

Night Stand 31

Falling in Love With A One-Night Stand

Chapter 31

At first, Anna thought that Wayne refused to play because he didn't want to trouble her, so she kept telling him that it was alright. After pushing the swing for a few rounds, she finally sensed the anger and reluctance in his tone.

He said, "Anna Gabriel. Stop it. Now." She quickly let go of the rope, "What...What's wrong?"

Wayne stepped on the ground and controlled the swinging ropes, his expensive leather shoes leaving two "skid marks" on the ground.

He turned around and glared at Anna, said word by word, "Did I say I want to swing?"

"Didn't you just think it was not safe? You should try it for Matthew." Anna still hadn't realized what a wrong thing she had done and said naturally, "Besides, staying with a child means playing the things they like. Haven't you played with Matthew before?"

"And that's the reason why you think I should swing right here right now?" He stared at Anna with annoyance in his eyes.

Anna looked at Wayne up and down in confusion. Then the smile on her face froze.

His suit was certainly incompatible with the colorful swing. Besides, she was busy thinking about comforting him and totally forgot how cold and scary he usually looked.

And she just put the cold scary CEO on a children's toy...

"Well, ahem... I suddenly remember that I'm in a hurry. I need to go to work. I...I must go now." Anna pretended to look at her watch and took a few steps back, quickly running away.

As Anna ran out of his sight, the anger on Wayne's face gradually faded. It seemed that his face was lit up and there was a glimmer of amusement in his eyes when he put his fingers on the ropes after making sure there was no one around.

she stood there to catch her breath with her hands on her chest, embarrassed and frightened. She thought, "That was close.
