

Night Stand 101

Chapter 101

Anna blushed to her ears and stammered, "You..."

"What did I do to you?" Wayne asked again as he walked to her leisurely and gazed at her. "I don't mind if you want to demonstrate it for me."

In fluster, Anna kept retreating and her calf hit the sofa. Then she lost her balance and fell backward. Subconsciously, she grabbed the nearest thing in front of her.

The next moment, she realized that she was grabbing Wayne's collar.

When she was about to push him away, the thunder suddenly boomed outside and a bolt of lightning crackled through the sky. "Boom!"

Then the room suddenly became dark. Being frightened, Anna screamed and immediately held Wayne tightly, shivering. Soon, the guests' noises came from outside the room.

"What happened?"

"Is it a power failure?"

"Ladies and gentlemen, don't be afraid. Go back to your rooms and wait for a moment, please. The circuit breaker tripped and it will be repaired soon," the receptionist said in a soothing voice.

For a moment, the whole hotel was in chaos except for Anna's room. It was so quiet in the room that Anna could even hear Wayne's breath. Holding her in his arms, Wayne could smell the pleasant scent of her perfume.

The two of them were so close to each other that their hearts were beating faster. Gradually, their breaths became quicker and quicker.

In the darkness, Anna couldn't help but recall the scene of them kissing before. Her mind was in a mess and she even forgot to push him away.

"You haven't told me what I did to you that night," Wayne suddenly said in a low and hoarse voice

"What?" Anna asked in a daze. "I was more restrained that night than I am now," Wayne whispered in her ear. "Emm.. "Before Anna could figure out what he meant, she was kissed by Wayne.

first, he just kissed her lips. Later, his kiss fell with his, swept across her but the light in the room flickered. After time, Anna come to her senses

she ran to the bathroom who was pushed, fell backward and sat down on the sofa. Then he looked up what that Anna didn't resist the physical contact with him and they were harmonious in opened the tap and washed her face with the cold water. After

I out of my mind? I almost slept with him again! At this time, there was a knock on the something wrong with the circuit just now. We apologize for any inconvenience caused during this period. To express our apology, the proprietress of our hotel cooked gumbo for every guest as a midnight snack. You may go

Thank you," Wayne looked at the bathroom door in a daze. Sure enough, Wayne knocked on

"Just now..."

heard it," Anna hurriedly interrupted him. "You can

she didn't know if it

she finally plucked up the courage to open

not in the room. Anna outside and she couldn't find another place to stay. Therefore, she had to make

Some were playing Werewolves

singing

others, Wayne was sitting in the corner and reading a financial newspaper. With a gel pen in to be relaxed as if nothing had happened just now. Then she said, "Are you reading

"Do you think I'm a workaholic who never

Falling in Love With A One-Night Stand

Chapter 102

After a while, Anna's partner who sat opposite her quickly understood what Anna meant and played a card. "Two!"

Anna's eyes lit up with joy.

When she was about to play the card that she didn't want, a deep voice came from beside her. "Joker."

Wayne looked at her calmly and said, "It's your turn."

Anna forced a smile and said stiffly, "Pass."

Then she thought unhappily. He must have known which card I was going to play so he played the Joker on purpose!

In the next few rounds, Anna didn't even have the chance to play any of her cards because of Wayne.

"Yeah! We won again! You are awesome, sir!" the girl who was Wayne's partner cheered excitedly. She was only about eighteen years old and seemed to be a college student.

As for the other girl, Anna's partner, she also fixed her eyes on Wayne all the time

The two girls were not in the mood to play cards at all. After the first round, they took turns to chat with Wayne and ask about his age and work while acting cute.

Seeing them like this, Anna was speechless. Then she put the cards on the table and said, "Let's stop here."

Hearing this, the two girls who had long wanted to end the game were happier and paid all their attention to Wayne.

"Sir, you are thirty-one years old? Are you married?" A girl asked Wayne with affection in her eyes.

When Anna heard this, her heart skipped a beat and she suddenly felt displeased.

