

Night Stand 43

Chapter 43

“How is that possible? Mr. Wright is going to marry Miss Xavier.”

“It’s said that Mr. Wright’s grandfather doesn’t like Miss Xavier and doesn’t approve their marriage.”

“What?” A maid covered her mouth in surprise and said in a low voice, “Really? Now Ms. Gabriel appears, and Matthew really likes her. Does this mean...?”

“Behave yourself and be respectful. Maybe she will become the lady of the house.”

Anna was busy eating with the two children. She didn’t know that Matthew’s friendly attitude towards her had aroused the servants’ wild imagination and labelled her as the future Mrs. Wright.

It was already three o’clock when the meetings were over, one in the morning and one in the afternoon. Gabe had already ordered some food for him and put it on the table in his office.

“Mr. Wright, why don’t you eat first? I will put the copy of the meeting minutes in your computer later.”

Wayne pinched between his eyebrows and slightly nodded, exhausted. He had been working nonstop and hadn’t eaten anything since seven in the morning.

After resting for a while, Wayne called home. He put his phone aside and opened the speaker while eating.

His butler quickly answered and asked respectfully, “Mr. Wright, have you finished your meetings?”

“Yeah, just finished. How are things at home?”

“Everything has been fine. Please rest assured. Ms. Gabriel and Matthew are having a good time. Her daughter also gets along well with him.”

While they were talking, Wayne heard Tammy’s laughter on the other end of the phone.
