

Chapter 23 There Were Many Things She Didn't Know

Aaron was still calm, with a trace of disdain in his eyes. "Do you think you can stop me?"

Susan didn't understand what they were talking about. She stared at Albert and looked up at Aaron.

Albert did not speak, as if he was dismissive of Aaron.

He stood in front of Susan and Albert and stretched out his hand to pull Susan over.

But Susan was scared to hide behind Aaron and didn't even look at him.

Albert's face changed slightly, "Come here!"

How could Susan listen to him and she stayed motionless behind Aaron?

Aaron is about the same height as Albert. Susan hid behind him like a child.

After watching this scene, Albert was angry, "Susan, don't forget what our relationship is now!"

Susan remained silent.

Aaron said with a smile, "No matter what your relationship is, she doesn't want to meet you now."

Albert ignored Aaron and still stared at Susan, "Do you want me to force you?"

Then he stepped forward directly.

Aaron stretched out his hand to block Albert. "Mr.

Albert, I feel it's demeaning to force a woman."

Albert felt funny, "Oh? Should I use women to cover up for me like you?"

Aaron sneered, "So what? If she doesn't have an evil side in her heart, how can she be used by me? If I use Susan, do you think she won't find out?"

"That's hard to say. For example, if you threaten her with her company? Aaron, what kind of gentleman do you think you are? Threaten Lacey by means, provoke Susan and me, and use Lacey to poison on lipstick. Finally, when everyone scolded Susan, you stood up as the Savior and let Susan cry for you."

"Aaron, if you love Susan, just say it directly. Why shrink back and do these disgusting things?"

Albert's words were slow and clear, so Susan listened clearly.

She stepped back and looked forward at Aaron's back.

Aaron stiffened for a moment, then turned and looked at her with painful eyes, "Susan, are you afraid of me?"

"I don't want to hide it from you. I'm going to tell you as soon as we go abroad. He said I provoked your relationship. Susan, you know clearly about your relationship. I'm just helping you recognize him. The fact is, you finally recognize him, don't you?"

Before that, Susan trusted Aaron with all her heart.

But it turned out that he was not honest.

She suddenly laughed, "Recognize him... Many things are making me despair. This is what you call recognition..."

Aaron said, "I never deliberately guided you that these things were done by Albert, but you would doubt him. Why? Because there is no trust between you. Your marriage is not as strong as a thin piece of paper. You are unhappy. Can he see it? He can't see it. He doesn't deserve your love."

"If..." Susan choked, "If you don't know me... Won't you show mercy to my company? If it goes bankrupt, I will collapse and I will be carefree. Then I will divorce him... Aaron, tell me!"

Aaron was silent for a long time and answered, "Yes."

Susan stumbled. "Should I thank God? If it wasn't for me, the company would be destroyed in your hand. No, in the final analysis, it would still be destroyed in my hand..."

Her face turned very bad for a moment.

Albert frowned and wanted to help her.

Aaron was also nervous and tried to hold her.

But Susan raised her arms and retreated, "Stay where you are!!"

She slowly looked at Albert. "You're acting all this. To force Aaron to take action. You've long suspected it, haven't you?"

Albert stared at her desperate face and didn't speak.

She understood what his silence meant.

Susan wiped away her silent tears. "While pretending to love me, you monitor Lacey and Aaron.

At this time, whoever wants to take me away is the person behind the scenes. Today, the person who wants to take me away is Aaron, so what? Albert, you already know it's him. What are you going to do?"

"I'll send him to the police."

Susan nodded and closed her eyes. She was very tired. "OK, you can handle these yourself. I want to go abroad alone."

Albert refused, "No."

Susan smiled, "Why?"

"You are my wife."

"So what? I don't want this title, and I don't care what you do. You can shut down my company. It's up to you. Whatever. If the worst comes to the worst, I go to the netherworld first."

How sad and desperate should she be, so that she didn't even care about her company.

He knew the company was her bottle line. She wouldn't give up no matter what happened.

Now she said she didn't care.....

At that moment, Albert was aware of the panic in the depths of his heart.

"Susan, many things are false, but..."

"Stop! I am tired of your nonsense!" Susan interrupted him and looked at him resolutely. "I'll ask you whether you let me go today!"

He came forward, "I won't let you go. Come home with me and I'll explain to you."

Come home with him?

Then continue to stay at home alone, continue to suffer, continue to fight on the battlefield of their marriage?

No..... Never.....

She took out a fruit knife from her bag and put it across her neck.

Aaron and Albert both were stunned, "Susan!"

Susan looked at them. "You two don't come forward. Either let me go or let me die today. No matter who is right or wrong, who wins or loses, or who loves me or who doesn't love me, I don't care!"

Aaron raised his hands. "Don't be impulsive. I won't stop you. It doesn't matter whether you hate me or not. As long as you are good, you can do whatever you want."

Albert clenched his fist. He knew she was not joking. There was no idea of survival in her eyes.

Did she hate him so much?

His heart was painful. At this moment, he realized that he had already lost this competition.

He loved her, so he wanted to attract her attention.

The more she ignored him, the more anxious he was.

He found other women, he wanted to divorce, and he deliberately made trouble for her company. He just wanted to see her tangle with pain and respond to it. Even if she fought with him, he didn't want her to look carefree every day.

She didn't know it was her birthday that day. He remembered, but he just couldn't find a reason to go back. He saw the dishes and cakes at that table.....

He didn't agree about the half-year acting. He was angry. Why not for a lifetime? How could she say that let him take Lacey to his house on New Year's Eve? Then where is she going? Want a divorce?

She didn't know when she said she agreed to divorce, he was extremely painful.

She didn't know it.....

There were many things she didn't know.....

She didn't know that he had already fallen in love with her.
