

No Chance 1131

CHAPTER 1131 NOW YOU WANT TO DENY IT?

These people! They are out of line!

When did every single one of them become Elisa's minions? Since when did she get so good at winning people's hearts?

How can they go this far?

As she thought about this, Linda couldn't wait to make Elisa and the people who defended her go through hell! She would never allow them a chance of survival for the rest of their lives!

Anyone who was against her had to die!

At the thought of this, she became devastated.

But she was at her wits' end.

She could only be someone else's pawn, taking it step by step until now. Even after everything that had happened, she wasn't sure who she would become...

Linda closed her eyes. To the viewers online, she looked like she was trying to control her overwhelming sadness.

But... only she knew she did it to prevent herself from bursting with anger.

In the next moment, Linda lifted her hands and wiped off the tears on her face before smiling at the viewers. "Today, I was hoping to say my final goodbyes and tell everyone about what had happened all this while."

The online viewers were still criticizing her, but the promotions for Linda's live broadcast spread like wildfire. Not only was it popular on broadcasting platforms, but it also got promoted to other social media platforms.

Even Vincent, who was playing his video games, saw the notifications for her live broadcast.

He was confused. Is Linda broadcasting live? What kind of trouble is she up to?

However, he didn't pause his game. Instead, he took out his phone to access the broadcasting platform. Once he opened the link, he saw that the most popular broadcast showed Linda's miserable expression.

Vincent sneered. What kind of trouble is she up to this time?

CHAPTER 1132 WHAT NONSENSE ARE YOU IMPLYING?

xx: 'Undoubtedly, he's out of your league. Who are you to deserve him? Your family came from such a lowly background that anyone would look down upon it. If not for Elisa's father, how would you reach where you are today? And now, you are thinking if you are worthy or not. Why do you think you have the right to even think about it?'

Vincent sneered. This comment has a point.

xx: 'Wait, what are you trying to say? Don't tell me you're blaming Elisa for what happened to you. Our goddess had to withstand your bullying all this while. What could she have done? What nonsense are you implying?'

The public chat was filled with comments. The viewers were clearly upset by the statement made by Linda.

Linda looked at the comments sarcastically. This was exactly the outcome she wanted.

Today's live broadcast was designed for Elisa. If no one had captured this hidden message, everything would've gone to waste.

After a slight pause, she started speaking again. "Everyone here wants to know the details, but some things are difficult for me to reveal. Now that we've reached this point, I don't want to reveal too much. Perhaps, I was a mistake the moment I was born. Next time when I'm gone, no one will think I'm hurting Elisa. Perhaps when I'm gone, Elisa's life will be much better. I... was destined to be a burden, a nuisance, and our sisterhood..."

As she spoke, Linda's eyes welled up with tears. She breathed deeply and choked up on her tears, saying, "I hope we can be close in our next life and support one another. I truly like to have a little sister like you. Having you as my sister would make me extremely proud...!"

xx: 'Is she really going to die?'

CHAPTER 1133 SHE WANTS TO CHANGE HER IDENTITY?

"It's so infuriating! It's f*cking pissing me off! I cannot stand it anymore!!"

Rachel threw her phone aside. With her anger boiling, she couldn't wait to run up to Linda and rip her into pieces.

Rachel was sitting next to her. Her eyes were filled with frustration and anger as she couldn't help but say, "This woman is so good at acting!"

Rachel gritted her teeth as she said, "Listen to what nonsense she's spurring out. Her intention is clearly to express how badly Elisa treated her in the past. The reason she has come to the point of taking her own life is all because of Elisa. It was Elisa who drove her up the wall. She wants Elisa to be blamed!"

Sheena frowned. "What does she want to do this time? Is she really going to take her own life?"

"How is it possible! She treasures her life so much and can't wait for others to die. There's no way that she would take her own life!" Rachel couldn't help but snicker.

Rachel nodded in agreement and said, "Of course, I know this, so what I'm curious is, will she create a fake suicide act in front of the audience, or will she find someone to save her and ruin her fake plan?"

Rachel stared blankly for a while as she didn't know what could be Linda's plan. She paused and said, "Both are possible."

