Never Late, Never Away Chapter 2951 - 2954

Chapter 2951 Jealous

"Oh my! Acting lovey-dovey again, I see!" Jessica barged in out of nowhere.

This woman always comes without prior notice. Larry glanced at her with disdain in his eyes.

"Larry, why are you acting like this? Now that you have a wife, you don't want your little sister anymore. Is that it?" Jessica pouted.

"Of course I want my little sister. Who would want to upset their own sister?" Joan suddenly stood up and pulled Jessica over to her.

Since Joan had amnesia, she couldn't recall much about the past anymore. However, having spent such a long time with Jessica, she felt like she had a good understanding of Jessica's character. In her head, Jessica's only foible was that she could be a bit mischievous sometimes.

"Joan, did you miss me?" Jessica kissed Joan on the cheek.

Meanwhile, Larry, who was watching on the side, had a grumpy look on his face. What's with girls kissing each other? I don't get it. Not to mention, Joan is my woman. No one should be allowed to touch her except for me. Not even my own sister.

Larry sighed before uttering, "What are you doing? If you want to kiss someone, go and kiss Caspian. You're being a nuisance to Joan." Larry hurriedly pulled Joan over to his side.

Pfft! This man is so irascible! You don't want me to kiss her? I'll do it anyway!

Jessica took a big step toward Joan.

"Larry, make sure you pay close attention!" Having finished her sentence, Jessica embraced Joan and kissed her on the cheek again.

Has this woman gone gonzo? Or has she turned bisexual? Larry glared at Jessica with a confused expression on his face.

Knowing that Jessica was merely joking around, Joan smiled and remained taciturn.

Larry was irritated by the sight of them being so close with each other. He then got up and left the room.

“Hello? Caspian, you should make sure Jessica behaves!” Larry sounded furious over the phone.

What? Jessica is outside right now? Startled, Caspian stood up from his couch. This stupid woman! She’s causing trouble again! The worst part is, she ran into Larry!

Ding ding ding! The phone on the table rang incessantly.

What’s the matter with him? Why is he being so mean to me? Aggrieved, Jessica curled her lips. I didn’t do anything wrong.

“Why should I go back? You don’t even spend time with me.” Jessica murmured.

So? Did you decide to find other men to spend time with you? What is she thinking!

“Jessica, get back here this instant!” Caspian was livid.

Larry must’ve told him something bad about me! After a laconic exchange of words, Joan and Jessica parted ways with each other.

Seeing Jessica walking further and further away, Larry let out a mischievous grin.

But of course, it was just a joke to mess with his sister. Trifling jokes like this were the thing that consolidated their relationship as brother and sister after all.

As the days passed on, Abelyn’s secret was still not exposed. The people who ran away weren’t caught as they were smart enough to flee to other countries.

Although Jake looked apathetic and calm on the surface, he was actually very worried about Joan and was furtively investigating her abduction incident.

Meanwhile, Della had become quite the honest person. To Larry's surprise, Della didn't attempt to hurt Joan this time around.

"Larry, what do you think Ms. Duff is up to these days?" Caspian asked Larry in the office.

Right, what is she doing now? Don't tell me she's setting up another trap? Larry had a distressed look on his face. Della has been too quiet over the past few days. She must be plotting something...

Chapter 2952 A Proposal To Team Up

"Caspian, make sure you protect Joan. I don't want her to get hurt anymore," Larry instructed with gravitas.

Caspian agreed to comply.

"What's wrong? Did the plan fail?" In the café, Della was stirring her cup of coffee. She was gazing scornfully at the woman in front of her.

So what? I still have many opportunities in the future. Chagrined, Abelyn was reticent. She then took a sip of her coffee. Della must be laughing at me now. Hmph, laugh all you want. I couldn't care less!

"It's none of your business," Abelyn replied coldly.

Oh my, when did she become this grumpy? Is it because of Joan? Della sneered, "Do you need my help?"

What can she possibly help me with? If she really wants to help me, she shouldn't have called me out here today! Not to mention, I don't want to get involved with her any more than

I should! Also, if Larry somehow finds out, he'll be even more cautious toward me. When that happens, it'll be way harder for me to make a move on Joan.

"No," Abelyn answered directly.

