

No Chance 1151

CHAPTER 1151 VANISHED

She wasn't surprised that Gareth had stayed the night and hadn't left.

After all, the man had stayed at her place a few times. She... seemed to have gradually gotten used to it. Or perhaps it could be said that she had no other way around the man's presence.

She was mainly surprised that Gareth had an apron around him. He came out with a sandwich.

He... made sandwiches?

Elisa subconsciously looked at the dining table. There was another sandwich on it, along with bacon and eggs.

Her gaze froze slightly. In an instant, she didn't know what to say.

Gareth glanced at her indifferently. "Come eat."

Elisa's eyes flickered. She hesitated but still walked to the dining table and sat down.

She was almost ready to leave the house and just had to get dressed. She hadn't planned on eating breakfast, nor did she think she could eat the breakfast Gareth personally made when she went downstairs.

Upon seeing Gareth pass her a set of utensils, Elisa took them from him without saying anything.

And Gareth didn't plan to say anything either. He sat across from her and started eating with ease.

It was a simple sandwich. She nibbled at it and never thought it would taste good after trying it. She glanced at Gareth with astonishment. "When did you learn how to cook?"

Gareth answered indifferently, "I've always known how to cook."

He didn't say anything else.

Elisa raised her brows and kept quiet.

Although they had been married for three years, they barely saw each other. It had also never gotten to the point where Gareth needed to cook. It was understandable for her to be clueless.

The two ate breakfast silently. Gareth wiped the corners of his mouth and got up. "Let's go. I'll send you."

Elisa took the plates and utensils to the kitchen. "I'm going to deal with this. Go on. I'm not going to the office today."

She had other things to do today.

Gareth glanced at her and said, "Don't be in contact with Will anymore after the jewel project ends."

Elisa's slightly good impression of him instantly vanished after what he said.

Her footsteps didn't stop. She couldn't be bothered to pay Gareth any attention as she walked into the kitchen.

Gareth looked coldly at the figure in the kitchen and said nothing. He left coldly.

After Elisa cleaned up, she changed and left.

CHAPTER 1152 LIVING FREELY WITHOUT YOU

Elisa's lips twitched when she saw Rose still being so insincere.

After not seeing Rose for some time, Rose had lost her previous charm, and she seemed more haggard in her prison outfit. Her previously well-maintained skin was dull and yellow, and she seemed to have more freckles. And from what Elisa could see with her naked eye, Rose had lost weight.

It was an excellent place to lose weight. Rose couldn't eat or sleep well and was apprehensive every day. She couldn't go online and was living a primitive life. Thankfully, Rose could endure it. Otherwise, she was afraid she would go mad.

After that, Elisa said, "Of course, I came to see you. And I might come and see you often in the future."

Rose's expression froze. For a moment, she didn't know what Elisa meant by that. Rose stared at Elisa subconsciously. "You..."

Rose didn't know what else to say. But since she was older, she had been through a lot. She paused and said, "Girl, this isn't a good place. Don't come and visit me frequently. I'm happy that you have such an intention. We can meet up once I'm released."

"Released?" Elisa said calmly. After that, she had a faint smile.

Rose's heart instantly thumped!

It was as she had expected!

She knew Elisa's arrival didn't have good intentions!

What on earth is she doing?!

Rose stared straight at Elisa but didn't know what to say. It wouldn't be good if she said or exposed too much.

At that moment, she felt more frantic.

But Elisa sat across from her and said with ease, "You don't have to worry, Aunt Rose. What I'm saying might not be true. I just haven't seen you in a while, and I miss you, so I couldn't help but come and visit you. I wonder if Uncle Norman has visited since you were imprisoned."

Rose's nervous feelings seemed to have intensified. Elisa's last few words had a double meaning, giving Rose a horrible feeling. Still, it was different from what Elisa had implied.

