

Night Stand 131

Falling in Love With A One-Night Stand

Chapter 131

It had already past midnight when Wayne came out of the shower. The hazy moonlight shone into the room and looked like fog.

As the bathroom lights were turned off, the moonlight made the room even colder.

Anna felt Wayne hug her from behind. The heat from his body surrounded her and made her feel hot and uncomfortable, like she was being choked.

She felt annoyed and couldn't help but struggle. "Sorry, did I wake you up?" Wayne whispered tentatively.

She didn't say anything more but just nodded. A few seconds later, she said, "Yes. Why are you back so late?"

"I took care of a few things." "Did you finish it?" "Well, not yet."

Anna kept thinking about that message from Ada. After being silent for a moment, she asked, "How long does it take? Will you still be able to attend the send-off party next weekend?"

Hans and his team were going to stay in Birmingham for half a month, and the hotel was holding them a farewell dinner at the end of next week. It was a significant event, and as the boss, Wayne had to attend.

"I will. Don't worry." He replied. Anna frowned and kept herself from asking more questions.

Just as she was getting upset, she heard Wayne say, "I knew a doctor in Germany and he maybe knows how to cure Matthew. But, the problem is, it's hard to get an appointment with him.

So, I'm taking Matthew to Germany tomorrow, and I'll be back as soon as possible."

Anna froze, realizing that she was overthinking and had misunderstood Wayne. "Are you taking him there by yourself?"

"Yes, but don't worry, it won't take long. It's just that you'll have to take care of the team all by yourself."

"That's OK. I hope Matthew can be cured."

He put his arms around her, put his face against her cheek and whispered, "I feel so happy for Matthew. He is

It was summer, and a cool breeze was blowing softly after the sun had set.

Anna walked to the hotel lobby, and she didn't slow down even though she was wearing high heels.

She had just stepped out of the elevator when she saw a familiar car pull up in front of the hotel. Then, Wayne got out of the car and buttoned his suit jacket

She was about to walk towards him when she saw someone she was familiar with also get out of the car.

That woman was wearing a white t-shirt and black pants, and it was apparent that she was in good shape as an actress. She also wore a black hat and giant sunglasses and seemed to want to tell everyone that she was a public figure.

Anna immediately stopped and even stepped back a bit after seeing them. She stood in the elevator's corner and watched them walk into the hotel. She could only see them from behind, but she could also tell that they looked cute together.

Ada began to straighten Wayne's collar. However, he looked like he took it for granted. Anna couldn't see his expression and didn't know what he had said to Ada.

A child popped his head out of the door window as Ada walked up to the car. She then rubbed the child's head in a seemingly gentle way.

Anna clenched her fists. Was this what Wayne had said was important? She thought. She was furious and even started speculating on what they had said. "Wayne, your tie is crooked." "You can get in the car. It's crowded here. I'll have Gabe drive you home then." "Okay." "Ada, please take care of Matthew." "Don't worry, I'll take good care of him."

Watching Wayne walk into the elevator, Anna stared angrily at the door as if her eyes were laser light and she wanted to make a hole in the elevator door.

Most women would lose their ability to reason when they suspected their partners were cheating. So, if men did not explain it reasonably in time, things would worsen.

Anna stayed at the door of the ballroom for a long time. When she finally walked in, she did see Wayne in there.

"Hi, Anna," Jennifer called out to her. "Yeah?" Anna snapped back to her senses and smiled as she turned around.

Wayne didn’t know why she was so angry, so he asked directly, “Tell me, who pissed you off?”

Anna only felt angrier when she heard him ask that. She said in annoyance, “Huh? Do you really want to know who pissed me off?”

She wanted to lose her temper, but she immediately calmed down when she saw Wayne’s expressionless face.

She gritted her teeth and said, “Nothing, I’m just tired.” “You can stay here tonight, and I’ll take you home in the morning.”