Can't they see me? Didn't they ever think that I might be Wayne's girlfriend or wife? Did they deliberately ignore me?

time, she pricked up her ears to listen to Wayne's answer. Leaning against the backrest now

this, the two girls had thought that the girls wouldn't badger Wayne anymore after they knew that he and they can I have a look at your son's her fists with a darkened face. A few seconds later, she took out her two girls were slightly his

says that a subordinate can't have the photos of the boss's son? I not showed the girls a photo of Wayne, Matthew, Tammy, and her which was taken in the

the two girl said and smiled awkwardly. "I thought that you two were just boss and subordinate her eye, Anna saw Wayne watching them leisurely. Then she thought of something and said to the girls, "You girls aren't like what you think. Sometimes, the relationship between two people is not what they confused. "I'm not his wife," Anna said with the two girls looked at each other in astonishment. After a while, they seemed to understand something and outside and the hall was still noisy. After the two didn't mean to drive them away. I just I have an affair with fool could tell what complicated," Anna said frankly. "What's more, Mr. Wright, a clean hand wants no washing. You are upright and principled. You won't mind it if others misunderstand you, Wayne didn't say anything for are you looking at me like that?" Anna felt uneasy being gazed at him and her name, sat up straight, clasped his hands together, and rested them on the table. Then he leaned forward slightly and fixed his eyes up?" Anna was stunned, "Have we met before suddenly calmed down and her passion disappeared. And only Wayne's question echoed in

Falling in Love With A One-Night Stand

Chapter 103

When Anna came back to the room and pushed the door open, she found that the room was in darkness. She could see a figure sitting on the sofa with the help of the light that came in from outside.

With a cigarette between his fingers, Wayne inhaled deeply on the cigarette and the cigarette end glowed red in the darkness.

After hesitation, Anna closed the door gently and walked toward him. "Why did you suddenly come back? You don't like the gumbo?"

"No," Wayne answered briefly. For a moment, Anna didn't know what to say.

She gently waved her hand, trying to disperse the smoke. Although she had been holding her breath, she couldn't help but cough when inhaling the smoke.

Hearing her cough, Wayne paused for a few seconds and stubbed out the cigarette. Then he stood up and opened the window, letting the fresh air in. The oppressive atmosphere in the room gradually faded away.

“We’ll leave early tomorrow morning. As for the man that you hit, he’ll go back with us and be transferred to the hospital of Birmingham,” Wayne said. His low voice sounded dull in the rain.

Hearing that, Anna breathed a sigh of relief and nodded. When she realized that Wayne was standing with his back to her and couldn’t see her action, she said, “OK. All my work here has been finished. If it weren’t for the rainstorm, we would have gone back to Birmingham today.”

Wayne nodded without saying anything and then he went into the bathroom. Soon, the sound of water running came from inside.

After staying in the room a while, Anna walked out and went downstairs. Most of the guests had gone back to their rooms and the hall became quiet again.

The receptionist was cleaning up the tables. When she saw Anna coming downstairs, she asked, “Miss, you and your boyfriend didn’t have much of the gumbo. Is it not to your taste?”

Anna didn’t clarify the relationship between Wayne and her and made an excuse. “He’s not feeling well and has no appetite, so we went back to the room just now. Sorry.”

“Why do you apologize? It doesn’t matter. Did he catch a cold because of the cold weather? There are medicines at the front desk,” the receptionist said.

“Thank you. He’s better now,” Anna smiled and said. “Well, may I use the kitchen to cook some noodles?”

receptionist was stunned and seemed to be in a dilemma. “Sure.” A

Jennie drew the tie-dyed curtain and looked at said and then followed her into the old but was not sophisticated. She was simple and familiar. When Jennie asked about Wayne before, she until just now that she guessed the relationship between Jennie and him by judging

rumors

Jennie who was graceful and friendly, Anna thought that do you need?”

said, “I want to cook some noodles. Do you have flour and you,” Jennie said. “No, frowned and

mean,” Jennie said with a self-mocking smile as she slowly moved her hands away from the flour bag. “You are line. She wanted to pretend that she didn’t know everything about the Wright family do it myself. I have nothing to do now let me know,” Jennie said with a smile. When she turned around and was about to

Ms. Wilson. Well, I’m wondering if you are free now. Could you teach me how to

Anna meant. She nodded happily, pulled out made noodles, Jennie told her how much flour and water she needed to add and how to flatten it into a strip and cut it into thin noodles. When the expect that you are so referring to was Wayne. Then she said, “When you beat around the bush and asked me about his condition before, I thought that you were just curious was stunned. “You know who I am? Did he ever you mean, Ms. Wilson.”

