

Night Stand 77

Falling in Love With A One-Night Stand

Chapter 77

"Yes, he signed the contract with Enlight Media without hesitation. The term of the contract is five years. If he breaches the contract, the liquidated damages will be enough to make him bankrupt," Gabe said and couldn't help wanting to laugh at the mention of Scott

Compared with Mr. Wright, Scott is still too simple and innocent Mr. Wright almost took no effort to let his rival in love become his employee.

"I don't want him to breach the contract," Wayne said leisurely. "Isn't it better that he works in the company all the time and makes money for me?"

Hearing this, Gabe was a little stunned and then couldn't help but sympathize with Scott more.

Scott is so pitiful that he not only became Mr. Wright's employee but also has to work to make money for Mr. Wright. Moreover, he can only get a minority of the money to support himself while most of the money he makes will belong to Mr. Wright.

In the Gabriel's House.

Anna specially chose to go home on Monday noon so that she wouldn't see Allie because Allie would go to work on weekdays. Her stepmother Shirley was not a good person but would be polite to her and would not make things difficult for her.

Anna decided that she would leave as soon as she got the key. "Miss Anna!"

Seeing Anna, Harriet, an old maid of the Gabriel family, almost burst into tears. She said excitedly, "Miss Anna, you are finally back. Where have you been all these years?"

Harriet had worked for Anna's mother for many years. After Anna's mother died, she had been taking care of Anna Later, Anna came back to Gabriel's House and she also came here.

When Anna saw Harriet, the rims of her eyes turned red. She held Harriet's hand and said in a choked voice, "Auntie Harriet, I've been back from abroad for some time. It's just that I didn't come back home. I'm sorry to make you worried about me."

"That's all right. You must have suffered a lot these years. If your mother knew that, she would blame me for not taking good care of you."

"I'm fine, Auntie Harriet. Don't worry about me," Anna said gently.

voice interrupted the conversation between Anna

It was Shirley

the stairs in a blue and gray dress, she looked elegant. Since she was well-preserved, she she was astonished. But she quickly recovered her composure and said enthusiastically as she went downstairs, "Anna, long time no see. You should tell me in advance before you came back so that I

77 You Are hand and said, "I just came back to fetch something. I'll leave as soon as I get it. Don't so many years, she

Anna as her own daughter and treated her well but Anna didn't appreciate her at all and didn't

"You are not her mother. She is polite enough to call you angry but didn't dare to lose her temper in front of Frank But after Frank went out, she smashed a lot of things in the house and hit and scolded the known how phoney Shirley was since she was a child. And she always felt helpless at the thought that Frank still couldn't usual pleasantries with Shirley, Anna went upstairs and Shirley didn't stop

After entering the room, Anna opened the drawer on the right side of her she found that the key was not in have taken stuff?" Seeing Anna go downstairs, Shirley stood up from the sofa and "Auntie, the key to my house is not in my room. Did anyone take and there was a hint of fluster on her face. Then she deliberately asked a house in Golden Ocean Community six years ago. I put the Harriet often enters the room to clean it, and sometimes

Anna didn't say anything leave, Shirley said, "Anna, why don't you stay for lunch? I've asked the cook to cook your felt a little irritable when hearing that. Then she said, "If I stay for are you talking about? How