Anna was so angry that she thought she couldn’t even breathe. She didn’t even want to fold her clothes, so she took them out of the closet and threw them all into her suitcase with the hangers

“No, I have to go home and take care of my daughter. Sorry, I have to go now.” Anna snarled

“I’ll give you a ride.” “No, I have my own car!”

Anna had been driving Peace’s car for the past few days and planned to return it to her tonight

After saying this, she pulled on her suitcase and left, her movements very sharp and determined.

Anna left at a fast pace with her suitcase. Listening to the sound of her leaving, getting farther and farther away, Wayne walked to the door. When he saw Anna was walking in a hurry, he felt puzzled.

“What the hell? He just let you go like this? Why didn’t he give you a ride home? It’s already night.”

“He offered to drive me home, but I refused it.” “What? He didn’t say anything else then?”

As soon as Anna got home, she told Peace what happened. Peace got angry immediately after hearing it.

She slapped the table and shouted, “No man in this world is reliable! Karl is a complete and utter bastard. Since Wayne is his best friend, he’s not a good man either. I really thought he was a nice guy, and now I know I was so wrong.”

Anna tensed up and pressed her ear to the door to hear their conversation.

She heard Wayne say, “No, thanks. I just came here to drop those things off. Sorry, Tammy. I’m leaving now. Let your mommy get some rest, okay?”

“All right then. Goodbye, Mr. Wright.” Anna wondered why Wayne had left in such a hurry after giving her so many things.

A moment later, Peace sat on the floor, clutching the latest Chanel bag with both hands as if she were holding the most precious treasure in the world.

She told Anna her thoughts, “I think Wayne did this to apologize to you. He must have realized that he was wrong after thinking about it all night. So, he determined to make up for his mistake with fancy gifts. Where did he get such a cute bag? This is a limited edition!”

Anna calmly glanced at the luxury shopping bags all over the table. After hearing Peace’s words, she was even more upset.

“You mean he’s still seeing Ada?”

Peace leaned back on the sofa and looked severe. She said, “Of course! If he didn’t, why did he send you so many things? It’s not a holiday, and it’s not your anniversary. Besides, why do you think he left without talking to you? He must have wanted to make you forgive him by surprising you with these gifts. Wow, he’s such a smart guy”

“Is that so?” Anna asked skeptically. “Trust me on this.” Peace said this for the second time that day. Anna said, “Then, I’ll return the gifts to him.”

Peace exclaimed in surprise, “What? You’ve got to be kidding me! Hey, look at those pretty bags!”

“Well, I’ll return them to him anyway.” “Keep one, please, just one!”

“No, I can’t keep any of them.” Anna felt that if Wayne wanted to apologize by giving her gifts, and he was a bit out of line. She didn’t want to accept such fancy gifts because she thought that he had bribed her. Also, she didn’t want to let the whole thing go easily.

The two men were hanging out in the same bar as they had the day before in the evening

“She returned all the gifts? Wow, so it looks like she’s pissed. Women usually won’t refuse such gifts.” Kari rubbed his chin, looking thoughtful and puzzled as he said that

Peace stared at Karl wide-eyed and roared, "Why are you laughing? You're just as shameless as he is. I want to curse you now, but let me cover Tammy's ears first."

Karl sighed, glanced at Tammy sitting next to Peace, and said, "It's not really that simple, and it's not what it looked like. But, I think we should not let this kid hear our conversation."

"Why?" Peace and Tammy asked at the same time.

Tammy pouted and said, "My mommy says that people don't want to be heard only when they're saying bad things. So, what do you want to say?"

Hearing her words, Karl was suddenly bewildered. He rubbed his nose and said, "Well, if you really want to know, I'll tell you. But, I'm doing this for their own good. It's not a big deal, so please don't exaggerate this."

"What do you mean?" "Wayne did it on purpose. Yes, he did it to make up with Anna."

"Nonsense! If he really wanted to make up with her, then why would he do that? He went on vacation with another woman!"