Falling in Love With A One-Night Stand

Chapter 104

Anna felt that she had no way to refuse. So, she had to friend Jennie. Only then did Jennie smile as happily as a child.

Anna couldn’t imagine how such a woman could do something like scamming the Wrights’ property and cheating on Wayne’s father.

Anna showed a puzzled expression but held back from asking her what had happened.

“Then, I’ll go first.” Anna put the noodles and side dishes on her plate and nodded politely toward Jennie.

She had just walked upstairs and placed the plate on the table when Wayne came out of the bathroom. He was wrapped in a bathrobe, his wet hair was dripping down his neck, and there was a water stain on the bathroom door.

Anna felt her throat tighten after seeing such a scene. It took her a long time to come back to her senses, and then she coughed awkwardly.

“Have some noodles. I just made it myself.” | Wayne glanced at her, then at the noodles, and nodded.

As he sat down on the couch, Anna felt like a small puff of hot air was coming at her and enveloping her. It made her feel uncomfortable, so she moved to the side.

The room was quiet, except for Wayne eating his noodles. Anna listened to the sound of the rainstorm outside the window and thought the sound of him eating made the room seem cozy

Anna inexplicably held her breath. After making sure Wayne wasn't paying attention to her, she secretly lowered her head and slowly let her breath out.

"You can sleep in the bed at night." She suddenly heard Wayne say that.

Anna froze and felt that the good news came so suddenly. Her eyes lit up, and she asked, "Really?"

"Yes."

seemed had made was worth it because she could exchange it for a night of good sleep. However, she was careless and forgot that Wayne was

Did she think I would let

"I'll help you make the couch. I've just lain down on it, and He said, "Since it's so comfortable, why don't you sleep on it a smile, "No, I'll sleep

to act

said and walked towards the bed, stretching her back "Aren't you going to take a shower?" She asking.

back on Wayne and forced herself to say, rest of the night, lest she got into any more trouble. She thought that Wayne had asked that on purpose If she didn't take a shower, he could make fun of her for being sound of water running in the bathroom was in stark contrast to the blistering wind and rain outside the window. One sounded soothing, the other turbulent It was warm inside and cold outside. This extreme contrast made the light his noodles, pulled back the covers on the sofa, long-sleeved blouse and pants, crept out like a thief She was

She had never been able to guess what Wayne was thinking, and she didn't know if he would suddenly do bedside lamp as she got into bed, and the room then silent

woke up checking out, she glanced towards the door. She saw Wayne sitting in his car, and through the window, she could see the side of his face as he

in the morning as if he didn't want to stay at the inn for ID card back to Anna. Anna was just about to leave when she heard Jennie's voice. "Anna, the kitchen and carried a lunch box in a plastic bag. She handed it she was worried they would be hungry. But somehow, she took it when she

Chapter 105

Wayne's expression softened. His fingers gripped the steering wheel hard and said calmly, "Mind your own business."

Anna could tell he was a little upset even though she could only see the side of his face.

Wayne had a meeting in the afternoon, so he called Gabe on the way and then dropped Anna off at the hospital entrance. When they arrived, Gabe had been waiting there for a long time.

"Mr. Wright, Ms. Gabriel, how are you?"

Gabe stood in front of the car door and greeted them both. He then spoke about the patient who had been transferred to this hospital.

"Mr. Wright, Ms. Gabriel, how are you?"

"The patient was making a scene from when he was about to leave, and the doctor gave him a sedative shot before bringing him here. Mr Wright, if you're going to see him later, you'll have to be careful."

