

Night Stand 30

Falling in Love With A One-Night Stand

Chapter 30

Eleanor, the beautiful assistant, quickly answered seriously, "The swing isn't high, and there are soft cushions underneath. There has never been a swing-related safety incident in the kindergarten before."

Wayne pointed to the swing frame, looking displeased, "The fact that no accidents happened before doesn't mean there is no safety concern."

Then Wayne turned around and looked to the rainbow-color running racetrack solemnly, "And the running racetrack. The corner of the track hasn't been completely covered by the rubber, and you haven't removed all the weeds. Children tend to forget about everything when they play. What if a poisonous snake appears in the weeds?"

Eleanor went pale, not knowing how to answer the criticize. Thave never met a more difficult parent in Blue Castle before. I mean look at those weeds. They are not as high to reach my ankle!

"I think it's alright." A clear female voice suddenly broke the silence. Anna walked down from the hallway to them. "Tam once fell off the swing, breaking her arm. But I don't take it as a bad thing."

She gently looked at Wayne as if she thought of something warm, "Because she would cling to the rope every time she played on the swing after that and has never fallen off the swing since then. Even when I sat on the swing, she would tell me, 'Mommy, remember to hold on to the rope. Kids will learn and grow.'"

Wayne was a little relieved by Anna's words. He stared at Anna for a long time with a complicated look.

Eleanor said carefully to him, "Mr. Wright, if you're still worried about the safety issue, we will remove the swing set. Then we'll cover all the parts of the racetrack with rubber and pull out all the weeds."

Wayne pondered for a while and said in a deep voice, "Forget it. If there is anything wrong with Matthew, just call me as soon as possible."

Eleanor was finally relived. She cast a grateful glance at Anna before responded, "Sure, Mr. Wright. I'll go back and give a report to the principle."

took a deep breath and sat on the swing. "Mr. Wright, I narrowed her eyes in the sunlight, which were sparkling with pleasure and a little

"In your opinion, I'm an arbitrary that you're a young and promising leader. How "Tyrant?" Wayne's eyes narrowed.

said her secret thoughts out loud and quickly changed the topic, "I just Wayne asked with the world outside. You shouldn't keep Matthew in a safe bubble. He can't to live in our own unique way"

Anna asked him carefully, "Is it possible that you're so nervous at Anna's face, his eyes and said, "Emmm. I know I shouldn't ask this question. I at the watch on her wrist and stood up from the swing. "It's late now. I have to go to work.

reluctant to speak, and it's all my fault." There suddenly came a deep voice full like someone who would casually talk about his family with others, not to mention talking about Matthew's talk, but he is just unwilling to?" She asked

"Matthew is a smart kid, he could already say a lot of words when he was two years old. But he suddenly stopped talking after a high