

Night Stand 83

Chapter 83

Anna looked at Matthew in disbelief.

Shouldn't he be at home at this moment? Why is he here?

At this time, the waiter came over and asked Anna if she knew Matthew.

Anna picked Matthew up and explained, "This is my friend's child. He should be staying in this hotel. I will send him back to his room later. Don't worry."

Seeing Matthew clinging to Anna, the waiter didn't doubt Anna and left with relief.

After the waiter left, Anna put down Matthew, squatted down, and asked, "Matthew, what are you doing here? Where is your dad?"

With his eyes wide open, Matthew kept making gestures.

Considering that he couldn't speak, Anna changed the way of asking questions. "Did your dad come with you?"

Matthew nodded. Anna frowned and asked, "You two live in this hotel?" Matthew nodded again. "Then why are you here alone?" Anna was confused. Hearing this, Matthew pouted with an unhappy look.

Does he feel aggrieved? Anna wondered. She couldn't understand his gestures and had no choice but to call Wayne.

"Sorry, the subscriber you dialed can not be connected for the moment, please redial later."

No one answered the phone. Anna frowned.

What's the matter with Wayne? Why didn't he answer the phone? While she was thinking, she caught a glimpse of Matthew's reddened neck.

"Matthew, what's wrong with your neck?" Anna asked as she hurriedly unbuttoned Matthew's collar

Then she found not only Matthew's neck but also his chest was red. It was obvious that he was sunburned.

After Anna asked a few more questions, Matthew took her phone and typed a few words. Yesterday afternoon, Dad took me to the beach. Too much sun made me hurt.
