Chapter 65

"Hey, Anna It's me." The voice of a young man came from the other end of the line.

"I know," Anna said gently, "I have your phone number. You said you would come back from abroad after finishing your performance. Have you decided when you will come back?"

"Yes."

"When? I'm not busy in the following days, I'll pick you up at the airport if I have free time"

Thank you. But don't bother."

"All right" Anna said with a smile. "You are a popular and famous violinist and the Mr. Medreamy in our country now. There will be a lot of people who want to pick you up."

"But Mr. Mcdreamy is going to live on the street as a vagrant. Anna, I need you."

What do you mean by living on the street?" Anna asked in surprise. Turn around"

Hearing this, Anna turned around and looked in the direction of the gate of the Carousel Hotel

Then she saw a young man carrying a huge cello case with a suitcase beside him. He was looking at her with a bright and innocent smile.

The young man opened her arms and shouted, "Surprise!"

Anna was stunned at first and then she smiled. She trotted out of the hotel in her high heels, patted him on the shoulder, and said, "Hey! When did you come back? Why didn't you tell me about it before?"

"I've just come back. I spent more than forty hours on the plane. I'm so tired now."

"You may have a rest and we'll have dinner together later," Anna took a look at her watch and said. "I've finished my work and I can get off work early today. Wait a minute. I'll pack up my belongings first