Aw, that's too bad! Does she really think that can deal with Joan by herself? What a joke!

"Abelyn, I'm going to give it to you straight. You can't deal with Joan on your own. How about you team up with me?" Della suggested.

However, Abelyn had no intention of teaming up with her. Della is cunning and crafty. She might betray me halfway through the plan and rat me out to Larry.

I must be prudent about this.

"Sorry, I'm used to working alone. I don't like collaborating with others," Abelyn responded.

She really doesn't want to work with me huh? Della stared menacingly at Abelyn. This dumb b*tch! Why is she so stubborn!

"If there's nothing important to talk to me about, we should abstain from meeting each other again." After finishing her sentence, Abelyn stood up and was getting ready to leave.

Does she wish to end our relationship? Abelyn, are you out of your goddamn mind? If it wasn't for me, you wouldn't be sitting comfortably here now! This is absurd! Ultimately, you're afraid of getting blackmailed by others, aren't you?

Such a shame! Whatever you were trying to hide, I already knew it in the first place.

"Are you not afraid that I'll tell Larry about your involvement in Joan's abduction?" Della intentionally queried.

That being said, Abelyn seemed unperturbed by her question.

"Ms. Duff, enough with the nonsense. If you really think that I was the one who abducted Joan, then show me the evidence."

Abelyn was right. Della didn't have any proof of Abelyn being the abductor. However, she was obstinate that Abelyn was the one who did it. Who else would do such a cruel thing to Joan except for her?

I can't believe that she's still trying to feign innocence! This woman is way too deceitful! Don't you worry, Abelyn. One of these days, I'll have you wrapped around my finger!

Since the conversation between them didn't go too well, the two of them left soon after.

"Eh? Isn't that Abelyn?" Nancy asked Jory while pointing at a woman in front of them.

"It is her," Jory was quick to respond.

After Abelyn had gotten in the car, Della was seen walking out of the café.

"Why is Della here too?" Nancy was thinking out loud. Strange... Did they have a meeting just now? I thought they were enemies though.

Seeing Abelyn and Della together, Jory was flooded with questions. Without pondering too much about it, he grabbed hold of Nancy's hand and quickly left.

"That's enough, we should head home now. The kid is waiting for us."

Having heard the word "kid", Nancy immediately turned around and got in the car.

Ever since Joan had moved into Larry's villa, she seldom went back to her house that was first recommended to her by Jessica. Clara, her neighbor, as well as Johann, were feeling down because of this.

“Joan, I miss you so much. When are you going to come back? Without you here, I have nobody to chat with,” Clara whimpered.

“Mrs. Wright, Joan isn’t coming back anymore,” Larry responded.

“Come on, don’t be like that. In any case, you should come and visit a poor old woman like me whenever you can,” Clara hurriedly replied.

“Okay Mrs. Wright, I’ll visit you tomorrow,” promised Joan.

Joan chatted with Clara for a while longer before hanging up the phone. Larry, who was sitting on the couch, was gazing at her with discontent.

Realizing that he was furious, Joan dashed over to him and sat down beside him. While smiling, she clung onto his arm and gave him a kiss on the cheek. “I’m just going to pay Mrs. Wright a visit. Don’t worry, it won’t take too long. I’ll make sure to take good care of myself,” she murmured.

“How about here?” Larry pointed at his lips, teasing her.

“Nope. A kiss on the cheek is all you get.” Joan got up and tried to run away as she was saying that. However, with a gentle pull, Larry was able to return her into his arms. He then proceeded to give her a fervent kiss on the lips.

The taste and softness of Joan’s lips were just as he remembered. As he was kissing her, he subconsciously started sliding his hand into her clothes. The atmosphere of the room suddenly changed.

Aroused, Joan was also getting really into it.

A while later, the two of them were panting heavily into each other’s ear...

“I take it you’ll let me go, ya?” Joan queried.

“Okay. However, you must let Caspian drive you there.” Larry placed her head on his chest. Truth be told, Larry was still very worried about Joan as he knew that there were other people who wanted to hurt her beside Della. What if there are enemies who have hidden themselves among Joan's circle?

Joan nodded silently in response.

As expected, Caspian drove Joan over to Clara's villa the following day.

"You're finally here, my dear. I've missed you so, so much." Clara grabbed Joan's hands.

