

No Chance 102

Chapter 102 Don't Lower Your Standards!

Shirley glared at her angrily. "What did you eat? Your breath smells bad!"

Rachel laughed. "Alright then. We shall just wait and see."

Elisa pulled Rachel away. She did not want to take heed to those two women. She merely observed the jade bracelet in her hand. She seemed to have taken a fancy over it.

Linda noticed Elisa's interest in the bracelet. Grandma was closest to Elisa. They always spent time together. This must be Grandma's liking since Elisa was so keen on it.

She smiled. "Elisa, you..."

Before she could finish speaking, Elisa handed the bracelet to the salesperson. "Please wrap this up." wishes. Although she did not quite like Elisa, the commission for should just leave since

She looked at Elisa and said, "Elisa, I will be having dinner with Garry tonight. Why don't you join us? We should have a proper talk and solve our misunderstandings. Even if you both couldn't be spouses anymore, you shouldn't be enemies. Isn't that their misunderstanding so they could get back together. But now, she claimed that she wanted to help solve their misunderstanding so they could be

she should hand. She smiled at Linda, "I appreciate your kindness, but I don't think I should interrupt you and Garry expression changed. This good-for-nothing Elisa! So she was waiting for the moment to get her very steady relationship in the past. Now that things have taken a sudden turn, illusions of Elisa being the third person instead. But now that things finally seemed to be slightly on her side, Elisa actually she could not expose their relationship. She was

must have been mistaken. Although Garry and I indeed had some contact with each other a few years