Anna frowned and said, "Really? He used to be quite normal when I was around."

Hearing this, Wayne gave her a deep look and said unhappily, "What you think is normal is different from what everyone thinks."

When he arrived at the ward yesterday, he saw the scene of this young man hugging her. He didn't think it was normal at all.

"Huh?"

"Be careful," Wayne's frown deepened as he looked at Anna's confused look. After glancing at his watch, he told her to call him if she needed anything before getting into the car.

Watching the car disappear in front of the hospital, Anna had some mixed feelings. She seemed to have seen a different Wayne last night.

—

were busy. They were running around the bed, trying to catch the there." "Block the door! Don't let him out!" "Don't hurt him. He has door, and her expression changed after seeing the scene. She young man surrounded in the middle saw Anna, he immediately rushed out from the crowd like crazy and hid behind at the internist in front of her. When she saw the phone and selfie stick on the ground, she seemed to unhappily, “There is something wrong with his brain. Didn’t anyone tell you guys when he came he wanted to leave. We wanted to catch him because we you didn’t touch him, would he suddenly smash things? He’s was very imposing. After she yelled out these words, the young doctors and nurses in the room did not dare to speak up, and all chief doctor and the head nurse heard about the incident, they ward. When she came out of the ward, the head nurse waited for her. She kept apologizing to her and then so she took a selfie stick and wanted to take a picture with him. Then, the scene became more and and she asked, “What? Does nurse?”

“Hey, catch...”

nurse is a trainee and not very disciplined yet. If you have something to say, you’d better she had been misunderstood. She explained that this patient she had brought in had brain damage from a fall that might have left him with temporary memory brought in the little nurse looked like she was only 18 or 19 years old. She was probably intimidated by Anna’s Gabriel, is there something I can do? I really didn’t hit him, I just wanted to take a looked at the little girl in front of her not come back to her senses. She froze for a long time and asked, “Isn’t him your was hit by a car earlier and had a temporary memory loss. You said he looks like your classmate. Can you tell me who he briefly explained to her, the nurse realized what had happened. She pondered for a while, looked through the observation window through the door at and most of the students there are girls, so he can’t be from our school. Because he is so handsome, my friend and I kept betting that we would

CO

Chapter 106

Anna froze and asked, “Is Ryan really your name?”

The boy raised his head. His face was pale, and his forehead was streaked with fine beads of sweat. Then, with a reluctant nod, he said, "Yes."

"What's your last name?" She asked again.

The boy shook his head.

Anna patted the back of his hand, afraid that he would become distressed again by thinking about things.

She said, "Forget about it, Ryan, since you remembered your name, I'll try to help you find your family."

If Ryan is a college student, it will be troublesome. Since the summer break is approaching, the school usually doesn't care about the missing students. I have to look for his parents by myself.

A week later, the Blue Castle kindergarten was closed for the summer.

Anna went to the kindergarten for the final parent-teacher conference, and to her surprise, she met Wayne and Matthew.

As soon as he saw Anna, Matthew ran over to her and hugged her leg. Although he didn't say anything, the joyful expression on his little face showed that he was more than happy.

Since they spent the night in Laxis Town, Anna and Wayne's relationship has eased. They made a truce, and their work and life were back to normal. So, to others, it seemed that everything was getting back on track.

But only they knew clearly that they each had thoughts in their mind. "Mommy, I want to go over to Matthew's house for the summer, is that okay?" Tammy tugged on Anna's sleeve and brought her back to her senses.

Anna answered without hesitation, "Yes, sure."

