

Chapter 20 Guess

Albert smiled, "If you can't figure out, guess more carefully."

Susan, "....."

If he didn't say his purpose, she would think he was playing some tricks.

This was the way they always got along with each other.

Just like now.

But Susan didn't know when she offended him again.

She agreed to divorce, and her company was not enough to threaten him. What the hell did he want to do?

Susan looked at him without blinking.

"Do I look handsome? Haven't you seen enough of my face for these years?"

Susan looked back awkwardly, "Don't be narcissistic. I just don't understand your purpose now."

"After dinner, go home and I'll tell you."

Susan wasn't talking. He had a purpose, so she was relieved.

When he found her relieved, Albert's heart was beating fast again.

Is he such a bad man in her heart? Then why did she love him?

Oh, no, she said she didn't love him anymore.

Thinking of this, his heart was even more painful.

He sped up unconsciously.

Because the car suddenly accelerated, Susan's heart beat faster.

He found that the woman was afraid, and he slowed down again.

The place to eat is relatively upscale. Although it was downtown, there were not many people.

Sitting on the top floor here could see the night view of the whole city.

Susan didn't eat much. She was full after a few bites.

Albert let her drink a bowl of soup and allow her to sit and watch the night scene.

He seemed in no hurry. He ate slowly alone for nearly an hour.

When the two returned, Susan began to feel sleepy again.

But when she got home, she resisted the sleepiness and asked him, "Albert, what do you want? I don't have time to play with you. I'm tired. Very tired....."

Albert encircled her waist, turned around, put her against the wall, and pressed her head in his arms.

"Can you hear my heartbeat?"

"Well... Nothing special, plop, plop..."

"It beat for you since a long time ago."

What.....

Susan was at a loss...

Is he expressing his love?

Is he?

Can she trust him? Can she

No, it's impossible. How could he change so much in one day?

He had such a bad attitude before. How could he suddenly find that he loved her?

However, her reason kept persuading herself not to believe him, and her eyes were still wet.....

In her lifetime, she could still hear his words: My heart beats for you.

At the moment, there was joy and melancholy in her heart, but it was sourer.

She burst into tears.

Albert looked at her helpless appearance, and his heart ached for a moment.

He slowly took her into his arms, "I'm sorry, as a man, I always want to make you bow your head first, but I forget that you are also a spoiled princess since childhood. How can I make you bow your head..."

"Susan, I love you. I don't know when I fell in love with you, but now I know I love you."

Susan's eyes blurred with tears.

She couldn't see his look clearly when he said these words, but she didn't have to see it. Even if he was lying, she was willing to believe it was true at the moment.

She didn't want to ask about Lacey. Everything was so good now.

Susan lay in his arms, "Thank you."

Albert frowned, "You don't believe me?"

"I believe you."

.....

In the next few days, they showed up together. He was very kind to her.

He took her to travel around, to eat, to have a walk.....

They did all kinds of things between lovers. She was immersed in this dreamland and didn't want to wake up.

Until all kinds of gossip occupied the headlines and reported that they had a good relationship.

She knew it was he who reported it.

She bowed her head and lay on the desk. "It's another dream."

.....

The news was overwhelming, but Albert was unusually calm.

The assistant knocked on the door and came in, "Mr. Albert, there are some clues."

"What clues?"

"There was someone called Miss Lacey just now."

Through monitoring, it is found that this person uses a sound transformer and it is difficult to track the location."

"Watch out Lacey, and no matter how difficult it is, find out that man."

Albert was annoyed by this man's insidious behavior of provoking others.

When did he need someone else to intervene in his marriage?

Uses Lacey to play all kinds of tricks to make him misunderstand Susan.

Using the lipstick incident to make Susan become the target of public criticism and forced the Karl family to give up her and her company.

But.....

As long as this person insisted, that under the pressure of the family, he will divorce Susan, then that person's goal could be achieved.

Why on earth did he suddenly give up?

This aroused Albert's great interest. He wanted to know who was behind the scenes.

Sure enough, as soon as he made up with Susan, he couldn't help but contact Lacey again.

It seemed that.....

This man wanted Susan?

Thinking of Susan, he looked a little absent-minded.

The sunset, the city lighted up, and his cell phone didn't ring all day.

Yes, it rang, but she didn't send him any messages.

He smiled silently, then got up, went downstairs, and drove.

When he pulled up at Susan's company, what came into his view was the figure of her and Aaron.
