

Night Stand 11

Chapter 11

Anna swiftly dodged it and the glass smashed behind her.

She had never seen a kid as unruly as this one. Anna frowned angrily but then her anger dissipated when she saw the boy's face.

The kid sat behind a wall made up of pillows and bedding. He looked adorable and clearly would grow up to be a very handsome man in the future.

However, at the moment, he looked very upset.

"What's wrong, buddy?" Anna advanced a couple of steps and squatted down, "Did anyone bully you?"

Matthew looked at her and then pushed her hand away. Seeing that, Anna avoided touching him. She just sat quietly on the floor with him.

and said, "Ms. Gabriel, the pancakes and soup are ready. Do you need us to send them said,

speak but occasionally looked the room for quite a while. Anna waited for a while and then tray of pancakes and chicken soup. She started to pour the stomach growled

pancakes. She then asked, "You know, pancakes are my favorite of pancake, "Does it taste good?" Matthew's eyes lit up and nodded.

Unlike the people who fear me and hate

the pancakes and