

Chapter 8. Why Did You Suddenly Faint?

Although Lacey feigned a terrified look, there was no fear in her eyes at all.

But full of resentment and vicious stare.

"Susan, you tortured me with lipstick-stained with poison and made me itch all over. I couldn't sleep day and day. You let me beg you to give me an antidote on the premise of staying away from my hometown and Albert! Now you asked me what did you do? It seems that your memory is not good enough!."

Susan lifted her hair, "Oh? I don't remember I gave you lipstick."

Susan chuckled, "I put some lipsticks on Albert's car to deal with those unscrupulous women outside. It won't kill them. Just teach them a lesson. How can I torture you? Oh, you're afraid of disfigurement, so you come and beg me. I have to give you the 'antidote'. You don't know. It's just my anti-itching medicine."

Susan felt funny and laughed.

Lacey was so angry that she wanted to strangle Susan, "Screw you!"

Albert pinched his eyebrows: "Language!"

Lacey took his arm, "Albert, now you hear, she admitted that she forced me away!"

Albert seemed not interested in the past. "We'd better concentrate on what happened just now."

Susan took Jessie into the house first.

The process of taking notes was simple and smooth.

But when the police heard that Albert and Susan were a couple, their faces changed.

"Miss, although you called the police first, we can't exclude the possibility that you manipulated everything behind the scenes."

Susan calmly explained, "If I want to hurt her, I won't let her escape so easily. After all, I have plenty of money to hire daring people to do this for me. Moreover, if it's me, I won't leave so many loopholes."

"Then how can you prove your innocence?"

Susan looked at Albert. "On the night when Lacey's accident happened, I was sick and unconscious in the hospital all night. If I planned it, I must have contacted my men. My mobile phone is here. You can check the records. In addition, Mr. Karl was also present. He can testify for me. The records of the hospital could also prove my innocence."

Hearing Susan's orderly narration, Lacey sneered, "You can contact people in advance or use another mobile phone. Only fools will use their mobile phone."

Susan looked at her sarcastically, "Instead of suspecting me, you'd better think of how to perfect your lie. Since you have already been in the wilderness and those people are not related to you, why are you not raped? Isn't it strange?"

Lacey's face was full of anger, "Who said I wasn't raped?"

"That's funny. As a woman who was just raped, you acted way too calmly. In addition to showing fear when seeing me, you acted no different from a normal woman. Besides, though your face was dirty, there were no bruises or scratches on your arms and legs. Lacey, will rapists be so gentle?"

The people present almost laughed out.

Lacey's face turned red immediately, while Albert looked at Susan and said nothing.

Looking at Albert, Lacey was even angrier, "Albert, you..."

Albert gave her a cold eye to end this farce, "Can we go back now?"

The police were also very embarrassed.

The severe rape case suddenly turned into jealous mischief.

The police said, "Mr. Karl, to make the whole thing more convincing, we need to have a general examination of this miss. In addition, we will follow up on your wife."

Susan nodded, "I have no problem."

Lacey disagreed. "I don't want to be examined! Albert, who knows whether their doctor is male or female."

Albert said with a smile, "My doctor has examined her. She's just frightened. She hasn't been raped indeed."

"Now that everything is clear, we will not record it."

.....

Out of the police station, Susan planned to get in the car and left.

Suddenly she thought that her suitcase was still in Albert's car, so she turned and walked to his car.

She said to Albert, "Open the trunk and I'll take my suitcase."

It looked like Albert didn't hear it and he sent Lacey to the car.

Susan said again, "Albert, my suitcase is in your trunk."

Albert looked up at her and said to the driver, "Open the trunk."

After the trunk was opened, she came forward to take it.

Albert took the case out first, carried it in his hand, and said to the driver, "Take Lacey to her house."

Lacey lay down beside the window. "Won't you come with me?"

Albert whispered, "Not yet. I need to go back to the company to deal with this matter. In case someone reports it tomorrow, it will have a bad impact on you."

With that, he ignored what Lacey was talking about and directly asked the driver to drive.

Susan looked at the taillight of the leaving car and suddenly smiled, "Are you going back to the hotel with me?"

"I remember we haven't divorced yet, so we should go home."

Go home?

It was funny that these two words came from his mouth.

Was he still doubting her, so he deliberately approached her?

Thinking of this, Susan laughed, "Albert, you don't have to approach me deliberately. If I wanted to torture Lacey, it wouldn't be so clumsy. From this point of view, Lacey was acting like a clown."

"So what?"

"Give me my case. We'll get the divorce certificate tomorrow. In case your little lover has no sense of security and wants to frame me."

Albert suddenly changed the topic, "Why did you suddenly faint?"

Susan's heart clicked and said casually, "It has nothing to do with you."

His face changed, "It has nothing to do with me, does it?"

"What does it matter..."

Before she finished speaking, she was pulled into his arms, and then his kiss fell.

Susan completely froze, even the sound of the suitcase falling to the ground was not enough to revive her.

He seldom kisses her after being married for so long.

But now, his kiss was so deep.

Even made her feel that she was loved by him.

But how could this be possible? For so long, he hated her so much. Besides.....

Susan struggled desperately.

His body still had the perfume of Lacey.

Noticing her struggling, he held her hand directly and bent over to kiss her more unscrupulously.

He was very tall. Susan only reached his chest.

In addition, she lost a lot of weight when she was ill.

She couldn't resist for long and was tired and sweaty.

Powerless, she could only rely on him and let him do whatever he wanted.

Suddenly, Albert stopped.

He felt how skinny she was under the clothes.

He was distracted, and Susan bit him directly.

Albert suddenly let go of her, "Bite me?"