

Chapter 19 I Can't Figure Out Your Mind

Susan suffered from pain and beat Albert.

But it was no use. He didn't let her go until she was exhausted.

His eyes were gloomy, "How many things have you done as a wife except holding a lofty appearance every day?"

"You didn't treat me gently, you didn't apologize for your coercion, and you weren't responsible for what you did. You just thought I didn't accept it and I wouldn't love you. Then you pretended that I was sorry for you."

"With your self-righteous love? Ridiculous!"

She didn't seem to have done anything for him, didn't treat him well, didn't talk to him softly, and didn't apologize for her forced marriage.....

But.....

"Albert, how many things have you done as a husband?"

The originally high mood suddenly calmed down, "Forget it, it's meaningless to say these now."

It was meaningless. Even if she wanted to repair the relationship, she didn't have enough time.

She lowered her eyes. "Albert, I'm sorry for you. I let you suffer for three years. You said I didn't apologize. I apologize now. Sincerely, if I had a chance to choose again, I wouldn't choose to marry you."

She would rather wait for her fate alone than force anyone.

"As a wife, I don't do well, but that's the only way. After our divorce, you choose the woman you like. At that time, you can be good to her, and then she will be good to you. You will be happy forever."

It was hard to speak in such a posture. Susan wanted to push him away and stand up.

However, as soon as she moved, Albert shackled her to the chair.

"Divorce? Who agreed to divorce?"

"What else do you want?"

Her eyes were helpless as if he were a vexatious child.

For a moment, he panicked badly.

He kissed her again, very deep, very deep.....

She wasn't fighting.

Albert let go of her, looked at the slightly broken lips kissed by him, and said in a slightly hoarse voice, "You forced me to marry you, but you are not responsible for me, and now you have to divorce me, Susan, you..."

Susan was dizzy because of a lack of oxygen. She closed her eyes and wanted to sleep.

After pregnancy, she was very sleepy, and in the afternoon, her sleepiness became stronger.

Unexpectedly, as soon as her eyes were closed, she fell asleep.

When Albert saw that she closed her eyes and didn't speak, he was angry. He just wanted to lose his temper. Her shallow breath sprayed evenly on his face, itching.

He patted her on the face. "Susan?"

Albert was a little embarrassed and helpless.

We're arguing. She's asleep?

He put his hands on the handle of the chair and looked at her for a long time. Finally, he sighed and carried her into the lounge.

When she woke up, all she could see was darkness.

Susan sat up in fear and didn't know where she was.

She breathed heavily and was very anxious. She wanted to turn over and get out of bed but suddenly fell into a warm embrace.

His heartbeat was steady and powerful, and his voice was in her ear, "Awake?"

Hearing Albert's voice, Susan felt that her crazily beating heart gradually calmed down.

"Why are you here? Where am I?"

The man seemed to think her question was silly and smiled, "I just pull up the curtains and you can't even tell your lounge?"

She used to sleep very shallowly, so she added thick curtains and made good noise insulation, just to let herself have a good rest.

She didn't expect it to be so dark at night.

Susan was embarrassed, but she had some unspeakable doubts in her heart.

It was the first time he held her so peacefully and smiled in her ear.

Having not heard anything about her for a long time, Albert subconsciously approached her in the dark.

He didn't expect that Susan just looked up, so his lips touched her lips again.

He kissed her several times today..... What's the matter with him.....

Wasn't he even willing to hold her hands before?

Susan was at a loss. When she felt that his actions were becoming more and more excessive, she suddenly woke up.

"Al... Albert..... No..."

"I have a stomachache."

He seemed to believe this reason. His face was buried in her neck, and his deep breath made Susan blush.

After a long time, he calmed his restless heart and whispered, "Get up and have dinner with me."

Having dinner?

He said to take her to dinner. It seemed that his attitude towards her had changed.

She didn't know why.....

But Susan didn't want to ask at the moment. She didn't want to break his mood.

He got up first, then turned on the light. The sudden light made Susan close her eyes.

When she opened her eyes, he had gone into the bathroom to clean himself up.

She couldn't go in until he came out, but as soon as he saw her, his eyes didn't look right.

Susan was very embarrassed standing there. She didn't know what he was going to say.

"What are you doing here? Why don't you clean yourself up?"

Huh? That's what he wanted to say?

Susan quickly ran in and looked in the mirror to find out why he looked at her like that.

Her collar was torn apart by him, and her neck had the marks kissed by him.

Susan stayed in the bathroom for a long time before he covered the marks.

When she came out, Albert had gone out and sat in her office chair, looking very casual.

This atmosphere first appeared between them. Susan didn't know what kind of emotion to use and what kind of words to say.

She could only stand there and said nothing.
When Albert found her, he frowned slightly, "You OK?"

Albert got up, walked up to her, then took her hand, and walked out together.

Their shadows were reflected in the elevator.
He was tall and she was petite, well suited to each other.

On the bus, Susan finally couldn't help asking, "Albert... What do you mean?"

The man started the car, and raised his lips, "You can guess."

"You know I can't figure out your mind."
