

The Unshackled Queen: Never Say Never Online Free - Chapter: 310

"I have no answers. But it's good news that it went up in flames,"

Rocco remarked dispassionately.

Hannah was taken aback.

"What are you saying?"

"At the very least, it signifies they are unaware of my whereabouts,"

Rocco stated coolly.

"With no leads from me, they won't be able to locate you either."

A disquieting thought flickered through Hannah's mind. She was reluctant to accept it.

"Did you start the fire?"

A hush descended on the other end of the Line.

Angela's Library

Rocco replied, "It seems that, in your eyes, I am an arsonist."

"I... I didn't mean that.."

Hannah's thoughts were in turmoil.

Suddenly, Rocco burst into laughter from his end of the phone.

"Though I must confess, the notion did cross my mind."

"Rocco!"

“Even if I were to set my own home ablaze, such an act would still remain on the wrong side of the law. Do not worry. I have no intentions of engaging in any unlawful deeds,” declared Rocco reassuringly.

Rocco, speaking over the telephone, calmly articulated, “I am well aware of the boundaries of my actions and their legality.

Upon concluding the call, Hannah ran her fingers through her cascading hair.

That brat!

What transformation he had undergone over the years! A future intervention to rectify this change was clearly in order, she thought to herself.

Hannah, with an air of anticipation, unlocked her computer, ready to at last complete the long-pending paper she had been toiling on.

Subsequently, after a consultation with Zayn, she dispatched her paper to a seasoned senior professor at the institution.

After sending her work, a notification blinked on her WhatsApp.