

Never Late, Never Away Chapter 785

Back then, she left without taking anything with her. Hence, all her clothes were still lying intact in the wardrobe.

Nevertheless, after so many years, she had slimmed down too much and those clothes didn't fit anymore. Vivian took out the clothes and put them in a box, preparing to throw them away.

After all, five years had passed and she couldn't really wear them anymore. And even if she could, those were some uninteresting old outfits that Vivian no longer wanted to wear.

Her current lifestyle was to dress well, eat well, and never let herself be deprived of what she deserved.

While she was still packing the old clothes, she heard the phone ringing downstairs.

Finnick had already picked it up when Vivian got downstairs. However, Finnick's expression turned increasingly somber as he stayed on the phone. Eventually, he uttered, "Alright, I'll be there right away."

With that, he hung up the phone and turned to Vivian. "Evelyn has disappeared."

That piece of news gave Vivian a severe shock. Shouldn't Evelyn be in the hospital? How did she just disappear all of a sudden?

Vivian couldn't get her head around it. She purposely asked the nurse to keep watch on Evelyn when she was leaving the hospital. How did it turn out this way?

"Let's go to the hospital and take a look." Though bewildered, Vivian quickly came to understand that one had to be painstaking in order to keep someone properly guarded.

She could only blame herself for not taking enough precautions to prevent this from happening and not put the blame on others.

"Alright." Finnick took Larry in his arms and left for the hospital with Vivian.

“Daddy, who went missing?” From their conversations earlier, Larry knew that someone had gone missing.

But he had no idea who it was.

“It’s a bad person.” Vivian didn’t answer and waited for Finnick to respond.

However, she didn’t expect Finnick to be so straightforward and referred to Evelyn as a bad person directly.

“Mmm... Then, would she be like me and was just staging an act of being kidnapped?” Larry suddenly thought about the kidnapping which he had faked previously.

He was curious and wanted to know if this current incident was a sham plotted by the bad person to ask them for money.

“There is no reason for her to do that.” Finnick gave a thought about what Larry said and didn’t think that Evelyn would have any reason to do so.

Evelyn had completely no advantage in putting on an act as such. Hence, the reason she had vanished was most probably to escape from this place and then make a comeback.

To win Finnick’s heart again.

That was what Vivian thought.

Women knew women best. Vivian was of the opinion that Evelyn would never give up on Finnick so easily.

“Then why did she leave?” Hearing that the idea he gave was not possible, Larry tried to inquire further in another way.

“Little pumpkin, listen. This is a matter among the adults, and as a kid, you should stay away and not ask too much about it, alright?” Vivian stroked his hair gently. She didn’t want Larry to know too much about this matter which concerned Evelyn.

After all, it was not something worth mentioning but a long-standing grudge.

There was nothing beneficial to Larry from knowing it. Hence, it was best to keep it to themselves and not reveal it to Larry.

"I'm not a kid. I can help share Mommy and Daddy's burden as well." Hearing Vivian's response, Larry countered in a pout.

Larry thought that he was far more sensible than his peers of the same age and was capable enough to help his parents.

Nevertheless, Finnick and Vivian always claimed that he was too young to know all these matters which were better concealed from him.

That made Larry dislike his age sometimes. He felt that it was his age that brought about a lot of obstacles in many of the things he encountered.

"Little pumpkin, sometimes, it's not that we want to keep things away from you, but it's because these matters are not worth mentioning. Do you understand?" Seeing that Larry was rather downhearted, Finnick tried to make him feel better.

In fact, it was partly because of Larry's age that Finnick was reluctant to fill him in, but it was also because these matters weren't worthwhile to mention at all.

"Yes, I understand now," Seeing that Finnick was explaining it to him so earnestly, there was nothing that he could refute anymore, so he answered meekly.

Finnick was relieved to find that Larry was so mature and thoughtful.

Sitting next to Finnick, Vivian was still wondering where Evelyn went after leaving.

Never Late, Never Away Chapter 786

Thinking of that, Vivian made a call to Noah and asked him to check Evelyn's bank account.

If Evelyn had indeed escaped from the hospital, she would definitely withdraw money from the bank. That was one way to know Evelyn's location and actions.

"If Evelyn didn't withdraw money, then just freeze her bank accounts," Vivian ordered Noah before ending the call.

Vivian knew that Evelyn had no money at all, so they could get ready and wait for her to show up.

With Evelyn's current stamina and strength, she would surely go to the nearest bank. In that way, Noah would be able to find her.

After everything was done, Vivian was very pleased that she had found her wits again.

However, almost immediately, she thought about the possibility that Evelyn had already withdrawn money. If that's the case, what should I do?

At the thought of that, Vivian asked Finnick to drive faster so that they could reach the hospital sooner to see what had happened.

Most importantly, she wanted to see if Evelyn had left any clue which could be useful.

Very soon, they arrived at the hospital, and Vivian carried Larry off the car. Larry then followed her and Finnick closely.

"Mommy, are we coming to the hospital to look for someone?" Larry knew that it was the hospital as he had seen the signage at the entrance.

"That's right," answered Vivian, who suddenly paused in front of the entrance of the hospital.

Finnick knew the reason Vivian froze on the spot, but Larry was puzzled.

"Mommy, why aren't you going in?" Larry took Vivian's hand and wanted to get in quickly to catch the bad person.

"Alright, let's get in." Looking at Larry and Finnick, Vivian felt that she had nothing to worry about.

Hence, she strode forward.

"Vivian, stop right there!"

To get to Evelyn's ward, they had to pass by Rachel's ward. Unfortunately, Rachel saw her when they walked by her ward.

Rachel shouted at Vivian to stop her.

"Is there anything you need?" Vivian was going to ignore Rachel initially. However, at the sight of Rachel almost falling from her bed owing to her own aggressiveness, Vivian changed her mind and relented.

She walked over and asked Rachel the reason she called out at her.

Finnick felt that there was something wrong with Rachel, so he walked to Vivian's side and kept her guarded, just in case Rachel harmed her.

"You've found your happiness now; why do you have to force Evelyn away?" Rachel was aware that her daughter went missing, but she didn't know the reason behind it.

She subconsciously assumed that it was Vivian who had driven her biological daughter away

"And you. Why are you still with this vicious woman? You should leave her as soon as possible."

Rachel was about to berate Vivian but was blocked by Finnick, who had stood in between the two women.

It was only at that moment did Rachel realize the person, who was standing in front of her, was the man whom her daughter loved so dearly and wholeheartedly.

"Take Larry out of here." Seeing as Noah had come, Finnick asked him to bring Larry elsewhere as he didn't want Larry to see this.

"Let's go, Mr. Larry." Upon hearing Finnick's order, Noah hurriedly took Larry out of the ward.

It was the first time Finnick had given him a task since he had betrayed him. Hence, Noah was delighted because he knew that Finnick had forgiven him.

"Noah, why doesn't Daddy allow me to be in the ward?" After being brought out by Noah, Larry asked him rather dejectedly.

“Mr. Norton doesn’t want you to be bothered because it would be very noisy in the ward later,” Noah could only answer Larry in this way as he didn’t know what to say otherwise.

Also, Noah was able to foresee what was about to happen in the ward, so the excuse he had given wasn’t really a deception to Larry either.

Not long after that, the sound of something smashing on the ground came from within the ward.

It was Rachel throwing some stuff at Vivian, but it didn’t hit her as she managed to dodge it, and it fell to the ground.

“Vivian Morrison, I hate you. It’s because of you I lost my only daughter. It’s all because of you that my life became such a mess.” Rachel was on the brink of madness and said some pretty terrible things.
