

Night Stand 29

Falling in Love With A One-Night Stand

Chapter 29

Anna didn't feel anything wrong about the question. She nodded and said happily, "I can't believe you still remember me." Ada ignored her and kept asking, "What's your daughter's name?"

Ada's eyes fell upon Tammy. She looked at her cute pink face, suddenly seized by fear. Why did this little girl look a little like Wayne? "That's impossible." The voice in her mind reminded her.

"I'm Tammy Gabriel. You can call me Tam." Tammy suddenly broke in their conversation. She looked up, and her eyes roamed over Ada.

"Tammy Gabriel?" Ada clenched her hands when she heard the name. She thought of that medical record that she saw in Wayne's office that and felt more suspicious. Then she directly asked, "Why do you take your mother's last name?"

Tammy turned around to look at her mommy, looking confused.

It was normal that Anna didn't feel anything wrong when Ada asked her daughter's name. But now that Ada was asking about her privacy, only fools would still take it as a normal question.

She immediately pulled Tammy behind her and said coldly, "Tammy is still small, and I have never explained this kind of thing to her. She can't understand your question. Besides, we are in the 21st century. No matter whose last name she takes, no one will feel weird about it."

Ada was slightly stunned. She was more displeased especially when she saw that Matthew hid behind the woman and seemed to like her a lot. She said harshly, "It's certainly not a problem whose last name she takes. I just wonder how Miss Gabriel, a manager-in-training, can afford to send your daughter to such a luxury kindergarten as Blue Castle. This is not a school for ordinary people. I guess you must have a rich husband. I really can't think of another reason."

Anna was embarrassed. She didn't think she had offended Ada before. But Ada sounded aggressive and managed to hit her soft spot with only one sentence. Ada was right.

She didn't have the power to send Tammy here, so she could only stand there silently.

"This is her private matter." Wayne suddenly interrupted and saved Anna from embarrassment. He shot an angry glance at Ada, "Does everyone have to make a report to you about how they get their kids here? You have been sticking your nose where it doesn't belong too often recently."

Anna paled on hearing Wayne's words because Wayne spoke up for this woman and humiliated her in front of her face, "I was afraid that all kinds of people would come to the school, and I thought I should ask more bother." Wayne said coldly without looking at her, "You can go back the doorman wouldn't let Ada in after Wayne, the parent of the students, watched Wayne and two adults. When Tammy looked back and saw the angry expressions on Ada's face, she squeezed her shoulders back and whispered to Matthew, "Matthew, do you really on the Internet. But now when Tammy any part. Uncle Wright really has shook his head in

surprised by him,

his head more

want her to be your stepmom?" Tammy's

Matthew nodded.

my mom? Would you prefer my mom to become your stepmom? My Matthew nodded vigorously.

"From now on, you are my brother. Rest assured, I'll cover you and won't let any other one bully you as long as I'm here. If I can eat the delicious food, I his head. He wrote something on his drawing board and

She frowned and asked, "Matthew, hands, pointing to the board and then to Tammy. He meant a weird look at Matthew. Seeing that Matthew was grasping utter the words, "My family is rich. We can both eat