Never Late, Never Away Chapter 2444 - 2446

Never Late, Never Away Chapter 2444

What's he trying to do? Does he want to drag this on? I won't fall for such tricks.

"You can explain it to me now. Why exactly was the company losing so much money previously?" he asked.

"They said something about the product being rejected. What's that about? You have to understand that you guys are the source of my merchandise. If you run into any problems, we'll suffer because of it too. I just need you to answer one question. Can we still cooperate or not?" shouted Larry.

Although he had said a lot, his words all made sense. He was someone who took the company's reputation very seriously. Thus, no matter what they did, they could not deceive the consumers. It was both a principle he lived by and his bottom line.

"Mr. Norton, don't panic. We can discuss anything. There'll always be a solution to it," the man replied as he poured himself some tea.

"Then tell me, how do we resolve it?" Larry asked.

It was clear to him then that the supposed younger brother of the boss that was right in front of him did not want to get involved in those matters.

"That's a very good question. So how do we solve it? Of course, it's to let the person in charge handle it. You can go and look for whoever made you that promise. It's that simple," the man replied.

"I haven't been able to contact Mr. Lancaster recently, have you?"

Ignoring Larry, the man sipped on his tea and closed his eyes as he savored it, looking as if he were enjoying himself.

“Sorry, Mr. Norton, I haven’t been able to contact my brother for a long time too. If I could, I wouldn’t be here in the office handling company matters now.”

Hearing his words, Larry became speechless.

Does this even count as “handling company matters?” That’s ridiculous! Larry snorted coldly.

As he had expected, in the end, the matter did not get resolved in any way. Even as he exited the company and walked down the road, he kept contemplating the situation.

Where exactly did the boss of that manufacturing company go to? Why’s there still no news after so long? He could not put his finger on it. Under normal circumstances, that man would usually notify him no matter what happened. However, he just disappeared for no reason this time.

He felt slightly uneasy about it.

“Get lost! How dare you eat here when you don’t have any money!” Not far away, a waiter was shouting at someone.

By the door, a beggar dressed in rags was on the ground, looking embarrassed.

“I want food. I’m hungry...” he held his hands together as he said weakly.

“You’re hungry? Go somewhere else to beg!” replied the waiter as he began to hit and kick the beggar.

“Stop it!” Larry shouted, his tone bitter.

He looked down the most on those who bullied the weak just because they were stronger.

“What would you like to eat, sir? You can order inside,” the waiter immediately said, smiling as he bowed.

What a fraud! He was so vicious just moments ago, but he’s now acting like a bootlicker.

“Are you okay, sir?” Larry said as he hurriedly helped the beggar to his feet.

However, the old man did not dare look up at him, and his body was even trembling a little.

“Prepare a room for me,” he turned around and said loudly to the waiter.

Then, as he helped the man in, he said, “Come. I’ll treat you to a meal. Don’t worry. They won’t hit you again.”

However, the old man did not have any intention to enter.

“Thank you, young man,” he said, preparing to run off.

Why’s his voice so familiar? He looked at the man’s face doubtfully.

Isn’t he...

As soon as he realized who the man was, Larry was taken aback.

“Mr. Lancaster, let’s talk inside. Don’t worry. I won’t tell anyone,” he promised.

The man then raised his head to look at Larry as tears welled up in his eyes.

He had never expected that the person who would eventually come to help him was not his family or relatives. Instead, it was just one of his business partners.

“Thank you, Mr. Norton,” he replied, touched.

Never Late, Never Away Chapter 2445

In the private room of the restaurant, the two men sat beside each other in silence. The server was shocked when he was met with that scene and wanted to say something but decided not to after considering it for a while.

“What’s going on? Why’s there a beggar in there?”

“Who knows? Anyway, I think they’re both not as simple as they seem.”

“Really? Although it is strange how such a handsome man got to know a beggar.”

Several servers were discussing the situation in a corner outside the room, whispering to one another with complex expressions on their faces.

“You’re hungry, right? Please eat up. We can order more if there’s not enough,” Larry said.

Looking at the table full of dishes, the other man swallowed, seemingly very excited.

“Thank you, Mr. Norton. I’ll start eating then.” Subsequently, he dug into his meal.

What exactly did he go through? Why has he suddenly become like this? He looks so dirty and helpless. In the past, he was always someone highly respected and would always keep his word. What happened to him? Lost in his thoughts, Larry looked curiously at the man in front of him.

A long time later, the dishes on the table had become mostly empty. The man held his belly as he leaned back on the chair, looking comfortable and satisfied.

“Are you full? Otherwise, I can...”

“No, Mr. Norton, I’ve had enough. Thank you for this. You’re the most righteous friend I’ve ever made in this lifetime,” the man replied in a low voice.

“So, what exactly happened? Why aren’t you in the company? Shouldn’t you be in the office trying to deal with the recent accidents?” Larry asked, puzzled.

The man’s eyes instantly dulled. In reality, kinship was the most heartwarming thing in the world but was also the most hurtful.