Karl immediately explained, "That news is fake! All guys know that there are only two ways to make up with women, one is to give them a chance, and the other is to make them feel in crisis. He had already given Anna the chance to make up, but she ignored him. That's why he wants to make Anna feel that her relationship was in danger."

After listening to Karl's nonsense about female psychology, Peace then frowned and fell silent. After a long time, she asked him angrily, "Who the hell told him to do this?"

Karl instantly sensed that he was the one in danger. He immediately explained, "Ah! He wanted to do it himself! Don't look at me like that. I had nothing to do with it."

Peace angrily exclaimed, "He's shameless! Not only does he not think about what is wrong with him, but he uses such strange and lame logic to fool others. He's really shameless! Tammy, let's go."

Peace glared at him and said, "Even if I don't tell her, Tammy will." "My mommy hates liars!" Tammy grunted and followed Peace to storm out of the room. Karl blinked, somewhat overwhelmed.

Wayne looked calm and took the initiative to bring up the news that people had been talking about

Anna looked at him. She did her best to maintain a calm look even though she was furious toward him.
She said, “Since then, you should let me know what the truth really is. Don’t tell me you just ran into Wayne frowned gently and said, “Ada made the appointment with that doctor, and I’ve told you that.

Wayne explained the matter clearly in a few words.

Anna almost believed in his words. If Peace hadn't told her what Karl had said last night, she would have still thought she was overthinking and acting petty and blaming herself for not trusting him.

She took a deep breath and said coldly, "That's it?" "What? You don't believe me?" Wayne frowned.

He thought he had explained it clearly enough. He had never explained something that had never happened to anyone for so long in the last thirty years.

Anna glanced at him, then at her watch, and said, "Of course I believe you. Have you finished? You should go now. Please don't take up any more of my personal time. You know, I have to work in five minutes."

Looking at her cold expression, Wayne was somewhat puzzled. After seeing that she was acting very determined, he said directly, "Anna, I don't like to play mind games with women."

"I don't like it either." Anna replied immediately. They looked at each other, and neither of them said another word. After standing still for a long time, Wayne left the office and slammed the door. As she watched Wayne go, Anna gripped her desk tightly.

"Oh, don't worry, I've already arrived at the parking lot. You should get ready now." "Anna, there's a parking space over there." Ryan interrupted her. "Yeah? Where is it?"

Immediately after seeing the space, Anna turned the steering wheel and said, "Hey, sorry, I'm going to hang up. I'll call your assistant after I get in."

"Okay." Scott said, and his voice echoed in the car.

Anna pulled Peace's car into that parking space. Then, she went straight backstage with Ryan and Tammy.

Scott's assistant was waiting for them right at the door. As soon as he saw them, he looked relieved.

As he showed them the way to the dressing room, he said, "Oh, Anna! Thank god you're here! Scott has been asking if you have arrived for the last two hours. You know, he even wanted me to wait for you here at noon. He was worried that you would go to the wrong place."

Anna felt a little bemused and said, "Why? How could that be? It's his first concert. How can he be distracted and not focus on practicing? If he keeps doing it, I won't come here next time."

At that moment, two people carrying props in front of them walked past quickly. The microphone in their hands almost hit her face.

Luckily, Ryan pulled her away in time.

Scott's assistant went pale with fear. He scolded them immediately, "Hey, you, be careful! You can't afford to hurt her or the prop."

Anna immediately said she was okay. She understood that the concert was about to start and people were busy getting ready for it, and there was no need for them to quarrel over such a trivial matter.

She looked back at Tammy with worry. And she was about to tell Ryan to protect Tammy when she noticed that he had already picked her up.

Ryan was holding Tammy in his arms.

Seeing that, Anna froze for a moment. Her first impression of Ryan was the terrified look he had when he had woken up in the hospital after being hit by her. After that, Anna had always assumed he was a simple and innocent young man who didn't know much about the world.

"Well, the gig is about to start. So if you like to stay here, you can stay as long as you want. I don't really want to argue with you. By the way, I hope you stop saying anything more about my daughter."