CHAPTER 1153 CAN'T BE DISTRACTED

"What do you mean by that?" Rose didn't know if Elisa was being truthful or sarcastic. Rose felt tense and didn't dare to look away. She kept staring at Elisa's face, afraid to miss any emotion.

Elisa smiled. "What do you think?"

She only said as such and wasn't in a rush to continue.

Since they had been heartless to her, it was only natural for her to be unkind to them. She couldn't take it if she had to be compassionate and guide them back to the right path.

Rose's temples suddenly twitched. Her initially bad mood turned worse.

"Liz, you... Why did you suddenly become like this today? Why are you keeping me in suspense... Did something happen outside?"

Elisa fixed her hair and seemed to say absentmindedly, "Something has happened, but you don't know about it. It's something Uncle Norman has kept from you half his life."

Rose was flabbergasted.

It seemed like... what Elisa was talking about differed from what she thought.

She's still keeping me in suspense now. Doesn't she know that visiting hours are limited? Rose wanted to curse Elisa and Elisa's family but had no other way.

She could only look at Elisa and ask tentatively, "What on earth happened, Liz? Don't keep me hanging, alright?"

The past few days had been a tough time for her in prison.

But she could only keep count as days passed. It was already torture now. Three years... She didn't know how to endure three years.

Elisa smiled and was still unhurried. Instead, she spoke steadily. "Aunt Rose, you've been with Uncle Norman for many years. From the outside, you look like a model couple. I wonder if you're really so loving at home. Does Uncle Norman only have eyes for you at home?"

Rose's expression froze. The next moment, she understood what Elisa was saying, and the panic in her heart calmed. It turned out that Elisa wanted to drive a wedge between them. Does she think this will work?

Even if Elisa sowed discord between the husband and wife, Rose wouldn't say anything in front of Elisa. She would never squander what they had done previously nor tell Elisa anything unfavorable.

So Elisa just came to stress me out? She's good!

CHAPTER 1154 CHEATED ON YOU

Elisa raised her brows. "Really?"

Rose was dumbfounded.

The more nonchalant Elisa acted, the more worried Rose grew. She felt like something wasn't right but couldn't put her finger on it. It was because Elisa was behaving like this that Rose grew doubtful. She kept thinking of the worst-case scenarios!

Her bad feeling was worsening, and she didn't know what to do!

Rose looked at Elisa in dismay as if waiting for Elisa to continue.

Elisa smiled. She said softly, "Aunt Rose, I've always thought you were smart. You've been able to scheme silently for so many years, but why have you become so..."

Elisa suddenly stopped, but her words had been filled with disdain and disbelief.

Rose's expression turned nasty, and her brows furrowed tightly. At that moment, she didn't want to talk in riddles with Elisa anymore. It was mainly because Elisa's words didn't make her feel as confident as before. She stared at Elisa. "Liz, what are you trying to say?"

She was really going to lose her temper if she didn't need to put on an act in front of Elisa!

Can't she just get on with it? Why does she insist on keeping me in suspense?!

Is it so hard to spit it out?!

Elisa smiled. "I mean that you've never had your guard up against Uncle Norman for so many years. You really think that he's..."

Elisa deliberately muttered, "Allow me to think of how to phrase it."

After that, she seemed to think of something. She smiled and said, "Let's put it this way. You really think he's a perfect husband to you and only schemes against others, right?"

Rose's expression turned nastier.

"What on earth do you mean?!"

Rose feared being kept in suspense while Elisa stepped on her baseline. This only made Rose feel that the matter wasn't as simple as she had imagined. Then, she would think of the worst situation. The dire possibilities were endless.

Elisa smiled. "I mean, your husband has been unfaithful to you long ago. He's changed since he became rich."

Rose's expression changed abruptly, but she shook her head at the next moment. She resumed her easy going demeanor and smiled at Elisa. "Liz, why are you joking with me? How can such a thing be possible?"

CHAPTER 1155 WHY DON'T YOU TRY AND RECALL?

Rose was shocked!

