

Night Stand 80

Chapter 80

Wayne remained calm, took a sip of coffee, and put down the cup

“Mr. Gabriel, you misunderstood me. I just speculate that you came to the celebration for the sake of Anna,” he said.

His words were tactful and Frank’s serious expression softened.

Speaking of Anna, Frank said proudly, “Anna has been stable since she was a child. And she is conscientious and capable in work. But the working condition at home is different from that abroad. Mr. Wright, Anna has just come back from abroad for a few months. It must be because you have helped her a lot that she could do her job well.”

“No, it’s because she’s excellent,” Wayne said as he remembered that on the day when Anna came here for the interview, she confidently promised him that she would achieve the performance goal within two months. “I have never specially provided help for her. I just gave her necessary assistance as her boss.”

There was nothing wrong with his words, but it was not what Frank wanted to hear. With a frown, Frank took a sip of tea and didn’t say anything.

Seeing that Frank still didn’t come straight to the point, Wayne looked at the time and said, “Mr. Gabriel, I have to catch a plane later. I’m afraid I can only talk with you for a few minutes.”

Hearing this, Frank took a deep breath and looked him up and down. Then he said, “You should know why I came to you.”

At the engagement party of Jacob and Lilian, Wayne announced in public that Anna was his fiancée, which had been widely spread in high society.

In fact, the moment Wayne saw Frank just now, he knew the aim of Frank’s coming. He knew that Frank came because he was concerned about his daughter and wanted to see what kind of person his future son-in-law was.

“Anna told me everything,” Frank sighed and said slowly with a sad look. “Anna lost her mother not long after she was born and didn’t live with me when she was young. As a father, I owe her a lot. Before she went abroad, I thought about her marriage. She can marry whoever she wants in the future as long as her future husband treats her well. I hope she can live a happy life.”

Hearing this, Wayne asked curiously, “What did she tell you?” “You two are together and are going to get married, aren’t you?” Frank asked. Wayne’s expression froze for a second and somehow, he nodded and said, “Yes, we are.”

at any time. I know you are busy, but I relationship and were going to get married. He couldn’t help but wonder if Anna did so because she had a crush on him or

80 She Told

will leave the Gabriel Group to the two of you. With you this, Wayne was a little surprised. After thinking for a while, he could a big company in Birmingham. A few years ago, due to health problems, Frank began to delegate power to his eldest daughter and his nephews. However, consecutive family business like the Gabriel Group, a capable and trustworthy manager was the most indispensable for and show off her wealth at various parties. Fortunately, his younger daughter Anna had a company.

then changed the topic tactfully and began to talk about something else came and told him that it was time suddenly stopped him and said, "Mr. Wright, the fifteenth of the next month is Anna's birthday, and it's also the death anniversary of her mother. If convenient, paused and nodded

it was very lively in the venue and the celebration came to the lucky draw part. The male celebrities performed on the stage while their fans cheered and screamed excitedly, which of the lucky draw activity was released online, the rooms of Carousel then he pretended to disapprove of Anna and said, "She invested too much in the activity, and there are many uncertain factors and risks about it. If she didn't take advantage of the celebration and fan economy, she couldn't have been able to increase the turnover of the hotel. Moreover, her idea is not helpful for the long term development me to call the finance department to allocate more money finished his words,

couldn't help but tremble with fear, not knowing what he