Sheena looked at Linda, still in tears, as if she was mulling over her emotions to get everyone's sympathy. She coldly said, "She is trying to build up her emotions to show everyone how miserable she has become. The more riled up everyone is, the more sympathy she would gain when she takes her own life."

"What a b*tch!!" Rachel gritted her teeth tightly and picked up her phone. "No way. Elisa must know about this. We never know what crazy tricks Linda has up her sleeves. Prevention is better than cure."

Sheena fully agreed with her. "I'll share this recording with her now."

"Okay."

Rachel immediately contacted her. When Elisa picked up her phone, Rachel hurriedly said, "Elisa, look at your phone, quick! If you are free right now, watch the video Sheen sent you!"

"Linda's video?"

Listening to the calmness in her tone, Rachel froze for a moment before saying softly, "Yes, you... saw it?"

"Yup, I'm watching it right now." Elisa looked at ease and didn't seem affected emotionally.

Rachel became increasingly outraged all of a sudden, "What does this b*tch want? She is trying to put all the blame on you so that you will be insulted by the public?!"

CHAPTER 1134 ISN'T SHE THE ONE WHO DIDN'T TREASURE HER OWN LIFE?

"What???" Rachel seemed confused about what she said and looked at Sheena doubtfully, "What do you mean?"

"I'm trying to say that her true intention is to change her whole identity. As she takes her own life this time, she informs everyone that Linda has disappeared and anger Elisa by letting everyone think that the culprit of her death is Elisa."

"What identity does she want to change into?" Rachel looked confused. Her focus was no longer on the hidden message implied by her live broadcast but rather on her true intentions.

Sheena's eyes quivered as she looked at Rachel's phone. Seeing the call duration increase second by second, she spoke again. "Elisa, what are you planning to do?"

"Eventually, we'll have to see what's her next step." Elisa just spoke as usual and didn't add any further details.

Sheena immediately asked, "You mean her new identity?"

"Yes."

"Bye, friends. If I continue, the police might come and save me, so for one last time, goodbye."

After that, Linda didn't look at a single comment before jumping off the building!

"F*ck! She really jumped!!" Rachel was in disbelief.

Sheena blinked a few times and sneered. "After all, she wants to change her identity, so she has to make it more realistic. There could even be a dead body at the bottom."

Elisa seemed calm as she analyzed the scenario like always. "It is possible. Now that she's reached this step, there must be a well-thought-out plan."

Rachel gritted her teeth. "I truly hope she is already dead!"

"There's no way... Seeing the comments, some people are sympathizing with Linda." Rachel said mockingly.

When she said this, they started looking at the comments.

xx: 'F*ck! She did it for real!'

xxx: 'D*mn! Has this woman gone crazy? There's no need to commit suicide, no matter how hard it is! As the old saying goes, a living dog is better than a dead lion.'

CHAPTER 1135 DON'T LET THIS B*TCH SUCCEED!

The comments kept coming. Elisa wasn't interested in reading them now that it had all ended.

She immediately said, "I will keep observing what happens later on. You guys don't have to worry about me."

"Alright, you have to be careful, don't let this b*tch succeed!" Rachel advised her repeatedly as she feared that she might be in trouble.

Elisa bit her lips. "Okay."

They hung up right then.

Elisa organized her things and left her office. She had an appointment scheduled with Will Darcey.

Once she left her office to get into her car, she immediately saw Will's car. As the windows wound down slowly, Will's attractive face was presented in front of her.

Elisa's eyes quivered slightly as she quietly walked towards him.

The corner of Will's lips lifted as he saw Elisa's gorgeous and slim face. He softly greeted, "It's been a while."

Elisa raised her eyebrows. "Mr. Darcey sure knows how to speak."

It hadn't been that long since they last met, but he always created a unique atmosphere. This act was unbelievable to others.

Will raised his eyebrow. "Isn't this the truth?"

Elisa bit her lips and didn't say a word. At the same time, Will exited his car to open the door for Elisa personally. "You may enter, my princess."

Elisa's eyes quivered. She wanted to say something initially. However, knowing anything she said wouldn't be helpful, she stayed silent and entered the car.