"Really?" Tammy had prepared a lot of sweet words to praise Anna, but she didn't expect her to say yes so quickly.

hesitation, Tammy thought that it was still possible

was so happy that he

to go to work. Is it okay if Tammy stays at your house for a while? The two kids can play mind if you stay at my house too. That

No, thanks." Anna whispered

Tammy and Matthew to get along well since they were siblings as if he didn't want to continue talking about the 'joke'

to pick up Ryan and ago and told her that she was giving the house in Golden her then and was live with you?" Wayne asked, his eyes in the hospital anymore, and I haven't found out what school it's very strange to have a grown man living in your house?" Wayne said in just weird; it's ridiculous! What was she thinking? He do about it. I can't just send him stay in the hotel." Anna was puzzled at her, coughed, and said, "Carousel Hotel. Since the accident happened while you were on a business trip, you should get a room at the hotel for him. This incident had nothing to do with you in the the guy." "If I say called Gabe and asked him to arrange a room for Ryan at the matter settled in less than three minutes, and before Anna knew it, everything was done

the hospital, in the hospital comfortably for a week. He had some panic attacks for the first two days, but he got better. He looked so much like an average person, except that he didn't talk to people. So, when Wayne saw preparing Ryan's discharge, and the two children went with her, leaving Wayne and Ryan
And I have to thank Anna for taking care of me

Chapter 107

Wayne felt much more comfortable all of a sudden after Ryan was been dragged away by Gabe.

He looked at Anna and said, "Let's go. You don't have to be so concerned about him; you're not his mother. Gabe will take care of him."

Anna looked back, retracted her head that had been looking towards the inside of the suite, touched her nose with embarrassment, and smiled. She said, "I'm used to it. Ryan is the same age as Scott and he's a bit like him, so I can't help but want to care more about him. Maybe people will think I'm a little weird if I do that."

When she mentioned Scott, Wayne's face became even more darker. He asked, "Why do you always happen to bring homeless people home? Did you do that on purpose?"

Anna stared at him and asked, "What? No! I told you that I hit him by accident!"

Wayne glanced at her and asked, "What about Scott? You didn't hit him, did you? It seems that you had a lot of guts when you were a kid. You dared to run into an underground boxing ring when you were fifteen."

Anna froze and asked, "How do you know about this?"

Hearing that, Anna realized that Wayne had someone investigate Scott. He even found out that Scott was a boxer in an underground boxing ring before Gabriel's family adopted him.

Wayne's expression turned serious. He said, "A lot of people already know about it. Since he joined the show business, he should realize that his dirty little secrets in the past will hinder the development of his career. If he doesn't get a publicist to handle this, who knows if he will be affected by it in the future."

After hearing his words, Anna inexplicably felt a little nervous. It occurred to her that she hadn't contacted Scott for a long time since she returned from the Maldives.

Anna was relieved after letting Ryan stay in the hotel room according to Wayne's arrangement. She came home in the evening and packed up Tammy's things, and took her to work with her. Anna was going to drop her off at Wayne's house in the evening at the end of the day

"Matthew!"

when Tammy let go of Anna's hand and darted towards holding Matthew's hand. They seemed to have just arrived here as the morning. I know was holding. He asked, "This the housekeeper that Tammy would spend the summer at his

the children to the lounge. She had someone bring some fruit snacks for the two children and carefully instructed them, "I have to go to work, so I can't stay

a salute and said like an adult, "Rest smiled and played with the kids, but today there was a group of actors checking in to the hotel. After Anna had seen Ada's name on the list to her office and sat down when the receptionist told her that the so nervous. There are rumors that Ada is Mr. Wright's fiancée.

behind Anna

at him, and asked, "Who said

fiancée?"

says. Haven't you heard pulled up at the entrance. A large group of fans pounced toward the cars, and the security guards were busy pulling them back. Several actors walked into the hotel lobby, leaving the crazy have arranged the rooms for you. This is our hotel room of the crew.

charge could say anything, she heard an indifferent voice saying, "Miss Gabriel, up, she saw that Ada had just taken off her sunglasses and lifted her

Chapter 108

Ada sneered as if she had expected Anna to react like this.

"What? If you have the guts to be a mistress, why don't you allow me, the victim, to scold you? I should show Wayne what you look like now. He must have thought you were a sweet, docile woman, and that you are willingly to be a stepmother to his son! You brought a bastard and tried to steal someone else's fiancé. How could you be so shameless?!"