Anna stood up. When she passed by Allie, she calmly said, "If you don't like the fiancé your mother has arranged for you, you should bring your man home to let him meet her. If you don't dare to do it, that's okay. I am your sister, so I can ask your parents whether you can marry him or not for you. You know, father is not a snob, and there's a chance he might agree to it."

"I don't know what you're talking about." Allie was so shocked and nervous that she couldn't even speak clearly. She looked around and found that everyone was sizing her up with a complicated gaze.

"Don't listen to her, guys! She's talking nonsense and trying to ruin my reputation! I'm from the Gabriel family. How could I possibly keep a toy boy?" i Anna didn't expect her to keep a toyboy at first, but she knew very well that Allie was a vain woman. She figured that Allie would never admit it and was terrified that people would mention it

Everyone enjoys gossiping. When Anna broke the shocking news, everyone enthusiastically talked about Allie's personal life.

Anna knew that Allie felt embarrassed. If Allie hadn't provoked her first, she wouldn't have made her awkward in public.

Allie got angry when no one listened to her explanation and said, "Urgh! Anna, you are a shameless bch! How dare you insult me like that? I'll kill you!"

Allie walked toward Anna and raised her hand to hit her.

Anna did not expect Allie to hit her in front of many people. It was already too late when she tried to dodge it, and Allie's hand was about to land on her face.

Just as Allie was going to hit her, a man stood in the doorway. He then held Allie's wrist with one hand to prevent her from hitting Anna and then scolded her, "Allie, what are you doing?!"

Looking at the man, Allie's expression immediately changed. "Scott, you're back!" She said.

Anna immediately nodded and said to Tammy, "Tammy, say hello to Mrs Gabriel."

Selina called Tammy's name and then came back to her senses. She glanced at Anna and said, "Don't call me that."

"Oh, sorry. Then, what should she call you?" Anna asked nervously.

Anna had grown up thinking Selina was very mean and afraid of seeing her. If her grandfather was not around, she would run away in fear every time she saw Selina.

"Just call me Selina." Tammy greeted Selina before Anna had a chance to speak, "Selina, hello."

Selina blinked as the cold expression on her face finally changed. She looked a little happier, and then leaned down and waved to Tammy, saying, "Come on, honey, let me have a good look at you. I'm getting old and I can't see things clearly."

Tammy looked at Anna immediately. After getting her mother's permission, she walked over to Selina and tilted her head, saying, "Selina, is this close enough? You can take a good look at me!"

Selina laughed at her words and said, "Well, you're not afraid of me?" "Why should I be afraid of you? You're not scary at all." "But, kids normally are scared of me."

Tammy stared at her in disbelief and said thoughtfully, "Really? Then, the children in your family are too timid! I think parents should not raise their kids that way. If they are cowards, how would they protect their family members in the future?"

"Then, my little Tammy should teach them how to be brave," Selina said and then laughed heartily. Anna realized that she had never seen Selina laugh so happily in the past twenty years.

Selina patted Tammy's hand, stood up straight to look at Anna, and said, "I like this little one a lot. How about you give her to me and let me raise her?"

Anna didn't understand what she was talking about and asked, "I'm sorry, what do you mean by that?"

Selina laughed at her words and said, "Well, you're not afraid of me?" "Why should I be afraid of you? You're not scary at all." "But, kids normally are scared of me."

Tammy stared at her in disbelief and said thoughtfully, "Really? Then, the children in your family are too timid! I think parents should not raise their kids that way. If they are cowards, how would they protect their family members in the future?"

"Then, my little Tammy should teach them how to be brave," Selina said and then laughed heartily. Anna realized that she had never seen Selina laugh so happily in the past twenty years.

Selina patted Tammy's hand, stood up straight to look at Anna, and said, "I like this little one a lot. How about you give her to me and let me raise her?"

Anna didn't understand what she was talking about and asked, "I'm sorry, what do you mean by that?"