No way. It's impossible!

At the next moment, she shook her head and seemed displeased. "If you go on, Liz, I'm really going to get angry."

"I came from far away to visit you and tell you this news. Do you think I'm kidding?" Elisa looked at Rose with a faint smile.

The more Elisa spoke, the more panicked Rose felt. She immediately looked at Elisa with a frown.

"Everything needs to have a basis. I won't believe such stories with no proof, Liz." Even though Rose was upset, she also felt alarmed. She wanted to know the truth. But more than that, Rose hoped that Elisa was making up stories without evidence.

In the past, Rose might have thought Elisa was shooting her mouth off. However, the present Elisa couldn't be compared with the past. Elisa had lost her innocence long ago and was completely different. If she could say such things today, she must have had strong evidence. But Rose didn't dare to believe her. She felt that Elisa had photoshopped evidence. After all, Elisa was an excellent hacker.

Sure enough, Elisa opened the bag in her hands after Rose spoke. She took a stack of photographs, and Rose's gaze immediately fell on them. She couldn't move her eyes away.

The corners of Elisa's lips curved slowly. "You can look at these pictures carefully and decide if I photoshopped them. I can give you proof one by one so you can determine if it's true."

Rose's expression instantly turned awful. Meanwhile, Elisa showed Rose the photos one at a time in front of her.

In the pictures, two people hugged and kissed each other, and they carried a child. There were pictures of one of them playing with their child alone, along with all sorts of intimate and affectionate photos. The photographs displayed their faces clearly. There was no mistake.

Rose's heartbeat seemed to have quickened!

It wasn't because she was fearful. In fact, it beat faster because of Rose's rage and disbelief. Rose gripped the corner of her clothes tightly!

CHAPTER 1156 HAVE YOU NOTICED SOMETHING?

Elisa's lips curved slightly. "Did you recall something, Aunt Rose?"

She hadn't picked the photo at random.

Of course, it had a crucial significance.

That day was Norman's birthday. Rose had especially taken leave to make a delicious meal for Norman.

Rose could remember being busy early in the morning. When they ate breakfast, Rose told Norman, "Dear, it's your birthday today. Come home earlier. I'll make a delightful meal at night."

Norman's expression was slightly hesitant, but he smiled the next moment. "It's alright. I have other things to do today. Furthermore, it's just a birthday, and it's not important. Today's breakfast is sumptuous enough, so you don't have to trouble yourself at night. I might need to work late, so I might not be able to return. You can eat with Linda."

Rose had immediately wrinkled her brows but wasn't overly suspicious. "In any case, today is your birthday. Aren't you coming back?"

Norman sighed. "Ah, I just have too much work to do. I don't have any other way."

Rose frowned and didn't say anything. But she had been slightly surprised when she saw Norman's clothes.

Where did this come from?" "I had been in a rush and forgot to bring spare clothes. My clothes were dirty then, so I told my assistant to buy a shirt for me. Although I don't like the style, it's quite comfortable." After that,

Her pupils couldn't help but shrink. Norman's clothes in the picture were identical to what he had worn that day.

She could also remember his hairstyle because she had styled it for him specifically. It was the same.

And this photo...

Rose's expression grew uglier. She was starting to suspect that the photo was real!

But! How can it be possible?!

As she thought about it, Elisa suddenly said, "Did you recall something? Relax, there are other pictures. We can look at them slowly. Take this one, for example."

CHAPTER 1157 SHOCKING NEWS

Rose instantly looked at Elisa, confused. Still, she really wanted to know what Elisa was going to say.

"These pictures I'm showing you have significant dates. Look, Uncle Norman is outside half the time during important dates. He told you he had to work and couldn't be with you and Linda. You might not have suspected anything last time, but think about it now. Don't you think there was something wrong?"

Rose kept quiet, but she bit her lips tightly.