Will helped her close the door before returning to the driver's seat.

Many employees witnessed this scene unfold right in front of them. However, these women now looked at Elisa differently from the last time, as their gazes were no longer judgemental and suspicious.

Some of them couldn't help but comment.

CHAPTER 1136 | ACCIDENTALLY REVEALED TOO MUCH!

"Ah... no matter what, Ms. Bennett is no longer the same person as last time. Look at how impressive our Ms. Bennett is right now! Not only is she young and beautiful, but she is also exceptionally talented. I never thought that someone could be so perfect in this world!"

"Exactly! In the past, I always assumed that the perfect woman came from a rich family, is a princess-like existence, had a good figure with a beautiful face, and had one or two talents cultivated through their family's assets. But now... looking at Ms. Benett..."

She stopped here. Everyone was already nodding repeatedly at her words because it was the reality!

"Ah... I really envy Ms. Benett. She has already established her career at a young age and has this outstanding company. She also possesses so many skills. Besides, don't you think the jewelry design was related to Ms. Benett?"

"Ah? Why do you think so?"

"In the past, many people wanted to collaborate with Rene Caovilla. Wickam Group and Darcey Group were also part of them but didn't succeed. They couldn't manage to work with one another. But this time, Ms. Benett and Darcey Group were able to join forces with Rene Caovilla. Don't you all think that this success is attributed to Ms. Benett?"

The young lady spoke enthusiastically with her two bright eyes. With her words, she managed to spur everyone's curiosity as they couldn't help but say, "You have a point! It does seem this way!"

"I also felt that it was quite weird. Rene Caovilla would never accommodate anyone, but why would she accommodate Ms. Benett? Ms. Benett isn't as powerful as Mr. Wickam and Mr. Darcey."

"Could it be... because of fate. Maybe Rene Caovilla and our Ms. Benett could click more easily?"

"That is possible, but I don't think it's so simple. Even I feel doubtful, this Rene Caovilla..." As she spoke, the young lady held her chin and kept quiet.

Everyone looked at her, obviously waiting for her to finish her sentence. Seeing her in deep thought, the people started to ask, "What are you doubtful about? Let us know."

CHAPTER 1137 ENOUGH TIME

"Let's go in."

Elisa replied calmly, and both of them went inside the restaurant. Will had booked the whole place, so there were no other people around except for the service crew catering to them.

Elisa had nothing to say in particular about this. Maybe Will didn't want anyone to know about what they discussed. Moreover, he had loads of money, and he could splurge freely.

Soon, they went into the private room. After Will ordered some dishes according to her liking, the waiter left the room and closed the door.

Elisa's gaze fell on Will, and she said calmly, "Is there anything wrong regarding the collaboration?"

In the car, the two talked casually and didn't mention anything about work. Now that they were in a new environment, Elisa immediately brought up this topic.

Will's smile widened as he replied, "The collaboration is going quite smoothly. I just wanted to see you."

Elisa was speechless.

She scrutinized him without saying anything, knowing he had just stated that mindlessly.

Will took out his handphone and sent a document to Elisa, "Take a look at the document first."

Elisa opened the document and quietly read through everything. She frowned slightly and looked at Will, "You want to create a publicity stunt?"

The words 'plagiarize' took her by surprise.

Will put his hand on the table. His long fingers tapped on the table several times as his deep, profound eyes stared directly at Elisa. "You think this looks like a publicity stunt?"

Elisa frowned and looked at Will with confusion.

The contents of this document showed that Rene Caovilla had plagiarized others. Elisa almost believed it was confirmed, as everything written in the document had clear justifications. But until now, she had not seen anything related to this on the Internet, so she wasn't sure what his intentions were in showing her this.

However, after pausing, Will smiled and said, "Maybe Rene Caovilla's popularity caused envy amongst the people in the same field. This document has reached my hands first before it's shared officially with the public."

Elisa frowned and didn't say a single word. She was in deep thought about the things that had happened recently.

After a slight pause, she looked at Will again, "You wanted to tell me this the other day?"

It had already been a week.

She didn't see this document up until now.