I’d once regarded my brother as my only family in the world. However, he betrayed me and even wanted to kill me. I was so stupid! I’d forgiven whatever he previously did to me so many times. But this time, I can’t tolerate it anymore!

“I was set up by Matthew. He’s actually my biological brother but tried to kill me because he wanted my company. That’s why I disappeared for a long time,” Malcolm explained.

He's really a wolf in sheep's clothing! Larry clenched his fist as a fierce look flashed across his eyes.

"Now what? What do you plan to do?" he asked.

"I have to go back, of course. I need to take back whatever's mine!" Malcolm replied loudly.

Good! I trusted a good man! Larry broke into a satisfied smile before he suddenly said, "I can help you."

Help me? I'm just one of your overseas business partners. Malcolm glanced at him for a moment but did not speak.

"If you trust me, Mr. Lancaster, you can tell me what you plan to do next. I'll do it for you," Larry said.

Thereafter, the two men had a long conversation about Malcolm's plans, at the end of which they came to a decision.

"Okay, let's do that first. Rest assured, Mr. Lancaster, if it's meant to be yours, no one can take it away from you. If it's not, it never will be," said Larry lightly.

He's right; the company's something I singlehandedly created by myself after all! Malcolm's gaze instantly became firm with determination.

"Do you have somewhere to stay?" Larry asked.

"No, but I can just sleep on the streets. Don't worry. My body can handle it."

"No way. I'll book a room for you. Aren't you afraid that Mr. Matthew will find you if you sleep on the streets?" he purposely reminded the man.

After pondering for a long time, Malcolm eventually followed Larry back to the hotel he was staying at.

"If you need anything, give me a call. I can help you find a solution." Instantly, Malcolm was touched by his words.

“Thank you.” I didn’t think that Mr. Matthew was this vicious! He even dares to do this to his own brother! Larry shook his head and sighed.

Never Late, Never Away Chapter 2446

Never Late, Never Away Chapter 2446

Many weird things were going on that year.

Back at home, Joan and the others were living very peacefully and happily. There were not many worries or disturbances in their lives.

“Help me put this pot over there,” said Delilah as she pointed to an open space not too far away.

“Sure,” Joan replied.

“Bad mood? Give Larry a call then!” Delilah purposely said.

“He’s really busy.”

“Is his work more important, or his woman?” Delilah asked.

At that time, Larry was having a conversation with Malcolm. “What do you plan to do, Mr. Lancaster?” asked Larry.

I don’t believe that guy will just stop here.

“I need time. I have to wait. There’re some of my people on the board of directors. They’re all my good friends and won’t compromise with him easily. But what I’m worried about most is that they’ll think I’m dead since I can’t appear in front of them right now,” said Malcolm.

He was willing to be honest as he trusted Larry to some extent. After all, Larry had provided him help when he was at his lowest point, proving that he was a good man.

“Okay, what do you need me to do?” Larry asked.

Malcolm looked at the man with a gaze full of gratitude.

“Mr. Norton, I’ll have to trouble you during this period of time then. I’ve already sent my family overseas, so I don’t have to worry about anything else now. I need some people to help me investigate the truth. Only when it comes to light can I openly go back to my company.”

Larry understood Malcolm’s words very well.

Everyone had their times of trouble and had times when they were wronged. Naturally, he would not harm the man when he was already at a bad stage of his life. Furthermore, he believed that Malcolm would be able to return to his company.

“Why don’t you help me investigate this one guy,” Malcolm said, handing a photo over to Larry. Just like that, the two began their investigations in the hotel room.

“But you have to be careful. These people are cunning. If they notice anything, they won’t let you off that easily,” said Malcolm.

“Sure, no problem,” replied Larry as he walked to the window, squinting into the distance.

Joan, you have to wait for me! Larry’s affectionate thoughts were mixed with some sadness.

Naturally, Malcolm noticed it. “Is something bothering you?” he suddenly asked.

“I’m fine,” replied Larry as he turned around and smiled.

The only thing he was troubled about was Joan. He had promised her that he would return as soon as possible but had not expected that he would meet with such a situation.

As the days passed, Larry was still busy investigating overseas while Joan looked forward to reuniting with him back at home.

“Mom, when’s Dad coming back?” asked Lucius as he snuggled in Joan’s arms. When she raised her head at his question, there was a helpless expression on her face.

She herself did not know when he would be back. She missed him a lot.

“Be good. Dad’s very busy now. When he’s done with his work, he’ll come back to spend time with you, okay?” she replied gently as she kissed him on the forehead.

For some reason, without Larry around, she always felt like something was missing in the house.

Is it about time I agree to remarry him? There was a flicker of expectation in her eyes.

Suddenly, Lucius raised his head and asked seriously, “Mom, did you and Dad get a divorce?”

Instantly, Joan was flustered.

How did he know? We clearly kept it a secret! She stared at the child in her arms, surprised.

“Why did you suddenly ask about this?” she replied, acting as if it was such an unbelievable thing to ask.

“Because when I cleaned your room the other day, I saw the divorce papers,” he replied with a hint of sadness in his gaze.

Oh my god, why was I so careless! He actually discovered such an important document!