"How are you? Are you hurt? Is your body okay?" Worried, Clara was bombarding her with questions. Joan was touched by Clara's concern for her. She's so caring toward me even though we've only met like two months ago.

So there are still some good people left in this cruel and callous world!

Joan let out a cheerful smile before answering, "Don't worry, Mrs. Wright. As you can see, I'm doing fine."

She spun around in front of Clara to indicate that she was doing well.

There isn't any wounds. That's good to know.

"Enough about me. How are you, Mrs. Wright? Is your body okay?" Joan helped Clara to the living room as she was saying that.

After hearing Joan's words, Clara seemed rather distressed.

I'm not okay! Everything has gone awry ever since I heard that you were Larry's current girlfriend. What about my son? I thought you guys were getting along nicely...

Seeing Clara's depressed look on her face, Joan frowned. What happened to her? Why is she suddenly so sad?

"Mrs. Wright, did something bad happen to you?" she asked.

"Yes. My future daughter-in-law is no more." Clara shrugged her shoulders.

Joan was quick to get the meaning behind Clara's words.

Love should be a mutual feeling. We can't force it! Larry and I are together because we share the same feeling with each other.

Back when I lost my memory, Larry didn't force me to love him even though I was his ex-wife. He knew that he can't force his love on others. After some time, I fell in love with him naturally and we decided to be together!

Never Late, Never Away Chapter 2954

Chapter 2954 I Am Better Than Him

This is the true essence of love. We respect and depend on each other. With that said, Larry is the only one for me!

"Mrs. Wright, rest assured that Johann would unequivocally find a better woman than me," uttered Joan.

She couldn't compel herself to love another man. Larry is the only one for me.

"Joan, can you take some time to reconsider? My son's conditions aren't bad either. He has everything that Larry can offer. Plus, he's a stalwart person and he loves you very much," Clara replied.

I can't deny the fact that he's an outstanding man. That being said, I still can't bring myself to love him.

Maybe it's because I met Larry first. Everything that Larry has done for me is engraved deeply in my heart.

"Mrs. Wright, I think that's enough for this topic, okay? That's not why I'm here. I came here today solely to see how you were doing." Joan tried to change the topic.

It looks like she has made up her mind. I don't there's any chance for Johann anymore. Oh, my poor boy. Just when you finally found a woman you liked, she's then immediately taken away from you...

"Larry, aren't you afraid?!" Shocked, Jessica yelled out loud in the office.

What's the big deal? Since Larry believed that Joan would not betray him, he was sure that there was nothing special going on between Joan and Johann.

"What if Johann decides to steal her from you?" Jessica queried.

If he dares to do so, then I'll make sure he regrets it!

"Honestly, Johann looks pretty suave. His achievements are quite remarkable too. Not to mention, he's also from a prominent family," Jessica tried to provoke Larry.

This silly woman! She's been beguiled by him! Larry was infuriated. His looks pales in comparison to mine! She must be blind to compliment him like this!

"Okay, that's enough blabbering! You should go now. I have work to do. Stop being a nudnik to me!" Larry retorted.

Aw, someone's getting jealous. Jessica glanced at Larry with a smirk before uttering, "I'm simply stating the truth. He is indeed good-looking."

Larry gave Jessica an ominous look before continuing on with his work. However, he was still enraged by Jessica's statement earlier.

Surely Joan doesn't think he's good looking, right? There's no way she would fall for his deceitful looks.

But just in case, I should do something about this! Larry decided to call Joan in the end.

"It's getting late. You should come back as soon as possible," Larry uttered over the phone.

Huh? What is he on about? It's still quite early. Don't tell me he's drunk again. Joan was rather confused.

“Joan, you should eat with us.” The sound of a man’s voice was heard by Larry.

It’s Johann’s voice!

“Larry, I’m going to eat with Mrs. Wright. I’ll head home after I’ve finished eating.” Having finished her sentence, Joan immediately hung up the phone.

Larry was getting riled up. That son of a b*tch! He’s not even trying to hide it!

Calm down. She’s just having a meal with Mrs. Wright. I’m overreacting. Larry managed to keep his composure.

“Here, Joan. This dish is made by Johann. Have a taste.” Clara offered Joan some baked ribs.
