

No Chance 100

Chapter 100 I Want to Give Her a Present

Elisa simply chose a car and went to pay for it.

It was not more than a million.

After all the procedures were completed, they went to collect the car.

Rachel sat in the passenger seat. She smiled. "I want to be a rich man's woman!"

When the salesperson heard Rachel, disdain flashed across his eyes. What sort of people did Rachel mix with after leaving the Wickam family that she could be contented with just a car that is worth a million?

Elisa merely smiled and drove off.

Both of them went to the tax office to pay the taxes for the car and got it a license plate.

Rachel stood beside her. She could not help but ask, "Would you have any luck in getting a synchronised car plate number?"

Elisa smiled, "It's doesn't matter. It's just a license plate number."

can't say that. The more auspicious the number, the luckier you'll be! If you can

She did not manage to bid any synchronized car plate number albeit However...

her to choose. They were all very that she felt easy

go have

"Great!"

Darcey's schemes nor the revolting Gareth Wickam and put down her chopsticks. She could not help but sigh. "Hey, I still think that no one can cook better her eyebrows. Both of them rested for a parking space,

that Elisa did not have much constraints, so she brought her to a mall at Rachel and asked. "Is there anything you'd Elisa.

Elisa smiled. "Alright."

