

Night Stand 16

Falling in Love With A One-Night Stand

Chapter 16

"It's alright. This is my duty." Anna looked at the bags and there were lots of expensive health supplements that amounted to thousands of dollars.

"These are just a small token of appreciation. Master also said that since you're injured, you need not go to work until you've fully recovered. You will still be paid during this period."

Anna remarked, "No need to work?"

How come that man was so influential to arrange for her sick leave? According to the hotel's regulations, sick leave cannot be more than a month and she had not even been confirmed to her job.

"Who's your master?" Anna asked. "Don't you know who my master is?" The steward looked surprised. Anna was suddenly puzzled by the steward's reaction and asked, "Should I?" "Our master is the hotel's CEO, Mr. Wright." The steward replied. Anna frowned on hearing this. "So Matthew is Wayne's... er hem. Mr. Wright's son?" "Yes." The steward replied politely.

of Mr. Wright to grant you time to recuperate since you saved his son. Do let me know if Wayne's son. She pondered about how wealthy he was and yet his son was mute. Anna began sorry for Wayne, Tammy had boss

Wayne?' She thought. Wayne never visited Anna during her stay at the hospital due to his busy schedule. Anna never expected a visit from Wayne. She was more concerned about discharge, Anna could spend some time recuperating at home and decided to make the best

Tammy went to her room

man. She used the reading function and gasped