

Chapter 16 There Are Many Things You Don't Know

Aaron shook his head. "For me, we have known each other for many years, and I have been looking for you all these years."

"Looking for me?"

"I want to marry you and repay you well. I didn't expect you have been married."

Married.....

Reminding her of Albert again.

This child... Should she tell Albert?

Susan shook her head. At such a moment, she couldn't allow any accident to happen.

What if he didn't like the baby and forced her to have an abortion?

"Where's my cell phone?"

She didn't forget she had something else in addition to the baby.

She had to take care of the company.

Aaron frowned and said, "Maybe there's a traffic jam."

Susan stared at him, "What's the matter?"

"Nothing, believe me."

"No, you can't hide it from me. You don't want me to see the phone. Why... What happened..."

Seeing that she was very excited, Aaron had to tell her the truth.

"Don't get excited. You're not alone now. You should be careful."

Susan calmed down. "Then tell me quickly. Is it something in the company?"

Aaron shook his head, "No... yes... Last night, I took you to the hotel and was photographed..."

She became the focus of attention when the company had an accident. She knew it, but she didn't expect some people to pay so much attention.

They must report that she wanted to sleep with Aaron to save the company, or she is abandoned by Albert and wanted to find a newly rich man.

"Give me my phone."

She didn't know what the Karl family would think of her when they saw this news.....

Aaron called the assistant outside the door, and then the assistant sent her cell phone in.

There were many missed calls, many of them from Albert's parents, but Albert didn't call her once.

Not even a text message.

She put down her cell phone and suddenly felt that she was ridiculous.

The mobile phone suddenly rang in her hand. As soon as it was connected, Grandpa Karl's angry voice came.

"Susan, you didn't come home the whole day and were photographed staying in the hotel with a man.

What the hell are you doing?

"Are you going to ruin our Karl family's reputation like this?"

From this, she could tell how angry grandpa Karl was.

Lacey's affair with Albert had just subsided, and now there was another affair again.

"Grandpa... It's not what you think."

"You must go back home tonight!"

"Sure."

Susan closed her eyes, after hanging up.

At this time, Jessie's phone called in again. As soon as Susan got through, Jessie said, "Mrs. Susan, you finally answer the phone! Have you seen the news?"

"Yes. What's the matter?"

"Our other products have also been boycotted. They say that lipstick is poisonous and the relationship between you and Albert is bad. They all say that you are a liar on the Internet. Your marriage relationship is bad. You have to pretend to you love each other."

Susan was in a mess now.

Maybe she had nothing to do to help her company.

"You contact the public relations department first and ask them to withdraw the news."

"We're already doing this, but without Albert's help, we can't do it unilaterally. They are too much."

She knew why Albert hadn't called her until now, just waiting for her to contact him first.

He had a cold heart. Even now Susan was besieged on all sides. He said he would help her anymore.

Unless she came to beg him, there might be a chance.

"Jessie, just hold on for a while. I'll find a way."

"Okay."

As soon as the phone was hung up, Susan got out of bed directly. It's already seven o'clock in the evening. She had to go back to Karl's old mansion as soon as possible.

Seeing that she was so disoriented, Aaron comforted her, "Don't worry. I'll take care of everything for you."

Even if he could handle it, she had to go back.

Nowadays, in addition to the company, there are also relationships within the family that need to be maintained.

"Thank you. I have to go home. After all, I'm married. I have to go back and explain to my elders."

"I understand. I'll drive you there."

Susan shook her head. "No, your appearance will only deepen the misunderstanding."

"If I hide forever, it will make the misunderstanding deeper. I'll explain to them with you."

It seemed very reasonable.

Susan nodded, "Fine."

After all, Aaron's identity and status, and his words were more convincing.

Aaron rubbed her hair. "Let's go."

What he was most worried about was that she drove by herself. He passed out in his car yesterday. What if she fainted again.

On the way, Aaron told Susan, "You are pregnant now. Don't drive by yourself. Find yourself a driver."

"Well, I see."

.....

The car stopped at the mansion an hour later.

Susan pushed the door in, and a crowd of people sat on the sofa in the living room.

Sitting on a sofa, Albert looked in the direction of the door.

Seeing Aaron behind her, he frowned.

Grandpa coughed violently when he saw Aaron. He pointed his crutch at Susan, "You..."

Susan hurriedly ran over and Aaron followed closely.

"Grandpa, It's not what you think. Aaron and I are innocent."

Aaron said, "I'm here to explain today. I'm sorry for causing trouble to Susan and your family."

Karl's grandpa said coldly, "Innocent? Living in a room, what innocence is that? Hotel records have been exposed!"

Aaron explained, "Well, Susan and I knew each other abroad for a long time. I recognized her yesterday, so I wanted to invite her for dinner. Then she passed out in the middle, so I took her to my suite. There is more than one room in the presidential suite, and she fainted, and I can't do anything to her."

"Aaron!"

Susan was panicking when she heard Aaron mention "PASS OUT".

Aaron looked at her and gave her a soothing look, indicating that it was okay.

At this time, Albert, who had not spoken a word before, opened his mouth, "Passed out? Why didn't I know my wife was so delicate?"

Aaron sneered, "There are many things you don't know."
