

No Chance 1001

Chapter 1001 Future Wife

It was as if Gareth's brows had tightened. He didn't say anything, but the coldness in his eyes grew.

Any other child with a conscience would have found a way to take revenge for their father if they discovered that their father had been murdered, as long as they weren't helpless.

Elisa's ability surpassed Norman's, and her power wasn't inferior to his. She would naturally make a move, but...

Gareth's expression froze slightly, and he didn't say anything.

Vincent said, "After we left, Elisa started monitoring Linda and heard their conversation but didn't discover their location. This person is quite powerful. Are you sure you don't want to protect your future wife properly?"

Vincent said the last few words in a different tone. Gareth glanced at him coldly. "Don't say anything if you don't know how to speak."

"D*mn! Are you asking me to keep quiet after I worked and told you everything? How the heck did we become best friends?! I'm so unlucky!"

Gareth couldn't be bothered to pay him any attention, and he started to ponder. He paused momentarily before saying in a low voice, "Did Elisa say what her plans are?"

"No. Rachel asked for a long time, but Elisa

Linda took a tiny breath and finally said, "Yes. I admit that we did it."

She left a way out for herself and didn't explicitly say she had killed Nelson. Even if the other party recorded it, it was useless.

But...

She never thought the other party would say in a low voice, "I want the detailed process. Tell me clearly how you killed Nelson."

Linda's expression changed at once. "Why must you know about this?"

"How can I save you without knowing what you did?" The other party's voice was slightly deep. She even sneered.

Linda was suddenly nervous. "I can just give you the evidence that she submitted. I..."

Linda's eyes lit up. "You mean..."

"If this falls through, I will arrange a new identity for you."

The light in Linda's eyes instantly dimmed. How can this be?!

She only wanted to be Linda Benett, the daughter of the Benett family. She clutched her cell phone tightly and said anxiously, "I..."

Before she could finish speaking, the other party said in a low voice, "Wait for my news."

The other party hung up after that.

Linda immediately threw her cell phone in a rage. "Ah! Stupid wench!"

She was cursing Elisa and the person behind the scenes.

Rose had been in a bad mood after arguing with her daughter. She now realized something was wrong, so she rushed over immediately. Rose never imagined her daughter would be in such a state after opening the door. Rose's expression changed instantly, and she immediately walked forward to hold Linda's shoulders with both hands.

Chapter 1004 Come Up with New Tricks

She knew she could only take revenge on one of them for the time being through her father's matter. She couldn't make all three of them fall at once. But through this, she could kick Norman out of the company entirely.

"I'll wait for your arrangements. I'm done on my side and can take over any time. But what do you plan to do once the matter with Norman and his family is settled?"

Elisa's eyes froze slightly, and she didn't answer immediately.

She knew what Will meant.

Norman and his family wouldn't be destroyed in one go. They would come up with new tricks.

"I'll cross the bridge when I come to it." Elisa only said as such in the end. She didn't want to say too much.

But at the next moment, her doorbell rang.

Elisa was slightly baffled. "There's someone at my door. Talk to you soon."

Will smiled. "Alright."

Elisa instantly raised her eyes to look at him.

But at the next moment, she realized something.

Will had caused such a sensation and had pursued her on Twitter. How could his parents not know?

Will sighed. "If you still think I'm taking advantage of you by bringing you home, I may be using the wrong way."

Elisa wrinkled her brows and looked at Will's slightly defeated appearance. She was somewhat astonished because Will had never been like this.

He had never revealed his feelings, and his smiling peach-shaped eyes were always filled with affection, which made many girls fall for him uncontrollably. But this made her indescribably conflicted.

Moreover, she had previously been hurt in love. She may never want to fall in love again for the rest of her life.

But she had told Will this, again and again, countless times. Even if he wasn't tired of hearing it, she was tired of saying it.

Upon seeing how Will stared at her, Elisa finally said, "I must emphasize this again. The two of us aren't suitable, and I don't want to face relationships again."

"I know, Liz. But since you don't want to face it, wouldn't you care about who you're with?"

"We don't know who it is yet. The other party is ruthless. Mr. Darcey... this..."

He had a slightly embarrassed tone but only called Will because he had no other way.

Will's expression was slightly dark, and he immediately said, "I'm coming to the office now."

After that, he hung up.

Upon seeing Elisa still cleaning, Will thought about it and said softly, "Help me out, Liz."

Liz turned to look at him. "Tell me about it."

Will had done many things for her. She would naturally help if she could.

Will said, "Someone is breaching the company's confidential information, and we can't find the source for now. Work with me."

"Alright. I'll come with you."

Elisa changed her clothes hurriedly and left together with Will.

After that, the two started to tap away on the keyboard again.

This time, they weren't writing out program code but looking for the person attacking instead.

Elisa kept a calm expression. Since Will wanted her to help, she would.

But...

She didn't feel that it was a familiar situation.

Although Gareth's side had been breached previously, she didn't feel Will's current position was similar.

Elisa thought about it and said in a low voice, "Such a situation also happened at Gareth's office previously."

Will narrowed his eyes and turned to look at her. He knew she wanted to go on.

Elisa pondered and could only continue. "I'm unsure about the specifics because they didn't find the culprit behind the scenes. But after analyzing both situations, I suspect it's done by the same group of people."

She paused and continued. "Their style of handling things, their way of cracking the code, and the process of battling us are the same as the person who breached Wickam Group's confidential information."

Will's lips curved slightly. "It seems like they want to ravage everything."

Elisa didn't say anything, and she pondered.

Will started the engine and didn't say anything.

The car was quiet.

Elisa said calmly, "If this person is still scheming against you behind the scenes, call me any time."