Anna suddenly took a step closer to Ada, and her face turned gloomy. She said, "I told you to respect me, don't you understand?"

Ada was shocked by her fierce expression and unconsciously stepped backward, saying, "What do you want? Do you want to hit me?"

Anna stared at her coldly and said, "You think I'm going to hit you when I haven't done anything to you. No wonder you thought I stole your fiancé after I went to the Maldives for work. You should ask yourself why your fiancé broke off his engagement with you."

"Don't blame others after you've done something wrong. I'm too busy to talk nonsense with you here."

After saying that, she coldly glared at Ada and turned towards the door without hesitation.

"Stop right there," Ada shouted furiously.

Anna gripped the door handle and said without looking back, "Also, I recorded what you just said to me. It's not a crime to do so, but if I put this recording on the Internet, it should impact your career."

"You..." Ada was so angry that her face turned red. She was ready to scold Anna but held back the urge.

Ada thought to herself; I didn't expect you to record our conversation. I underestimated you before.

After Anna closed the door, she stood in the corridor and exhaled slowly, feeling mixed emotions

If it were in the past, she would never have handled this matter in this way. Her impulsive behavior made her realize that she had overstressed herself on everything about Wayne.

"Are you okay?"

he was doing and followed her up to ask, "I saw Ada was being aggressive when she called you in just now. Is there eyes and said, "Stop gossiping, have you finished your work? If you don't want to be my assistant anymore, I can just all, you're quite close to Mr. Wright, and Ada,

Anna looked back at him. She seemed to be smiling, but not, and her expression frightened trying to think about quite a lot of things lately. Why do you think I have an unusual relationship with Mr. Wright, was joking. After all, everyone knows you have a daughter, so you can't have anything to do

"Okay, let's not talk about this anymore. This group of actors will be staying here recently, so have security

"Yes, I know."

the door. She skimmed her lips and muttered in a small voice with a

the lounge in the afternoon, Tammy and in the lounge all day and even ate their meals here, so they felt the Rubik's Cube in his hand that he had already disrupted and restored countless times and blinked his eyes. He didn't known that coming to work with mommy was so head, feeling a little unsure of what to do. No one had ever taught him what he should do if knock on the a c***k by the person standing outside. They then heard a low voice say, "May I looking at the door. She said, "Ryan." Matthew froze as he saw Tammy's

*

corne

The person was Ryan

he was in the hospital in Birmingham Ryan had temporary memory loss, but as a young man, he would open and walked in, picked Tammy up, and said, "Why don't you play with

Falling in Love With A One-Night Stand

Chapter 109

Ryan stayed in the lounge for a while. Not long after that, it was time for Anna to get off work, and she came over to pick up the kids.

Seeing Ryan, Anna smiled and said, "Hey, you're here. John said you went downtown this afternoon. Did you find anything?"

Ryan shook his head and said, "I remember a little bit about the place you mentioned, but I still can't remember the rest."

Anna looked a little disappointed but still reassured Ryan by saying, "That's okay. I'll go with you over the weekend and ask."

Ryan smiled and didn't care much about getting his memory and identity back. He said, "Let's have dinner tonight; I've found a good restaurant."

"Okay."

Seeing Anna agree so readily, Matthew's expression immediately changed. He wrote down a few words on the drawing board and held it high for Anna to see, "We agreed to go back to my place tonight"

Anna stroked his head when she saw it and explained with a smile, "We were going to go to your house, but the housekeeper called this afternoon and said your dad was away for the night. I don't think leaving you and Tammy at home alone is safe, so you should come home with me tonight. I'll drop you off again tomorrow.'

Matthew's frown deepened when he heard these words Why is Dad away at such a critical time? Wouldn't he feel alert? Matthew thought.

Although he felt dissatisfied, he could only reluctantly follow them. When they arrived near the restaurant, Matthew looked around with surprise.

