

Night Stand 35

Falling in Love With A One-Night Stand

Chapter 35

The sound of Matthew hitting the ground echoed in the house. He had fallen fainted on the ground of the first floor with his body covered by blood when Ada realized what just happened.

Ada turned pale. She quickly looked around and ran back to the bedroom before the servants came. She pretended that she didn't know what happened and walked to the bed, taking off her clothes.

Soon, the servants started shouting anxiously. "Matthew fell down the stairs." "Call the ambulance!" "Where is Mr. Wright?" "We should immediately tell Mr. Wright!"

"Mr. Wright." The door of the bedroom was pushed open with a bang. The maid immediately turned pale when she saw the two people on the bed. Her words stuck in her throat.

Ada suddenly screamed in a high pitch and quickly pulled the sheet to cover her body.

Wayne was startled out of his sleep. He opened his eyes and frowned. He suddenly sobered up when he saw Ada who was lying beside him half-naked. He asked unpleasantly, "Why are you here?"

Ada was so aggrieved that tears almost fell from her eyes. She said with a red face, "Wayne, you, you were drunk. You made me...I..."

Wayne touched his forehead in a headache and was not able to remember what happened before. Then he asked the maid impatiently, "What are you doing here then?"

The maid finally remembered what she came here for and said anxiously, "Matthew... Matthew fell down the stairs and bled a lot."

"What?" Wayne suddenly raised his head. His face was as dark as the cloudy sky. He immediately jumped out of bed and strode out without putting on his shoes. Ada also put her clothes on in a hurry and followed him.

Matthew was rushed to the hospital, still in a coma. It wasn't before long that Wayne's grandfather knew about it.

"How did it happen?" The old man stood at the door of the operation room and asked Wayne anxiously, "How did he fall downstairs? Did any of those servants take care of him at all?"

a sofa in the doorway, covered by the smell of did you drink?" The old man was extremely angry now, "Look at has to socialize with other people." The butler explained for Wayne. "It was a dinner party held by the Chamber of Commerce of Birmingham. I had they were talking, the door of the operation room suddenly opened, and the doctor “Doctor, how his left arm was dislocated. There are some wounds on his skin. Fortunately, his head wasn't hurt. Basically, there is nothing serious. Kids can recover at a man still felt that his heart was broken. After the doctors and nurses pushed Matthew outside the operation room and sent him to the ward, he sighed in front of Matthew's his eyebrows. Seeing that Matthew neighborhood, “What be sleeping in his

and windows in the house. Suddenly a maid shouted that Matthew fell down. When I went to the living room, I saw Matthew lying on the ground of the first floor, covered by blood. I asked all the people, and

and fell down.”

of Matthew today. Go find some more responsible people. I don't want again.”

quickly nodded,

a good sleep. Tammy suddenly opened her bedroom door and ran to mommy. Something eyes to look at Tammy, “Aren't you here

It's my brother. My brother? When did you have a brother?” Anna was first surprised and then closed her eyes. She pulled her blanket pulled Anna's arm and tried to get her out of bed. She shouted anxiously, “It's Matthew! Matthew fell down the stairs and hurt hands and begged her, “Mommy's really sleepy. Let me sleep, OK? It's just a dream.” Matthew falling off the stairs at midnight?

her, “Mommy, if you won't go with me, I'll go by myself. There are a lot of bad people out there