others.

The target of the arrest was only an electric car thief, so naturally there was no need to take advantage of the night.

However, even though he was only catching a small thief, Jiang Yuan was still a little nervous. He had never made a live arrest before.

Jiang Yuan's tension suddenly dissipated after Wei Zhenguo and others arrived.

"Could there be a little more people?" In front of Jiang Yuan was a configuration of 7 men and 1 woman. Counting himself, it was equivalent to 8 men and 1 woman.

As far as the video Jiang Yuan saw, the suspect's body movements were all on the weak side. And the 9 people present, including the policewoman, looked like they could hug and smash the thief.

Wei Zhenguo said: "Arresting people requires a large number of people. We are soldiers. Soldiers must use three times and four times as many people to catch thieves and arrest them! Just follow me for a while."

Wei Zhenguo actually meant to protect Jiang Yuan a little bit. For Ningtai County, such a good fingerprint inspection is really like a cake that fell from the sky, and Wei Zhenguo just wanted to take a bigger bite...

As for Jiang Yuan's desire to follow and arrest people, Wei Zhenguo didn't care if he had any experience in such matters. Anyway, he just took more people there.

Usually those bureau leaders who are good and playful, participate in arrest operations and so on, don't they operate in the same way.

The 9 people drove two cars without turning on the police lights and sirens, and drove silently to a residential area by the bridge. When they got out of the car, they saw a car parked on the side of the road, and two policemen in duty uniforms came down. .

"Captain Wei." The other party came forward and greeted warmly.

"Old Gu." Wei Zhenguo shook hands with the other party, and then introduced to others: "Old Gu is the deputy director of our Pizhou Police Station, here are all colleagues from our team, and Xiao Jiang is a newcomer to the criminal squadron... Do we have the location of the suspect?"

"It should be at home. The address of the other party's home is recorded. Yesterday, someone was sent to investigate. The lights were turned on at night. I guess he hasn't woken up yet." Lao Gu looked at the 9 people who rushed over, and clicked his tongue again. Said: "How big is the case?"

He didn't ask for details, just the seriousness of the case.

Regarding the details of ongoing cases and even unsolved backlog cases, everyone is usually more cautious, and will not be specific unless necessary. Because this part of the content is not only a resource for handling cases, but also a resource for conviction. In this Regarding, even the police of the county bureau have implemented it very well.

Wei Zhenguo smiled and said, "It's not a big case."

Chapter: 69

Lao Gu only saw so many people brought by Wei Zhenguo, and said with a more serious expression: "The suspect lives in an old residential area, and the situation is relatively complicated. If there is a need for manpower for surveillance, there are still a few people on duty in the office..."

"Enough is enough, we mainly need to be prepared." Wei Zhenguo politely refused, and then asked Lao Gu to lead the way. A group of 11 people, divided into three groups, entered the target community from the front and back.

The so-called community, there are only three buildings in it, the height is between 20 and 24 floors, but because they are all towers, there are more than ten houses on the first floor, and they are in the shape of a Chinese character, with a long patio in the middle, surrounded by Safety stairs.

This kind of environment looks simple, but it is complicated to control.

There are two doors at the front and back of the complex, plus two garage doors, all of which can be used by cars and people.

The same is true in the community, the ground can be parked, and the underground parking lot can still be used for walking. And there are two entrances and two stairs leading to the underground parking lot in the community.

There are four elevators in each building, which are located on the east and west sides of each building, and one of them can reach the underground parking lot. Coupled with the 2 safety stairs in each building and the 2 safety stairs in the garage, The community of the three buildings has a feeling of being connected in all directions.

Jiang Yuan listened to the property's introduction to the community, and what flashed in his mind was the scene of a Hong Kong-style gangster movie.

If today's arrest is discovered and escaped by the criminal suspect, then immediately afterwards, you can take a top-down shot of a 22-storey back-shaped staircase, and watch the chasing and fleeing parties go up and down, left, right, and left. , back and forth... You can even jump directly up the floor and off the ground by jumping out of the railing and risking your life.

The semi-dark staircase lighting can make the chase in the safe staircase become thrilling, highlighting tension and anxiety.

If you can drive or open the door, the film can also develop in the direction of getting out of the car or hijacking the house. Thirty ensemble actors in three buildings can make a movie.

There was no expression on Wei Zhenguo's face.

His police uniform is a little wrinkled, like the wrinkles on his face.

But as far as his eyes are concerned, Wei Zhenguo, who is walking outside, is obviously more confident than in the office.

"Two people at the front and back doors, and one person at the garage. Take the walkie-talkie and support at any time. By the way, remember to turn on the law enforcement recorder." Wei Zhenguo listened while walking, and then sent out the manpower.

The remaining 5 people got together again, took the takeaway and took an elevator directly to the 12th floor.

The door opened, and a young couple looked up and saw five policemen in police uniforms, their eyes were a little straight.