They arrived at the college town. College students were walking down the street, and various food stalls were giving off tantalizing aromas

Tammy looked around in amazement and said, "Wow! There are so many people!"

haven't been here in years. How did you had been here before I can't remember who I came here with, but i feel like I used to come here a lot remember there was a really good asked, "You're not talking about this place?" Ryan troze for

of the most famous in let's go,"

all of them went restaurant was already crowded with people. Luckily, they weren't too late, menu to the waiter and to Anna and found her looking around, looking just like this before?" "Not really." Anna looked back friends, and they don't usually like to come to these places. Although | quite want to come, I don't back then, she felt she had let it go. But in the past, she could have been sad because Allie didn't like her. So, she had no friends since she was a child.

childhood was the same. He said, "I don't seem to have many friends either. I've been missing for ordered. "The restaurant makes delicious grilled chicken wings. Tammy, do you want some?"

and said, "I'm not worried about Tammy. I'm more at Matthew and noticed that he wasn't pleased. He wasn't eating the pizza on his plate and eat it, honey?"

head. Then he wrote on the little board, "I we get home, okay? But it's dinner time, so you should at least eat a little. We'll go home right after we finish

head and slowly

Falling in Love With A One-Night Stand

Chapter 110

"Matthew has a delicate stomach and he can't have unclean food. How can you do that, Miss Gabriel? How am I supposed to explain this to Mr. Wright?"

After being questioned by the housekeeper, Anna didn't know how to explain and felt very remorseful.

"Don't worry, I will apologize to Mr. Wright myself. I'm sorry, it's all my fault."

Seeing her sorry attitude, the housekeeper didn't know what to say. He sighed heavily and stepped aside to call Wayne.

The doctors admitted Matthew to the hospital after examining him. They didn't know if he was sick because of eating bad food or something else. While waiting for the results, they gave Matthew a shot. Afterward, he seemed better and fell asleep.

Anna stayed at the hospital with Matthew. She looked at Matthew, who was sleeping and she felt very regretful.

They usually didn't have many opportunities to spend time together, and she didn't expect this kind of thing to happen. She felt that she was not a good mother and that if Matthew knew that she was his biological mother, he might blame her.

Anna stayed up all night. The next day, Anna went home to make breakfast before dawn. After telling Tammy to be a good girl, she returned to the hospital with a lunchbox.

She had just reached the ward door and was just about to push the door in when she heard a familiar voice coming from inside. She paused and subconsciously gripped the door handle tightly

"As soon as I heard that Matthew was hospitalized, I immediately rushed over. And, I brought him breakfast. I watched my nanny make the breakfast, and it was very clean."

Ada's voice was so gentle that it almost gave Anna goosebumps. Wayne replied calmly. "Thank you." "Matthew, let me feed you."

As Anna stood in the doorway of the ward, she could clearly see the two people standing in front of the bed Wayne and Ada were sitting left and right beside Matthew, and Ada was feeding Matthew with a bowl of soup in her hand, moment, only to feel barely drank a few mouthfuls of soup before he started said awkwardly, "Are you still not feeling well in your stomach? It's okay t'll leave the chicken soup here first. If you want to drink it later, I'll feed a little afraid of her. He reached one and asked, "What's wrong? Are you feeling uncomfortable?" Matthew shook his

and told of food poisoning. But when he arrived at the hospital in the morning and saw Matthew lying weakly in bed with because he isn't her child. If it were her daughter lying in such a little kid alone say, "I heard that Anna took Matthew to eat at a restaurant last night.

a place like that?"

the housekeeper say this, and Ada repeating it made him

was unhappy, he immediately wrote on the drawing board, "It not blame Anna again. To his surprise, Wayne looked even more them and snickered after seeing this expression on Wayne's face. She rolled her eyes and then looked knew that if she wanted to win Wayne back, she still had to

was in the way, he was the one person Wayne at his phone and prepared to leave. He gave Matthew a hug before leaving, and Ada said she would take care of saw a familiar figure on the couch in up and looked at him, a little overwhelmed. Wayne frowned and asked to bring Matthew some breakfast. I took a quick look at the lunchbox in her hand and her head, and whispered, "I'm sorry. it's my fault I will take good care of him until he recovers, and I've asked for a