"Also, the checkered shirt is a gift from his mistress. From what I remember, Uncle Norman hates such a style. But since his mistress gave it to him, he had to wear it. Don't you think his mistress has a higher status than you?"

As Elisa said it, the corners of her mouth curved into a sarcastic smile.

Rose's complexion paled slightly. Her body was tense, and her hand was gripped into a fist on her leg. She was in a terrible state.

It was evident that Rose believed most of the photos. However, a small part of her didn't know if she should believe it or lie to herself.

Elisa saw Rose's appearance, and the smile on her face deepened. She paused before saying absentmindedly, "Should I continue?"

seemingly not wanting to listen. Elisa's lips twitched. "You can't take it anymore? So do you believe me?" "Stop it. Stop talking." Rose hung her head and didn't want to look at Elisa or hear anything. To a woman whose husband had been her everything, it was as though her world had

Rose gritted her teeth, and her eyes were filled with disbelief. She had loved her husband wholeheartedly for many years and always prioritized her family. Even if she committed a crime, she still particularly cherished Norman. But how could Norman betray her? He even looked for other women!

How can this be?!

Elisa's lips twitched. "Do you think Uncle Norman still thinks about you? Do you think he will still make any effort for you and Linda? Oh, by the way, Linda took her own life."

When Elisa said it, she narrowed her eyes and looked at Rose.

Rose, still mentally distraught, suddenly raised her head when she heard the shocking news. "What did you say?!"

CHAPTER 1158 WHAT DO YOU MEAN BY THAT?

"No!" Rose cried out in pain. Her eyes were filled with disbelief.

How can this be?!

Why? Why did my daughter do such a thing?!

No!

This isn't real!

Is it one of Linda's plans?!

Linda implied that Elisa had pushed her to her limits and didn't say anything else. Can this be a calculated move by Linda and that person?

She recalled... the mysterious person said she wanted to give Linda a new identity.

When Rose thought about it, her emotions stabilized, as if she knew what was happening.

Elisa's eyes narrowed, and she watched Rose's changing emotions. Even if Rose hid it well, Elisa noticed a part of it.

Without Rose knowing, Elisa quickly determined that Linda hadn't died. No one could tell that this was one of Linda's plans.

Of course, Elisa hadn't come to prove anything. Even without Rose's reactions, Elisa knew Linda couldn't have died.

Linda cherished her life so much that she would only choose to make her life better and take revenge on her enemies. How could she have decided to jump off a building?

Furthermore.

More importantly, Linda's live stream had been so popular that day. There was clearly a big problem. Why would it have trended if she wasn't trying to make a scene? There was nothing wrong with her holding a live stream, but why were so many people watching?

Elisa sneered, and it made Rose suddenly come to her senses. Rose immediately pretended to be worried, "What on earth happened, Liz?! Tell me. Tell me now that this is false. This is just her practical joke, right? Or perhaps this isn't her. Someone was just pretending to be her, right?"

In the end, the tears in Rose's eyes fell like rain.

Elisa was dumbstruck.

She had to admit that she admired Rose for that. Rose's tears could fall at will, and she didn't have to mull over her feelings.

Her lips twitched. "Really?"

She didn't say anything else.

But her voice was noticeably cold.

Rose's hands were on the ledge before her, and she said hurriedly, "What on earth is going on, Liz?! Tell me. Tell me now!"

Even if Rose was pretending, her feelings were a mess. She had never imagined so many things had happened outside for the past few days. Her husband had a new flame, and they even had a child together!

CHAPTER 1159 I THINK SHE MUST STILL BE ALIVE

Rose didn't know what else to say.

She seemed to be waiting for Elisa to continue. Rose was frantic and didn't dare to restrain her emotions too much. Her feelings were messy, and she couldn't make sense of anything. Most importantly, with Elisa around, she didn't dare to reveal her feelings. Elisa would only be able to find out more. The current Elisa was brilliant, and it was frightening!

"You don't have to pretend, Aunt Rose. I know many things, including Linda not telling you she faked her death. She must have feared being captured by the security cameras here."