CHAPTER 1138 ENEMY'S SUCCESS OR FAILURE

Elisa didn't say a word the whole time. She might have been contemplating the idea suggested just now. The knock on the door by the server finally broke the silence in the room.

The servers brought in the dishes and served them with respectful and polite smiles. After laying the plates on the table, they asked if anything else was needed before leaving the room.

Will looked at Elisa and smiled. "Shall we eat?"

"Sure."

Elisa replied as she held on to her fork and spoon. She would never deny a chance to indulge in a delicious meal.

Both of them didn't say a word. Elisa was preoccupied with enjoying her meal, while Will seemed used to this aspect of her.

Once they were done, Elisa put down her cutlery. Only then, Will looked at her and asked, "So what's your take?"

Elisa wiped the corner of her lips with the napkin before slowly speaking, "It's not impossible, but I don't have the capacity to deal with this. Can you do it?"

Will smiled. "No problem."

CHAPTER 1139 THEY ARE TOGETHER!

They were over it and willingly accepted that they were unlucky...

All they could say was that they were not up to par with her.

They could not compare themselves with Elisa. They were... not worthy!

Soon after, both of them left in Will's car.

Whenever he was with Elisa, Will wouldn't let anyone else drive them. He would become Elisa's personal driver as he didn't want anyone to spoil the mood.

On the road, Will didn't mention anything about work and instead started to talk to her about lighter topics. Even though Elisa wasn't interested in what Will was saying, she felt comfortable talking with him.

They only stopped talking when they reached their destination. It was already late then, and the Sun had already set.

But this didn't affect everyone's enthusiasm. There were still never-ending rows of cars lined up on the streets.

The streetlights had already turned on, making the streets look more bustling.

Plenty of people were on the streets, and everyone was smiling as they walked.

As it was dark, many people couldn't recognize them, but... these two people had such a strong aura that caught the attention of the people around them as soon as they appeared.

"Look at those two, are they... I'm not sure, but hurry up and take a look."

"Sh*t! Isn't that Elisa Benett?! And the person beside her is..."

"It's Mr. Darcey!!! They are together at this late hour!"

"Ah! Quick, we have to go over and take a look! They are so good-looking!! They must have a great aura. I have to go and experience it myself!"

People were already walking toward the two of them when they said this.

But... just as they started walking, they realized the two of them had already stepped into a huge bar.

"Hurry up, let's go in."

A girl was in a hurry to catch up to them, but as soon as she reached the entrance, she was held back by her friend.

CHAPTER 1140 OVERLOOK

Elisa's eyes started to quiver slightly. Four men were in the private room, and everyone was in suits. Their postures varied from one another. Some of them were sitting upright, and the others sat casually. There were even some who were swirling their glass of red wine to taste.

However, when Elisa appeared, everyone stopped and looked fixedly in their direction.

Lucas Nolan squinted, pushed up his golden-framed glasses, and said with a faint smile, "It's quite different today?"

The elegant and courteous Leo Coleman also smiled faintly. "How can this be quite different? It's extremely different."

When did Will Darcey ever bring a woman to this place?

No, it should be — when did Will Darcey get a woman?

Although there were many rumors about him, Will wasn't a playboy. All these years, he had never had a girlfriend. Will never bothered about the photoshopped pictures of him and treated them as a joke. As time passed, he became a playboy in the public's eyes.

If he knew this day would come, he would regret overlooking such behavior in the past.

All this while, even though Will and Elisa had many encounters, everyone knew Will treated Elisa differently.

But... they could never imagine that Will would bring Elisa to them.

It signified something different.

It meant that he valued her. If not, he wouldn't bring her here. To put it bluntly, he wanted them to know he was serious about this!

All four of them had mixed emotions at that moment.

Some felt it was a good thing as long as Will liked her. But some also felt that since Elisa was the ex-wife of Gareth Wickam, it would create many complications.

Some even felt that despite Elisa's talent in multiple areas, she was still imperfect. In their eyes, Will Darcey was indeed one of a kind.

Even though they perceived it this way, times have changed. Moreover, Elisa was truly impressive, and many men didn't even get to go near her. To be honest... No one is better than the other. Moreover, the issue of whether Will could successfully pursue Elisa was already complicated enough.