"One on each side of the corridor." Wei Zhenguo gave a simple command, and then led the people to the suspect's door.

The house number is 1209.

"Knock on the door and tell me that there is a water leak downstairs, so I need to come in and take a look." Wei Zhenguo said something, and stood on both sides of the door with a few others.

The other party saw it through the cat's eyes, and should only see the old man of the property.

An impatient voice soon came from inside the door.

Jiang Yuan felt relieved.

If there are people, the chances of arrest are very high.

Just as Jiang Yuan was thinking, he opened the door with a "click" after a few words about the inside and outside of the door.

Without calling, two strong policemen got into the room and pushed the unconscious suspect to the wall.

"Police. Don't move. What's your name?" Several voices were stern and heavy.

"Cai Bin..."

"Cai Bin, you committed a crime..." While putting on the handcuffs, the policeman asked again: "How many people are in the family? Is there anyone in the family?"

"Yes...my wife, no, my girlfriend is inside." Cai Bin raised his voice and shouted, "Yun, it's the police who are here, it's none of your business, don't move around..."

Jiang Yuan was watching right in front of him, there was no place to interfere.

They didn't even resist, they just yelled twice at most, and the whole arrest operation went smoothly like a drill.

"Are you nervous?" Wei Zhenguo asked the policewoman who came with him to bring out the suspect's girlfriend, walked to Jiang Yuan by himself, and asked with a smile.

Jiang Yuan nodded slightly: "A little bit."

"The general arrest scene is like this." Wei Zhenguo muttered, "There are two kinds of people who resist fiercely, one is committed a serious crime, and the other is really innocent. Therefore, when encountering fierce resistance Yes, be careful during the interrogation."

Jiang Yuan looked at Cai Bin who was being pressed firmly, and nodded slowly again.

"Let's go down." Wei Zhenguo asked someone to inform the police stationed below, and they stood at the gate of the community and waited for the bus.

The police who were guarding the front and rear doors and the garage door just now walked back slowly.

Eleven people gathered together, surrounded the two suspects, and they were unusually conspicuous at the gate of the community in the early morning.

Cai Bin, whose hands were handcuffed, writhed uncomfortably. Looking at such a large group of policemen, his body was full of question marks.

Two or three policemen, three or four policemen catch a thief, that's quite common.

But 11 of them appeared in a swarm. No matter how you think about it, there are problems in the middle.

The more Cai Bin thought about it, the more frustrated he became, and he couldn't help asking, "Why did you arrest me?"

"Don't you know what you did?" Wei Zhenguo looked at Cai Bin sharply.

Cai Bin counted the number of policemen again, and shook his head vigorously: "I didn't do anything, you arrested the wrong person, really..."

"Wrong catch? You think about it again. I won't ask you now." Wei Zhenguo's black face wrinkled, like an ugly version of Bao Qingtian, and he drew a circle around with his fingers, and said slowly: "You treat us as idle." Are you okay to come out to play?"

"No, I...not..." Cai Bin only felt that he was haunted by ghosts.

"Let's talk when we go back." Wei Zhenguo pointed to the law enforcement recorder, as if he was following the rules.

And the more formal Wei Zhenguo did it, the more uncomfortable Cai Bin felt. Even Cai Bin's girlfriend couldn't help but look at Cai Bin suspiciously.

"Confession."

In the middle of the afternoon, Wei Zhenguo came to announce the good news with a smile.

Jiang Yuan was reading a book, couldn't help getting up, and said in surprise: "Is it so fast?"

"He thought he was involved in some big case, so he revealed the matter of stealing the electric car himself, for fear of being wronged." Wei Zhenguo laughed loudly, and said, "When we asked about the specific number of cases, there was another With the fingerprints in hand, six cases were uncovered in one go. The way to sell the stolen goods was also revealed."

"Team Wei is great. It seems that it is beneficial to bring more people." Jiang Yuan immediately complimented him. No matter how you say it, it is because of the case he took.

"It's better if there are more people. Ordinary suspects won't resist when they see three or four of us standing together. But if you only go to two people, they will definitely think, I might as well try running." Wei Zhenguo Talking about experience, he said again: "Today, I am most afraid that I will bring it into the den of thieves. These small thieves are different from those who commit big crimes. Some people like to call friends. The things they committed They are small, and they are not so wary of each other... I have encountered a case before. Five people rented a house and slept on bunk beds. Ask them, each of them still feel very happy, very happy."

"In college, the combined living expenses of a boy in a dormitory may be less than that of a screwdriver," Jiang Yuan said.

The trace inspector Xiao Wang who is resident in the forensic office smiled unkindly: "It's true."

Wei Zhenguo said: "Anyway, we have to guard against accidents. In case someone has a party or something... It doesn't matter if you are a rough guy, it will be a big loss if Jiang Forensic Doctor is injured. "

Jiang Yuan hurriedly said: "It's not that..."

