

Night Stand 87

Falling in Love With A One-Night Stand

Chapter 87

As soon as Matthew heard Tammy call him, his eyes lit up with joy. He loosened his grip on Wayne's hand and rushed over, smiling at Tammy.

Then like a chatterbox, Tammy began to tell Matthew what had happened in the past two days, including what had happened on the plane, the beach, and the island,

Wayne pulled out the chair next to Anna naturally and deliberately asked, "Do you mind if I sit here?"

Anna forced a smile and said she didn't mind it. But the look in her eyes showed that she wished he could get out of here at once.

Wayne turned a blind eye to the reluctance on her face and nodded at her with a smile. Seeing this, Anna was annoyed and speechless, roasting him in her heart.

At the same time, Scott, who looked at the interaction between the two of them, felt very upset.

Anna had always regarded him as her young brother for so many years. Although he always said that he wanted to marry Anna, she seemed to just take his words as jokes and had never thought about being together with him. Now that he had a rival in love who was a cunning old fox, the chance of them being together became slimmer.

Scott then thought about his contract. It was not until several days ago that he learned that Wayne was a big shareholder of Enlight Media. Then he realized that Wayne deliberately played a trick to let him sign with Enlight Media.

Thinking about this, he stared at Wayne and gritted his teeth with hostility.

He couldn't help but say with sarcasm, "Mr. Wright, are you here to expand your business in person? As the CEO of the Carousel Group, don't you have subordinates to help you?"

Wayne glanced at him and said, "Thank you for your suggestion. I will consider expanding my business here in the future. But I'm here with my son just for a

"You have many choices. Why do you have to choose the Maldives? What a coincidence that you came to the same place with us!" Scott said with displeasure.

Wayne said calmly and bluntly, "Matthew and I have always thought that this is a good place, so we came here."

Scott clenched his fists and asked with an annoyed look, "A good place? What's good about it?"

"You..." Scott was speechless.

Anna suddenly broke in on their conversation and said, looking uneasy and embarrassed. "The food will not taste good