Rose was thunderstruck!

This wench!

She...

Rose didn't dare to reveal too much. She shook her head in surprise instead. "What's going on? What do you mean that Linda faked her death, Liz? Is she still alive?!"

In the end, Rose seemed expectant but didn't dare to get her hopes up. In short, Elisa admired how Rose displayed her emotions.

Elisa's lips twitched. "If Linda was at such a stage, it can only mean things haven't been going according to your wishes. Do you know what's the main cause of everything?"

Rose was dumbstruck.

She didn't dare to say anything. She also didn't know what to say.

Elisa smiled. "You're a murderer. Although you only have a three-year imprisonment, it's a serious crime. According to the law, only your relatives can visit you. Strangers and friends have no such right. I'm afraid Linda can't come and see you within these three years."

Rose's lashes fluttered slightly but resumed her usual demeanor the next moment. So be it if Linda can't come. Otherwise, more will be revealed. It would be worse if Elisa found out.

"As for the cause of this problem..." Just as Rose was absorbed in her thoughts, she suddenly heard Elisa speak thoughtfully. She immediately looked at Elisa and waited for Elisa to speak.

Soon, Elisa said, "It's your husband."

Rose shook her head in confusion and looked at Elisa sadly. "Liz... What are you saying? What is going on? Is my daughter really still alive? What does this have to do with Norman?"

"He's incapable and fickle. He can't even protect his wife and daughter. He would rather buy things for his mistress on the outside instead. You and Linda have nothing now, but it's not the same for Norman. His mistress is loyal to him. She's not abandoning him even when she knows he's down and out. Norman had bought her many things and given her a lot of money. If they live like an average person, they have sufficient basic necessities for the rest of their lives."

CHAPTER 1160 HOW WAS YOUR PROGRESS?

"He has never kept his tracks hidden. Aunt Rose, don't you think that everything will fall through and be exposed by him?"

Rose's expression changed slightly. She could only feign surprise and disbelief as she shook her head.

"Liz, what are you saying? I really don't understand... I don't understand what you're saying..."

Elisa sneered. "As long as Norman is around, you'll keep losing. He has another family outside, but you must stay here and take the fall for him. Your daughter is now in a wretched state. As a matter of fact, I've already found out her new identity through your husband. Don't you think... I'm amazing?"

"If this continues, Norman will only become your stumbling block. If you really want to succeed, Norman should receive the legal consequences he deserves, not you... You're suffering here every day, but you don't know how bad things are on the outside."

Rose's expression paled.

She didn't know what to say, and the restlessness in her heart seemed to grow.

Elisa smiled. "I'll come to see you soon. Perhaps I can even bring you great news. I'm guessing Uncle Norman won't have the time to visit you."

After that, Elisa stood up and prepared to leave.

"Wait!" Rose's voice was slightly frantic. She looked at Elisa with a complicated expression.

Elisa stopped, and there was a smile on the corners of her lips. "Do you have something to say, Aunt Rose?"

Rose stared at her. She didn't want to pretend any longer at that moment. Since she had been exposed, there was no need to act anymore. Furthermore... So what if there were security cameras here? Elisa was obvious about it. Everyone could tell that there was a conflict between them.

Rose took a deep breath and asked, "What happened to Linda?! What is her new identity?"

Elisa smiled. "You'll most probably find out about her new identity soon. When the time comes, I will come and revisit you and keep you updated."

This time, Elisa didn't plan to continue talking to Rose when she was done speaking. She got up and left without looking at Rose.

She hadn't taken away the photos, and they were still scattered on the ledge. Rose could see it through the glass, and the rage in her eyes grew!

Norman Benett!

How can you betray me, Norman Benett? How can you do that?!

It was already eleven in the morning when Elisa returned to the office. It was time for lunch.

Her secretary knocked on the door. "Ms. Benett, here's your lunch."