"It's not a big mistake to be careful." Wei Zhenguo said seriously: "Really, as long as you can find out the clues, it doesn't matter whether you leave it to me or anyone else, we will figure it out for you. By the way, just now I haven't finished the case yet."

"Is there a follow-up?"

"That's right, we dispatched 11 people." Wei Zhenguo laughed twice, and said again: "Let's talk about Cai Bin first, the girlfriend of the little thief, there is no big problem, it is just delicious and lazy, and Cai Bin has a house for a day."

She swipes her mobile phone at night, and occasionally goes shopping. When Cai Bin commits the crime and returns home, she buys vegetables and cooks for her. Judging from her personality and daily life, she should not have participated in the theft or sale of stolen goods..."

After listening, Xiao Wang concluded: "Steal the battery car and raise her?"

"Almost. Then, according to the clues given by Cai Bin, we just caught two more people, and seized dozens of electric vehicles, electric tricycles, and batteries worth hundreds of yuan. Now follow this line to arrest People, it is estimated that there will be gains. When the case is completed, it is estimated that many people will be able to return the stolen goods."

This time, Wu Jun couldn't sit still any longer, he looked over with his teacup and said, "Then you have knocked out a lot of dates with this stick."

Wei Zhenguo smiled: "It's like setting up the net in advance, and intercepted a fool."

"how to say?"

"Didn't we also run this kind of special class for theft in previous years? Last year it was burglary, and the year before that it was bus pickpocketing... This year, with the scale they did, maybe it was a special class for battery cars. We are tantamount to attacking in advance."

"That's hard to say. In the current situation, maybe it's all dedicated to fraud." Wu Jun took a sip of tea and came up with a quite possible conclusion. The current telecom fraud cases have accounted for more than 50% of all reported cases, and the amount is even higher. In comparison, the theft is really child's play.

Wei Zhenguo was dumbfounded, and had to admit that it was very possible.

Compared with telecommunications fraud that cost tens of thousands of yuan, but hundreds of thousands of yuan, the pain of electric vehicle theft is not so loud.

Wei Zhenguo shook his head: "Anyway, it's a good thing to solve the case."

"That's what it says."

"Actually, when we held special classes before, the process was the same. First find a small thief to understand the situation, and then follow the clues. The cases in our county are not so complicated... By the way..." Wei Zhengguo said here, slapped his thigh, and said: "Forensic doctor Jiang, Cai Bin said he knew the two who used hydraulic shears and tricycles to steal electric cars, and they will be arrested now."

Jiang Yuan laughed "haha", and said helplessly: "It seems that the rubbish is for nothing."

"How come, when the time comes to convict, there is absolutely a difference between having DNA evidence and not having DNA evidence." Wei Zhengguo raised his chin and said, "Besides, after these two people are caught, if we have DNA evidence in our hands, we will definitely be able to. If there are so many cases, it will be much easier than interrogation with empty teeth. If every case can have this kind of solid evidence, I am willing to dig through the trash every day."

"Then hire a cleaner, please be expensive." Xiao Wang also listened amusedly.

Wei Zhengguo burst into a hearty laugh, the creases on his smiling face deepened.

Turning his head, Wei Zhengguo looked at Jiang Yuan again, and asked with a smile, "Jiang Forensic Doctor, what new clues do you have today?"

"Today..." Jiang Yuan looked down at the novel "The Great Doctor Ling Ran" on his computer screen, and couldn't help feeling a little ashamed. Did he relax too much today?

Wu Jun coughed and coughed twice, and said, "Captain Wei, with the series of cases you just mentioned, you can't be busy for a week or two? What clues do you need?"

"How did it take so long? Up to 10 days..." Wei Zhengguo knew that Jiang Yuan had no new case to do, so he immediately said seriously: "Jiang Forensic Doctor, if you can spare some time here, how about looking at a case for me?"

"What case?"

"326 missing case. Ding Lan's missing case." Wei Zhenguo answered very quickly.

Jiang Yuan searched in the software, and Wu Jun and Xiao Wang next to him also came over.

"Jiang Yuan is mainly doing bow-shaped fingerprints now." Xiao Wang felt that he had the responsibility to explain to Jiang Yuan, and said in particular: "There is also a tendency to do trace inspection..."

"That..." Jiang Yuan had to interrupt Xiao Wang, and said, "I've been researching for a while... other types of fingerprints should be possible as well."

The task that Jiang Yuan completed before was to upgrade the bow pattern identification of LV3 to the full fingerprint identification of LV3.

Compared with other patterns, the number of bow-shaped patterns is relatively small. In other words, after obtaining the Chongqing-style single-finger fingerprint analysis method (LV3) of full fingerprints, Jiang Yuan's shooting range has been greatly expanded.

Xiao Wang can't believe this anymore. Jiang Yuan's level is high, he admits it, but the type that he couldn't do before, if he has studied it thoroughly in just a few weeks, it is obviously beyond his cognition.
