Chapter 103 True Family

Elisa looked at the neatly wrapped gift box. She was half smiling.

Hopefully, Linda wouldn't be a victim of her ingenuity this time.

After Elisa paid for the bracelet, she handed it to Rachel before they left the counter. "What do you think of the bracelet just now?"

"Not too bad! It's exactly what my grandma would like."

Elisa nodded and gave Rachel the bracelet. "Your grandmother's birthday is coming soon, right? Let her have this."

"What? Didn't you say that it was for your grandma?"

Elisa smiled. "I lied."

"What?" Rachel was stunned. Before she could regain her senses, Elisa had already put the gift in her hand.

Rachel was confused. "What are you doing? Why are you giving away something that is worth ten thousands? Are you so rich to spend your money that way? Moreover, why are you doing this?"
